*Extract from the "Gazette of India," dated 11th
March 1882.*

ORDERS BY THE VICE-CHANCELLOR AND SYNDICATE OF THE CAL-CUTTA UNIVERSITY.

The following changes in the Regulations in Arts and Medicine having been sanctioned by the Senate and approved by His Excellency the Governor General of India in Council, are published for general information.

For the Regulations for the First Examination in Arts, for the degree of Bachelor of Arts, for Honours in Arts, and for the degree of M.A., the following Regulations have been substituted, with effect, as regards the First Examination in Arts, from the 1st of January 1884, and as regards the B. A. and M. A. Examinations, from the 1st of January 1885.

FIRST EXAMINATION IN ARTS.

1. The First Examination in Arts shall commence annually at such time as the Syndicate shall determine, (the date to be approximately notified in the Calendar for the year), and shall be held in Calcutta and in such other places* as shall from time to time be appointed by the Syndicate.

2. Any undergraduate of the University may be admitted to this Examination, provided he has prosecuted a regular course of study in any affiliated institution for not less than two academical years after passing the Entrance Examination.†

* The following places have already been appointed :—

Hughli, Berhampore, Kishnagar, Dacca, Patna, Benares, Agra, Delhi, Bareilly, Ajmere, Lahore, Lucknow, Colombo, Simla, Darjeeling, Sehere, Allahabad, Mussoorie, Katak, Chittagong, Jabbalpore, Batticaloa, Indore, Midnapore, Rampore Baulia, Nowgong, Rangoon, Nagpur, and Fyzabad.

† The Syndicate have power to make exceptions to this rule in favour of Deputy Inspectors of Schools and Schoolmasters.

3. Every candidate for admission shall send his application with a certificate in the form entered in Appendix A, either to the Registrar or to a local officer recognised by the Syndicate. Every such application must reach the office of the Registrar at least thirty days before the date fixed for the commencement of the Examination.

4. A fee of twenty rupees shall be payable by each candidate. No candidate shall be admitted, unless he shall have paid this fee to the Registrar or to the local officer recognised by the Syndicate. A candidate who fails to pass or to present himself for examination shall not be entitled to claim a refund of the fee. A candidate may be admitted to any one or more subsequent First Examinations in Arts on payment of a like fee of twenty rupees on each occasion, provided he produces a certificate from the head of an affiliated institution showing that he has prosecuted a regular course of study for six months since the date of the last examination to which he was admitted.

5. The First Examination in Arts shall be conducted by means of printed papers, the same papers being used at every place at which the Examination is held.

6. At such time as the Syndicate shall determine (the date to be approximately notified in the Calendar for the year), the Syndicate shall publish a list of the candidates who have passed, arranged in three divisions, the first in order of merit, and the second and third in alphabetical order. Every candidate shall on passing receive a certificate in the form entered in Appendix A.

7. At the First Examination in Arts every candidate shall be examined in the following subjects, and the number of papers in each shall be as follows :—

I.—English	Two papers.
II.—A Second Language	"
III.—Mathematics	"
IV.—Elementary Physics	"
V.—History	One paper.
VI.—Logic	"

I & II.—LANGUAGES.*

The Second Language shall be one of the following languages :—

Greek.	Arabic.
Latin.	Persian.
Sanskrit.	Pali.
Hebrew.

Any other classical language may be added to this list by the Syndicate. Sentences in each language in which the candidate is examined shall be given for translation into the other language.

The papers in each language shall include questions on Grammar and Idiom.

III.—MATHEMATICS.

- (a) Arithmetic.
- (b) Algebra.—Quadratic equations; theory of quadratic equations and expressions; imaginary expressions; arithmetical, geometrical, and harmonical progressions; permutations and combinations; binomial and exponential theorems.
- (c) Plane Geometry.—Simple problems in the geometry of the straight line, triangle, and circle, treated according to modern methods. The more important properties of the parabola and ellipse.
- (d) Trigonometry.—Methods of measuring angles.
Trigonometrical ratios, and the simple relations connecting them.
Relations between trigonometrical ratios of angles differing by multiples of right angles.
Trigonometrical transformations.
Solution of triangles.
Properties of triangles.
Area of a circle.
- (e) Logarithms.—The properties of logarithms.
Logarithmic series.
The use of logarithmic tables.
Proportional parts.

IV.—ELEMENTARY PHYSICS.

- (a) General Ideas—
Units of measurement, and definitions of mass, force, motion.
Laws of motion.
Work and energy,—measurement of each.
Chief forces of nature.
General properties of solids, liquids, and gases.

* The text-books will be fixed from time to time by the Syndicate.
See Appendix B.

Conditions of equilibrium of a mass acted on by forces.
 Motions of translation and rotation.
 Pressure of fluids and gases : measurement of pressure.
 Equilibrium of floating bodies.
 Specific gravity and its determination.
 Motion of pendulum, and of the torsion pendulum or balance.

(b) Heat—

Laws of expansion of solids, liquids, and gases under heat.
 Determination of co-efficients of expansion.
 Measurement of temperature.
 Maximum density of water.
 Changes of molecular state, and latent heat of molecular changes of state.
 Influence of change of pressure on the boiling point and melting point.
 Regelation.
 Laws of pressure of gases.
 Elastic force of vapour ; dew point, and its determination.
 Formation of dew and clouds.
 Radiation, conduction and convection of heat.
 Phenomena of combustion.
 Steam engines.

(c) Light—

Laws of transmission of light and of its intensity.
 Shadows.
 Images produced by small apertures.
 Photometry.
 Reflection of light.
 Refraction of light.
 Images by reflection, and refraction, and their position.
 Critical angle.
 Properties of prisms and lenses.
 Telescope, microscope, spectroscope, the human eye.
 Decomposition of light.

(d) Frictional Electricity—

Electrical attractions and repulsions.
 Properties of conductors and non-conductors.
 Electrical induction.
 Electrical force and density.
 Electrical distribution on conductors.
 Power of points.
 Ramsden's and Armstrong's electrical machines.
 Condenser ; electrophorus ; Leyden jar.
 Electric discharges.
 Atmospheric electricity.

(e) Dynamic Electricity—

Voltaic pile, its modifications.
 Effects of the current.

BACHELOR OF ARTS.

Electro-dynamics.
Electro-magnetism.
Voltaic induction.
Thermo-electricity.

V.—HISTORY.

The outlines of the History of Greece and Rome.

The historical questions shall include questions relating to the geography of the countries to which they refer.

The text-books will be fixed from time to time by the Syndicate.
(See Appendix B.)

VI.—LOGIC.

Deductive Logic.

BACHELOR OF ARTS.

1. An Examination for the degree of Bachelor of Arts shall be held annually in Calcutta and Agra, and shall commence at such time as the Syndicate shall determine, the date to be approximately notified in the Calendar for the year.

2. Any undergraduate of the University may be admitted to the Examination, provided he has prosecuted a regular course of study in any affiliated institution for not less than two academical years after passing the First Examination in Arts.*

3. Any candidate may be examined either for a pass or for honours in any branch. A candidate who desires to be examined for honours in any branch, must take up instead of the pass subject the corresponding honour subject. A candidate who obtains honours in any branch will be considered to have also passed in that branch. Should a candidate not have deserved honours in any branch, the examiners shall be authorized to declare that he has passed in that branch, if they consider that his attainments come up to the pass standard.

4. Every candidate shall send his application, with a certificate in the form entered in Appendix A, to the Registrar at least thirty days before the date fixed for the commencement of the Examination. If he desires to be examined for honours, he shall state in his application the subject or subjects in which he desires to be so examined.

5. A fee of thirty rupees shall be payable by each candidate. No candidate shall be admitted to the examination, unless he shall have paid this fee to the Registrar. A candidate who fails to pass or to present himself for examination shall not be entitled to claim a refund of the fee. A candidate may be admitted to one or more subsequent examinations for the degree of Bachelor of Arts on payment of a like fee of thirty rupees on each occasion, provided he produces a certificate from the head of an affiliated institution showing that he has prosecuted a regular course of study for six months since the date of the last Examination to which he was admitted.

6. The Examination for the degree of Bachelor of Arts shall be conducted by means of printed papers.

7. At such time as the Syndicate shall determine, (the date to be approximately notified in the Calendar for the year) the Syndicate shall publish a list of the candidates who have passed, arranged in alphabetical order, together with a list of those who have obtained honours in each branch, arranged in two divisions, both in order of merit. At the examination for the degree of Bachelor of Arts every candidate shall be examined in one or other of the two following courses marked A and B:—

A.*

Pass Subjects.

I.—English.

II.—Mental and Moral Science, i. e., Psychology, including the Psychology of Ethics and the History of Moral Systems.

Corresponding Honour Subjects.

I.—In addition to the pass subjects, a further course in English and the history of the English language and literature.

II.—In addition to the pass course, the History of Modern European Philosophy and either
(a) Pure Logic, or
(b) Natural Theology.

* The text-books are fixed from time to time by the Syndicate. See Appendix B.

And one of the following—

|---|--|
| III.—A second language (defined as in F. A. course). IV.—History of England and History either of India or of Greece and Rome. Elements of Political Economy. V.—Mathematics as in the B Course. | III.—In addition to the pass course, Comparative Grammar and either a second course in the classical language or a second classical language. IV.—History of England, India, Greece and Rome, a fuller course of Political Economy than the pass course, and Arnold's Lectures on Modern History, or Mill on Representative Government, or History of the Jews. V.—Mathematics as in the B Honour Course. |

B.*

Pass Subjects.

- I.—English.
- II.—Mathematics.
Statics.
Dynamics.
Hydrostatics.

Corresponding Honour Subjects

- I.—In addition to the pass course, a course of prose works on scientific subjects.
- II.—In addition to the pass course, Analytical Plane Geometry and the Differential and Integral Calculus as defined below.

|---|--|
| III.—Physics and the Elements of Chemistry as defined below. IV.—Chemistry and the Elements of Physics as defined below. V.—Physiology and either Botany or Zoology as defined below. VI.—Geology and either Mineralogy or Physical Geography as defined below. | III.—The full course in Physics and Chemistry together with the Doctrine of Scientific Method. IV.—The full course in Physics and Chemistry together with the Doctrine of Scientific Method. V.—Physiology, Botany and Zoology, together with the Doctrine of Scientific Method. VI.—Geology, Mineralogy and Physical Geography together with the Doctrine of Scientific Method. |
|---|--|

* The text-books are fixed from time to time by the Syndicate. See Appendix B.

DEFINITION OF SUBJECTS.

II.—Mathematics.

The pass subjects shall include—

(a) Statics—

Parallelogram and triangle of forces.
 Resultant of parallel forces.
 Couples.
 Moments.
 Equilibrium. Conditions of equilibrium of any forces acting on a particle or rigid body.
 Centre of parallel forces.
 Centre of gravity, or centroids.
 Friction.
 Simple cases of tension of strings.
 Levers; pulley; wheel and axle; inclined plane; screw.
 Virtual velocities.

(b) Dynamics—

Definition and measurement of mass, force, velocity, acceleration, momentum, work, and energy.
 Laws of motion.
 Uniform of motion.
 Uniformly accelerated motion—
 (1) In a straight line.
 (2) In a parabola.
 (3) In a circle.
 Simple cases of impact.

(c) Hydrostatics—

The transmission and intensity of fluid pressure.
 Determination of component and resultant fluid pressure in simple cases.
 Centre of pressure.
 Conditions of equilibrium of floating bodies.
 Metacentre.
 Properties of elastic fluids and determination of pressure.
 Specific gravity, and the methods of determining it.
 Measurement of heights by the barometer.
 Mixture of gases.
 Description of the barometer, air-pump, common and force pumps, the diving-bell, the balloon, siphon, and Bramah's press, as applications of hydrostatical principles.

The Honour subjects shall include—

(a) Analytical Plane Geometry.

Rectangular and polar co-ordinates.
 Transformation of co-ordinates.
 The straight line.

The circle.
 The parabola.
 The ellipse.
 The hyperbola.
 The general equation of the second degree.

(b) Differential Calculus.

Definition of differential co-efficients.
 Differentiation of functions of a single variable.
 Successive differentiation.
 Taylor's and Maclaurin's theorems, and their simpler applications.
 Evaluation of functions which assume an indeterminate form.
 Differentiation of functions and implicit functions.
 Maxima and minima values of functions of one variable.
 Tangents, normals, asymptotes, curvature, singular points, evolutes, involutes.
 Tracing of curves.

(c) Integral Calculus.

Integration of simple functions of a single variable.
 Integration of rational fractions.
 Integration by formulæ of reduction.
 Determination of lengths and areas of curves.

III, IV.—PHYSICS AND CHEMISTRY.

The elements of Physics shall include the following considered with special reference to Chemistry :—

(a) Heat—

Heat of combustion, absolute thermal effects and pyrometric thermal effects of chemical combination, theory of flame, theories of the source of light in luminous flames.

(b) Light—

Reflection and refraction, dispersion, spectrum analysis, chemistry of light, photography, fluorescence, double refraction and polarization, saccharimeters.

(c) Magnetism—

Magnetism, magnetic polarity, natural and artificial magnets, diamagnetism.

(d) Electricity—

Two kinds of electricity, insulators and conductors; sources of electricity, electricity developed by chemical action, voltaic electricity, various batteries, electrolysis, laws of electrolysis, electroplating, electro-gilding.

Physics shall include—

(a) General Ideas—

1.—Wave motion:—

Measurement of simple or harmonic wave motions.

Combination of wave motions.

Resolution of complex wave motions into simple or harmonic wave motions.

2.—Potential:—

Definition of potential.

Calculation of potential in simple cases.

Determination of force from potential.

Fundamental propositions respecting lines of force, equipotential surfaces, and tubes of force.

3.—Elasticity:—

Definition of elasticity.

Measurement of elasticity in the cases of solids, liquids and gases.

Distinction between, and determination of, elasticity of constant temperature and of constant entropy for gases.

(b) Heat—

In addition to a more thorough acquaintance with the subject than that required for the First Arts Examination and a greater power of working problems on heat, an elementary knowledge of the principles of thermo-dynamics will be required.

(c) Light—

In this subject, more difficult questions in the determination of foci, focal lengths, &c., will be required than for the First Arts Examination. Also the following:—

Spherical aberration.

Dispersion.

The formation of rainbows.

(d) Frictional Electricity—

This subject must now be taken up in connection with potential.

(e) Sound—

The laws of the production and propagation of sound determined experimentally.

Intensity, pitch, and quality of sounds.

The velocity of sound in air and other media: Doppler's principle.

Reflection and refraction of sound.

Measurement of sound vibrations and wave lengths of air.

Resonance.

Interference of sound waves. Beats.

Harmonic tones; their generation and function in sound.

Longitudinal vibration of rods and of columns of air.
 Transverse vibration of strings.
 Formation of Chladni's figures.
 Vibrations of tuning-forks and bells.
 Nature of musical sounds.
 Vocal organs of man.

(f) Dynamical Electricity—

Voltaic batteries as sources of electric currents.
 Action of currents on magnetic needles. Galvanometers.
 Thermo-electric currents.
 Definition and measurement of electric force, conductivity, resistance, and current.
 Ohm's law, and its simpler applications.
 Laws of action of currents on currents, and their simpler applications.
 Solenoids. Ampère's theory of magnetism.
 Electro-magnets.
 Mechanical, chemical, and heating effects of currents.
 Electrolysis.
 Induced currents, their modes of generation and laws of action.
 Ruhmkorff's coil.
 Electro-magnetic currents.
 Electro-magnetic machines; the more important details of the working of telegraphs.
 Theories of electricity.

(g) Magnetism—

Properties of permanent and artificial magnets.
 Magnetic induction.
 Phenomena of terrestrial magnetism.
 Determination of declination, dip, and intensity of the magnetic force of the earth.
 The compass needle.
 Methods of magnetisation.
 Determination of magnetic laws of action by the torsion balance.
 Magnetic Potential.

(h) Polarization of Light—

Undulatory theory of light.
 Reflection and refraction of light.
 Prismatic analysis of light.
 Achromatism.
 Explanation of lines in the solar and other spectra.
 Interference of light.
 Diffraction of light.
 Measurements of wave lengths of light.
 Colours of thin plates.
 Double refraction.

Polarization of light by reflection, refraction, and double refraction.

Interference of polarized light as shown by double refracting crystals. Polariscopes.

Elliptic and circular polarization.

Rotary polarization.

The Elements of Chemistry shall include :—

- (a) The following general considerations :—

Definition of Chemistry; differences between chemical action and the action of the physical forces; simple and compound matter; different modes of chemical action; combining weights, volume weights; principles of chemical nomenclature, symbolic notation, graphic notation; chemical equations; atoms and molecules; general knowledge of atomicity of elements; simple and compound radicals; classification of elements.

- (b) A fairly complete knowledge of the modes of occurrence, methods of preparation, properties, uses, and general characters of the following non-metallic elements, of their allotropic modifications, and of their principal and best known compounds ;—

Hydrogen, fluorine, chlorine, bromine, iodine.

Oxygen (and ozone).

Boron.

Carbon, silicon.

Nitrogen, phosphorus, arsenic.

Sulphur.

- (c) A general knowledge of :—

The distinctions between non-metals and metals.

Acids, bases, and salts.

The constitution of salts.

The principles of crystallography.

- (d) A knowledge of the methods of preparation, properties, and uses of the following metals and their principal salts :—

Sodium, potassium, ammonium, silver.

Calcium (glass manufacture, &c.), magnesium, zinc, copper, mercury.

Gold.

Lead, tin, platinum, aluminium (porcelain, pottery, &c.).

Antimony, bismuth.

Chromium, manganese, iron.

Chemistry shall include, in addition to a fuller knowledge of the subjects specified under the head Elements of Chemistry—

Inorganic Chemistry—

- (a) General considerations :—

Laws of chemical combination, equivalents, atomic weights, physical and chemical relations of atomic weights, specific or atomic volumes, a more complete knowledge of the subject of atomicity; or quantivalence, triads, perissads, &c; variations of atomicity; absolute, latent, and active atomicity; relations between atomic weight and quantivalence, chemical affinity, influence of pressure on chemical action, relations of heat to chemical affinity, &c., physical properties of metals, chemical relations of metals, alloys, general characters and general methods of preparation of compounds of metals with non-metals, theory of normal, acid and basic salts, isomorphism, the principles of qualitative analysis.

(b) Study of the following elements :—

Selenium, tellurium, lithium, caesium, rubidium, barium, strontium, the earth metals, cadmium, indium, gallium, titanium, vanadium, uranium, tungsten, molybdenum, nickel, cobalt, and the platinum metals.

(c) A knowledge of the methods used in the preparation of the more important acids, salts, &c., employed in the arts and manufactures.

(d) A knowledge of metallurgical operations, such as are employed in the preparations of iron, zinc, copper, lead, tin, mercury, silver, and aluminium.

Organic Chemistry—

(a) The following general considerations :—

Definition of organic bodies, synthesis from inorganic materials, decompositions and transformations of organic compounds, analysis of organic bodies.

Determination of the specific gravity of gases and vapours.

Determination of empirical, rational, and constitutional formulæ; theory of types, classification of organic compounds, organic series, constitutional formulæ of organic compounds.

(b) Isomerism, metamerism, and polymerism, physical properties of organic compounds.

A knowledge of some few typical compounds in each of the different classes of organic compounds.

V. Physiology shall include :—

(1) A course of practical instruction in Elementary Biology.

(2) General Physiology.

(3) Special Physiology of the Vertebrata.

(4) Special Physiology of the Invertebrata.

Botany shall include :—

(a) The morphology and histology of flowering plants; the general principles of their classification on the systems of Linnæus and de Candolle, with a detailed acquaintance with the characters of the following natural orders :—

Anonaceæ.	Apocynæ.
Menispermaceæ.	Asclepiadaceæ.
Nymphæaceæ.	Convolvulaceæ.
Papaveraceæ.	Solanaceæ.
Cruciferæ.	Boraginæ.
Malvaceæ.	Acanthaceæ.
Sterculiaceæ.	Verbenaceæ.
Tiliaceæ.	Labiata.
Aurantiacæ.	Amarantaceæ.
Ampelideæ.	Urticaceæ.
Anacardiaceæ.	Euphorbiaceæ.
Leguminosæ.	Palmeæ.
Myrtaceæ.	Aroidæ.
Combretaceæ.	Commelynaceæ.
Cucurbitaceæ.	Orchidaceæ.
Umbelliferæ.	Scitamineæ.
Rubiaceæ.	Cyperaceæ.
Compositæ.	Gramineæ.

(b) A general acquaintance with the morphology, histology and classification of cryptogams.

(c) Vegetable physiology.

Zoology shall include :—

Embryonic development and comparative anatomy of the principal orders of animals, ordinal classification of the animal kingdom, and generic classification of one selected order of Vertebrata and one of Invertebrata, to be notified beforehand. The geographical distribution and habitats of animals. The species of the mammals of India, omitting the micro-mammalia, viz., Insectivora, Rodentia, and Chiroptera; and the Indian genera of one order of Reptilia and one of Aves, to be previously notified.

VI. Geology shall include :—

The classification, structure, and formation of rocks. The evidence of past changes afforded by their present condition, and a practical acquaintance with their mineral characteristics, to be tested by specimens. The generic determination of the most characteristic fossil forms, and the indication of age and habitat which they afford. A practical knowledge of fossil forms, to be tested by specimens. A general knowledge of the geology of Great Britain and Western Europe, and a more detailed knowledge of the geology of India. An acquaintance with geological maps, to be tested by the construction of a geological section from a given map.

Mineralogy shall include :—

- (a) General characteristics of minerals.
- (b) Crystallography of the structure of minerals, fundamental forms of crystals, cleavage, secondary forms, compound crystals, dimorphism, irregularities of crystals, measuring angles of crystals, massive minerals, columnar structure, lamellar and granular structure, pseudomorphous, crystals.
- (c) Physical properties of minerals; lustre, colour, diaphaneity, refractions and polarization, phosphorescence, electricity and magnetism, specific gravity, hardness, state of aggregation, fracture, taste, odour.
- (d) Chemical properties of minerals; action of acids, &c., on minerals; blow-pipe re-actions of minerals.
- (e) Classification of minerals.
- (f) Description and recognition of the more important minerals and rocks or mineral aggregates.
- (g) Chemical composition and formulæ of minerals.

Physical Geography shall include :—

The form and density of the earth, and modes of ascertaining them. The distribution and characteristic geographical phenomena of land and water. Climate and its determining causes. The inorganic physical geography of India. Meteorology.

EXAMINATION FOR THE DEGREE OF M. A.

1. An Examination for the degree of Master of Arts shall be held annually in Calcutta, commencing at such time as the Syndicate shall determine, the date to be approximately notified in the Calender for the year.

2. Any candidate who has passed the B. A. Examination may be examined for the degree of M. A. in one or more of the following branches :

- (1) Languages.
- (2) History.
- (3) Mental and Moral Philosophy.
- (4) Mathematics
- (5) Natural and Physical Science.

3. A fee of rupees fifty shall be payable by each candidate. No candidate shall be examined unless he shall have paid this fee to the Registrar. A candidate who fails to pass or to present himself for Examination shall not be entitled to claim a refund of the fee.

4. Every candidate shall intimate to the Registrar the branch or branches in which he desires to be examined. Such intimation must reach the office of the Registrar at such time as the Syndicate shall determine, the date to be approximately notified in the Calendar for the year.

5. The Examination in languages shall be in English for candidates whose vernacular is not English, or in any one of the following classical languages, viz., Greek, Latin, Sanskrit, Arabic, Persian, Hebrew, and Pali.

The subjects in languages shall be selected by the Syndicate two years before the Examination.

The Examination shall include written answers in English to questions relating to the books selected for the Examination.

It shall also include questions on comparative grammar, with special reference to the language professed by the candidate.

Every candidate shall be required to write an Essay in English on a subject connected with the History or Literature of the Language professed by him.

The Examination in English shall include the elements of Anglo-Saxon grammar.

The Examination in the classical languages shall include translation into English from the language professed by the candidate, and into that language from English.

6. The Examination in History* shall be in the following subjects:—

- (a) The History of England (including Scotland, Ireland and the British Colonies and Dependencies) to the accession of Queen Victoria.
- (b) The Constitutional History of England.
- (c) A selected period of History—Indian or European, Ancient, Mediæval, or Modern—to be studied with reference to original sources.
- (d) Political Philosophy, General Jurisprudence, and International Law.
- (e) Political Economy and Economic History.

Candidates shall also be required to write an Essay in English on some subject included in the foregoing course.

7. The Examination in Mental and Moral Philosophy shall be in the following subjects:—

Logic, Deductive and Inductive.
Psychology.

* For text-books see Appendix B.

Ethics.

Natural Theology, or the Evidences of Christianity.

The above subjects shall be studied historically in the works of the principal authorities.*

8. The Examination in Mathematics shall be in the following subjects :—

- (1) Algebra.
- (2) Plane Trigonometry.
- (3) Theory of Equations and the Elements of Determinants.
- (4) Analytical Plane Geometry.
- (5) Analytical Solid Geometry.
- (6) Differential Calculus.
- (7) Integral Calculus, omitting elliptic integrals and the calculus of variations.
- (8) Differential Equations.
- (9) Statics.
- (10) Dynamics of a Particle, omitting the more complicated problems of constrained motion upon surfaces, and also propositions involving the application of the calculus of variations.
- (11) Hydromechanics, omitting the theory of sound.
- (12) Geometrical Optics, omitting the formulæ for the calculation of spherical aberration, and reflection and refraction at surfaces in any manner.
- (13) Spherical Trigonometry, omitting the parts which are not required in Astronomy.
- (14) Practical and Spherical Astronomy.
- (15) Newton's Principia, sections I to III.
- (16) Rigid Dynamics, including the motion of Rigid Bodies in two dimensions.

9. Candidates in Natural and Physical Science shall be allowed to select alternatively two out of the following group of subjects :—

- (A) Chemistry.
- (B) Electricity and Magnetism.
- (C) Heat and the elements of Molecular Physics.

Or two out of the following group :—

- (D) Botany.
 - (E) Physiology and Zoology.
 - (F) Geology and Mineralogy.
- (A) The course in chemistry shall be both theoretical and practical. In the practical Examination candidates ought to shew a good knowledge of chemical manipulation and ought to be able to qualitatively analyse complex inorganic substances. They should also be acquainted with the principles of quantitative analysis.*

* For text-books see Appendix B.

(B) The course in Electricity and Magnetism shall include questions presupposing a moderate acquaintance with the principles and methods of the Differential Calculus. Integral Calculus and Differential Equations. The candidate shall be required to show that he has a competent practical knowledge of the instruments and apparatus employed in Magnetism and Electricity, and to execute experiments in the presence of the Examiner.*

(C) The course in Heat shall include questions presupposing acquaintance with the principles and methods of the Differential Calculus, Integral Calculus, and Differential Equations. The candidate should also shew himself thoroughly acquainted with the various instruments and apparatus employed in Heat, and should be prepared to perform measurements and experiments in the presence of the Examiner.*

(D) Botany* shall include the following:—

(a) General and special Morphology and Physiology.

(b) Systematic Botany.

(c) Palæobotany.

(d) Practical knowledge of indigenous Indian plants, and identification of specimens of them by Roxburgh's Flora Indica (Clarke's edition).

(E) Zoology* shall include the subjects of (a) Comparative Anatomy and Physiology, (b) Distribution and (c) Evolution.

(F) Geology and Mineralogy* shall include the subjects of (a) Stratigraphical Geology, (b) Palæontology, (c) Mineralogy, (d) Crystallography, (e) Elementary Inorganic Chemistry.

10. As soon as possible after each Examination for the degree of M. A., the Syndicate shall publish a list of candidates who have passed, arranged in three classes, each in order of merit. Candidates shall be bracketed together, unless the Examiners are of opinion that there is clearly a difference in their merits. Each successful candidate shall receive with his degree of M. A. a certificate setting forth the subject in which he was examined, and the class in which he was placed.

11. The candidate who shall be placed first in the first class in each branch shall receive a Gold Medal and a prize of books to the value of one hundred rupees, and the second student of the first class in each branch shall receive a Silver Medal and a prize of books to the value of one hundred rupees.

12. Any master of Arts may, on payment of a fee of fifty rupees, be admitted to the M. A. Examination in any branch other than that in which he was previously examined, and may, if his attainments come up to the standard prescribed for the degree of M. A., be granted a certificate to that effect, stating the class in which he has passed. A candidate who fails to pass, or to present himself for Examination, shall not be entitled to claim a refund of the fee.

* For text-books see Appendix B.

CHARLES H. TAWNEY,

Registrar.

SENATE HOUSE,

The 4th March 1882.

II. ACT OF INCORPORATION.

ACT NO. II OF 1857.

Passed on the 24th January.

An Act to establish and incorporate an University at Calcutta.

WHEREAS, for the better encouragement of Her Majesty's Preamble. subjects of all classes and denominations within the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal and other parts of India, in the pursuit of a regular and liberal course of education, it has been determined to establish an University at Calcutta, for the purpose of ascertaining by means of examination the persons who have acquired proficiency in different branches of Literature, Science, and Art, and of rewarding them by Academical Degrees as evidence of their respective attainments and marks of honour proportioned thereunto ; and whereas, for effectuating the purposes aforesaid, it is expedient that such University should be incorporated ; It is enacted as follows (that is to say) :—
Incorporation.

I. The following persons, namely

The Right Honourable CHARLES JOHN VISCOUNT CANNING, Governor-General of India ;

The Honourable JOHN RUSSELL COLVIN,
Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces ;

The Honourable FREDERICK JAMES HALLIDAY,
Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal ;

The Honourable SIR JAMES WILLIAM COLVILLE, Knight, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Judicature in Bengal ;

The Right Reverend DANIEL WILSON, Doctor of Divinity,
Bishop of Calcutta ;

The Honourable GEORGE ANSON, General,
Commander-in-Chief of the Forces in India ;

The Honourable JOSEPH ALEXANDER DORIN,
Member of the Supreme Council of India ;

The Honourable JOHN LOW, Major-General,
Companion of the Most Honorable Order of the Bath,
Member of the Supreme Council of India ;

The Honourable JOHN PETER GRANT,
Member of the Supreme Council of India ;

The Honourable BARNES PEACOCK,
Member of the Supreme Council of India ;

CHARLES ALLEN, Esquire,
Member of the Legislative Council of India ;

HENRY RICKETTS, Esquire,
Provincial Member of the Supreme Council of India ;

CHARLES BINNY TREVOR, Esquire,
Judge of the Sudder Court in Bengal ;

Prince GHOLAM MUHAMMUD ;

WILLIAM RITCHIE, Esquire,
Advocate-General in Bengal ;

CECIL BEADON, Esquire,
Secretary to the Government of India ;

Colonel HENRY GOODWYN, of the Bengal Engineers,
Chief Engineer in Bengal ;

WILLIAM GORDON YOUNG, Esquire,
Director of Public Instruction in Bengal ;

Lieutenant-Colonel WILLIAM ERSKINE BAKER,
of the Bengal Engineers,

Secretary to the Government of India ;

Lieutenant-Colonel ANDREW SCOTT WAUGH,
of the Bengal Engineers,

Surveyor-General of India ;

KENNETH MACKINNON, Esquire,
Doctor in Medicine ;

HODGSON PRATT, Esquire,
Inspector of Schools in Bengal ;

HENRY WALKER, Esquire,
Professor of Anatomy and Physiology in the Medical College in Bengal ;

THOMAS THOMSON, Esquire, Doctor in Medicine,
Superintendent of the Botanical Gardens at Calcutta ;

FREDERICK JOHN MOUAT, Esquire,
Doctor in Medicine and Fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons;

Lieutenant WILLIAM NASSAU LEES,
of the Bengal Infantry;

The Reverend WILLIAM KAY, Doctor of Divinity,
Principal of Bishop's College;

The Reverend ALEXANDER DUFF,
Doctor of Divinity;

THOMAS OLDHAM, Esquire,
Superintendent of the Geological Survey of India;

HENRY WOODROW, Esquire,
Inspector of Schools in Bengal;

LEONIDAS CLINT, Esquire,
Principal of the Presidency College;

PROSONNO COOMAR TAGORE,
Clerk, Assistant of the Legislative Council of India;

RAMAPERSHAD ROY,
Government Pleader in the Sudder Court of Bengal;

The Reverend JAMES OGILVIE,
Master of Arts;

The Reverend JOSEPH MULLENS,
Bachelor of Arts;

Moulavy MUHAMMAD WUJEEH,
Principal of the Calcutta Mudrasah;

ISWAR CHANDRA BIDYASAGAR,
Principal of the Sanscrit College of Calcutta;

RAMGOPAL GHOSE,
Formerly Member of the Council of Education:

ALEXANDER GRANT, Esquire,
Apothecary to the East India Company;

HENRY STEWART REID, Esquire,
Director of Public Instruction in the North-Western Provinces,

being the first Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, and Fellows of the said University, and all the persons who may hereafter become or be appointed to be Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, or Fellows as hereafter mentioned, so long as they shall continue to be such Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, or Fellows, are hereby constituted and declared to be one Body Politic and Corporate by the name of the University of Calcutta; and such Body Politic shall by such name have perpetual succession, and shall have a common seal; and by such name shall sue and be sued, implead and be impleaded, and answer and be answered unto, in every Court of Justice, within the territories in the possession and under the Government of the East India Company.

II. The said Body Corporate shall be able and capable in law to take, purchase, and hold any property, moveable or immoveable, which may become vested in it for the purposes of the said University by virtue of any purchase, grant, testamentary disposition, or otherwise; and shall be able and capable in law to grant, demise, alien, or otherwise dispose of, all or any of the property, moveable or immoveable, belonging to the said University; and also to do all other matters incidental or appertaining to a Body Corporate.

III. The said Body Corporate shall consist of one Chancellor, one Vice-Chancellor and such number of ex-officio, and other Fellows as the Governor-General of India in Council hath already appointed, or shall from time to time, by any order published in the Calcutta Gazette, hereafter appoint; and the Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, and Fellows for the time being shall constitute the Senate of the said University: Provided that, if any person being Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, or Fellow of the said University, shall leave India without the intention of returning thereto, his office shall thereupon become vacant.

IV. The Governor-General of India for the time being shall be the Chancellor of the said University, and the first Chancellor shall be the Right Honourable Charles John Viscount Canning.

V. The first Vice-Chancellor of the said University shall be Sir James William Colville, Knight. The office of Vice-Chancellor shall be held for two years only; and the Vice-Chancellor hereinbefore nominated shall go out of office on the first day of January, 1859. Whenever a vacancy shall occur in the office of Vice-Chancellor of the said University by death, resignation, departure from India, effluxion of time, or otherwise, the Governor-General of India in Council shall, by notification in the Calcutta

Gazette, nominate a fit and proper person, being one of the Fellows of the said University, to be Vice-Chancellor in the room of the person occasioning such vacancy: Provided that on any vacancy in the said office which shall occur by effluxion of time, the Governor-General of India in Council shall have power to re-appoint the Vice-Chancellor herein-before nominated or any future Vice-Chancellor to such office.

VI. The Lieutenant-Governor in Bengal and the North-Western Provinces, the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, or of any Court of Judicature hereafter to be constituted, to or in which the powers of the said Supreme Court may be transferred or vested, the Bishop of Calcutta and the Members of the Supreme Council of India, all for the time being, shall be ex-officio Fellows of the said University. The whole number of the Fellows of the said University, exclusive of the Chancellor and Vice-Chancellor for the time being, shall never be less than thirty; and whenever the number of the said Fellows, exclusive as aforesaid, shall by death, resignation, departure from India, or otherwise, be reduced below thirty, the Governor-General of India in Council shall forthwith, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, nominate so many fit and proper persons to be Fellows of the said University as, with the then Fellows of the said University, shall make the number of such Fellows, exclusive as aforesaid, thirty. But nothing herein contained shall prevent the Governor-General of India in Council from nominating more than thirty persons to be Fellows of the said University, if he shall see fit.

VII. The Governor-General of India in Council may cancel the appointment of any person already appointed, or hereafter to be appointed, a Fellow of the University, and as soon as such order is notified in the Gazette, the person so appointed shall cease to be a Fellow.

VIII. The Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, and Fellows for the time being shall have the entire management of and superintendence over the affairs, concerns, and property of the said University.

University ; and in all cases unprovided for by this Act, it shall be lawful for the Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, and Fellows to act in such manner as shall appear to them best calculated to promote the purposes intended by the said University.

The said Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, and Fellows shall have full power from time to time to make and alter any bye-laws and regulations (so as the same be not repugnant to law or to the general object and provisions of the Act) touching the examination for Degrees and the granting of the same ; and touching the examination for Honours and the granting of marks of Honour for higher proficiency in the different branches of Literature, Science, and Art ; and touching the qualifications of the candidates for Degrees and the previous course of instruction to be followed by them, and the preliminary examinations to be submitted to by them ; and touching the mode and time of convening the meetings of the Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, and Fellows ; and, in general, touching all other matters whatever regarding the said University. And all such bye-laws and regulations when reduced into writing, and after the common seal of the said University shall have been affixed thereto, shall be binding upon all other persons, members of the said University, and all candidates for Degrees to be conferred by the same, provided such bye-laws and regulations shall have been first submitted to and shall have received the approval of the Governor-General of India in Council.

IX. All questions which shall come before the Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, and Fellows, shall be decided at a meeting of the Senate by the majority of the Members present ; and the Chairman at any such meeting shall have a vote, and in cases of an equality of votes, a second or casting vote. No question shall be decided at any meeting, unless the Chancellor or Vice-Chancellor, and five Fellows, or in the absence of the Chancellor and Vice-Chancellor, unless six Fellows at the least, shall be present at the time of the decision. At every meeting of the Senate, the Chancellor, or in his absence the Vice-Chancellor, shall preside as Chairman ; and, in the absence of both, a Chairman shall be chosen by the Fellows present, or the major part of them.

X. The said Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, and Fellows, for the time being shall have full Appointment and removal of Examiners and Officers. power from time to time to appoint, and, as they shall see occasion, to remove all Examiners, Officers, and servants of the said University.

XI. The said Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, and Fellows, shall have power, after examination, to confer the several Degrees Power to confer Degrees. of Bachelor of Arts, Master of Arts, Bachelor of Laws, Licentiate of Medicine, Doctor of Medicine, and Master of Civil Engineering; they shall also have power, after examination, to confer upon the candidates for the said several Degrees, marks of honour for a high degree of proficiency in the different branches of Literature, Science, and Art, according to rules to be determined by the bye-laws to be from time to time made by them under the power in that behalf given to them by this Act.

XII. Except by special order of the Senate, no person shall be admitted as a candidate Qualification for admission of candidates for Degrees. for the Degree of Bachelor of Arts, Master of Arts, Bachelor of Laws, Licentiate of Medicine, Doctor of Medicine, or Master of Civil Engineering, unless he shall present to the said Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, and Fellows, a certificate from one of the Institutions authorized in that behalf by the Governor-General of India in Council, to the effect that he has completed the course of instruction prescribed by the Chancellor, Vice Chancellor, and Fellows of the said University, in the bye laws to be made by them under the power in that behalf given by this Act.

XIII. The said Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, and Fellows shall cause an examination for Examination for Degrees. Degrees to be held at least once in every year; on every such examination, the candidates shall be examined either by Examiners appointed for the purpose from among the Fellows by the said Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, and Fellows, or by other Examiners so to be appointed; and on every such examination, the candidates, whether candidates for an ordinary Degree or for a Degree with honours, shall be examined on as many subjects and in such manner as the said Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor and Fellows shall appoint.

XIV. At the conclusion of every examination of the candidates, the Examiners shall declare the name of every candidate whom they shall have deemed entitled to any of the said Degrees, and his proficiency in relation to other candidates; and also the honours which he may have gained in respect of his proficiency in that department of knowledge in which he is about to graduate; and he shall receive from the said Chancellor a certificate, under the seal of the University of Calcutta, and signed by the said Chancellor, or Vice-Chancellor, in which the particulars so stated shall be declared.

XV. The said Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, and Fellows shall have power to charge such reasonable fees for the Degrees to be conferred by them and upon admission into the said University and for continuance therein, as they, with the approbation of the Governor-General of India in Council, shall from time to time see fit to impose. Such fees shall be carried to one General Fee Fund for the payment of expenses of the said University, under the directions and regulations of the Governor-General of India in Council, to whom the accounts of income and expenditure of the said University shall once in every year be submitted for such examination and audit as the said Governor-General of India in Council may direct.

Annual Accounts.

ACT NO. XLVII OF 1860.

Passed on the 6th October.

An Act for giving to the Universities of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay the power of conferring Degrees in addition to those mentioned in Acts II, XXII, and XXVII of 1857.

WHEREAS it is expedient to give to the Universities of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, established under Acts II, XXII, and XXVII of 1857, the power of conferring Degrees other than the Degrees in that Act expressly provided for; it is enacted as follows:—

I. It shall be competent to the Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, and Fellows of the Universities of Calcutta, Madras or Bombay, respectively, to confer such Degrees and to grant such Diplomas or Licences in respect of Degrees, as the said Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, and Fellows of any such University shall have appointed or shall appoint by any bye-laws or regulations made and passed or to be made or passed by them in the manner provided in the said Acts, and submitted to and approved by the Governor-General in Council as far as regards the University of Calcutta, or by the Governor in Council of Madras or Bombay as regards the Universities of Madras and Bombay respectively.

II. All the provisions contained in the said Acts II, XXII, and XXVII of 1857, with respect to the Degrees therein mentioned, and to the examinations for those Degrees, shall apply to any Degrees which may be conferred under this Act and to the examinations for such Degrees.

ACT NO. XXI OF 1875.

Received the assent of the Governor-General on the 14th December 1875.

An Act to authorize the University at Calcutta to grant Honorary Degrees.

WHEREAS, under Act No. II of 1857, an University was established at Calcutta for the purpose of ascertaining by examination the persons who had acquired proficiency in different branches of Literature, Science, and Art, and of rewarding them by Academical Degrees as evidence of their respective attainments: and by section eight of the same Act the Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, and Fellows for the time being of the said University were empowered to make bye-laws and regulations touching the examination for such Degrees and the granting of the same;

And whereas, by section eleven of the same Act, it was provided that the said Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, and Fellows should have power after examination to confer the several Degrees therein mentioned ;

And whereas, under Act No. XLVII of 1860, the Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, and Fellows for the time being of the said University were empowered to confer such Degrees as they should appoint by bye-laws and regulations made and approved as therein mentioned ; and all the provisions of the said Act No. II of 1857 with respect to the Degrees therein mentioned, and the examination of those Degrees were declared to apply to Degrees conferred under the said Act No. XLVII of 1860, and to the examinations for such Degrees ;

And whereas, under bye-laws and regulations made in exercise of the said powers, the executive government of the said University is now vested in a Syndicate consisting of the Vice-Chancellor and six of the Fellows of the said University ; and it is the duty of the said Syndicate (among other things) to grant Academical Degrees ;

And whereas it is expedient to authorize the said Syndicate to grant such Degrees to persons who have not undergone a previous examination ; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

1. With the previous consent of the said Chancellor, the said Syndicate for the time being may grant any Academical Degree to any person without requiring him to undergo any examination for such Degree ;

Provided that the said Vice-Chancellor, and not less than four of the other members of the said Syndicate for the time being, certify in writing that in his and their opinion such person is, by reason of eminent position and attainments, a fit and proper person to receive such Degree.

III.

BYE - LAWS.

THE SENATE.

The Senate,* as constituted by Act No. II of 1857, shall meet ordinarily once a year, on the third Saturday in April,† and at other times when convened by the Vice-Chancellor.

2. The Vice-Chancellor shall convene a meeting of the Senate on the requisition of any six of the members.

3. Nine Members of the Senate shall constitute a quorum, and all questions shall be decided by a majority of the votes of the Members present.

THE FACULTIES.

1. The Senate shall be divided into four Faculties, namely, Arts, Law, Medicine and Engineering. Every Member of the Senate may be a Member of one Faculty at least, and any Member of the Senate may be a Member of more than one Faculty.

2. The Faculties shall be appointed by the Senate at its Annual Meeting.

3. Each Faculty shall elect its own President. Every Meeting of a Faculty shall be convened by its President, or, in his absence, by the Senior Fellow belonging to that Faculty.

4. If any Faculty omit to elect a President before the Annual Meeting of the Senate, or, in case the office should become vacant during the year, to elect a President for the rest of the year within one month after the vacancy occurs, the Vice-Chancellor may appoint any Member of such Faculty to be its President.

* By the 8th Section of Act No. II of 1857, the Senate have power to make and alter Bye-laws and Regulations, subject to the approval of the Governor-General of India in Council.

† The Syndicate have power to alter all dates.

5. Three Members of any Faculty shall constitute a quorum of the Faculty.

THE SYNDICATE.

1. The Executive Government of the University shall be vested in a Syndicate consisting of the Vice-Chancellor and six of the Fellows, who shall be elected for one year by the several Faculties, in the following proportions :—

Three by the Faculty of Arts.
One by the Faculty of Law.
One by the Faculty of Medicine.
One by the Faculty of Engineering.

2. The elections, both of the Presidents of the Faculties and of the Members of the Syndicate, shall take place before the Annual Meeting of the Senate, and the names of the persons elected shall be declared at such Meeting.

3. The Syndicate shall meet ordinarily once a month, and at other times when convened by the Vice-Chancellor.

4. All Members of the Syndicate must be resident in or near Calcutta. If any Member be temporarily absent from Calcutta, the President of his Faculty may appoint a Member to officiate during his absence. Should the period of absence exceed three months, the Vice-Chancellor may declare his place vacant.

5. On every vacancy in the Syndicate, caused by death, resignation, absence from Calcutta, or otherwise, the Faculty, by whom the Member causing the vacancy was elected, shall proceed to elect a new Member for the remainder of the current year.

6. If any Faculty omit to elect a Member of the Syndicate within one month after a vacancy occurs, the Vice-Chancellor may appoint one from among the Members of that Faculty.

7. Four Members of the Syndicate shall constitute a quorum, and all questions shall be decided by a majority of the votes of the Members present.

8. The Vice-Chancellor, or, in his absence, the Senior*

* The ex-officio Fellows of the University are always the Senior Fellows in order of official precedence. The seniority of the other Fellows mentioned in the Act of Incorporation is according to the order in which their names appear there. The seniority of all other Fellows is according to the date and order of their appointment.

Fellow present shall preside at all Meetings of the Syndicate, and if the votes, including that of the President, are equally divided, the President shall have a casting vote.

9. It shall be the duty of the Syndicate to appoint, and if necessary to remove, the Examiners and all other officers of the University, except the Registrar; to order examinations in conformity with the Regulations, and to fix the times at which they shall be held; to grant Degrees, Honours, and Rewards; to keep the Accounts of the University; and to correspond on the business of the University with the Government and all other authorities and persons.

10. During the year, between the Annual Meetings of the Senate, the Syndicate may appoint any Member of the Senate to any one or more of the Faculties, and may transfer any Member from one Faculty to another.

11. The Syndicate shall from time to time frame such Bye-laws and Regulations as may be necessary, subject to the approval of the Senate. Each Faculty shall report on any subject that may be referred to it by the Syndicate.

12. Any Faculty, or any Member or number of Members of the Senate, may make any recommendation to the Syndicate, and may propose any Bye-law or Regulation for the consideration of the Syndicate.

13. The decision of the Syndicate on any such recommendation or proposition, or any matter whatever, may be brought before the Senate by any Member of the Senate at one of its Meetings, and the Senate may approve, revise or modify any such decision, or may direct the Syndicate to review it.

14. No question shall be considered by the Senate that has not, in the first instance, been considered and decided on by the Syndicate.

THE REGISTRAR.

1. The Registrar shall be appointed by the Senate at the Annual Meeting. He shall be appointed for two years only, but at the end of every such term he may be re-appointed. The term of office of the Registrar shall commence on the first day of May next following his election. If a vacancy occur in the office of Registrar between two Annual Meetings of the Senate, the Syndicate shall appoint a person to officiate until the next first day of May.

2. It shall be competent to the Syndicate at their discretion to grant leave of absence for short periods to the Registrar, when such leave can be granted without public inconvenience or extra expense. It shall also be competent to the Syndicate once during the Registrar's two years' tenure of office to grant him leave of absence on medical certificate, without forfeiture of salary, for a period not exceeding three months; provided that a satisfactory arrangement can be made without extra expense for the discharge of the Registrar's duties during his absence. Should it be necessary for the Registrar, after enjoying one such leave of absence, to be absent a second time (otherwise than for a short period as already provided,) or should it be necessary for the Registrar at any time to be absent for more than three months, or to proceed to Europe, the office of Registrar shall thereupon become vacant.

3. The Registrar shall be the custodian of the Records, Library, Common Seal, and such other property of the University as the Syndicate shall commit to his charge.

4. All Meetings of the Senate, the Syndicate, and the Faculties shall be convened through the Registrar, who shall keep a record of the proceedings of such meetings,

SECOND LICENTIATE MEDICAL EXAMINATION.

9. Any candidate who can produce certificates to the following effect, may be admitted to this Examination :—

(a.) Of having passed the First Licentiate Medical Examination at least two years previously.

(b.) Of having, subsequently to passing the First Licentiate Medical Examination, attended the following courses of lectures at a School of Medicine recognized by the Syndicate :—

Two Courses of 70 Lectures.

Medicine (including Hygiene).
Surgery.
Midwifery.

One Course of 40 Lectures.

General Pathology and Morbid Anatomy.

Two Courses of 50 Lectures.

Medical Jurisprudence.

One Course of 25 Lectures.

Diseases of the eye.

(c.) Of having subsequently to passing the First Licentiate Medical Examination, dissected the surgical regions, and performed surgical operations during two Winter Sessions; the certificate to state the number and nature of the operations so performed.

(d.) Of having duly and carefully performed six post-mortem examinations, and having regularly attended one course of practical demonstrations in the Dead House.

(e.) Of having conducted at least six Labours.

Certificates on this subject will be received from any legally qualified practitioner in Medicine.

(f.) Of having attended Hospital and Dispensary Practice during the last three academic years of study in the following manner, viz. :—

Three months of attendance at the Out-door dispensary of a recognized Hospital.

Fifteen months of attendance at the Surgical practice of a recognized Hospital, and Lectures on Clinical Surgery during such attendance.

Fifteen months of attendance at the Medical practice of a recognized Hospital, and Lectures on Clinical Medicine during such attendance.

Three months of attendance at the practice of an Eye-Infirmery,

(g.) Of having drawn up, in his own handwriting, six Medical and six Surgical cases, during his period of Service as Clinical Clerk or dresser.

(h.) Of general character and conduct from the Principal of the College or School of Medicine at which he has studied.

10. Every candidate for admission to the Examination shall send his application, with a certificate in the form entered in Appendix A, to the Registrar at least fourteen days before the date fixed for the commencement of the Examination.

11. A fee of twenty-five rupees shall be payable by each candidate. No candidate shall be admitted, unless he shall have paid this fee to the Registrar. A candidate, who fails to pass or present himself for examination, shall not be entitled to claim a refund of the fee. A candidate may be admitted to one or more subsequent Examinations on payment of a like fee of twenty-five rupees on each occasion; and in the case of a candidate who has already failed to pass, on the production of a certificate of having attended a further course of hospital practice and clinical instruction, subsequently to his last failure, for one academical year.

12. The Examination shall be written, oral, and practical.

13. Every candidate shall be examined in the following subjects:—

Principles and Practice of Medicine.

Ditto ditto of Surgery.

Ophthalmic Medicine and Surgery.

Midwifery.

Medical Jurisprudence.

Hygiene and Pathology.

Practical Toxicology.

The Clinical Examination shall be conducted in the wards of a Hospital.

14. Every candidate shall be required—

To examine, diagnose, and treat cases of Acute or Chronic Diseases to be selected by the Examiners, and to draw up careful histories of the cases; also, if required, to perform and report in detail necroscopical examinations of any of the selected cases that may have died in Hospital.

To apply apparatus for great surgical injuries and explain the objects to be attained by them, as well as the best manner of effecting those objects.

To examine, in presence of the Examiners, morbid products chemically and by the aid of the microscope, demonstrating the results obtained.

To perform capital operations upon the dead subject, after detailing to the Examiners the pathological conditions in which such operations are necessary, the different modes of operation adopted, and the reasons for preferring any particular mode of procedure.

15. As soon as possible after the Examination, the Syndicate shall publish a list of the successful candidates, arranged in alphabetical order. Every candidate shall, on passing, receive a certificate in the form entered in Appendix A.

BACHELOR IN MEDICINE.

1. An Examination for the Degree of Bachelor in Medicine shall be held annually in Calcutta, and shall commence at such time as the Syndicate shall determine, the date to be approximately notified in the Calendar for the year. The Examination shall consist of two parts, entitled respectively the First and Second M. B. Examinations.

FIRST M. B. EXAMINATION.

2. Any undergraduate of the University, who can produce certificates to the following effect, may be admitted to this Examination:—

(a.) Of having passed the First Examination in Arts; *Latin having been one of the languages in which he was examined.

(b.) Of having, subsequently to passing the First Examination in Arts, been engaged in Medical studies for three academical years.

(c.) Of having attended the following courses of lectures at a School of Medicine recognized by the Syndicate:—

Two Courses each of 70 Lectures.

Descriptive and Surgical Anatomy.

Chemistry.

Materia Medica.

General Anatomy and Physiology.

Two Courses, each of 40 Lectures.

Botany.

One Course of 40 Lectures.

Comparative Anatomy and Zoology.

One Course.

Practical Chemical Exercises in testing the nature of ordinary poisons, and in examination of animal secretions and urinary deposits.

* The words here printed in italics are to take effect as soon after 1869 as the Syndicate may order.

(d.) Of having studied Practical Pharmacy for three months, and of having acquired a practical knowledge of the preparation and compounding of Medicines.

(e.) Of having dissected during three Winter Terms and of having completed at least twelve dissections in each term.

3. Every candidate for admission to the Examination shall send his application, with a certificate in the form entered in Appendix A, to the Registrar at least fourteen days before the date fixed for the commencement of the Examination.

4. A fee of twenty rupees shall be payable by each candidate. No candidate shall be admitted, unless he shall have paid this fee to the Registrar. A candidate, who fails to pass or present himself for examination, shall not be entitled to claim a refund of the fee. A candidate may be admitted to one or more subsequent Examinations on payment of a like fee of twenty rupees on each occasion.

5. The Examination shall be written, oral, and practical.

6. Every candidate shall be examined in the following subjects :—

Descriptive and Surgical Anatomy.

Elementary Chemical Physics, including the general laws of Light, Heat, Electricity, and Magnetism; also Chemistry, Organic and Inorganic, having special reference to Practical Medical Science.

Botany.

Materia Medica and Pharmacy.

General Anatomy and Physiology.

Comparative Anatomy and Zoology.

Practical Chemistry, so far as regards the testing of the presence and nature of ordinary poisons, and the examination of animal secretions and urinary deposits.

The Syndicate shall notify, three months before the Examination, the portions of Botany* in which candidates shall be examined.

7. As soon as possible after the commencement of the Examination, the Syndicate shall publish a list of the candidates who have passed, arranged in two divisions, the first in order of merit, and the second in alphabetical order. Every candidate shall, on passing, receive a certificate in the form entered in Appendix A.

SECOND M. B. EXAMINATION.

8. Any candidate who can produce certificates to the following effect, may be admitted to this Examination :—

(a.) Of having passed the First M. B. Examination at least two years previously.

* See Appendix B.

(b.) Of having subsequently to passing the First M. B. Examination attended the following courses of lectures at a School of Medicine, recognized by the University.

Two Courses each of 70 Lectures,

Medicine (including Hygiene).

Surgery.

Midwifery.

One Course of 40 Lectures.

General Pathology and Morbid Anatomy.

Two Courses of 50 Lectures.

Medical Jurisprudence.

One Course of 25 Lectures.

Diseases of the Eye.

(c.) Of having subsequently to passing the First M. B. Examination, dissected the surgical regions, and performed surgical operations during two Winter Sessions; the certificate to state the number and nature of the operations so performed.

(d.) Of having duly and carefully performed six post-mortem examinations, and of having regularly attended one course of practical demonstrations in the Dead House.

Three months of attendance at the Out-door Dispensary of a recognized Hospital.

Fifteen months of attendance at the Surgical Practice of a recognized Hospital, and Lectures on Clinical Surgery during such attendance.

Fifteen months of attendance at the Medical practice of a recognized Hospital and Lectures on Clinical Medicine during such attendance.

Three months of attendance at the practice of an Eye-Infirmity.

(g.) Of having drawn up in his own handwriting, six Medical and six Surgical cases during his period of service as Clinical Clerk or dresser.

(h.) Of general character and conduct, from the Principal of the College or School of Medicine at which he has studied.

9. Every candidate for admission to the Examination shall send his application, with a certificate in the form entered in Appendix A, to the Registrar at least fourteen days before the date fixed for the commencement of the Examination.

10. A fee of thirty rupees shall be payable by each candidate. No candidate shall be admitted, unless he shall have paid this fee to the Registrar. A candidate who fails to pass or present himself for Examination shall not be entitled to claim a refund of the fee. A candidate may be admitted to one or more subsequent Examinations on payment of a like fee of thirty rupees on each occasion ; and in the case of a candidate who has already failed to pass, on the production of a certificate of having attended a further course of hospital practice and clinical instruction, subsequently to his last failure, for one academical year.

11. The examination shall be written, oral, and practical.

12. Every candidate shall be examined in the following subjects :—

Principles and Practice of Medicine.

Ditto ditto of Surgery.

Ophthalmic Medicine and Surgery.

Midwifery.

Medical Jurisprudence.

Hygiene and Pathology.

General and Comparative Physiology.

Practical Toxicology.

The Clinical Examination shall be conducted in the Wards of a Hospital.

13. Every candidate shall be required—

To examine, diagnose, and treat cases of Acute or Chronic Disease to be selected by the Examiners; and to draw up careful histories of the cases; also, if required, to perform and report in detail necroscopical examinations on any of the selected cases that may have died in Hospital.

To perform capital operations upon the dead subject, after detailing to the Examiners the pathological conditions in which such operations are necessary, the different modes of operation adopted, and the reasons for preferring any particular mode of procedure.

14. As soon as possible after the Examination. the Syndicate shall publish a list of the successful candidates, arranged in two divisions, each in alphabetical order.

15. Any Licentiate of two years' standing may be admitted to this Degree, on paying a fee of fifty rupees, and producing certificates to the following effect :—

(a.) Of having passed the First Examination in Arts,* Latin having been one of the languages in which he was examined.†

* Any Licentiate in Medicine and Surgery may proceed to the First Examination in Arts or to the B. A. Examination, without completing the two years' attendance at an affiliated Institution required under para. 2 of the First Arts and B. A. Regulations.

† The words here printed in italics are to take effect as soon after 1869 as the Syndicate may order.

(b) Of having attended, at a School of Medicine recognized by the Syndicate, a course of lectures in Comparative Anatomy and Zoology consisting of at least 40 lectures.

(c) Of having passed an examination in Comparative Anatomy and Zoology and in General and Comparative Physiology.

16. Any candidate who has passed the Licentiate Examination before 1867, or the Senior Diploma Examination of the Medical College, may be admitted to this Degree, without further examination or fee, on producing a certificate of having passed the First Examination in Arts,* Latin having been one of the languages in which he was examined.†

HONOURS IN MEDICINE.

1. Any candidate, who has been placed in the first division at the Second Examination for the Degree of Bachelor of Medicine, may be examined for Honours in one or more of the following branches :—

Surgery.

Medicine.

Midwifery.

Medical Jurisprudence.

2. The Examination shall take place in the week following the completion of the Second Examination, and shall be conducted by means of written papers and practical tests.

3. As soon as possible after each Examination for Honours, the Syndicate shall publish a list of the successful candidates, arranged in order of merit. Candidates shall be bracketed together, unless the Examiners are of opinion that there is clearly a difference in their merits.

DOCTOR IN MEDICINE.

1. An Examination for the Degree of Doctor in Medicine shall be held annually in Calcutta, and shall commence at such time as the Syndicate shall determine, the date to be approximately notified in the calendar for the year.

* Any Licentiate in Medicine and Surgery may proceed to the First Examination in Arts or to the B. A. Examination, without completing the two years' attendance at an affiliated Institution required under para. 2 of the First Arts and B. A. Regulations.

† The words here printed in italics are to take effect as soon after 1869 as the Syndicate may order.

2. Any Bachelor in Medicine may be admitted to this Examination, provided he can produce certificates to the following effect:—

(a.) Of having been admitted to the Degree of Bachelor of Arts.*

(b.) Of having, subsequently to passing the M. B. Examination, completed—

Five years of certified practice of the Medical profession, or

Two years' Hospital practice and two years' private practice, or

Two years' practice, either hospital or private, if the candidate be a Graduate in Medicine with Honours.

(c.) Of good moral character, signed by two persons of respectability.

3. Every candidate for admission to the Examination shall send his application, with a certificate in the form entered in Appendix A, to the Registrar at least one month before the date fixed for the commencement of the Examination.

4. A fee of one hundred rupees shall be payable by each candidate. No candidate shall be admitted, unless he shall have paid this fee to the Registrar. A candidate who fails to pass or present himself for Examination shall not be entitled to claim a refund of the fee. A candidate may be admitted to one or more subsequent Examinations on payment of a like fee of one hundred rupees on each occasion.

5. The Examination shall be written, oral, and practical.

6. Every candidate shall be examined in the following subjects:—

Medicine, including the Practice of Physic.

Surgery.

Midwifery.

Hygiene and Pathology.

7. As soon as possible after the Examination, the Syndicate shall publish a list of the successful candidates, arranged in alphabetical order.

8. Any candidate who is not a Bachelor in Medicine, may be admitted to the Examination for the Degree of Doctor in Medicine, on producing certificates to the following effect:—

* Any Bachelor in Medicine may proceed to the B. A. Examination without completing the two years' study at an affiliated Institution required under para. 2 of the B. A. Regulations.

(a.) Of having passed the Senior Diploma Examination of the Medical College or the Licentiate Examination in Medicine and Surgery of the University.

(b.) Of having attained the age of 35 years.

(c.) Of having practised the Medical profession with repute for five years.

(d.) Of fitness, moral and social, for the degree.

(e.) Of having passed the B. A. Examination,* Latin having been one of the languages in which he was examined; or†

The following preliminary Examination for those candidates only who had completed their Medical Education on or before the Session of 1859 :—

English.

Subjects of Examination shall not be appointed, but the answers of the candidates in all subjects must be such as to show a competent knowledge of the English language.

Mental and Moral Science.

Mental Science;—as contained in Abercrombie on the Intellectual Powers.

Moral Philosophy;—as contained in Payne and Abercrombie.

FIRST EXAMINATION IN ENGINEERING.

1. The First Examination in Engineering shall be held every year in Calcutta, and shall commence at such time as the Syndicate may determine, the date to be approximately notified in the Calendar for the year.

2. Any undergraduate of the University may be admitted to this Examination, provided he has prosecuted a regular course of study in a School of Engineering affiliated to the University, for two years and six months after passing the Entrance Examination.

3. Every candidate for Admission to the Examination shall send his application, with a certificate in the form entered in Appendix A, to the Registrar, at least fourteen days before the date fixed for the commencement of the Examination.

* Any person who has passed a University Examination for a Licence in Medicine and Surgery in or before 1864, may proceed to the B. A. Examination without passing the First Examination in Arts or completing the two years of study at an affiliated Institution required under para. 2 of the B. A. Regulations.

† The words here printed in italics are to take effect as soon after 1869 as the Syndicate may order.

4. A fee of twenty rupees shall be payable by each candidate. No candidate shall be admitted unless he has paid this fee to the Registrar. A candidate who fails to appear or to present himself for Examination shall not be entitled to claim a refund of the fee. A candidate may be admitted to one or more subsequent Examinations on payment of a like fee of twenty rupees on each occasion.

5. Every candidate shall be examined in the following subjects :—

- I. Mathematics.
- II. Natural Science.
- III. Engineering Construction.
- IV. Geodesy.
- V. Drawing.

I. MATHEMATICS.

Arithmetic. The whole.

Algebra.

To the Binomial Theorem (omitting scales of notation), Exponential Theorem and Logarithms.

Geometry.

Euclid—Books 1, 2, 3, 4, and 6, with deductions, Conic Sections treated geometrically.

Trigonometry.

As far as the solution of all cases of plane triangles. DeMoivre's Theorem, Exponential values of Sine and Cosine.

Mensuration.

Mensuration of surfaces and solids.

Analytical Geometry.

Equations of the straight line, circle, ellipse, hyperbola, and parabola, without reference to the general equation of the 2nd degree.

Statics.

Parallelogram and triangle of forces, Resultant of parallel forces, Couples, Moments Equilibrium of any forces acting on a particle or rigid body. Centre of parallel forces, Centre of gravity. Friction, Simple cases of tension of Strings, Levers, Pulleys, Wheel and axle, Inclined plane, Screw.

Dynamics.

Definition and measurement of mass, force, velocity, acceleration, momentum, work and energy.* Laws of motion, Uniform motion. Uniformly accelerated motion in a straight line, parabola and circle. Relative motion. Simple cases of Impact.

II. NATURAL SCIENCE.

Chemistry.

Inorganic Chemistry, The metals and non-metals.

Physics.

Light, Heat, Electricity, Magnetism and the elements of Telegraphy.

III. ENGINEERING CONSTRUCTION.

Materials. Structure, Classification, and characteristic qualities of Building Stones, Artificial Stones, Quarrying and Blasting, Preparation of Bricks and Tiles, Cementing materials, Plasters, Paints and Varnishes, Properties and preservation of timber, Iron and Steel Lead, Copper, Zinc and the common Alloys.

IV. GEODESY.

Use of the scales, Prismatic Compass, Pocket Sextant, Level, Theodolite and Plane table. Topographical Surveying of limited areas. Practice of Levelling. Route surveying and laying out curves. Elements of Practical Astronomy (Attested surveys, executed by the candidate, will be submitted to the Examiner, to which marks will be assigned.)

V. DRAWING.

1. Free-hand Drawing.
2. Projection (a) Orthographic, (b) Isometric, (c) Perspective.

6. The Examination shall be conducted by means of printed papers, and a paper of questions shall be set in each of the following subjects :

Arithmetic and Algebra.
 Plane Geometry and Geometrical Conic Sections.
 Trigonometry and Mensuration.
 Statics and Dynamics.
 Analytical Geometry.
 Chemistry.
 Light and Heat.
 Electricity, Magnetism, and the elements of Telegraphy.
 Materials of Construction.
 Geodesy.
 Drawing.

7. As soon as possible after the Examination, the Syndicate shall publish a list of the successful candidates

* Special importance will be attached to a thorough comprehension of the principles of Work and Energy, and of their application to the solution of Mechanical questions.

arranged in two divisions, each in order of merit. Every candidate, shall, on passing, receive a certificate in the form entered in Appendix A.

LICENCE IN ENGINEERING.

1. An Examination for a Licence* in Engineering shall be held annually in Calcutta, and shall commence at such time as the Syndicate shall determine, the date to be approximately notified in the Calendar for the year.

2. Any undergraduate of the University may be admitted to this Examination on producing a certificate from the head of an institution affiliated to the University in Engineering, shewing that he has prosecuted a regular course of study for not less than one Academical year after passing the First Examination in Engineering.

3. Every candidate for admission to the Examination shall send his application, with a certificate in the form entered in Appendix A, to the Registrar at least fourteen days before the date fixed for the commencement of the Examination.

4. A fee of twenty-five rupees shall be payable by each candidate. No candidate shall be admitted unless he has paid this fee to the Registrar. A candidate who fails to pass or to present himself for Examination shall not be entitled to claim a refund of the fee. A candidate may be admitted to one or more subsequent examinations on payment of a like fee of twenty-five rupees on each occasion.

5. Every candidate shall be examined in one of the following Branches marked A and B:—

A.—(Civil Engineering.)

- I. Mathematics.
- II. Natural Science.
- III. Engineering Construction.
- IV. Drawing.

I. MATHEMATICS.

Differential Calculus.

Differential coefficients of simple and complex functions, successive differentiation, Differential functions of two variables, functions of functions; Implicit functions. Taylor's and Maclaurin's Theorems. Maxima and Minima, values of functions of one variable.

* The holder of this Licence shall be styled a Licentiate in Engineering.

Integral Calculus.

Integration of simple functions, Rational fractions. Formulæ of reduction. Lengths of curves Areas of curves and surfaces. Volumes of solids. Differentiation of an Integral.

Hydrostatics.

Equilibrium of fluids, Specific gravity, Equilibrium of floating bodies, Centre of pressure, Elastic fluids, Principles of Barometer, and application to determine heights of Mountains; of the air-pump. Condenser-pump, Siphon, Hydrostatic Press and the Hygrometers.

II. NATURAL SCIENCE.

Geology. (Excluding Palæontology and the Stratigraphical classification based thereon) with special reference to the practice of mining.

Mineralogy. The form of minerals. The physical, optical, and chemical character of minerals. The distribution of minerals. Paragenesis.

Metallurgy. The metallurgy of Iron, Steel, Tin, Copper, Zinc, Lead, Mercury, Silver, and Gold.

III. ENGINEERING CONSTRUCTION.

Practice of Building. Brick and stone masonry, Earthwork, Carpentry Foundations, Walls, Floors and roofs of Buildings, Construction of masonry, Wooden and iron bridges, Construction and maintenance of Roads, Construction of Railroads and Railway appliances.

Hydraulic Engineering. Canal and River Engineering, River training and improvements, Flow of liquids through orifices, Flow of liquids in pipes. The movements of water in Canals and Rivers, Flow of water over weirs and waste weirs, Afflux of fluids caused by obstructions, Water-wheels and Turbines, Storage of water, Supply of water to towns.

Applied Mechanics. Direct stresses, Bars and pillars of various forms in tension and compression, Transverse strain, Deflection of Beams, Resistance to torsion, The equilibrium, stability and strength of Framed Structures, Stability of suspension bridges, Theory of Earth pressure, and Resistance of Block work Structures. Elements of Graphic Statics.

Mechanism. Elementary forms of Machines, Levers, Cranks, Rolling Contacts, Sliding Contacts, Mechanism for modifying motion, Accumulation and Regulation of Motion.

Steam-Engine. Measurement of Heat, Joule's Equivalent, Indicators and Indicator diagrams, Boilers, Heating surface, injectors and all other parts of high and low pressure Engines.

IV. DRAWING.

Engineering and Architectural Drawing.

B.—(Mechanical Engineering.)

I. Mathematics.

II. Engineering Construction.

III. Machinery.

IV. Drawing.

I. MATHEMATICS.

As laid down for the Examination for Branch A.

II. ENGINEERING CONSTRUCTION.

Practice of Building. As laid down for the Examination for Branch A.

Applied Mechanics. As laid down for the Examination for Branch A.

Steam-Engine. The Steam-Engine as viewed under a knowledge of the doctrine of Latent Heat, with history of improvements and alterations in original theories, Combustion of fuel, Heat Engines. The conversion of Motion, Indicators and details of Construction, Boilers, Compound Cylinder Engines, Miscellaneous details.

Hydraulic Engineering. Hydraulic Machinery, Flow of water in pipes.

III. MACHINERY.

Mechanism and Machine design. Elementary forms of Machines Levers, Cranks, Rolling Contacts, Sliding Contacts, Mechanism for modifying motion, Accumulation and Regulation of Motion. Mode of designing Riveted Joints, Fastenings, Journals, Pivots, Axles, Shaftings, Bearings, Strength and form of toothed gearing, Belt and rope gearing, Link-work, Pistons, Stuffing boxes, Valves and Cocks.

Workshop Appliances. Measures of length and methods of measuring. Hand tools for wood and metals, Forming straight edges and surface plates. Foot and power Lathe, Machinery for drilling, Boring, Planing, Shaping, Slotting, Punching, Shearing and Sawing. Distribution of motive power to Machine tools.

Designs. Designs of Factories and Workshops with arrangement of Machinery.

IV. DRAWING.

Machine Drawing.

6. Candidates shall also be allowed to present themselves for Examination in one or more of the following optional Subjects, proficiency in which will affect their place in the division list, but will not be counted towards a pass.

Optional Subjects.

- I. MATHEMATICS.

Pure Mathematics	} as in the First Examination in Engineering.
Mixed Mathematics
- II. NATURAL SCIENCE.

Chemistry	} as in the First Examination in Engineering.
Physics
- III. ENGINEERING CONSTRUCTION.

Materials of Construction, as in the First Examination in Engineering.
- IV. GEODESY, as in the First Examination in Engineering.

7. The Examination shall be conducted by means of printed papers, and a paper of questions shall be set in each of the following subjects:

Branch A.

Differential and Integral Calculus.
 Hydrostatics.
 Geology.
 Mineralogy and Metallurgy.
 Details of Construction.
 Roads and Railways.
 Hydraulic Engineering.
 Applied Mechanics.
 Mechanism and Steam-Engine.
 Engineering and Architectural Drawing.

Branch B.

Differential and Integral Calculus.
 Hydrostatics.
 Details of Construction.
 Roads and Railways.
 Applied Mechanics.
 Hydraulic Engineering.
 Mechanism and Machine design.
 Designs, and Workshop appliances.
 The Steam-Engine.
 Machine Drawing.

Optional.

Pure Mathematics.
 Mixed Mathematics.
 Chemistry.
 Physics.
 Materials of Construction.
 Geodesy.

8. As soon as possible after the Examination, the Syndicate shall publish a list of the successful candidates arranged in two divisions, each in order of merit. Every candidate shall on passing receive a certificate in the form entered in Appendix A.

BACHELOR IN ENGINEERING.

1. An Examination for the Degree of Bachelor in Engineering shall be held annually in Calcutta, and shall commence at such time as the Syndicate shall determine, the date to be approximately notified in the Calendar for the year.

2. Any candidate who has passed the First Examination in Arts* may be admitted to this Examination, provided he produces a certificate from the head of an Institution affiliated in Engineering, shewing that he has prosecuted a regular course of study for not less than one Academical year, after passing the First Examination in Engineering.

* Any under-graduate who has passed the First Examination in Engineering may proceed to the First Examination in Arts and the Bachelor of Arts Examination, without completing the two years of study at an affiliated Institution required under para. 2 of the First Arts and B. A. Regulations.

3. Every candidate for admission to the Examination shall send his application, with a certificate in the form entered in Appendix A, to the Registrar, at least fourteen days before the date fixed for the commencement of the Examination.

4. A fee of thirty rupees shall be payable by each candidate. No candidate shall be admitted, unless he has paid this fee to the Registrar. A candidate who fails to pass or present himself for Examination shall not be entitled to claim a refund of the fee. A candidate may be admitted to one or more subsequent Examinations on payment of a like fee of thirty rupees on each occasion.

5. Every candidate shall be examined in the subjects and in the manner ordered in paras. 5, 6 and 7 of the Regulations for a Licence in Engineering.

6. As soon as possible after the Examination, the Syndicate shall publish a list of the successful candidates arranged in two divisions, each in order of merit. Every candidate shall, on passing, receive a certificate in the form entered in Appendix A.

7. The first candidate of the first division shall receive a gold medal to the value of one hundred rupees.

8. Any Licentiate in Engineering, who has passed the First Examination in Arts, may, on paying the usual fee, be admitted to the Degree of Bachelor in Engineering without further Examination.

HONOURS IN CIVIL ENGINEERING.

1. An Examination for Honours in Civil Engineering shall be held annually in Calcutta, commencing at such time as the Syndicate shall determine, the date to be approximately notified in the calendar for the year.

2. Any candidate who has passed the Examination for the Degree of Bachelor in Civil Engineering, or for a Licence in Civil Engineering, may be examined for Honours.

3. Every candidate for Honours shall send his application to the Registrar, at least fourteen days before the date fixed for the commencement of the Examination.

4. The Examination shall be written and oral.

5. Every candidate shall be examined in the following subjects :—

- I. Mathematics.
- II. Mechanical Philosophy.
- III. Natural and Experimental Science.
- IV. Geodesy.

I. MATHEMATICS.

Spherical Trigonometry as applied to Geodesy.

Descriptive Geometry.

II. MECHANICAL PHILOSOPHY.

Central Forces.

Rotation and Oscillation of Bodies. Centrifugal Forces.

Motion of Fluids.

Geometrical Optics.

The Elements of Astronomy, and its application to Geodesy.

III. NATURAL AND EXPERIMENTAL SCIENCE.

Heat, with reference to Steam and Combustion.

Chemistry, as applied to Cements and preservation of Materials.

Practical application of Electrical Science.

General Principles of Geology and Mineralogy, and their applications to Engineering.

IV. CONSTRUCTION.

Practice of Building.

Theory and Practice of Bridge-Building.

Roads and Railways.

Hydraulic works.

Equilibrium of Structures, theory of Machines with special reference to the Steam Engine.

Principles of design.

V. GEODESY.

Surveying.

Topographical Drawing.

6. The candidates' qualifications shall be tested by written papers on the first three and the fifth subjects, and by written papers and vivâ voce examination on the fourth subject.

7. As soon as possible after the Examination, the Syndicate shall publish a list of the successful candidates arranged in order of merit.

MASTER IN CIVIL ENGINEERING.

1. No special Examination shall be held, but any person who has graduated as B. C. E. and has at any time passed the Honour Examination, may be admitted to the Degree of Master in Civil Engineering without Examination, provided that—

(1.) Two members of the Faculty of Engineering or two Masters in Civil Engineering shall testify to the satisfaction of the Syndicate that, since graduating, he has practised his profession with repute for four years and that in habits and character he is a fit and proper person for the Degree of Master.

(2.) He shall produce an Essay approved by the President of the Faculty of Engineering for the time being, on some subject connected with Engineering.

2. A fee of one hundred rupees shall be payable for the Degree of Master in Civil Engineering. No candidate shall be admitted, unless he have previously paid this fee to the Registrar.

GENERAL.

1. No question shall be put at any University Examination, so as to require an expression of religious belief on the part of the candidates; and no answer or translation given by any candidate shall be objected to on the ground of its expressing any peculiarities of religious belief.

2. The Syndicate shall have power in any case to admit to any University Examination in any Faculty any person who shall present a certificate from any Institution authorized on that behalf by the Governor-General of India in Council shewing that in such Institution he has attended courses of study, passed Examinations, or taken Degrees corresponding to those which, in connection with such Examinations, are exacted from students of the University.

Physical Geography.

Ansted's Physical Geography, 5th Edition, parts 1, 2, 3, 4, 5.

Blanford's Physical Geography of India.

(d)—Physics { Acoustics
Thermotics
Optics
Magnetism
Electricity } as in Ganot.

(e)—Zoology { General Physiology
Animal Physiology
Zoology } as in Huxley's Elementary Lessons in Physiology, and Alleyne Nicholson's Introductory Text-book of Zoology.

(f)—Botany { General Physiology
Vegetable Physiology
Botany } as in Henfrey's Elementary Course of Botany by Masters, viz., a general acquaintance with Parts I, III, and IV; and of Part II (Systematic Botany) the following only :—

DISTINCTIVE CHARACTERS OF THE NATURAL ORDERS.

(For the Examination of 1884).

Ranunculaceæ,	Combretaceæ,	Loranthaceæ,
Dilleniaceæ,	Lythraceæ,	Euphorbiaceæ,
Menispermaceæ,	Cucurbitaceæ,	Casuarinaceæ,
Nymphæaceæ,	Compositæ,	Piperaceæ,
Capparidaceæ,	Asclepiadaceæ,	Pandanaceæ,
Tamaricaceæ,	Convolvulaceæ,	Dioscoreaceæ,
Sterculiaceæ,	Boraginaceæ,	Smilaceæ,
Sapindaceæ,	Verbenaceæ,	Liliaceæ,
Meliaceæ,	Bignoniaceæ,	Orchidaceæ,
Anacardiaceæ,	Scrophulariaceæ,	Gramineæ.
Leguminosæ,	Nyctaginaceæ,
Rosaceæ,	Chenopodiaceæ,

and the general characters of Horse-tails, Ferns, Mosses, Algæ, Lichens, and Fungi.

N. B.—The candidate will be required to give demonstrations of the general characters of plants upon specimens provided by the Examiners, for which purpose each candidate may bring a knife and pocket lens into the Examination Hall.

(g.)—Geology { Geology
 { Mineralogy } as in Lyell's Student's Elements
 { Palæontology } of Geology : and in Ramsay's Mineralogy (Weale's Series,) Chapter

1 ; and the following Minerals :—

The Native Elements.

Sulphides and Arsenides, viz. :—Nickeline, Smaltine, Blende, Galena, Copper-glance, Cinnabar, Iron Pyrites, Antimonite, Mispickel, Copper Pyrites, Tetrahedrite.

Chlorides, &c., viz. :—Rocksalt, Fluor Spar.

Oxides, viz. :—Cuprite, Magnetite, Spinel, Corundum, Hæmatite, Limonite, Cassiterite, Pyrolusites, Quartz, Opal.

Carbonates, viz. :—Arragonite, Cerusite, Calc-spar, Magnesite, Dolomite, Chalybite, Chessylite, Malachite.

Silicates, viz. :—Olivine, Hypersthene, Diopside, Diallage, Augite, Tremolite, Actinolite, Hornblende, Apophyllite, Talc, Serpentine, Topaz, Garnet, Epidote, Mica, Felspar, Stilbite, Analcime, Tourmaline.

Sulphates, Nitrates, &c. viz. :—Barytine, Gypsum, Saltpetre, Borax, Apatite.

N. B.—Specimens of some of these Minerals will be given to be identified and described.

HONOUR EXAMINATION, 1884.

Pure Mathematics.

Algebra, as in Todhunter or Wood, omitting the theory of Probabilities and Indeterminate Equations of a degree higher than the first.

Trigonometry, as in Todhunter, omitting Articles 318 to the end.

Theory of Equations, as in Todhunter, Chaps. I—XVIII, Articles 242—248, and Chap. XXV to the end.

Geometry of two dimensions, as in Turnbull and Salmon, with the exception of Involution, Infinitesimals, and Projections.

Geometry of three dimensions, as in Aldis, omitting Chap. IX on Functional and Differential Equations to families of surfaces: or the corresponding propositions in Frost and Wolstenholme.

N. B.—Tetrahedral and Quadriplanar co-ordinates will not be required.

Differential Calculus, as in Todhunter.

Integral Calculus, as in Todhunter, Chaps. I—IX, omitting Articles 90—96.

Differential Equations, only as required for the propositions in which they appear.

Spherical Trigonometry, as in Todhunter, Chaps. I—VIII, and Chap. XII.

N. B.—All limits are inclusive.

Mixed Mathematics.

Statics, as in Parkinson and Todhunter, with the exception of Poisson's proof of the Parallelogram of Forces, La Grange's proof of Virtual Velocities; also Chaps. VII, IX, and the articles upon the attraction of Spheroids, Ivory's Theorem and Potentials.

Particle Dynamics as in Tait and Steele, omitting Chaps. VI, XI, XII, the more complicated problems of constrained motion upon surfaces, and all propositions involving the application of the Calculus of Variations.

Hydro-mechanics, as in Besant's elementary treatise, with the exception of the theory of sound; also the larger treatise of the same author, omitting Chaps. VII, X, XII, and all propositions involving the Dynamics of a rigid body.

N. B.—In Chap. VIII, only propositions involving resolution along lines of motion are required.

Optics, as in Parkinson, omitting the formulæ for the calculation of spherical aberration and the propositions at the end of Chap. VI on refraction and reflection at different surfaces in any manner.

Astronomy, as in Main's Practical and Spherical Astronomy, with the exception of the articles mentioned below:—

Chap. II.	Articles	17—19, 33, 36.
" III.	"	10.
" V.	"	11, 12.
" VI. (1)	"	4—8.
" VI. (2)	"	9—12.
" VI. (3)	"	10, 11, 19, 24, 25.
" VII.	"	7—15, 18.
" VIII.	"	9—11, 16—21.
" X.	"	6—8, 34—36.
" XI.	"	12 to end.

Endowments.

PREMCHAND ROYCHAND STUDENTSHIPS.

Premchand Roychand, Esq., of Bombay, in a letter to the Government of India offered to make a donation of two lakhs of Rupees to the Calcutta University, and on the 9th February, 1866, paid over this amount to the Government of India, to be transferred to the University, and held by it as a Body Corporate under section 2 of Act II of 1857. Mr. Premchand Roychand further expressed a hope "that the money should be devoted to some one large object or to a portion of some large object for which it might in itself be insufficient."

The Senate, at a meeting on the 21st July. 1866, accepted Mr. Premchand Roychand's munificent donation, and directed that it should be invested in 5 per cent. Government Securities. The Senate also sanctioned the following plan for appropriating the proceeds of the donation :—

1. Five studentships, to be called Premchand Roychand Studentships, of Rs. 2,000 a year each, to be founded and maintained by the interest of the two lakhs and its accumulations during the next five years.

2. Any M. A. of this University to be eligible for one of these studentships during eight years from the time that he passed the Entrance Examination.

3. Such studentship to be tenable for five years, and one election to be made annually after Examination.

4. Candidates to give notice of intention to appear six months before the Examination, and to select not more than five of the following subjects, each to receive a maximum of 1,000 marks :—

1. English.
2. Latin.
3. Greek.
4. Sanskrit.
5. Arabic.
6. History of Greece, England, and India; and a general view of the History of Modern Europe from Guizot, Hallam, &c. To include Political Economy:
7. Moral Science:—viz., Ethics, Mental Philosophy, Logic.
8. Pure Mathematics.
9. Mixed Mathematics.
10. Physical Science.

5. The names of the students to be printed in the Calendar after the Fellows, and after them the names of ex-students.

DUFF SCHOLARSHIPS.

The subscribers to a fund, raised for the purpose of commemorating the services of the Rev. Dr Duff, directed the investment of the amount collected (Rs. 20,000) in Government Securities; and offered to transfer the same to the University of Calcutta on the following conditions :—

1. The interest of the money shall be applied to establish :—

I.—A Scholarship of Rs. 15 a month, tenable for one year by the student who shall obtain in the First Arts Examination the highest number of marks for Languages.

II.—A Scholarship of Rs. 15 a month, tenable for one year by the student who shall obtain in the First Arts Examination the highest number of marks for Mathematics.

III.—A Scholarship of Rs. 15 a month, tenable for one year by the student who, having been educated for at least one year in the Free Kirk Institution, shall obtain the highest number of marks in all the subjects of the First Arts Examination taken together.

IV.—A Scholarship of Rs. 15 a month, tenable for one year by the student who, being a Christian in religion, and having been educated for at least one year in any of the affiliated Institutions for the education of Europeans and Eurasians shall obtain the highest number of marks in all the subjects of the First Arts Examination taken together.

2. The above Scholarships shall be called "Duff Scholarships," and shall be tenable with any other Scholarships.

3. The surplus of the funds, after paying any small incidental expenses, shall be suffered to accumulate, and used for the purpose of giving rewards to any students of the University, who shall pass with credit in the Evidences of Revealed Religion, Natural Theology and Moral Philosophy in the Examination for Honours, or for Degree of M. A., such rewards to be called "Duff Prizes."

4. Should the accumulations appear to the Syndicate greater than is necessary to carry out Rule 3, they may add to the value of the Duff Scholarships, or increase their number.

5. The Syndicate shall have the power of putting a fair interpretation on any doubtful point in the above rules.

The Senate, at a meeting on the 21st July, 1866, accepted this benefaction from the subscribers of the Duff Memorial Fund.

ESHAN SCHOLARSHIP.

Baboo Eshan Chundra Bose, of Calcutta, bequeathed, by his will to the University, the sum of Rs. 12,000 in Government Securities of the 5 per cent. loan, for the purpose of founding a Scholarship, to be awarded annually in accordance with the terms specified in the following extract from the will:

"I direct my said Executors, immediately on my decease, if the same shall not be contributed during my lifetime, to set apart out of my estate, Government Securities of the late East India Company, or of the Government of India, or both of them, for the amount of Rupees twelve thousand, of some 5 per cent. loan, or otherwise that my Executors shall immediately, after my decease, invest a sufficient part of my estate in the purchase of similar Government Securities for Rupees twelve thousand, of some five per cent. loan, so as to provide an annual income of Rupees six hundred, and to endorse over and transfer the same to the Government of Bengal, or the President, for the time being, of the Syndicate of the Calcutta University subject to the trusts hereinafter mentioned concerning the same, that is to say, interest to found a Scholarship in the Calcutta University, to be called 'Eshan's Scholarship,' to be awarded to the first scholar, being a Hindu Native of India, on the B. A. list for the year in the order of merit, in consideration of his continuing his studies at the Calcutta Presidency College with a view to the attainment of the higher Degree of M. A., and to be paid to him upon or in case of his attaining that Degree, but not otherwise."

TAGORE LAW PROFESSORSHIP.

The Hon'ble Prasanna Coomar Tagore, C. S. I., bequeathed, by his will, to the University, a monthly allowance of Rs. 1,000, for the purpose of founding a Professorship of Law in connection with the University, to be called the "Tagore Law Professorship." The terms of the bequest are given in the following extract from the will:—

"I am desirous of founding a Law Professorship, to be called 'The Tagore Law Professorship,' and of providing an adequate remuneration for the Professor who shall fill the chair provided by me. I direct that my Trustees or Trustee do, and shall, as soon as may conveniently be after my death, invest in Government Securities such a sum of money taken from my personalty or by degrees from the income of my real estate, at the discretion of my Trustees or Trustee, as will produce the monthly sum of Rs. 1,000, and that when such sum has been invested, the same may be assigned, transferred, and made over to the University of Calcutta to be held upon the following trusts, that is to say: In trust to pay out of the interest accruing due therefrom the annual sum of Rs. 10,000 by equal monthly payments to the 'Tagore Law Professor' for the time being, and in trust to apply the residue of the interests in the manner hereinafter mentioned. And I desire that until such sum shall have been so invested and made over as hereinbefore directed, my said Trustees or Trustee shall either from the proceeds of my personal estate or from the rents, issues, and profits arising from my real property, pay the sum of Rs. 1,000 a month to the University of Calcutta, to be applied by the University in the same manner and for the same purposes as the interest to accrue due from the funds which I have hereinbefore directed to be made over to the University. And I declare that the right of appointing a Professor to the said 'Tagore Law Professorship' and removing or dismissing the incumbent therefrom shall be vested in the Senate of the University. And that the first appointment shall be made so as to begin to take effect not later than the end of one year from the date of my death; my will is that the 'Tagore Law Professor' shall read or deliver at some place within the town of Calcutta one complete Course of Law Lectures without charge to the students and other persons who may attend such lectures. Within six months after the delivery of each course of lectures, the lectures shall be printed, and not less than 500 copies thereof shall be distributed gratuitously. I desire that the expense of such printing and distribution may be defrayed out of the residue of the annual interest of the said fund. Whatever portion of the residue may remain after defraying the expenses, I desire that it may be devoted to the printing and publication of approved works on Law or Jurisprudence. It is my will that the said 'Tagore Law Professorship' shall, save as herein provided, be as to the kind of law which is to be taught and in all other matters and things regulated by and subject to the control of the Senate to the said University."

The Senate has adopted the following scheme for lectures :—

1. That in the month of August in each year, the Faculty of Law shall name four or more subjects, upon one of which (to be selected by himself) the Professor for the following year shall be required to deliver a course of at least twelve lectures.

2. That immediately after the subjects shall have been thus named, advertisements shall be published in such newspapers as the Syndicate may think proper, stating the subjects for the lectures, and inviting candidates for the Professorship.

3. That the candidates shall then send in their names to the Registrar on or before the 1st of January following; and each candidate shall be required to state upon which of the subjects he is willing to lecture.

4. That the election of the Professor shall then take place in the month of March; and that he shall be appointed for one year only, . . the Senate being at liberty to re-elect him, if they shall think proper.

UNIVERSITY LIBRARY.

Babu Joykissen Mookerjee, of Ooterpara, made a donation of Rs. 5,000 to the University, on the 20th July, 1869, for the purpose of forming a Library. The amount was invested in four per cent. securities till the completion of the University building.

In 1874, the sum of Rs. 3,500 was added to the Library Fund from the surplus income of the University of that year: and the Syndicate, having thus at their disposal more than Rs. 9,000, appointed a Committee to report on the steps it was advisable to take to form a Library. The Committee reported (see Minutes, Vol. XVIII, page 22) that they thought "it desirable to begin with procuring such books as shall render the Calcutta University Library supplementary to other Libraries now existing in Calcutta." The general principles laid down by the Committee, and the mode of procedure they proposed for adoption, were approved by the Syndicate; and further transfers have, from year to year, been made to the Library fund from the surplus income of the University. Several instalments of books have been received, and the Library now contains, besides English works of reference, and the chief authorities on Indian antiquities, fairly complete sets of the Sanskrit, Arabic, Latin, French and German classics. The following Regulations have been approved by the Syndicate:—

Regulations for the management of the University Library.

1. (a.) The Library shall be under the management of a Committee consisting of not less than five Resident Fellows of the University, who shall be appointed annually by the Syndicate. The Registrar shall be ex-officio Librarian and Secretary of the Committee.

(b.) Members of the Committee, who may leave India during their year of office, with the intention of not returning before the end of their time of office, shall be considered to have vacated their membership.

(c.) Vacancies which may be caused by the retirement or departure of Members, or otherwise, at any time during their year of office, shall be reported to the Syndicate, who may then, at their discretion, nominate other Fellows to the office vacated.

(d.) The Syndicate may at any time, at their discretion, appoint additional Members to the Committee.

2. (a.) It shall be competent to the Committee to make such byc-laws, rules and arrangements, as they may think fit, for holding meetings, and generally for conducting the business pertaining to their office, provided that all such rules and arrangements are consistent with the provisions of the Act of Incorporation, the Bye-laws of the University, and with these present Regulations.

(b.) The Committee shall decide on the purchase of books with the moneys placed at their disposal for that purpose by the Syndicate.

(c.) The Committee shall establish a regular and authentic record of all books borrowed from the Library and returned to it, together with the name of borrowers, the dates of borrowing and returning and such further details as they may deem advisable.

3. The Library is for the use of Resident Fellows of the University, and they alone have the privilege to use it, subject to the present Regulations and to such further rules and orders as may be agreed to by the Library Committee under Regulation 2 (a.)

4. (a.) Persons residing in Calcutta, not being Fellows of the University, may receive special permission from the Syndicate to use the Library for the purpose of literary research. Such permission will be granted only on the recommendation of the Library Committee.

(b.) In recommending any person to the Syndicate under this Regulation, the Library Committee shall specify in writing, for the information of the Syndicate, the grounds on which they base their recommendation.

(c.) Persons not being Fellows of the University may consult the Library for the purpose of literary research, without removing the books from the Library, between the hours of half-past ten A. M. and half-past three P. M., on the written recommendation of a Member of the Library Committee to the Librarian, but not otherwise.

5. (a.) Subject to the exceptions specified in Regulation 7, Fellows and other persons allowed to use the Library under Regulation 4 (a) may borrow and temporarily remove such books as they may require, provided that one person shall not at one and the same time have more than ten volumes, in his possession on loan from the Library. In this Regulation the term "volumes" shall include pamphlets and parts of works separately sewn.

(b.) No books shall be issued and delivered except to the authorised borrower in person, or to some one having written authority from him to receive it on behalf of the authorised borrower.

(c.) Every volume borrowed shall be returned to the Library within two calendar months of the date on which it was removed from the Library. In case any borrower fails to return any book within this period, a notice shall be sent to him by the Librarian calling for the return of the book.

(d.) If a book called for under the previous section be not returned within one week after the receipt of the Librarian's notice, the person who has borrowed the book from the Library shall be subject to a fine of one rupee for each volume so retained, and to a further fine of an equal amount for each additional week that he may retain it after the expiration of the second week.

(e.) Subject to the provisions of Regulations 6, 7, 8, and 9, a book returned to the Library may be again borrowed by the same person, provided that no other Fellow or person entitled to use the Library has lodged with the Librarian an application for the same work. If such application has been made, the book may not be taken out by the original borrower until returned by the second applicant.

6. The privilege of any Fellow or other person to use the Library shall be suspended, so long as he retains any book which, under these Regulations, he is not entitled to retain, or so long as he leaves unpaid any fine which may have been imposed on him under Regulations 5, 8, and 9.

7. (a.) Books which are valuable on account of their rarity or which belong to a series, and which being out of print, it may be difficult or impossible to replace if lost, or books required for constant reference, shall not be removed from the Library.

(b.) A list of the works excluded from removal under this Regulation shall be drawn up by the Library Committee, and will be subject to revision and extension from time to time.

8. (a.) The Librarian shall report to the Committee all cases in which books have been mutilated, disfigured by writing on the margin or otherwise injured, while in the possession of readers.

(b.) Any person guilty of such an offence shall be required to replace the injured, by an uninjured copy of the book, and shall be liable to the cost of its proper binding and other charges. Further, he shall be fined and suspended from the privileges of the Library at the discretion of the Committee.

9. (a.) A general inspection of the Library and of the record of books issued and returned, shall be made annually in the first week of April by the Library Committee, or by one or more Members of the Committee deputed by them for that purpose.

(b.) During this period of inspection the Library shall be closed, and all books whatever and by whomsoever borrowed shall be returned to the Library by the 31st March of each year.

(c.) Any person who fails to return, in accordance with this Regulation, all books borrowed by him, shall be subject to a fine of not less than two rupees for each volume retained, and if such volume is not returned before the expiration of one week after the last day of the inspection, a further fine of an equal amount shall be imposed for each volume for each additional week until that volume is returned or until a copy of the same edition and of equal value is placed in the Library in its stead, and all expenses connected therewith paid by the borrower.

10. The Library shall be closed on Sundays and all public holidays and on all days for holding public examinations. Subject to the exception of Regulation 9, it shall be open on other days between the hours of half-past ten A. M. and half-past three P. M.

MOUAT MEDAL.

II.

Hoooghly College.

AFFILIATED, 1857.

This Institution was founded in 1836, and was originally supported from funds bequeathed by Muhammad Mohsin, a wealthy Muhammadan gentleman, who, dying without heirs in the year 1806, left his large property, yielding an annual income of Rs. 45,000, to Muhammadan Trustees "for the service of God." Owing to the misappropriation of the funds, Government assumed the office of Trusteeship. The right of assumption was opposed by the original Trustees, but upheld both by the Courts in India and by the Privy Council in England. The period of litigation extended over many years, during which the annual income accumulated, forming a surplus of Rs. 8,61,100. The surplus was devoted to the foundation and endowment of the Hooghly College, and was further increased by a portion of the original zemindaree that became available on the death of one of the Mootawallees of the Hooghly Imambarah, an Institution which also derives its support from Muhammad Mohsin's legacy. The College endowment was further increased by the accumulation of unexpended revenue, until the income amounted to Rs. 51,000 per annum. In 1873, the Government of India resolved to transfer the whole of the Mohsin endowment to the purpose of Mahomedan education throughout Bengal, and accordingly increased the provincial assignment for education in Bengal by Rs. 50,000 a year, in order to meet the expenses of the Hooghly College, which has now become an Institution maintained by the Government.

The College consists of three Departments, an English, an Arabic, and a Law Department, and is under the control of the Director of Public Instruction, Lower Bengal. The English Department is open to all students who have passed the University Entrance Examination, the fees being one rupee per mensem for Muhammadans, and Rs. 6 for all others. In the Law Department the fee is Rs. 5 per mensem for the 1st year class, and Rs. 7 for the 2nd and 3rd year classes.

There are Hindu and Muhammadan Hostels connected with the College the boarding-fee in the former is Rs. 4 per mensem, and in the latter Rs. 3.

SCHOLARSHIPS, STUDENTSHIPS, &c.

1. One Laha scholarship of Rs. 25 per mensem tenable for one year is awarded annually to a B. A. of the College preparing for Honours in any branch.

2. One Raneer Kutyanee scholarship of Rs. 16 per mensem, tenable for two years, is awarded annually to the most deserving student who has passed the F. A. Examination from the College and who has not gained a Government scholarship.

3. One Zemindaree scholarship of Rs. 8 per mensem tenable for two years is awarded annually to the most deserving student who has passed the Entrance Examination from the Collegiate or Branch School, and who has not gained a Government scholarship, preference being given to a student of the latter school.

4. Two Mohsin Junior scholarships each of Rs. 8 per mensem tenable for two years at this College are awarded annually.

5. Baboo Doorgacharan Laha awards 5 studentships each of Rs. 5 per mensem to students reading in the English Department of the College, and 5 of of Rs. 3 each to students of the Collegiate School.

6. Nine Mohsin Anglo-Persian scholarships tenable for one year, 3 of Rs. 5, 3 of Rs. 4, and 3 of Rs. 3 per mensem, are awarded annually to the most deserving Muhammadan students of the Collegiate School.

7. Seventeen Free Boarderships are attached to the Muhammadan Hostel and are open to all Muhammadan students of the College and Collegiate School who have not gained any Government or Mohsin scholarships.

8. Six Mohsin scholarships tenable for one year, attached to the Arabic Department, are awarded annually, 2 of Rs. 8, 2 of Rs. 6, and 2 of Rs. 4 per mensem.

A Thwayte's Gold medal of the value of about Rs. 48, is awarded annually to the graduate from this College who gains the highest number of marks in Mathematics at the B.A. Examination of each year.

III.

Dacca College.

AFFILIATED, 1857.

The College is supported by Government, and is under the control of the Director of Public Instruction, Lower Bengal.

It was originally opened as a school, by the General Committee of Public Instruction, in the year 1835. In 1841 it was converted into a College, when a Principal was appointed, and an increase made to the staff of teachers. The College building was erected partly by public subscription in 1841.

Any undergraduate of the University may be admitted, and instruction is given up to the standard of the M. A. Examination in Honours of the University of Calcutta. Lectures in Law also are delivered, and students are prepared for the B. L. Examination.

Students in the General Department pay a monthly fee of Rs. 6 and in the Law Department, of Rs. 7.

A silver medal, called the Donnelly Prize, the value of the interest on Rs. 1,000 subscribed by the native assistants of the late Abkaree Commissioner's office, in memory of the late A. F. Donnelly, Esq., and a prize called the Lewis Prize, the value of the interest of Rs. 500, subscribed by students of the college, in memory of G. Lewis, Esq., one of the former Principals of the college, are awarded annually—the former for proficiency in History and the latter for proficiency in English.

Four Scholarships, of Rs. 6 each, are given by the Nawab Ahsanullah, K. B. to Muhammadan students from the Dacca Madrasah, tenable in the 1st, 2nd, 3rd, and 4th years respectively.

A scholarship of Rs. 20 a month, the interest on Rs. 6000, is given by the Koomar Rajendra Narayan Rai Chaudhuri, of Bhawal, in memory of his father, Kali Narayan Ray Chaudhuri. The scholarship is given to a graduate of the College to enable him to read for M. A.

Attached to the College and under the control of the Principal is the Raj Chandra Hindu Hostel, founded in memory of the late Babu Raj Chandra Dás, Zemindar and Banker of Dacca. It is supported by an annual contribution from his son, Bábu Protáp Chandra Dás, Zemindar and Banker, a monthly capitation grant from the Government of Bengal, and the fees paid by students.

Under the control of the Principal are the Collegiate School and the Survey School. The staff of the former consists of a Head Master, thirteen Anglo-Vernacular Masters, and three Pandits, the latter, of a Head Master and two Assistant Masters.

Krishnaghar College.

AFFILIATED, 1857.

This College was founded by Government in 1845, and is under the control of the Director of Public Instruction, Lower Bengal.

Any person who has passed the University Entrance Examination may be admitted. Students pay a monthly fee of Rs. 5.

The College is a handsome building, standing upon 3 bighas of land, and surrounded by an enclosed compound of upwards of 100 more. It was erected in 1856 at a cost of Rs. 66,876; Rs. 17,000 of which was collected by private subscription. In consideration of the liberality thus manifested in the district, a donor of Rs. 1,000 is allowed to place a boy, free of expense, at the College in perpetuity, and another, for every Rs. 500 additional he may have subscribed. Part of the ground occupied was purchased by Government; for the remainder, the College is indebted to the munificence of the Maharaja of Nuddea and the Maharani Swarnamayi, of Cossimbazar.

In 1871, the B.A. classes (the third and fourth year classes) were abolished by Sir George Campbell, then Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal; and for some years the College only afforded instruction up to the First Examination in Arts. In 1875, however, Sir Richard Temple, on the petition of the chief inhabitants of the district, consented to restore the College to its former status, provided that a considerable share of the increased cost was subscribed for by the community. A sum, amounting to more than Rs 40,000, was subscribed during the year, and with this endowment the College was re-established on its original footing.

Berhampore College.

AFFILIATED, 1857.

It was opened as a College in 1853.

It was raised to the status of a College, giving instruction up to the standard of the B.A. Examination of the University of Calcutta in 1865.

A Law Department was added in 1864. The status was, however, reduced in 1872, and instruction is now given up to the First Arts Examination of the University of Calcutta. The Law Department was abolished in 1875. It is open to all classes of the community, and any University undergraduate is admissible.

The foundation-stone of the building, one moiety of the cost of which was paid by the community, was laid in 1863, and it was occupied in 1869.

There is attached to the College a Hindoo Hostel, the boarder's fee being Rs. 4 for students, and Rs. 6 for teachers per mensem. Efforts are being made to build a new Hostel in connection with the College Rai Ragiblochan Roy Bahadur, the generous Dewan of Her Highness the Maharani Swarnamayi of Kasimbazar, died in 1881 leaving the sum of Rs. 15,000 to the Berhampore College, the interest to be used for assisting deserving students. Babu Radha Charan Sen of Jhowkholah near Kasimbazar, an old student of the Berhampore College, died in 1881 also leaving a sum of money to be used for the same purpose.

VI.

Dobeton College.

AFFILIATED, 1857.

This College is attached to the Parental Academic Institution, a day and boarding-school which was established on the 1st March, 1823, by a body of Christian parents who were anxious to secure for their children the benefits of liberal education, its affairs being conducted by a Committee of Management elected chiefly from among the parents.

In 1855 a legacy of rupees Two Lakhs and Thirty Thousand was bequeathed to the Institution by the late Captain John Doveton, which enabled the Committee of Management to extend its sphere of usefulness by the addition, in 1856, of an Infant School or Initiatory Department, and the establishment of a College Department, named in honour of the donor. A few years later a Girls' Department was added.

In 1871 other bequests were made to the Institution by the late Mr. Lawrence Augustus de Souza, of the Firm of Messrs. Thomas de Souza, and Sons of Calcutta. These consist, first, of the interest on a sum of rupees Three Lakhs, made permanently applicable to the maintenance and education of a certain number of boys and girls of East Indian parents of a certain class, who are admitted as boarders on the "Lawrence de Souza Foundation," at the age of 10, and kept at school till the age of 18; and second, of the interest on a sum of Rs. 15,000 for the establishment of a Scholarship in English literature styled the "Lawrence de Souza Scholarship." It is of the value of Rs. 50 per mensem, and is tenable for one year at the Doveton College; but it is open to any East Indian boy from any School or College, the successful candidate of one year being at liberty to compete for and hold the Scholarship from year to year until he graduates.

In addition to the above, Mr. L. A. de Souza bequeathed a further sum of Rs. 30,000, the interest of which is to be applied towards the education in England of an East Indian youth of ability, with the view of enabling him to compete for the Covenanted Civil Service of India. This is open to any East Indian candidate, whether educated at the Doveton College or elsewhere.

Chairman of Committee of Management.—J. H. Belchambers.

Secretary.—H. A. Twidale.

St. Paul's School, Darjeeling.

AFFILIATED, 1857.

This School was founded in 1845, and was formerly located in Chowringhee, Calcutta. In 1863 the want of a good school in the hills was much felt, and Calcutta being well supplied with schools, the old premises were sold, and with the proceeds an estate was purchased in Darjeeling, and a new school bearing the same as the school in Calcutta was built.

In 1858, two scholarships, worth 20 rupees a month, were founded as a memorial of Bishop Wilson, who had been from the beginning a warm friend to the school. One is given every year, and held for two years.

In 1863, Mr. Patrik Arson of Calcutta bequeathed to the school Rs. 3,500—Government securities 5 per cent.—to establish an “Arson scholarship.”

The school is managed by a Committee meeting in Calcutta, of which the Bishop of Calcutta is President and the Archdeacon Vice-President. The present Secretary is the Rev. Welbore MacCarthy, senior Chaplain of the Cathedral. There is also a Referee in Darjeeling, who inspects the accounts and consults with the Rector in emergencies.

The course of study is that prescribed by the University for its examinations for degrees in Arts, with the addition of religious training upon the principles of the Church of England.

La Martiniere, Calcutta.

AFFILIATED, 1857.

La Martiniere of Calcutta, together with similar Institutions at Lucknow and Lyons, was founded by General Claude Martin, a native of the latter place, and a General in the service of the King of Oudh.

General Martin bequeathed a large sum of money to be devoted to the establishment of a school for the Christian inhabitants of Calcutta, under the direction of the Supreme Court. The School was opened on the 1st March, 1836, and was according to the provision in General Martin's will, named "La Martiniere."

By decrees of the Supreme and High Courts, a body of Governors has been constituted, consisting of the Governor-General, the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, the Chief Justice of the High Court, the Bishop of Calcutta, the Commander-in-Chief, the Members of Council, the two Senior Barrister Judges of the High Court, the Advocate-General for the time being, and the Chairman of the Justices of Calcutta. The ex-officio Governors elect annually four other Governors, who, with one of the ex-officio Governors, form a Board of Acting Governors, to whom the general control of the Institution is entrusted.

By the decree of the Supreme Court, there must be upon the Foundation not less than 75 boys and 40 girls. The Foundationers are entirely supported from the funds of the School, and receive an apprentice-fee or other allowance on leaving the School.

The Foundationers are chosen from amongst the Christian population of Calcutta; and must not be at the time of election less than four, or more than ten, years of age.

Boarders and Day Scholars are also received on payment of a monthly fee.

London Missionary Society's Institution, Bhowanipore.

AFFILIATED, 1857.

This Institution was founded by the London Missionary Society in the year 1838. In 1854 the large and handsome building now used, consisting of a library, a hall, and sixteen class rooms, was first opened.

The Institution is divided into three departments, viz., a College Department for undergraduates of the University, a School Department, and a Theological class for training Christian natives for missionary work.

The course of study comprehends English, Sanskrit, and Bengali Literature, Mental and Moral Philosophy, Mathematics, History, and Geography, together with the Sacred Scriptures and Christian evidences.

The number of students and scholars amounts to more than 700. A branch school at Behala, four miles to the south-west of Calcutta contains 150 boys.

Serampore College.

AFFILIATED, 1857.

This Institution was founded in 1818 under the patronage of the Marquis of Hastings, then Governor-General of India, by the Revs. Dr. Carey, Dr. Marshman, and W. Ward, who, together with Colonel Krefting the Danish Governor of Serampore, and J. C. Marshman, Esq., formed the First Council.

In 1821 it received a munificent donation from the King of Denmark consisting of certain premises to the north-west of the College, and this act of liberality was followed in 1828 by the grant of a Royal Charter giving perpetuity to the Institution and its endowments. At the cession of Serampore to the East India Company, this Charter was confirmed at the especial request of the Danish Sovereign.

The ground on which the College stands was purchased chiefly by subscription; the entire expense of the buildings, amounting to about £15,000, was met out of the private funds of the Serampore Missionaries who were the first promoters of the undertaking. After the death of Dr. Marshman, the funds for carrying on the operations of the College were provided partly by the endowments, but chiefly by the liberality of J. C. Marshman, Esq., the only surviving member of the original Council. On his departure from India in 1856, the College was placed under the general direction of the Baptist Missionary Society, which has since contributed towards its support and become identified with its operations.

It is conducted by two European and two native Professors, assisted by nine native teachers and one European teacher. There is also a European Department under the care of European Masters, and there are two Theological classes, English and Vernacular. The number of students in the College Department is about fifty; in the School three hundred. The number of Christian students is about fifty.

The interest of funds raised by the late Mr. Ward, in Europe and America, supports wholly, or in part, several European youths connected with the Baptist Mission, and also a boarding school for the children of Native Christians.

An education fee, exacted from the European students, contributes to the preservation and improvement of the Library.

St. Xavier's College.

AFFILIATED, 1862.

This Institution was established under the direction of the Society, of Jesus, in January 1860, in the large building, No. 10, Park Street formerly appropriated by the late Dr. Carew for St. John's College. Since 1868, the adjoining house enlarged and improved, forms part of the College.

Its object is to give to Catholic youths a full course of liberal education, and to train up their hearts to virtue. Pupils of other religious persuasions are also admitted on the same principle of non-interference as the old St. Xavier's College which broke up in 1846.

The College has an Infant class, a Lower and an Upper School Departments, averaging over 400 pupils, and a College Department of about 90 to 100 students. The course of studies embraces all subjects up to the M. A. Standard.

Competitions are held during the year, and medals and prizes in books are awarded to the best scholars at the Christmas Examination.

A solar spectroscopic observatory, a meteorological observatory, and a splendid museum of Physical Science Instruments are attached to the College.

The College Department of St. Xavier's has been removed to No. 288 Bow Bazar, and the following is the Staff for the year 1883.

St. John's College, Agra.

AFFILIATED, 1862.

This College was established in 1850 in connection with the Mission of the Church Missionary Society at Agra, chiefly at the instance of an influential body of Civilians and Military officers then forming the Committee of the Local Church Missionary Association, who wished to have an Educational Institution of a high order connected with the Mission.

The large and handsome Gothic building in which the classes are now held, erected from the design of Major Kittoe, was completed in 1853.

Scholarships.

1. The College is endowed with two Scholarships founded in memory of the late Mr. Thomason and bearing his name, value Rs. 10 per month each and tenable for one year. These Scholarships are assigned at the annual Christmas Examination to the two most proficient students in English literature.

2. There are also two endowed Theological Scholarships founded in 1861, value Rs. 5 per month, and tenable for one year, assigned to the two students who show themselves best acquainted with the doctrines and principles of the Christian religion.

3. Other Scholarships, to the value of nearly Rs. 40 per month, are given from the general funds of the College for proficiency in English, Mathematics, Hindi, and Persian.

Fees.

Every student is required to pay 2 rupees fee at entrance; and schooling fees ranging from annas 4 to Rs. 5 per month according to the income of his parent or guardian.

Joy Narain's College, Benares.

AFFILIATED, 1862.

A free school was founded in the year 1817 by Raja Joy Narain Ghosaul, Bahadur, in gratitude for his recovery from a protracted illness.

He endowed it with a monthly sum of Rs. 200, to which Government added an endowment grant of Rs. 252-12 per mensem.

The founder appointed the Committee of the Sagra (Benares) Church Missionary Association, for the time being, trustees with directions that they should "appoint such members as shall be able to satisfy the inquiries of the learned of this city on subjects of science, history, and religion."

In 1858 the spacious school-room, provided by Joy Narain, having been found insufficient for the number of students, the present building was erected; at the same time the School was raised to a College, and named after the founder.

The College Department was closed in 1875.

Lahore Government College.

AFFILIATED, 1864.

This institution was opened in 1864, and is under the control of the Director of Public Instruction, Panjab.

It is affiliated to the Calcutta University, but receives considerable grants for scholarships from the Panjab University College. By sanction of the Government, it prepares students both for the Panjab University College and the Calcutta University Examinations; and the Arts scheme of the former has been so arranged as to make it possible for students to read for the examinations of both Institutions at the same time.

The Delhi Government College has been incorporated with it since 1st April 1877. All students passing the Matriculation Examination of the Calcutta University, or the Panjab University College, are admitted on payment of a monthly tuition fee of Rs. 2. The number of students on the 1st March 1878 was 120, distributed over five classes.

A gold and a silver medal, in memory of the late Mr. Arnold are given to those students in the Panjab who pass highest in the M.A. and B.A. examinations of the Calcutta University respectively.

Besides Scholarships and medals, prizes for general proficiency are awarded annually in all the classes.

Delhi Government College.

AFFILIATED, 1864.

An Oriental College, founded in 1792, and supported by the voluntary contributions of Muhammadan gentlemen, acquired a large accession of income in 1829 by the munificent gift of Rs. 1,70,000 of the late Nawab Itmad-ud-Dowlah, formerly Minister at Lucknow. The College was then divided into two departments, an Oriental and English; and in 1841 Mr. F. Boutros was appointed first Principal; in 1855 the Instruction, up to that time under the supreme direction of a Managing Committee, was placed under the control of the Director of Public Instruction for the North-West Provinces. In 1857 the very valuable Oriental Library was plundered and destroyed by the mutineers, after which, in 1858, a new school was founded, which is now, by affiliation to the Calcutta University the present Delhi College. Students pay fees of Rs. 2 and Rs. 5.

St. Stephen's College, Delhi.

AFFILIATED, 1864.

This College was established in 1864 in connection with the S. P. G. Mission School which had for some years been affiliated to the Calcutta University. Shortly after this date it was amalgamated with the Delhi Government College, and did not itself prepare students for the higher examinations. After the abolition of the Government College in 1877, when it was found that local enterprise was not likely to succeed in establishing an institution in its place, it was decided to open classes at the Mission College for the F. A. and B. A. Examinations, provisionally for the students of the School, and ultimately, should circumstances render it possible, for the students from other than Mission Schools.

The General Assembly's Institution, Calcutta.

AFFILIATED, 1864.

This Institution was established in 1830, by the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland. It is the oldest Institution of the kind in India ; for it was here that the system, now all but universally followed, was first tried—of imparting the highest forms of knowledge, including sound Christian instruction, through the medium of the English language. Before this experiment, Bengali or Sanskrit had been exclusively favoured in Bengal by the Government, by Oriental Scholars, and even by Missionaries themselves. The new system was introduced by Dr. Duff, who began his Missionary labours by founding this Institution. Valuable help in the way of procuring pupils was given at the commencement by the famous Rajah Ram Mohan Roy. The success of the Institution soon surpassed all expectations. The Governor General declared publicly that it had produced “unparalleled results.” After having been carried on for some years in various hired premises, the Institution was removed in 1839 to the present building, which is most conveniently situated in Cornwallis Square, in the very centre of the Hindu population.

The Institution was temporarily closed in 1844, in consequence of the secession of the Missionaries with the Free Church. But it was re-opened in 1846 by the Church of Scotland, under the superintendence of the late Rev. Dr. Ogilvie, by whom it was carried on uninterruptedly, and with great efficiency, till his death in 1871. Dr. Ogilvie was succeeded by Dr. Robert Jardine who retired in 1876 ; after which Mr. James Wilson officiated as Principal for the next two years.

The General Assembly's Institution is divided into two departments,—the College Department and the School Department.

The College Department, which has been affiliated in the Faculty of Arts to the University of Calcutta since 1864, was attended in 1882 by more than 500 students, divided into five classes, and paying a monthly fee of Rs. 5 each. In these classes the regular subjects of the University curriculum are taught, embracing the English language and Literature, the Sanskrit language and Literature, History, Mathematics, pure and applied, Chemistry, Mental Philosophy, and the doctrines and evidences of the Christian religion.

The School Department was attended in 1882 by 780 pupils, divided into fourteen classes, and paying fees in the different classes from 8 annas to Rs. 2.8 a month. Instruction is given in these classes in English, Bengali, and Sanskrit, History and Geography, Arithmetic, Algebra, and Geometry, according to the degree of advancement which they have attained. Careful attention is also given to instruction in religious knowledge.

The Government Grant to the General Assembly's College has been raised since 1881 from Rs. 350 to Rs. 600 a month in consequence of the large increase in the number of students.

Scholarships and Prizes.

1. The Macfarlane Gold Medal is awarded every year to the student of the fourth-year class who shows the greatest proficiency in all the College examinations of the year.

2. The Ogilvie Memorial Scholarship, of at least Rs. 5 per mensem, is awarded every alternate year to the student of the second-year class who takes the highest position in all the College examinations, and succeeds in passing the F.A. Examination of the University. This Scholarship is tenable in the General Assembly's College for the two years after passing the First Examination in Arts.

3. The Macleod Memorial Scholarship is awarded to a Christian student, who being an undergraduate of the Calcutta University, is preparing for the ministry of the Christian Church.

4. The Gregory Gold Medal is given for Scripture knowledge.

5. Several prizes and scholarships are awarded for general proficiency in the College examinations.

Lahore Mission School.

AFFILIATED, 1864.

This Institution was founded on the 19th December, 1849, soon after the annexation of the Panjab and is the oldest English School in the province.

The four religions represented in the School are the Hindu, Muselman, Sikh, and Christian. The greater part are Hindus. The number of Sikhs is small, owing to the fact that they compose a small part of the community.

The instructive staff consists of the Rev. C.D. Forman, M.A., Principal; C. B. Newton, B.A.; Mr. R. C. Dass, Head Master; and seventeen other Teachers.

XXIX.

Victoria College, Agra.

AFFILIATED, 1865.

This School was founded in 1862 by Pandit Bunsee Dhar and other respectable natives of Agra. It is managed by a Committee of native gentlemen, presided over by Judge Keene as Patron of the Institution; the chief supporters being the Maharajahs of Jeypore, Ulwar, and Bhartpore, and Pandit Ajodhya Nath, the late Secretary. The Government also gives a liberal grant-in-aid.

The entrance fee is Re. 1. The monthly tuition fee varies with the income of the parents. Free scholars, however, are admissible without the payment of the latter fee.

Prizes and Scholarships.

There are two endowed Scholarships of Rs. 5 and 4 each, the former founded by the Maharajah of Jeypore, in commemoration of the visit of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, and called the Jeypore-Wales Scholarship, and the latter out of the subscriptions collected by the Secretary from other friends of the Institution. Other Scholarships, to the amount of Rs. 20 per mensem, are given half-yearly to the most proficient student of the three senior classes.

Canning College, Lucknow.

AFFILIATED, 1867.

This College, founded by the Talookdars of Oudh in memory of the late Earl Canning, was opened on the 1st of May, 1864. The Institution comprises four departments,—the College Proper, a Law Department, an English School, and an Oriental Department, in which only Sanskrit, Persian, and Arabic are taught.

Canning College is supported by the Talookdars of Oudh, aided by Government. By a sunnud duly executed, the Talookdars unanimously endowed the College in perpetuity with a percentage of the revenues of their talooks. This sum, amounting on an average to forty-one thousand rupees per annum, is collected by the officers of Government, and is deposited in the Government Treasury for the use of the College. A Government grant-in-aid to the amount of twenty-five thousand rupees is also enjoyed by the College, so that its total income from endowment, grant-in-aid, and fees, aggregates seventy-one thousand rupees per annum.

The Institution is open to all classes, and its object, as declared by the rules, is to impart instruction in the English language and literature, in Mathematics and Science, in Law, in the Oriental classical languages, and the vernacular languages of the Province of Oudh. Its management is vested in a Committee, consisting of the Commissioner of Lucknow, the Deputy Commissioner, the Inspector of Schools, Oudh Circle, the District Judge, the Executive Engineer, the Principal, and the representatives of the Talookdars.

The students of the College Department and of the Entrance and Preparatory Entrance classes pay a fee of one rupee. The fee for the Law class to students in Arts is one rupee; to all others it is two rupees for the first year and three rupees for subsequent years.

In addition to Government scholarships, there are local scholarships to the value of Rs. 130 per mensem.

La Martiniere College, Lucknow.

AFFILIATED, 1869.

This Institution was established in 1840, pursuant to the will of Claude Martin, a native of France, and a Major-General in the service of the Honorable East India Company. He was born at Lyons, 1735; died at Lucknow, 13th September, 1800; and was buried within the building.

For the support of the College at Lucknow, the sum of sicca rupees eight hundred and sixteen thousand four hundred and forty-four was decreed by the High Court of Judicature out of the estate of the founder.

The pupils consist of foundationers (100), boarders (100), and day scholars (about 40). A foundationer is educated and maintained free of charge to his friends. Boarders pay for board, lodging, and education, at rates varying according to the means of the parents, from Rs. 15 to Rs. 35 per mensem.

The general management of the affairs of the Institution is vested in a Visitor and ex-officio Governors. The Chief Commissioner of Oudh is ex-officio Visitor, and the Judicial and the Financial Commissioners, with the General commanding at Lucknow, and the Commissioners of Lucknow, are ex-officio Governors.

The educational staff consists of a Principal, Head Master, and six Assistant Masters, besides Native Teachers.

Prizes and Scholarships.

The former consist of books, mathematical instruments &c., and are distributed to the most deserving boys in each class on prize-day, 1st December in each year; the latter are two in number, value Rs. 50 per mensem each, and are bestowed on the two most deserving lads, who have passed the Roorkee Entrance Examination, to enable them to pursue their studies at that College. Each Scholarship is tenable for 18 months.

Mussoorie School.

AFFILIATED, 1869.

This School was founded by the late Rev. R. N. Maddock, M.A. in 1850. In 1867 (Jan. 1st) it was transferred by purchase to the Diocesan Board of Education; the funds for the purpose being raised by subscriptions in answer to an appeal to the Indian public by the late Bishop Cotton. Mr. Maddock gave to the School a sufficient sum to found three annual exhibitions of the value of Rs 200, 125 and 75, respectively. The School is under the control of the Diocesan Board of Education.

There is also a Scholarship known as the Bishop's Theological Scholarship, to be held by a pupil of the School from the time of his passing the Entrance Examination until that of taking his B. A. degree in due course.

The value is Rs. 300 per annum, and is primarily intended for such as intend to take holy orders.

Muir Central College, Allahabad.

AFFILIATED, 1872.

In 1870-71, Sir William Muir, then Lieutenant-Governor, acceding to a generally expressed wish, invited the co-operation of the Chiefs and Feudatories of the North-Western Provinces and territories adjacent in founding a Central College at Allahabad, the seat of Government. His proposal having been warmly responded to, the College was temporarily opened in a hired building on the 1st July, 1872.

This Institution admits all classes of students who have passed the University Entrance Examination, and is affiliated in Arts and Law. The Course of Instruction embraces the University requirements for degrees in those branches.

In order also to meet the needs of those who, by their attainments, are unable to compete for the High Court Pleaderships and the University B. L. Degree, there is an Urdu Law Class for students seeking to pass the High Court Examination for Pleaderships in the subordinate Courts of the Provinces, Oudh, and the Panjab.

Oriental classes will shortly be added to the General Department, to carry on those who have passed the middle class vernacular examination, which corresponds in all respects to the University Matriculation test in English, to another equally answering to the University First Arts standard.

A handsome stone structure is being erected for the accommodation of the College on a site immediately to the north of the Alfred Park, and donations to the amount of more than $1\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs of rupees have already been received towards its cost. The foundation stone was laid by Lord Northbrook, Viceroy and Governor-General, in December, 1873.

A fund of sixty-three thousand rupees in Government four per cent. notes, endowed by H. H. the Nawab of Rampore, the Maharajahs of Vizianagram, Rewah, Punnah, Chirkaree, and others, furnishes fourteen local Scholarships, ranging in value from twenty to ten rupees monthly. These are tenable with Government Scholarships. There are also four minor stipends.

The late Nawab Ali Azghar Khan, C. S. I., of Rampore, by a waqf nama dated 13th November, 1872, endowed scholarships to the value of Rs. 50 monthly "to be given to those students who pass in Arabic."

XLII.

The Mahomedan Anglo-Oriental College, Aligarh.

AFFILIATED, 1881.

This Institution has been established by the educated and more advanced portion of the Muhammadans of Upper India, under the leadership of Syed Ahmed Khan, Bahadur, C.S.I. The objects in view are to place the benefits of a liberal education within the reach of the Muhammadan community, who have markedly failed to avail themselves of Government Educational Institutions, and to reconcile the Muhammadans to the study of Western Science and Literature by founding a scheme adapted to meet the special educational wants of the Muhammadan community. However the Institution is catholic in its character and is open to students of every creed and race.

This Institution was first opened as a School in June 1875, and in January 1878 it was converted into a College and was, from the beginning of that year, affiliated to the Calcutta University up to the standard of the First Arts Examination. In Arts the College has been affiliated to the University up to the B.A. Standard from the 1st of January 1881, and in Law it has been affiliated up to the B.L. standard from the 1st of January, 1883.

The College consists of two departments: (1) The English Department—in which all subjects are taught in the English language, and Arabic, Persian, or Sanskrit is taken as the Second Language. (2), The Oriental Department—in which Arabic and Persian form the Classics, and Arts and Sciences are taught in Urdu; while English forms the Second Language.

The College is under the guidance and control of the following three Committees:—

1. The College Fund Committee, with which rests the financial management of the College.

2. The Committee of Directors of Instruction, which consists of three branches:—

a. The Directors of Instruction in various Languages and secular learning.

b. The Directors of Instruction in the Sunni Theology.

c. The Directors of Instruction in the Shia Theology.

3. The Managing Committee.

The College Fund Committee has established two separate funds for this College, which are known by the names of the Capital and Building Funds respectively.

The Capital fund consists of—

1. Government promissory notes and immovable property purchased from the sums raised by private subscriptions.

2. Government Promissory note for Rs. 10,000, granted by the Right Honorable the Earl of Northbrook, the late Viceroy and Governor-General of India, for the foundation of certain scholarships for the Muhammadan students of the College.

3. Interest accruing on the Government Promissory note for Rs. 30,000, deposited by His Highness Nawab Muhammad Kalb-i-Ali Khan Bahadur, G.C.S.I., of Rampore.

4. Government Promissory note for Rs. 10,000 granted by the late Maharaja of Patiala, for the foundation of Scholarships.

5. Government Promissory note for Rs. 5,000, granted by Nakhuda Muhammad Ali Roghay of Bombay.

6. Permanent jagir of the annual income of Rs. 3,600, granted by the Government of H. H. the Nizam of Hyderabad.

7. Another permanent jagir of the annual income of Rs. 2,400 lately granted by the Government of H. H. the Nizam of Hyderabad.

8. Permanent jagir of the annual income of Rs. 1,200, granted by his Excellency Sir Salar Jung Bahadur, G.C.S.I.

9. Permanent endowment of Rs. 1,800 a year made by the late Maharaja of Patiala.

10. Permanent endowment of Rs. 600 a year made by Raja Amir Hassan Khan Bahadur, Talukdar of Mahmoodabad, Oudh, from his taluk.

11. Permanent endowment amounting to Rs. 240 a year made by the late Maharaja of Vizianagram for the foundation of Scholarships.

12. Annual donation of Rs. 500 granted by his Excellency the Marquis of Ripon, Viceroy and Governor-General of India for the period of his stay in India.

The building Fund has been established for the construction of the College and Boarding house buildings which are now in course of erection. The cost of the construction of the College alone is estimated at Rs 245,111.

The tuitional fees range from 1 to 5 rupees, except in special cases. But in College Classes the minimum fee is Rs. 3.

Boarders have to pay for their board and lodging. Their number at the close of 1882 was 166.

The College receives an annual grant of Rs. 6,000 from the Government.

Scholarships varying from Rs. 4 to 18 per mensem are tenable both in School and College classes, and from Rs. 20 to 25 in the M.A. class.

A scholarship of Rs. 10 a month, founded by the College Committee, in commemoration of Sir William Muir, LL D., K.C.S.I. late Lieutenant-Governor of the N. W. Provinces, is tenable by the best Arabic scholar for one year.

The following scholarships bearing the names of their donors are also given :—

Northbrook scholarships for College classes only—Varying from Rs. 10 to Rs. 18 a month.

Four Mahindar Singh Scholarships—Varying from Rs. 4 to Rs. 12 a month.

Three Vizianagram Scholarships—Varying from Rs. 4 to Rs. 10 a month.

Two Mahomed Amin Roghay Scholarships—Value each Rs. 10 and Rs. 12 respectively.

One Sher Singh Scholarship—Value Rs. 6 a month.

A silver medal is awarded every year in the name of Sir John Strachey, G.C.S.I., and another in the name of Mr. G. L. Laug, Collector and Magistrate of Aligarh.

Calcutta Madrasah.

AFFILIATED, 1867.

This Institution was founded by Warren Hastings in 1781, with the view of enabling Muhammadans of Bengal to acquire such a knowledge of Arabic literature and law as would qualify them for the Judicial Department, and was endowed by him with a zamindari yielding an estimated rental of Rs. 29,000. In July, 1819, the zamindari was resumed, and the rental was commuted to a fixed annual charge on the treasury of Rs. 30,000.

In 1873, the interest of the Muhammad Muhsin Legacy, amounting to Rs. 51,000, which had hitherto been expended on the Hooghly College, was set free and was devoted to Muhammadan education in Bengal. Several new Madrasahs were founded; and the sum of Rs. 35,000, plus the schooling fees changed afterwards to Rs. 31,000 was fixed as the annual charge of the Calcutta Madrasah and the Colingah Branch School.

The Institution consists of two departments and a Branch School. In the Arabic Department, Arabic and Persian literature, logic, rhetoric, and Muhammadan law are taught. The course extends over six years. Of modern sciences, arithmetic and geometry (taught in the vernacular) were made compulsory in 1874, and arrangements have been made to allow students to take up some of the English subjects taught in the Anglo-Persian Department. The monthly fee is eight annas; average number of students, 230. The Anglo-Persian Department is a collegiate school, and teaches up to the Entrance Examination. The monthly fee is Re. 1; average number, 380.

The Branch School is a middle class English school, and has an Oriental Department attached to it, which prepares students for the Madrasah. The monthly fee is 8 and 4 annas; average number of students, 390.

There are 16 Muhsin Scholarships of Rs. 10, 8, 6, 4 respectively awarded in the Arabic Department; 6 Muhsin Scholarships of Rs. 5, 4, 3 respectively in the Anglo-Persian Department; and a Scindia and Bhopal Scholarship of Rs. 3. Two junior Muhsin Scholarships of Rs. 10, tenable for two years, are annually awarded to successful Entrance students.

In the Branch School there are four Muhsin Scholarships of Rs. 3 two tenable in the Arabic and two in the Anglo-Persian Department of the Madrasah.

Schore High School.

AFFILIATED, 1868.

This School was founded in October, 1839, by Lancelot Wilkinson, Esq., Bombay Civil Service, Political Agent of Bhopal, for the instruction of the Malwa youth in the vernaculars only, the funds being supplied by the Begum of Bhopal and the neighbouring Chiefs.

In 1849 it was re-organized by Captain J. D. Cunningham, and a large and commodious building in the Saracenic style, erected at a cost of Rs. 30,000, supplied by the Begum and Chiefs of the district.

In February, 1857, an English Department was added to the School, the Begum of Bhopal subscribing Rs. 4,545-7-3, and the neighbouring Chiefs Rs. 3,448-3-1, per annum towards its support.

It was eventually, at the solicitation of Lieutenant-Colonel Willoughby Osborne, C. B., Political Agent of Bhopal, placed on the same footing as other Government schools, and subjected to the inspection of the Government Inspector of Schools for the adjoining circle; and lastly, at his solicitation, it was affiliated to the Calcutta University, December 23rd, 1867.

It owes its support to subscriptions and donations from the Begum of Bhopal and the Chiefs surrounding, supplemented by an annual subscription from Government of Rs. 5,127-4-5.

There are two Scholarships in each department, of the monthly value of Rs. 6 and Rs. 4 each, tenable for one year.

St. Peter's College, Agra.

AFFILIATED, 1870.

This Institution was founded in 1846 by Bishop Borgi, of the order of Capuchins, in a spacious building erected by means of contributions from Catholics in Europe and India, together with a large grant from the funds of the Agra Mission. It was already known before the Mutiny as one of the best seminaries in the North-Western Provinces. Having been plundered by the Mutineers in July, 1857, it re-opened in January, 1858. Since its foundation, St. Peter's College has been under the patronage of the Vicars Apostolic of the Agra Mission, and the management of two priests as Rector and Vice-Rector, assisted by a staff of teachers, both religious and laymen. Though by far the greater number of the pupils are Roman Catholics, children of other religious persuasions are admitted on the principle of non-interference. The course of studies embrace all the subjects required for the Calcutta University Examinations in Arts, the first and second departments of the Thomason College at Roorkee, and the survey. The fee for boarders is Rs. 15 a month, besides an annual charge of Rs. 10 for the use of books, stationery, and medical attendance; that for day-scholars is Rs. 4 a month for tuition, and Rs. 5 a year for the use of books and stationery. The average number of boarders is 50, and of day-scholars, 35: St. Peter's College has been in receipt of a grant-in-aid from the Educational Department, North-Western Provinces, ever since 1856, when it was fixed at Rs. 125 a month; and it remained so till 1867, when it was raised to Rs. 250. Written examinations are held three times a year, and reports of the progress, health, and conduct of the boys are sent to their parents.

Within a few years the number of pupils rose, till in 1875 it presented a total of eight hundred and thirty-two. The Institution is entirely supported by the Jaypur State, the sum of rupees twenty-four thousand being annually expended towards its maintenance. The College sent up its first batch of candidates for the Entrance Examination in the year 1867, and the results of successive years having shown that the sphere of its work might be considerably enlarged and its usefulness increased, an application was made to the Syndicate for its affiliation to the University of Calcutta, and sanction to the proposal was obtained from the Government of India in March, 1873. A College Department, teaching up to the standard of the First Examination in Arts, was, accordingly, constituted and a competent staff of Professors appointed to undertake its management.

Instruction in the Institution is given gratis, while to provide for the higher requirements and tastes of the upper classes, a separate school is maintained in connection with the College, to which the sons of the leading Rajpoots resort. At present the institution is divided into three departments, viz., an English Department, in which the course of instruction is adapted to the requirements of the Calcutta University; a Hindi department where English constitutes the second language; and a Persian Department. In the two latter, the course is specially contrived to fit the pupils to become efficient servants of the Raj.

Scholarships of the value of rupees two hundred per mensem are awarded to the undergraduates in the College and the most deserving pupils in the other departments of the institution.

Patiala Maharajah's College.

AFFILIATED, 1874.

This School originally established by His Highness Maharajah Narinder Singh, was thoroughly reorganized by His Highness Maharajah Mahinder Singh, the late Maharajah of Patiala, in 1870, who, when he was invested with the full powers of Government, established an Educational Department under the control of a Director of Public Instruction.

Education is now given in the English, Persian, Arabic and Sanskrit languages. In January 1874 this School was affiliated to the Calcutta University. The School is also affiliated to the Panjab University College, and prepares its students for the examinations of that institution, as well as for those of the Calcutta University. The School is entirely maintained by funds paid by His Highness the Maharajah from his Treasury, and the schooling fee varies with the income of the parents. Annual prizes and monthly scholarships to the value of Rs 6,500 are awarded to the deserving pupils of the School. Poor boys are admitted free and receive stipends for their maintenance. A Gold Medal, of Rs. 70 is annually awarded by His Excellency Lord Northbrook to the first boys of the school for general proficiency, in commemoration of his visit to Patiala, and laying the foundation stone of the Mahinder College in March 1875.

Under the orders of the Council of Regency, a First Arts class was opened in the year 1880 and a Principal appointed also. In the English Department, instruction is now given up to the standard of the First Examination in Arts of Calcutta University and the Proficiency Examination of the Panjab University College.

The Sanskrit, Persian and Arabic Departments train up students for the following Examinations of the latter University:—the Shastri, Bisharada, Pragya, and Entrance Examinations in Sanskrit ; the Munshi Fazil, Munshi Alim, Munshi, and Entrance Examinations, in Persian ; the Maulavi Fazil, Maulavi Alim, Maulavi, and Entrance Examinations in Arabic.

City College, Calcutta.

AFFILIATED, 1881.

This Institution was founded as a school under the name of the City School in January 1879. The aim which the Managing Committee kept in view was to impart education on an improved plan, and to place it on a broader basis than is usually adopted; so that it should embrace not only intellectual training and a proper enforcement of discipline, but also the improvement of character and the healthy development of all the faculties of the pupils entrusted to their charge. The success of the institution and a desire further to develop and carry out their ideas regarding education led the Committee to add a College Department, which has been affiliated to the Calcutta University up to the standard of the First Arts Examination from January, 1881.

Particular attention is paid to the moral training of the students, and special classes at which attendance at present is voluntary, are held in Gymnastics, Drawing, Music, and Science. All the classes are open to students of the institution without any extra payment except the Drawing class, for which a small fee of 4 annas a month is charged. The Drawing class is also open to outsiders on a payment of Re 1 per month. With a view to give practical training to those who may be anxious to avail themselves of it, a Carpenters' class has been opened for the students of the Institution.

Fortnightly lectures are delivered to students with a view to impart general information, and to create in their minds an interest in things outside the immediate range of their class studies. The Library and the Reading Room in connection with the institution also help in furthering this object. Besides the annual and other periodical examinations, Special or Honour Examinations are held in the subjects studied in the different classes, at which the more advanced students compete and by which aptitude in special subjects is encouraged. Monthly returns as to the progress of the pupils are sent to their guardians whose suggestions and co-operation are also invited.

The institution consists of three departments a College Department, a School Department and a Vernacular Department.

19.Albert College.

This institution belongs to the Indian Reform Association. It was founded in the year 1872, with the object of imparting education to students of the middle classes at moderate and convenient rates. The College has been a self-supporting one from the beginning being maintained entirely from fees. It consists of two departments, the English and the Vernacular, containing thirteen classes, many of which are divided into sections. The College Department, which was opened in 1881, teaching up to the standard of the First Examination in Arts. In the Vernacular classes both English and Bengali are taught, but the latter is used as the principal medium of instruction. Besides the branches rendered compulsory by University requirements, the College insists upon regular instructions in the principles of ethics, separate hours being set apart for lectures on that subject. There are classes also for music, drawing and elementary Science.

An admission fee of Rupees 3 is charged on all students of the College Department, and the monthly tuition fee is Rs. 3. In the School Department the rates of fees vary from one Rupee in the lowest classes to three rupees in the highest.

There are two scholarships attached to the institution.

Maharajah's College, Burdwan.

AFFILIATED, 1882.

This institution was established as a free school in the year 1817, and is, as it has been hitherto, entirely supported by the Burdwan Raj Devutter property. It consists of four departments, viz.; a College Department, teaching up to the standard of the First Examination in Arts, a Collegiate School teaching the matriculation standard; a Middle Class Vernacular School and a Persian Department.

Instruction in all the departments is given gratis, and although fines are not uncommonly carried to enforce regularity and discourage misconduct, they are realized and impended by the Principal and their chief, if not only, use is to render pecuniary aid to students really deserving of charity.

Two scholarships, each of Rs. 5 a month and tenable for two years, used to be awarded to successful Entrance candidates from the school; and as many of equal value to those from the Maharajah's School at Calna, but the opening of F. A. classes having made that aid superfluous they have ceased to be awarded and in their stead two scholarships each worth Rs. 10 a month and tenable for 2 years are henceforth to be open to such students passing the First Examination in Arts from the College as will be desirous of studying for the next higher examination in other Colleges.

Prizes are annually awarded for good conduct and for general proficiency in the subjects taught.

Free Church Institution, Nagpnr.

This building, situated at the west end of the city on the margin of the Juma Talao, accommodates the High School and College classes of the Institution. It was erected at an expense of Rs. 24,000, £ 1200 being contributed by the late Miss Mary Barclay of Edinburgh, while the remainder was raised by special donations from friends in India. It is a large and substantial sandstone structure having a Central Hall 66 by 33 ft. and 30 ft. to the highest part of the roof with a wing on both sides, each containing two class rooms separated by a corridor.

The Institution was opened on the 1st April 1861, after having drafted into it the pupils of one small Anglo-Vernacular and six Vernacular Schools, by which, from 1845, when the Mission was founded, educational operations had been carried on in the city of Nágpúr. In 1868, the Institution began to send candidates to the Entrance Examination, first of Bombay and then of the Calcutta University of Calcutta. At the beginning of 1883, a College class, teaching up to the Standard of the First Arts Examination was formed and is now hopefully going on.

AFFILIATED, 1857.

1. The Medical College of Bengal was founded by Lord William Bentinck in the year 1835.

The government of the College and Hospital is vested in the Principal, aided by a Consultative Council, composed of all the Professors, subject to the general control of the Director of Public Instruction.

THE PRIMARY OR ENGLISH CLASS.

This class consists of scholarship-holders, free students, and paying students. The number of free students in the College is limited to ten. Free presentations are made entirely with reference to the ability of applicants, as shown by the position they may have held in Arts at the University.

Paying students are required to pay an admission fee of Rs. 15 and Rs. 30 per session during their stay in the College.

They are required to follow the curriculum of the College as laid down for the primary or English class, and are subject to the same rules regarding discipline.

Students who do not intend to graduate at the Calcutta University, or who are desirous of attending single courses of lectures, may enter as casual students: they are not required to follow the College curriculum but in other respects are amenable to the College regulations. If they enter for more than a single course of lectures, they are required to comply with the rules which regulate the admission of other applicants to the primary class.

Casual students pay in advance fees of Rs. 40 for each course of lectures, and Rs. 60 for each six months' attendance on the different departments of hospital practice.

The expenditure on Scholarships of the primary class is limited to Rs. 400 a month, and this sum is ordinarily distributed among the students of the five years as follows:—

To students of the 4th and 5th* years, 20 Senior
Scholarships, at Rs. 12 a month,	Rs 240 0 0
To students of the 3rd year, 10 Junior Scholarships,

To students of the 2nd year, 10 Junior Scholarships,
at Rs. 8 a month	„ 80 0 0
Total per mensem			„ 400 0 0

The Senior Scholarships are awarded according to the results of the “First Licentiate Examination.” But they are not awarded to students who gain University Scholarships at such Examination. They are tenable for two years on condition that the conduct and progress of the holder are satisfactory.

The Junior Scholarships are awarded upon the results of the College examination at the end of the 1st year. They are tenable for two years on the same condition as above.

In the event of a Scholarship being forfeited, the amount already drawn is not liable to be refunded by the holder.

Any Scholarship falling vacant by the death, resignation, &c., of the holder, may be awarded to students of the same term, next in order of merit, who may be without a Scholarship, and may be possessed of the requisite qualifications.

The Goodeve Scholarship (value Rs. 12 a month) may be held in conjunction with any Scholarship awarded under these rules.

Students of this class, excepting casual students, are required to follow the subjoined curriculum, which is framed for obtaining the Calcutta University Licence in Medicine and Surgery.

* For students of the 5th year, the Goodeve Scholarship is also available.

Thomason Civil Engineering College, Roorkee.
P. U. D.

AFFILIATED, 1864.

The Thomason College was founded in 1847 by the Hon'ble James Thomason, Lieutenant-Governor, N. W. P. It is designed to supply the Public Works Survey Departments with Assistant Engineers, Overseers, Sub-Overseers, Estimators, Draughtsmen, and Head Artificers, and to furnish professional works either on loan or purchase through its Library, Press, and Book Depot.

The College contains three principal classes, viz., an "Engineer Class," an "Upper Subordinate Class," and "Lower Subordinate Class," open to candidates of ranks and classes—intended to recruit the Engineer, Upper Subordinate, and Lower Subordinate Departments of the Public Works Department. It also conducts examinations of outsiders for several grades of the P. W. D.

Engineer Class.

The Course lasts two years, when the passed students receive certificates as Assistant Engineers of the P. W. D. A certain number of appointments as apprentice Engineers on Rs. 100 a month rising after six months or a year to assistant Engineer on Rs. 250 a month are guaranteed yearly. The number depends on the P. W. requirements and is notified about two years in advance. Natives of N. W. P. and Panjab have prior claims to these appointments as Apprentice Engineers on Rs. 100 a month: the remaining passed students are not guaranteed appointments. Candidates for this class must be between the ages of 18 and 22, and must all pass a competitive entrance examination in language, literature, history, mathematics and Elementary drawing and physical science.

All European students pay a college fee of Rs. 10 monthly. Three Scholarships of Rs. 50, one of Rs. 40, and one of Rs. 35 per mensem, tenable for two years, are annually open to native students. Several valuable prizes are given annually; one of Rs. 1,000 to the best student; one of Rs. 250 and one of Rs. 100 for the two best native students; besides two prizes of Rs. 100 and five of Rs. 50, open to all.

Upper Subordinate Class.

The College Course lasts two years, when the passed students receive certificates as Sub-Engineers or Overseers of the P. W. D., and are then sent for a year's probation on to the Public Works as "Apprentice Overseers," after which, if approved, they are appointed 1st, 2nd, or 3rd grade Overseers in the P. W. D.

All candidates for admission must pass a competitive entrance examination in English reading and writing, arithmetic, elementary geometry, mensuration, and drawing, and in Urdu and Hindi; and Civilian candidates must be between the ages of 18 and 24.

Soldier students receive a "college allowance" of Rs. 11 monthly, Three Scholarships of Rs. 30 each, and three stipends of Rs. 10 each, all tenable for two years, are annually allotted to students of 2nd and 3rd grades respectively.

Students of third grade, if not stipend-holders, pay a college fee of Rs. 1-8 monthly. College prizes in each of the principal subjects of the course are annually given.

During the "apprentice year," a "staff allowance" is given to soldier students, raising their pay to a total of Rs. 10, togethe with free quarters and the usual "family allowances." Second and third grade apprentices receive salaries of Rs. 60 and 40 respectively; free quarters are also given to those of the second grade.

Lower Subordinate Class.

This Class, intended for natives of India only, consists of Soldiers and Civilians. Most of the students remain for one year only at College, and if successful, receive certificates as Sub-Overseers, Estimators, Draughtsmen of 1st, 2nd or 3rd grade, according to qualification, and are appointed to the P. W. D., according as vacancies occur: there is no guarantee of appointment. Six of the most promising students are each year selected for a further year's training. They have the preference in selection for vacancies.

The Entrance Examination is competitive, and in the Urdu language. For Military candidates it comprises reading, writing, and arithmetic; and for Civilian candidates, for class A, elementary mathematics, Indian history, and geography, and the use of English figures and words. For class B, a recommendation by an Executive Engineer that the candidate is a useful man only is required. Civilian candidates for class A, must not be more than 22, nor less than 18, years of age. Military students receive a "college allowance" of Rs. 5 monthly. There are two scholarships of Rs. 20 a month and four of Rs. 15 for students selected for second year's training. For first year students, Class A, there are sixteen scholarships of Rs. 5, and for Class B, twelve of Rs. 10 a month. Non-stipend-holders pay a college fee of Rs. 1-8. College prizes in each of the principal subjects of the course are annually awarded.

Courses of Study in principal Classes.

These vary very much, but include mathematics, civil engineering, surveying, drawing, and Urdu for all the above principal classes.—the extent read being of course very different in each class,—besides experimental science and photography for the Engineer class.

Native Military Surveying Class.

A class of 25 native N. C. O. and sepoy of the Q. O. Guides Corps are annually passed through a ten months' course in simple Military Engineering and Surveying.

[With the exception of the small college fees above noted, the instruction in College is entirely gratuitous.]

Outside Examinations.

The College holds also examinations, and grants certificates (of qualification only) for the grades of Assistant Engineer, Sub-Engineer, 1st grade Overseer, Assistant Examiners of Accounts, and 4th grade Accountant of the P. W. D., for all candidates who present themselves under certain rules.

Subsidiary Departments.

These are—

1. A free PUBLIC LIBRARY containing over 13,500 volumes.

2. A large PRESS which executes printing, binding, lithographs, and woodcuts, for the College, Government, and public,

3. A BOOK DEPOT for sale of the College publications and Text-books.

4. A VOLUNTEER COMPANY: all European Civilian students are enrolled in the College Volunteer Company.

Staff.

Government Engineering College, Howrah.

AFFILIATED, 1880.

The College was opened on the 5th April 1880, and is under the control of the Director of Public Instruction of Bengal. All classes of the community are admitted, and the course of instruction is adapted to the requirements of the following:

- (1.) Civil Engineers.
- (2.) Mechanical Engineers.
- (3.) Civil Overseers.
- (4.) Mechanical Overseers.

Pupils for the two higher classes are admitted on producing a certificate of having passed the University Entrance Examination: their theoretical course, including three hours daily in the shops, is completed in four years, and the fifth or last year is spent by Civil Engineers at Akra to learn brick-making, and on works in actual course of instruction, by Mechanical Engineers, in supervising actual work in the shops.

For admittance to the lower classes there is an Entrance Examination, but any candidate who has passed the University Entrance Examination in English and Mathematics is admitted without further test. The theoretical course for these classes, including 4 hours daily in the shops, continues for $3\frac{1}{2}$ years and the remaining $1\frac{1}{2}$ year is spent by Civil Overseers, as by Civil Engineers, whereas Mechanical Overseers work entirely in the shops during the last year and a half.

With regard to fees and Scholarships the following is extracted from the resolution issued with the Calcutta Gazette, dated 17th December, 1879.

In regard to the charge for education at the institution, the Lieutenant-Governor has decided, after careful consideration, that the fee for the two higher engineering classes shall be Rs. 8 per mensem during the four years of their instruction in class, but that existing students of the Civil Engineering Department of the Presidency College, who may elect one of the engineering courses in the new institution, may be allowed to continue their studies on a payment of Rs. 5 a month. For Civil Overseers the charge will be Rs. 3 per mensem during the $2\frac{1}{2}$ years of their instruction in class, and for draftsmen the fee will be the same. No fee will be charged to any student after the completion of his theoretical course. The Mechanical Overseer class will consist exclusively of regular apprentices, who must be boarders; and the charge will be for Europeans and Eurasians, up to 30 in number, Rs. 5 each per mensem, and for natives up to 40 in number Rs. 3 per mensem; but apprentices may be received in excess of that number on payment, if Europeans and Eurasians, of the full fee of Rs. 15 per mensem, and if natives, of Rs. 8 per mensem. Existing Dehree students who join the institution will be allowed to continue on the terms on which they were originally received.

The Lieutenant-Governor has decided that one scholarship of Rs. 20, three of Rs. 15, and six of Rs. 10, tenable for two years, shall be given annually to students entering the Engineer classes of the institution; and that scholarships of the same number and value shall be again competed for at the end of the second year's course; provided that the number of scholarships awarded does not exceed one half the number of candidates presenting themselves for examination. These scholarships will be given independently of the scholarships now open to those who pass the Entrance Examination of the University. For the Civil Overseer classes ten scholarships of Rs. 7 per mensem, tenable for $3\frac{1}{2}$ years, subject to diligence and good conduct, will also be granted annually; provided, as in the Engineer classes, the number of scholarships awarded does not exceed one half the number of candidates.

In lieu of the five stipends of Rs. 50 a month, tenable for two years, which are at present given to the best five students of the Civil Engineering College who pass the final examination, either ten stipends of Rs. 50, or else four of Rs. 50 and ten of Rs. 30 each, will be granted to those engineer students at the new institution who pass the best examination at the end of the fourth year. Similarly, at the end of the $3\frac{1}{2}$ years' course of Civil Overseers, either ten stipends of Rs. 20, or else four of Rs. 20 and ten of Rs. 12, tenable for $1\frac{1}{2}$ years will be granted. These stipends will be paid by the Public Works Department, and will be liable to forfeiture in case of misconduct.

To Mechanical Overseers, as apprentices, the system of scholarships will not be applicable. An equivalent for this will be provided by allowing those who make the best progress a share in the value of the work done by them after the expiration of the first year of their apprenticeship.

It will be obligatory in the case of apprentices (class 4) that they should board on the premises; and the boarding system will be extended as far as possible, so as to include all other students who may desire to take advantage of it. Any boarding-house, that may thus be established for other than apprentices, will be conducted on the principal of paying its own expenses, rent only excepted. It is hoped that a boarding charge of Rs. 20 a month for Europeans and Eurasians in the Engineer classes, and Rs. 15 in the Overseer classes, and a uniform charge of Rs. 8 for the native boarders will be found sufficient.

In addition there are two scholarships, each worth Rs. 10 a month, attached to this College, which were founded in memory of the late Major-General Forbes. These scholarships are tenable for one year, and are awarded after the annual College Examination in May to the most deserving students in the second-year Engineer class.

EXAMINATION PAPERS.

Entrance Examination.

1882.

ENGLISH.

Examiners— { MR. A. H. PIRIE.
 { REV. H. FINTER.

(Candidates are recommended to pay particular attention to neat writing and correct expression.)

N. B.—The figures in the margin indicate full marks.

1. (a.) “Oh! woe to youth, which must be destroyed by old age! Woe to health, which must be destroyed by so many diseases! Woe to this life, where a man remains so short a time! If there were no old age, no disease, no death; if these could be made captive for ever!” 5

(b.) “Kausalya said to Rama:—Do not desire, O my child, to possess the moon, because it is thousands of miles off, and it is not a plaything for children, and no child ever got it: if you wish, I will bring you some jewels that are brighter than the moon, and you can play with them”

(c.) “No sea but what is vexed by their fisheries” “No climate that is not witness to their toils.” “Great men of science, literature, and art have belonged to no exclusive class or rank in life.”

Change (a) into the indicative form, (b) into the indirect form of speech, and (c) into the affirmative.

2. “But now, Nature makes to us rich and magnificent presents; and we say to her—You are too luxuriant and munificent—we must keep you under, and prune you; we have talents enough in the other half of the creation; and if you will not stupefy and enfeeble the minds of women to our hands, we ourselves must expose them to a narcotic process, and educate away that fatal redundancy with which the world is afflicted, and the order of sublunary things deranged.” 6

Who is meant by us and we? How is Nature said to be too "luxuriant and munificent"? What is "the other half of the creation"? What is the "narcotic process"? Explain "to keep under,"—"to prune,"—"to our hands,"—"to educate away,"—"sublunary things." Point out the figures of speech used in the passage.

3. "This state of things I have thought it necessary to premise for the information of the general reader, who might be apt to forget, that, although no great historical events, such as war or insurrection, mark the existence of the Anglo-Saxons as a separate people subsequent to the reign of William the Second, yet the great national distinctions betwixt them and their conquerors, the recollection of what they had formerly been, and to what they were now reduced, continued down to the reign of Edward the Third, to keep open the wounds which the Conquest had inflicted, and to maintain a line of separation betwixt the descendants of the victor Normans and the vanquished Saxons."

(a.) Analyse the above into its various sentences, and show their grammatical connection.

(b.) Give the case and construction of each of the italicised words.

4. (a.) Give Arnold's reasons for saying that "the power of French literature is in its prose writers, the power of English literature is in its poets."

(b.) Explain the expressions "Not one, but all mankind's epitome,"—"If glory be a distinction, for such a man death is not a leveller!"—and state to whom they are respectively applied in the text.

5. Write brief explanations of the following:—

(a.) As I heard the waves rushing along the sides of the ship, and roaring in my very ear, it seemed as if Death were raging round this floating prison, seeking for his prey; the mere starting of a nail, the yawning of a seam, might give him entrance.

(b.) It is the one neck nearer that wins the race and shows the blood; it is the one march more that wins the campaign; the five minutes more persistent courage that wins the fight.

(c.) Some nations are like children, and require a despot to nurse, and feed, and dress them, to give them pocket-money, and take them out for airings.

(d.) Napoleon's troops fought in bright fields were every helmet caught some beams of glory but the British soldier conquered under the cold shade of aristocracy, no honours awaited his daring, no despatch gave his name to the applauses of his countrymen, his life of danger and hardship was uncheered by hope, his death unnoticed.

6. Rewrite the following supplying the ellipses:—

The Dauphin then required—number—grave priests—bishops to give—their opinion whether—girl derived her power from good spirits or from—spirits; which—held prodigiously long debates about, in—course—which several learned men fell fast asleep and snored loudly. At last, when one gruff old gentleman had said—Joan, "—language do your voices speak?" and when Joan—replied to—gruff old gentleman, "A pleasanter language—yours,” they agreed that it—all correct, and—Joan of Arc was inspired from Heaven.

7. Give the meanings of the following expressions, adding illustrations where possible :—Divide and conquer. Too much of a good thing. To cut one’s coat according to one’s cloth. To take care of number one. To set the Thames on fire. 5

8. (a.) Give the meanings and derivations of the words :—paradox, phantasmagoria, etiquette, augury, telescope. 9

(b.) Explain in your own words the sense of the following passage; no sudden burst of undisciplined valour, no nervous enthusiasm weakened the stability of their order; their deafening shouts overpowered the dissonant cries that broke from all parts of the tumultuous crowd, as slowly and with a horrid carnage it was pushed by the incessant vigor of the attack to the farthest edge of the height.

9. (a.) “He is on the top of the Andes, or in a diving bell in the Pacific, or taking notes at Timbuctoo, or grubbing at the Pyramids, or scouring over the Pampas, or acting as prime minister to the king of Dahomey, or smoking the pipe of friendship with the Red Indians, or hutting at the Pole.” 6

Explain the above.

(b.) Give the equivalents of the following in as few words as possible ;—(a.) Every fowl whom nature has taught to dip the wing in water. (b.) The sun had passed twice over him in its annual course. (c.) The house stood from age to age without need of reparation. (d.) Whatever might contribute to make seclusion pleasant, to fill up the vacancies of attention, and lessen the tediousness of time.

10. (a.) Give the substance of Kingsley’s account of the cause of Earthquakes. 5

(b.) Write a brief biography of Buddha.

Examiners— { Mr. H. M. PERCIVAL, M. A.
 { Rev. J. EDWARDS, M. A.

ENGLISH.

(Candidates are recommended to pay particular attention to neat writing and correct expression.)

N.B.—The figures in the margin indicate full marks.

1. (a.) To what Stock of Languages does English belong? Give reasons for your answer. 3

(b.) Give the dates of the four periods in which Latin words were introduced into English, adding four words to exemplify each period. 4

2. Show, by giving the derivation of “a” and “the,” that the article in English is not properly a distinct part of speech. Parse “the” in the sentence “the more you study, the better it is.” 3

3. (a.) Distinguish between Abstract and Concrete nouns ; 3 and between Collective and Common nouns.

(b.) When do Abstract nouns take the article "a" or "an" ? 3
When do Collective nouns take a plural verb, and when a singular ?

4. Mark and explain the suffixes and prefixes in the following words :—

(a.) Suffixes :—glimmer, whether, to lower, cleanse, worse, 4 wisely, otherwise, flourish, whitish, foremost, children, outrage, sovereign, pencil.

(b.) Prefixes :—alike, alive, ascribe, avert, invent, injure, 2 redeem, misdeem, overhear, overload.

(5.) (a.) Give the compounds of "self" with I, thou, he, she, 3 it, they.

Frame sentences to exemplify the use of "what" "but" and "as" as relative pronouns.

(b.) Point out any differences of meaning in the following : 2
"who is he?" "who is it?" "what is he?" "what is it?"

6. (a.) Distinguish between an Active and a Transitive verb. 2
Are Intransitive verbs ever used Passively ?

(b.) Define Weak and Strong verbs, and show clearly to 3 which class each of the following verbs belongs : bid, do, tell, have, make, find, teach, buy, will, can.

(c.) Frame four conditional sentences, using the words if, 3 should, have, were, to express the condition. 2

7. (a.) Put into indirect narration :—

You said to me "why are you come?"

You will say to me "are you coming?"

You said to me "come early : we shall be waiting for you."

(b.) Frame sentences to exemplify the meaning of the follow- 2
ing expressions :—

(1.) Cognate accusative ; (2.) Indirect object ; (3.) Gerundive infinitive ; (4.) Nominative absolute.

(c.) Show how the position of "only" in the following sen- 3 tences modifies their meaning :—

Only he can speak English.

He only can speak English.

He can only speak English.

He can speak only English.

He can speak English only.

He is a fair scholar : only he cannot speak English fluently.

8. Analyse—

In the days of old, when the frogs were all at liberty in the 8 lakes, and had grown quite weary of following every one his own devices, there arose, the fable says, much discontent amongst them ; and, having assembled one day together, it was resolved to petition Jupiter to let them have a king of their own, to keep them in order and make them lead honest lives.

1. Natus homo est, sive hunc divino semine fecit
Ille opifex rerum, mundi melioris origo ;
Sive recens tellus, seductaque nuper ab alto
Æthere, cognati retinebat semina cæli,
Quam satus Iapeto, mistam fluvialibus undis,
Finxit in effigiem moderantum cuncta deorum.
2. Mirantur sub aqua lucos, urbesque, domosque
Nereides, silvasque tenent delphines, et altis
Incursant ramis, agitataque robora pulsant.
In mare lassatis volucris vaga decidit alis.
3. Imposuitque comæ radios, præsagaque luctus,
Pectore sollicito repetens suspiria, dixit :
“ Si potes hic saltem monitis parere paternis,
Parce, puer, stimulis, et fortius utere loris.”
4. Quem postquam Tyria lucum de gente profecti
Infausto tetigere gradu, demissaque in undas
Urna dedit sonitum : longum caput extulit antro
Cæruleus serpens, horrendaque sibila misit.
5. Sexque datis leto, diversa que vulnera passis,
Ultima restabat : quam toto corpore mater,
Tota veste tegens : “ Unam minimamque relinque ;
De multis minimam posco,” clamavit, “ et unam.”
6. Hic nos frugilegas adspeximus agmine longo
Grande onus exiguo formicas ore gerentes,

1. Decline in the singular, toto corpore, recens tellus, melior quisquam ; and in the plural, illo semine, eodem gradu.
2. Compare recens, fortius, minimam, meliorem, dives, facilis, and acer. State the principal ways in which adverbs are formed from adjectives.
3. Parse and conjugate, satus, tetigere, utere, extulit, parce. Give the gerund and future infinitive of each.

4. Write all the persons of the present indicative of potes; the present indicative and imperfect subjunctive active of extulit; and the imperative active, and present indicative passive of fecit.

5. State and account for the cases of Iapeto, loris, segetes, illo, flammis. What cases are governed by parco, pareo, consulo, impero, and jubeo?

6. Derive cuncta, semine, effigiem, and agmine. What is the difference of meaning between cuncta, omnia, and tota; and between ille and iste?

III.

1. What and where were Junonia Samos, Cadmeida arcem, Virgineus Helicon, gelidi pineta Lycœi, maximus orbe Eridanus. Account in each case for the epithet.

2. Explain the allusions in these expressions: Saturno tenebrosa in Tartara misso; Flumina Stygio labentia luco; Varios induta colores concipit Iris aquas. What were the various ætates mundi according to Ovid?

IV. Translate into Latin—

Ovid was brought to Rome when eight years of age. His father wished him to become a pleader (causidicus), and caused him to be instructed in the best schools both at Rome and at Athens. But he preferred (malle) to write poems rather than to plead (dicere) causes; and became, after the death of Horace, the most distinguished poet of his time. Some Latin poets have written better verses than Ovid, but none have written so many. Yet it cannot be denied that his fifteen books of Metamorphoses form one of the best Latin poems.

Beluarum hoc quidem extremum, illa autem superiora caduca et incerta, posita non tam in consiliis nostris quam in fortunæ temeritate. Qui autem in virtute summum bonum ponunt, præclare illi quidem, sed hæc ipsa virtus amicitiam et gignit et continet, nec sine virtute amicitia esse ullo pacto potest. Jam virtutem ex consuetudine vitæ nostræ sermonisque nostri interpretemur, nec eam, ut quidam docti, verborum magnificentia metiamur virosque bonos eos, qui habentur, numeremus, Paullos, Catones, Gallos, Scipiones, Philos: his communis vita contenta est, eos autem omittamus, qui omnino nusquam reperiuntur. omnia audeas sic loqui ut tecum? Quis esset tantus fructus in prosperis rebus, nisi haberes qui illis æque ac tu ipse gauderet? Adversas vero ferre difficile esset sine eo, qui illas gravius etiam quam tu ferret.

(a.) State briefly what you know of the persons mentioned in this extract.

(b.) Parse posita, metiamur, audeas, and gauderet. Write out the present indicative and perfect subjunctive of metiamur, gauderet, and gignit.

(c.) Parse ullo pacto, and give the remaining cases of the phrase. From what verb is pacto derived?

(d.) Decline hic, ille, iste, ipse, qui, and quis. Explain accurately the meaning of each.

(e.) Give the comparatives and superlatives of multus, bonus, difficilis, miser and dulcis.

Atque hoc maxime judicaretur, si quid tale possit contingere, ut aliquis nos deus ex hac hominum frequentia tolleret, et in solitudine uspiam collocaret atque ibi suppetitans omnium rerum, quas natura desiderat, abundantiam et copiam hominis omnino aspiciendi potestatem eriperet. Quis tam esset ferreus qui eam vitam ferre posset cuique non auferret fructum voluptatum omnium solitudo? Verum ergo illud est, quod a Tarentino Archyta, ut opinor, dici solitum nostros senes commemorare audiavi ab aliis senibus auditum: "si quis in cælum ascendisset naturamque mundi et pulchritudinem siderum perspexisset, insuavem illam admirationem ei fore: quæ jucundissima fuisset, si aliquem cui narraret habuisset.

(a.) Parse fugiat atque oderit. Account for the mood and tense of each verb.

(b.) Give the gender and the genitive singular of congressus, virus, solitudo, sermo, res, and sidus.

3. (a.) Explain the difference in meaning between the singular and the plural of copia, carcer, castrum, ædes, tabella, mos, litera. 6

(b.) Mention any nouns that have different genders in the singular and the plural.

(b). 8, 20—Τὰ δ' ἄρματα ἐφέροντο τὰ μὲν δι' αὐτῶν τῶν πολεμίων, τὰ δὲ καὶ διὰ τῶν Ἑλλήνων, κενὰ ἡνιόχων· Οἱ δὲ, ἐπεὶ προῖδοιεν, δίσταντο· ἐστὶ δ' ὅστις καὶ κατελήφθη, ὥσπερ ἐν ἵπποδρόμῳ, ἐκπλαγείς· καὶ οὐδὲν μέντοι οὐδὲ τούτον παθεῖν ἔφασαν· οὐδ' ἄλλος δὲ τῶν Ἑλλήνων ἐν ταύτῃ τῇ μάχῃ ἔπαθεν οὐδὲν, πλὴν ἐπὶ τῷ εὐωνύμῳ τοξευθῆναι τις ἐλ ἐγετο·

(c). II 2, 10—Ἐπεὶ δὲ τὰ πιστὰ ἐγένετο, εἶπεν ὁ Κλέαρχος· Ἄγε δὴ, ὦ Ἀριαῖε, ἐπέπερ ὁ αὐτὸς ὑμῖν στόλος ἐστὶ καὶ ἡμῖν, εἰπὲ τίνα γνώμην ἔχεις περὶ τῆς πορείας· πότερον ἄπιμεν ἢνπερ ἤλθομεν, ἢ ἄλλην τινὰ ἐννενοηκέναι δοκεῖς ὁδὸν κρείττω; Οἱ δ' εἶπεν· Ἦν μὲν ἤλθομεν ἀπιόντες, παντελῶς ἂν ὑπὸ λιμοῦ ἀπολοίμεθα· ὑπάρχει γὰρ νῦν ἡμῖν οὐδὲν τῶν ἐπιτηδείων· Ἑπτακαίδεκα γὰρ σταθμῶν τῶν ἐγγυτάτῳ οὐδὲ δεῦρο ἰόντες ἐκ τῆς χώρας οὐδὲν εἶχομεν λαμβάνειν·

(d). 5, 39. Πρὸς ταῦτα ἀπεκρίναντο οἱ Ἕλληνες· Ὡς κάκιστε ἀνθρώπων, Ἀριαῖε, καὶ οἱ ἄλλοι, ὅσοι ἦτε Κύρου φίλοι, οὐκ αἰσχύνεσθε οὔτε θεοὺς οὔτ' ἀνθρώπους, οἵτινες, ὁμόσαντες ἡμῖν τοὺς αὐτοὺς φίλους καὶ ἔχθρους νομιεῖν, προδόντες ἡμᾶς σὺν Τισσαφέρνει, τῷ ἀθεωτάτῳ τε καὶ πανουργοτάτῳ, τοὺς τε ἄνδρας αὐτοὺς οἷς ὤμνυτε, ἀπολωλέκατε, καὶ, τοὺς ἄλλους ἡμᾶς προδιδωκότες, ξὺν τοῖς πολεμίοις ἐφ' ἡμᾶς ἔρχεσθε;

II. 1. Parse, giving the nominative and genitive singular, τριήρεις, χρήματα, κακίους, εἰδότες, and ἰόντων· What are ἐρεῖ and ἀποσουλῶ? Decline together fully in both the singular and the plural, τίνα γνώμην, κρείττω ὁδόν, μεγὰς βασιλεὺς and ἐγὼ αὐτός·

2. Give the different Comparatives and Superlatives corresponding to ἀγαθός, κακός, ἐγγύς and φίλος·

3. Parse, and give the principal parts (present and future active, perfects and aorists, active, middle, and passive) of the verbs ἀποπεφύγασιν, εἰλῆν, συλλαβών, ἀπολοίμεθα, προδόντες, and ἔπαθεν.

4. Write out fully the indicative of the present active of ποιέω and δίδωμι; that of the presents of εἶμι, εἶμι and οἶδα; that of the imperfects of οἶδα and χράομαι; and that of the perfect passive of διώκω.

5. How are the relations of time and place, and how are wishes, commands, and prohibitions expressed in Greek? Give examples. Distinguish παρῇ, παρείη, παρίη, παρήει, and παριῇ. Translate ὅπως οὖν ἔσεσθε ἄξιοι τῆς ἐλευθερίας ἧς κεκτήσθε, and explain anything peculiar in the Syntax.

III. Translate into Greek:—

1. When Darius knew that his end was approaching, he wished to have both his sons beside him. Now Artaxerxes, the elder, happened to be present, and Cyrus, the younger, he sent for from the province of which he had made him satrap. 14

2. Tissaphernes, perceiving that the Milesians were about to revolt to Cyrus, put some of them to death and banished others. But Cyrus, having collected an army besieged Miletus both by land and by sea, and endeavoured to restore the exiles, and made this a pretext for collecting a still larger army.

3. When Cyrus saw that his brother with the centre of the Persian army was making a circuit so as to be in the rear of the Greeks and thus destroy them, then he charged upon the Persians with six hundred horsemen, and overcame the six thousand and put them to flight.

Did you go to the house of the prosecutor on the afternoon of the 11th ultimo between the hours of five and six o'clock ; and if so, did you then and there see the prisoner ?

I have no accurate recollection of the date: but I did go to the prosecutor's house on the evening of the day on which the attempt on his life was made, and I then saw the prisoner, with a crowd of other natives there.

Relate the circumstances under which you arrested him; and add any particulars that may appear to you to have an important bearing on the case.

I knew that the prisoner bore ill-will to his master, and when I saw him wringing his hands, beating his breast, and making great protestations of grief, my attention was attracted. I therefore watched him very narrowly.

Now be cautious as to what you are going to say; for you will doubtless have to give your testimony on oath in this matter before a court of justice.

I am ready to swear to everything I shall say. When I asked the prisoner why he was crying, he appeared very much confused, and his answers were evasive.

That is not evidence. You must state the questions you put to the prisoner, and the answers he gave.

(a.) During four long months the garrison had known nothing of what was going on in the outer world. They were aware of the advance and retreat of Havelock, and that was all. At last, on the 23rd of September, they heard the booming of the guns at the Alumbagh. On the morning of the 25th they could see something of the growing excitement in the city; the people abandoning their houses and flying across the river. Still the guns of the rebels kept up a heavy cannonade upon the Residency, and volleys of musketry continued to pour upon the besieged from the loopholes of the besiegers. But soon the firing was heard from the city; the welcome sounds came nearer and nearer. The excitement of the garrison grew beyond control. Presently the relieving force was seen fighting its way towards the Residency. Then the pent-up feelings of the garrison burst forth in deafening cheers; and wounded men in hospital crawled out to join in the chorus of welcome. Then followed personal greetings as officers and men came pouring in. Hands were frantically shaken on all sides. Rough-bearded soldiers took the children from their mothers' arms, kissed them with tears rolling down their cheeks, and thanked God that they had come in time to save them from the fate that had befallen the sufferers at Cawnpore. 20

(b.) * * * We have to educate a people who cannot at present be educated by means of their mother-tongue. We must teach them some foreign language. The claims of our own language it is hardly necessary to recapitulate. It stands pre-eminent even among the languages of the West. It abounds with works of imagination not inferior to the noblest which Greece has bequeathed to us; with models of every species of eloquence; with historical compositions, which, considered merely as narratives, have seldom been surpassed, and which, considered as vehicles of ethical and political instruction have never been equalled; with just and lively representations of human life and human nature; with the most profound speculations on metaphysics, morals, government, jurisprudence, and trade; with full and correct information respecting every experimental science which tends to preserve the health, to increase the comfort, or to expand the intellect of man. Whoever knows that language, has ready access to all the vast intellectual wealth, 30 which all the wisest nations of the earth have created and hoarded in the course of ninety generations. It may safely be said that the literature now extant in that language is of far greater value than all the literature which three hundred years ago was extant in all the languages of the world together. Nor is this all. In India English is the language spoken by the ruling class. It is spoken by the higher class of natives at the seats of Government. It is likely to become the language of commerce throughout the seas of the East.

1. Bisect a given rectilineal angle. 1
- (a.) OC is a straight line which bisects the angle AOB, and OD is any other straight line without the angle AOB; show that the angles DOA, DOB are together double of the angle DOC. 2
2. If a straight line falling on two other straight lines make the alternate angles equal to each other, these two straight lines shall be parallel. 1
- (b.) ABC is a triangle; straight lines AD, CE bisect the angles at A and C, and from B, BE is drawn equal to BC, and BD equal to BA: show that EBD is a straight line. 2
3. If a straight line be divided into two equal and also into two unequal parts, the squares on the two unequal parts are together double of the square on half the line and of the square on the line between the points of section. 4
- (c.) Prove the same algebraically. 2
- (d.) If A, B be fixed points, and C any other point, the sum of the squares on AO and BO is least when O is the middle point of AB. 3
4. The angle at the centre of a circle is double of the angle at the circumference upon the same base, that is, upon the same part of the circumference. 2
- (e.) If two straight lines AB, CD in a circle intersect in E, the angles subtended by AC and BD at the centre are together double of the angle AEC. 3
5. If from any point without a circle two straight lines be drawn, one of which cuts the circle and the other touches it, the rectangle contained by the whole line which cuts the circle and the part of it without the circle shall be equal to the square on the line which touches it. 4
- (f.) AO, BO are radii of a circle at right angles to each other, ACD is a straight line meeting OB in C and the circle in D. Then the rectangle contained by AC, AD is double of the square on OB. 5
- 6.* Inscribe a triangle in a given circle. 3
- (g.) O is the centre of the circle inscribed in the triangle ABC. OC is joined and OD drawn perpendicular to OC, meeting the circle in D towards BC; E is the centre of an equal circle touching BC and AC produced; show that ED touches the first circle at D. 4
7. Find the area of a regular octagonal field, each of whose sides measures 5 chains; give the result in acres, roods, &c. 5
8. The area of a triangular field is 2 acres 3 chains; the line drawn from the vertex of the same perpendicular to the base measures 13 poles or perches; what is the length of the base line in chains and links? 4

* Given as set.

9. A two-wheeled carriage whose axletree is four feet long is driven round a circle; the outer wheel makes one and a half revolutions for every single revolution of the inner one. The wheels are each three feet high; what is the circumference of the circle described by the outer wheel? 5

ENGLISH POETRY.

Examiner—MR. A. C. EDWARDS, M. A.N.B.—The figures in the margin indicate full marks.

1. Mention the principal characteristics of Wordsworth's philosophy of nature and of life, illustrating your remarks from his writings. State what you consider to be the chief defects of his style. Compare him with Milton. 5

2. Give a summary of the Laodamia. What lessons was that poem intended to convey? What does Wordsworth say about the Sonnet? State the rules to be observed in that form of composition. Which of Wordsworth's poems that you have read treat of historical subjects?

3. Explain:—

(a.) Huge trunks! and each particular trunk a growth
Of intertwined fibres serpentine
Upcoiling, and inveterately convolved;
Not uninformed with phantasy, and looks
That threaten the profane ;—a pillared shade.

(b.) A lover of all the mighty world
Of eye and ear,—both what they half create
And what perceive; well pleased to recognise
In nature and the language of the sense
The anchor of my purest thoughts.

(c.) Through no disturbance of my soul,
Or strong compunction in me wrought,
I supplicate for thy control,
But in the quietness of thought:
Thee this unchartered freedom tires;
I feel the weight of chance desires.

* * * *

Thou dost preserve the stars from wrong,
And the most ancient heavens through thee are fresh and strong.

(d.) Where I may oft out-watch the Bear
With thrice great Hermes.

(e.) Condemn'd a needy suppliant to wait,
While ladies interpose, and slaves debate.

(f.) Plaintive at first were the tones and sad; then soaring to madness
Seemed they to follow or guide the revel of frenzied Bacchantes.

4. In the Vanity of Human Wishes what classical characters are introduced? Give the substance of what is said about each. What autobiographical allusions occur in that poem? 5

5. Give a description of "Basil the blacksmith," and narrate the part taken by him in the Evangeline. What flowers does Longfellow allude to for purposes of comparison, and with what does he compare them? What epithets does he apply to the turkey, crow, bear, and alligator, respectively? Quote any four lines descriptive of American scenery that strike you in the second part of the poem. What was the date of the events recorded in the first part? 7

6. Express in prose the full meaning of the following extracts, avoiding the use of metaphor:— 11

(a.) With distant voice neglected Virtue calls,
Less heard, and less, the faint remonstrance falls:
Tir'd with contempt, she quits the slipp'ry reign,
And Pride and Prudence take her seat in vain.
In crowd at once, where none the pass defend,
The harmless freedom, and the private friend:
The guardians yield, by force superior ply'd,
To Int'rest Prudence; and to Flatt'ry, Pride.
Here beauty falls, betray'd, despis'd, distress'd,
And hissing Infamy proclaims the rest.

(b.) And ever against eating cares
Lap me in soft Lydian airs
Married to immortal verse,
Such as the meeting soul may pierce,
In notes, with many a winding bout
Of linked sweetness long drawn out
With wanton heed and giddy cunning
The melting voice through mazes running,
Untwisting all the chains that tie
The hidden soul of harmony.

At what period of his life did Milton write L'Allegro and Il Penseroso? With which character does he himself most sympathize? How does he show this?

7. Explain the allusions in the following passages:— 7

(a.) Short sway! fair Austria spreads her mournful charms,

The queen, the beauty, sets the world in arms.

(b.) Not tricked and frownc'd as she was wont
With the Attic boy to hunt.

(c.) Thou art too fair to be left to braid St. Catherine's tresses.

(d.) Over them wander the scattered tribes of Ishmael's children,
Staining the desert with blood.

(e.) Then Beaumont, friend! who would have been the friend.

If he had lived, of him whom I deplore.

Name the metre and scan the last line of a, b, and c respectively.

1. "The conception of gods in human shape has always a 5
"tendency to monstrosities and caricature": illustrate this remark (briefly) from any of Homer's pictures of life in Olympus.
2. What allegorical interpretation has been put upon the 3 share taken by the gods in the Homeric combat, and upon Jupiter's calm contemplation of the discord among them?
3. How does Homer contrast the behaviour of the Greeks 3 and Trojans when engaging in battle?
4. What considerations must be borne in mind when esti- 5 mating the moral doctrine of the Iliad in reference to Helen?
5. Mention different views that have been taken of Hector's 2, 3 character; and compare him with Achilles.
6. Give some account of Goldsmith's personal character; 3, 3, 4 and point out the chief characteristics of his humour. What may be said in opposition to the commonly-accepted belief that he was badly treated by the world of his day?
7. Explain the following passage:—
- (a.) Kenrick, a hack employed by Griffiths to maltreat the 2 book, flourished his bludgeon in a brave manner.
- (b.) I have been invited to a pawnbroker's table by pre- 2 tending to hate gravy; and am now actually upon treaty of marriage with a rich widow for only having observed that the bread was rising.
- (c.) The wits of the tavern might put up the horse-collar as 1 before.
- (d.) I cannot afford to court the draggle-tailed muses. 1
- (e.) Oh, there indeed I'm in bronze . . . When I ask, I am not 2 to be put off, madam. No, no, I take my friend by the button.
A fine girl, sir; great justice in her case. A friend of mine—borough interest—business must be done, Mr. Secretary.
- (f.) They who bring with them, to the pages of classical 2 fiction, a taste which has been built up by modern song and romance, must be warned at once that there is no love-story in either Iliad or Odyssey.
- (g.) A muster-roll which was to them what the Roll of Battle 1
Abbey was to the descendants of the Normans in England.
- (h.) The exact prototype of those knightly troubadours of later times who combined the accomplishments of the minstrel with the prowess of the soldier.
8. Sketch very briefly Wellington's career in India; and 4, 4 consider his character as a politician.

(a.) Phœelus ille, quem videtis, hospites,

Ait fuisse navium celerrimus,
Neque ullius natantis impetum trabis
Nequisse præterire, sive palmulis
Opus foret volare, sive linteo.

- (b.) Florido mihi ponitur picta vere corolla Primitu', et tenera virens spica mollis arista;
Pallentesque cucurbitæ, et suaveolentia mala.
Sanguine hanc etiam mihi. sed tacebitis, aram
Barbatus linit hirculus, cornipesve capella.

- (c.) Sis quocunque tibi placet

Semihiantem labello.

2. (a.) Parse and conjugate picta, linit, rideat. Derive 7 corolla, nomen, lumen, luna.

(b.) Account for the mood of foret. What is peculiar about the construction ait fuisse celerrimus? Give the regular construction.

(c.) Give the Latin diminutive endings of nouns and adjectives, and the inceptive and frequentative endings of verbs, with examples.

(d.) State and exemplify the two constructions of volō; and explain the difference of meaning.

3. (a.) Name the other chief lyric poets of Rome. Quote 4 or give in English the substance of Catullus' lines to Cicero.

(b.) Who, or what and where, were Sirmio, Lariæ lacus undæ, uterque Neptunus, Gemelle Castoris?

(c.) What were hendecasyllabi, palimpsesti, umbilici, membrana directa plumbo?

4. Translate :—

Sic semper liquidis fruaris undis,

Sic et cornibus aureus receptis,
 Et Romanus eas utraque ripa :
 Trajanum populis suis et urbi,
 Thybris te dominus rogat, remittas.

5. (a.) Parse pexam, and durius. Decline nullus quadrans and utrumque cornu in the plural. Conjugate the compounds of emo with pro and re ; and those of fero with ab and ex 8

(b.) Write the present indicative of nolo, and the present indicative passive and imperfect subjunctive passive of facio. Express in Latin : I have no doubt that he will become great.

(c.) State the uses of the Latin supines. Give the different ways of expressing : The emperor sent his son to command the army.

(d.) Explain the meaning of quum with the indicative, and antequam with the subjunctive. Distinguish in meaning : Multa sunt quæ demere possis, and multa sunt quæ demere potes.

6. Give the derivation and meaning of the word epigram. What new character did Martial give to the epigram as a poem ? What emperors does he refer to as his contemporaries, and in connexion with what historical events ? Who was Quinctilian ? Give some account of the persons alluded to in (b.) 4

7. Translate into Latin : 12

Martial in one place seems to express the opinion that he was himself second to Catullus only among the poets. If this be understood only of such poems as may be called epigrams, his estimate of himself is probably right. For it cannot be denied that many of his little poems exhibit such wit (sal) and curious felicity of words as few, whether ancient or modern, have surpassed.

"During the nine succeeding years four kings in succession enjoyed the crown of Ghizni, whose names need not be drawn from oblivion. In the year 1058, Sultan Ibrahim ascended the throne. He is represented as a prince of great temperance and learning, and a very rigid follower of the tenets of the Prophet. He is said to have repeatedly transcribed the Koran with his own pen, and to have deposited these beautiful specimens of caligraphy, more worthy of a clerk than of a king, in the libraries of Mecca and Medina.

The Seljook Turkomans having repeated their incursions, he engaged to cede to them, in perpetual sovereignty, all the territories they had conquered, on condition that they should cease from further encroachments; and they appear to have adhered to their engagements. Freed from these formidable foes in the west, he prepared to lead his army into the east to curb the spirit of the Hindoos. He is said to have penetrated further into the country than any of his predecessors, and to have carried off more than a hundred thousand prisoners to Ghizni. His reign is said to have extended to forty years, and to have terminated in the year 1098 A. D."

1. Explain the importance of the study of Psychology; the means of prosecuting it and the impediments attending it. 3

2. Reid describes the course of modern philosophy previous to his own, as having been an "unequal contest betwixt Common Sense and Philosophy." Explain fully this statement. 7

3. In opposition to the "Ideal system," Reid maintains that "Sensation and Memory are simple, original, and perfectly distinct operations of the mind, and both of them are original principles of belief." What was the doctrine of the "Ideal system" on the subject? How does Reid controvert it; and on what grounds does he establish his own doctrine? 3

4. Take any natural object: say, a lemon, lying at arm's length from you; it is round, yellowish, soft, smooth, sour, and fragrant. Explain how, according to Reid, we come to possess all this knowledge. Show how it is gradually built up, distinguishing the elements of it which are contributed by the 9

"original principles of belief," by "custom," by "reason," and by "the general principles of the human constitution" respectively. How much of it is "original perception", and how much "acquired perception"; and what in it is matter of "common understanding"?

5. Explain the object and meaning of Reid's theory of "Signs." 6
What other theory is it meant to supersede and why? What difficulty is it intended to meet? How does Reid illustrate its validity by a reference to language?

"qualities hath had many revolutions." What is the "distinction"; on what grounds is it based by Reid? Explain fully, by reference to examples. Mention the "revolutions."

7. Reid endorses Berkeley's statement, "that (a) the visible 8
"appearance of objects is (b) a kind of language used by nature, "to inform us of their (c) distance, magnitude, and figure." Explain this, clause by clause:—

(a.) What is the "visible appearance of objects," what are its nature and its constituent parts; wherein does it differ from the real state of the object?

(b.) In what sense is it a "kind of language used by nature"?

(c.) How does it inform us of distance, of magnitude, of figure?

8. Explain the distinction which Reid draws between Sensa- 5
tion and Perception. He divides Perception into two classes; which are they, and on what grounds is the division based? What is the process of nature in Perception? Illustrate by examples.

B.—Abercrombie's Intellectual Powers.

1. "The ideal theory, with all the doctrines founded upon it, 7
"may now be considered as gone by. But certain speculations "are still occasionally brought out which are referable to the "same class." What are the "ideal theory" and "the doctrines founded upon it"? Why may they "be considered as gone by"? What are the "certain speculations", and how are they "referable to the same class"?

2. What are the sources of our knowledge, both in a philo- 7 sophical point of view and as a matter of fact? Explain how, and how much, each source contributes to our knowledge; and state what rules are to be observed to secure correct knowledge.

3. What are Memory, Recollection, Conception, Attention, 8 and Association, and in what relation do they stand to each other? Name and explain the various "principles" and "classes" of Association.

4. "Our idea of reasoning necessarily supposes the existence 6
"of a certain number of truths, which require and admit of no "evidence." Explain fully this statement. Why does our idea of reasoning suppose such truths"? How can such truths be distinguished from others? Which are these truths, according to Abercrombie? Attempts have been made by some to prove them; by others to deny them; by whom have they been made, and how?

5. What is the doctrine of the "uniformity of nature"? 6
How far is it applicable to mental phenomena, and how does it bear upon the question, of liberty, necessity, and freedom of the will?

6. In the investigation of any but a "first truth," what 8 course should be pursued? What mental processes must be brought into operation? What conditions must be observed? What fallacies must be avoided, and what points must be attended to, in order to avoid them?

7. "Considered as mental phenomena, Insanity and Dream- 5 ing have a remarkable affinity to each other." Explain fully this statement: how does Abercombe justify it?

8. Name and describe those qualities which constitute a 3 well-regulated mind.

CHEMISTRY.

N. B.—The figures in the margin indicate full marks.

1. What are the definitions of elementary and of compound 3 bodies? Divide the following substances into these two classes: wood, graphite, water, rock crystal, ozone, white arsenic, amorphous phosphorus, and table salt.

2. How would you determine synthetically the composition 4 of water by volume?

3. What are the percentage compositions of zinc sulphate 4 and of ammonium nitrate. ($Zn = 65$.)

4. What is the difference between a chemical compound and 5 a mechanical mixture? In which class would you place atmospheric air, and give your reasons for doing so?

5. 200 grams of sulphuric acid are heated with 100 grams 6 of sodium chloride. State exactly what will take place, and if any new substances are formed, calculate what their weights will be.

6. How would you prepare carbon dioxide? Sketch the 4 apparatus you would employ, and describe both the physical and the chemical properties of this substance.

7. 1,000 c.c of oxygen are measured at $7^{\circ}C$. and 700 m.m. 4 pressure; what will be the volume of this gas at $-63^{\circ}C$. and 770 m. m. pressure?

8. How is coal gas prepared, what are its usual constituents, 6 and to what is its illuminating power due?

9. Give the names and formulæ of all the oxides of the non- 6 metallic elements.

10. What is meant by the boiling point of a liquid? Describe 4 some experiments proving that water does not always boil at the same temperature.

11. How is boracic or Boric acid found in nature; how is it 4 prepared from its principal salt?

NOTE.—In all cases the chemical changes should be illustrated by equations.

LOGIC.

Examiner—MR. A. THOMSON.N. B.—The figures in the margin indicate full marks.

1. Fowler says, "Logic is a subordinate branch of the wider science, Psychology." Why has this particular branch of Psychology been formed into a separate science? 3
 2. Define Term, Proposition, Concept, Judgment. On what grounds do some logicians prefer the first two, and others the last two of these terms? 4
 3. What different opinions have been held regarding the Modality of Propositions? Is the proposition "Scott generally sat in this chair," equivalent to the proposition "Scott was the general sitter in this chair"? 4
 4. What changes has Fowler considered it necessary to make in Mill's theory of predication? Apply the two theories to the proposition "Avarice is a mean vice." 3
 5. Give the genus or species, the differentia, a property, and an accident of each of the following: Triangle, plant, Registrar of the University of Calcutta, Beast of burden. 6
 6. How may a conclusion be drawn from probable premises? 3
 7. What immediate Inferences can be drawn from each of the following propositions?— 6
 - a. Ice is cold.
 - b. A proud man is not necessarily a bad man.
 - c. Not being rich is not always an evil.
 - d. Many animals that live in the water are not fishes.
 8. Show that though the four kinds of propositions, viz., A, F., I, O, may be combined into 64 different groups of three propositions each, only 11 of these groups can be valid syllogisms in any figure. 5
 9. Prove that in the 2nd figure the conclusion must be negative, and that in the 3rd figure it must be particular. 5
 10. Define the Dilemma, and mention the different forms it assumes. 5
- Examine:—If the books in the Alexandrine Library are in conformity with the Koran, there is no need of them; if they are adverse to the Koran, they should be destroyed.
- But they are either conformable to the doctrines of the Koran or adverse to them.
- Therefore they must be destroyed.
11. Complete and examine the following arguments: 6
 - a. He must be a learned man, for he is a Pundit.
 - b. The news is too good to be true.
 - c. This man is a scoundrel, for he is very much afraid, and "Ill-doers are ill-dreaders."
 - d. A is greater than B, B is greater than C; therefore A is greater than C.

ENGLISH POETRY.

Examiner—MR. K. DEIGHTON, M. A.N. B.—The figures in the margin indicate full marks.

1. In what way does our conception of the age, so far as it $2\frac{1}{2}$, 3 may be indicated on the stage by style of dress, architecture, $3\frac{1}{2}$, 1 &c., affect our view of King Lear? Discuss briefly Lear's state of mind at the opening of the play. How do you account for the fact that, though Cordelia's speeches are so few and short, her influence is so strongly felt throughout? What differences do you mark between Regan and Goneril?

2. Point out historical errors in Julius Cæsar. "Fate, in 1, $3\frac{1}{2}$ Shakespeare, is nothing else than man's own nature": apply this in your consideration of the character of Brutus, and compare him with Cassius.

3. Whence does Shakespeare derive the story of the Bond? $\frac{1}{2}$, $2\frac{1}{2}$ In what ways is The Merchant of Venice allied with the earlier 2, 2 and with the later of Shakespeare's Comedies? Notice any good points in Shylock. How is Portia, in the M. of V., distinguished among the women of Shakespeare?

4. Briefly annotate where necessary:—

- | | | |
|----|---|----------------|
| a. | Prove it so, | 1 |
| | Let fortune go to hell for it, not I. | |
| b. | And speak between the change of man and boy
With a reed voice, and turn two mincing steps
Into a manly stride. | $1\frac{1}{2}$ |
| c. | Such harmony is in immortal souls;
But whilst this muddy vesture of decay
Doth grossly close it in, we cannot hear it. | $1\frac{1}{2}$ |
| d. | No, not an oath; if not the face of men
The sufferance of our souls, the time's abuse,—
If these be motives weak, break off betimes,
And every man hence to his idle bed;
So let high-sighted tyranny range on,
Till each man drop by lottery. | 3 |
| e. | Strike her young bones,
You taking airs, with lameness. | 1 |
| f. | To be a comrade with the wolf and owl,—
Necessity's hard pinch. | $1\frac{1}{2}$ |

- g. Thou perjured, and thou simular man of virtue, 3
 Thou art incestuous : caitiff to pieces shake,
 That under covert and convenient seeming
 Hast practised on man's life : close pent-up guilts
 Rive your concealing continents, and cry
 These dreadful summoners grace.
5. What forms does Satan assume in Paradise? How does, 1
 Milton imitate, and how does he differ from, Ariosto, in Paradise 3 Lost, Book III. ? Give the substance and connection of any passages in which Milton refers to the Copernican system.
6. Explain—
 Hail, holy light ! offspring of Heaven first-born ! 6
 Or of the eternal co-eternal beam
 May I express thee unblamed ? since God is light,
 And never but in unapproached light
 Dwelt from eternity, dwelt then in thee,
 Bright effluence of bright essence increate.
 Or hear'st thou rather pure ethereal stream,
 Whose fountain who shall tell ?
7. Who are referred to in the following lines ?— 1½
 a. The sharpest-sighted spirit of all in Heaven.
 b. The sociable spirit, that deigned
 To travel with Tobias.
 c. Among the faithless, faithful only he.
8. Keats considered Hyperion to be deformed by Miltonic 1½ inversions : what do you understand by this ?
- 9 Explain— 2
 But ever and anon the glancing spheres,
 Circles, and arcs, and broad-belted colour,
 Glow'd through, and wrought upon the muffling dark
 Sweet-shaped lightnings from the nadir deep
 Up to the zenith.

1. Sketch the life of Spenser, dwelling particularly upon 5½ those parts of his career and character which bear upon the Faery Queen. How does that work reflect the circumstances under which it was written ? Briefly specify its leading characteristics and defects and shew how the age was peculiarly favourable to the development of poetry.
2. Explain :—
 a. The rage for “artificial versifying” was for the moment 1 in the air.
 b If so be the Faery Queene be fairer in your eye than the 1
 Nine Muses, and Hobgoblin run away with the garland from Apollo.

- o. That shepheard I besought to me to tell, 1½
 Under what skie, or in what world we were,
 In which I saw no living people dwell.
 Who me recomforting all that he might,
 Told me that that same was the Regiment
 Of a great Shepheardesse. that Cynthia hight.

In what poem does the above passage occur ?

d "Everybody knows the fine passage about Fox as the 1½ descendant of Henry IV. of France, and the happy quotation from Silius Italicus." What speech is here alluded to ? Give the substance of the passage and quotation referred to.

3. Compare Burke's political attitude with regard to the 5
 French Revolution with his views concerning Indian affairs and the American War respectively. Criticise any apparent inconsistency. How far and in what respects, did subsequent events justify Burke's views as expressed in the Reflections.

4. Reproduce as far as possible in Burke's own words his 4 remarks about Prejudice and Liberty respectively. What comparisons does he employ for illustrating the latter ? Quote other striking comparisons used by Burke in the Reflections.

5. Give the substance of Burke's arguments regarding the 4 real causes of the confiscation of Church property in France and the pretexts assigned for it. Discuss briefly after Burke or on general principles the expediency of a State-endowed Church.

6. Give the full meaning of the following passages with reference to their contexts, explaining all allusions :—

a. It would certainly be a valuable addition of nondescripts 1 to the ample collection of known classes, genera, and species, which at present beautify the hortus siccus of dissent.

b. It is the Corinthian capital of polished society. Point out 1½ an error of Burke's in connection with the subject of this extract.

c. The new pavement of square within square, and this 1 organization and semi-organization made on the system of Empedocles and Buffon.

d. They took an old huge full-bottomed periwig out of the 1 wardrobe of the antiquated frippery of Louis XIV., to cover the premature baldness of the National Assembly.

7. What according to Burke are the duties of a Financier ? 5
 How far was the National Assembly successful in fulfilling each of those duties ? Point out the ill-effects of the Assignat system.
 What was Burke's main object in his own schemes for economical reform ?

8. Trace the successive changes in the style and subject- 5 matter of English Poetry from Shakespeare's time up to the present day, noticing particularly the influence exercised thereon by the French Revolution. Name the principal representatives of each school.

9. Name the authors and give a brief account of the following 5
 Works :—The Vision of Piers the Plowman. Euphues. The Laws of Ecclesiastical Polity. Doctor Faustus. Hudibras. Absalom
and Achitophel. The Principia. The Leviathan. The Beggar's

Opera. Aids to Reflection. Don Juan. Mention the principal characteristics of Scotch Poetry.

10. Explain the following :—The Manchester School. Facies Hippocratica. Grand climacteric. Singults rife. The Geneva platform of discipline. Whiteboyism. Disputants of the garden or the porch. Idols of the political market-place. The jus retractus. Quadrumanous activity 2½

11. Discuss (1) the principal merits and defects of Burke's style as an orator and an author, (2) the character of Burke's political philosophy,—illustrating your remarks from his works. 4½

HYDROSTATICS.

Examiner—MR A. M. NASH, M. A.

N. B.—The figures in the margin indicate full marks.

1. Find the density of a mixture of equal weights of three liquids whose densities are .5, .6, .8. 4

2. Explain the relations between the units in the equations $W = g\rho V$ and $p = gpz$. 7

An equilateral triangle, each side of which is one foot, is immersed in water with its plane vertical, its lowest side being horizontal, and at a depth $2\sqrt{3}$ feet. Find the pressure upon it in pounds, assuming that a cubic foot of water weighs 1,000 oz.

3. If two liquids that do not mix together meet in a bent tube, the heights of their upper surfaces above their common surface will be inversely proportional to their densities. 3

4. State clearly the difference between whole pressure and resultant pressure. 7

Determine the whole pressure upon the curved surface of a hollow cone, whose axis is vertical and vertex downwards, filled with equal volumes of two liquids whose densities are ρ and ρ' (the liquids do not mix).

5. Determine the centre of pressure of a plane triangle immersed in liquid with one side in the surface, Show that the position of this point in the plane of the triangle is independent of the inclination of the plane to the horizon. 6

6. A cylinder, six inches high, is floating half immersed in water with its axis vertical; oil of sp. gr. .9 is poured on the top of the water to a depth of one inch; find the position of equilibrium of the cylinder. 4

7. State Boyle's law and Charles' law, and deduce the equation $p = kp(1 + at)$. 7

Prove that $k = gh$, where h is the height of the homogeneous atmosphere. Show how to determine the numerical value of k .

8. Describe the Forcing Pump, and draw diagrams showing the position of the valves when the piston is (1) ascending, (2) descending. 4

9. A Siphon gauge is attached to the receiver of an airpump; the height of the mercury after two strokes of the piston is $13\frac{1}{2}$ 4 inches, and after three strokes $8\frac{1}{2}$ inches; find the height of the barometer.

10. Describe the common hydrometer, and show how to compare the sp. gr. of two liquids. 4

DYNAMICS AND ASTRONOMY.

Examiner—MR. J. A. MARTIN, B. A.

N. B.—The figures in the margin indicate full marks.

1. Define momentum, acceleration, and kinetic energy. Enunciate the proposition called the “triangle of velocities.” 3

Two straight lines Oa , Ob , are drawn to represent the velocities of two particles A, B, of mass m_1 , m_2 , respectively. If c be the centre of mass of masses m_1 , m_2 , placed at a , b , respectively, prove that Oc represents the velocity of the centre of mass of A and B. 3

2. Define the dynamical unit of force. 1

If a particle starting from rest with uniform acceleration 8, pass in 5" over 200 ft. and acquire in that time a velocity 40, what are the units of space and time? 3

3. Enunciate Newton's 3rd law of motion. 1

State fully the “reactions” which, by this law, are equal and opposite to the “action” of a horse, (1) in starting a cart from rest, (2) in moving it uniformly along the road. 2

4. Two heavy bodies are connected by a string which passes over a smooth fixed peg. Find the acceleration of either. 2

If the peg can only sustain a weight equal to $\frac{2}{3}$ rds of the sum of the weights of the bodies, shew that the ratio of their masses cannot be less than $2 + \sqrt{3} : 1$. 3

5. Two bodies projected from a point A, in directions inclined α and α' to the vertical, pass through another point B, AB being horizontal. If t , t' , be the times of flight, prove— 4

$$\frac{\sin(\alpha - \alpha')}{\sin(\alpha + \alpha')} = \frac{t'^2 - t^2}{t'^2 + t^2}.$$

6. If a particle be moving in circle with velocity v , show that the acceleration is $\frac{v^2}{a}$ towards the centre of the circle, where a is the radius. 3

7 Define the terms Meridian, Rational Horizon Prime Vertical, and Mean Sun. 2

Find approximately the day of the year on which a star, whose right ascension is 135° and declination 0° , will be due south at 9 P.M. At what point of the horizon will it rise? 2

8. Is the Moon higher in the heavens in winter or in summer? and why? 1

- Discuss the phenomenon called the "Harvest Moon." 2
9. Describe the method of finding the longitude by Moon-culminating stars. 2
- At a certain place the Moon and a certain star are observed to transit at 5h. 6m. 3s. and at 5h. 9m. 13s. local time respectively. The local times of transit at Greenwich of the Moon and same star on the same day are 5h. 13m. 28s. and 5h. 8m. 38s. respectively. Find approximately the longitude of the place, assuming the Moon's hourly motion in right ascension to be 32' of arc. 4
10. Describe the apparent motion of an inferior planet throughout a synodic period. 2
- Assuming the radii of the orbits of the earth and Venus to be as $\sqrt{13} : 2$, find the elongation of Venus at her stationary points. 2
11. Determine the effect of refraction on the apparent position of a star. 2
- How does refraction affect the apparent length of the Moon's horizontal diameter when rising? 1 12. Find approximately the duration of a central lunar eclipse. 3
- At a given instant the longitude of the Moon's node is 40° ; that of the Moon 35° ; and that of the Sun 222° . Will there be an eclipse or not? 2

POLITICAL ECONOMY.

Examiner—MR. W. T. WEBB, M. A..

1. Define wealth and capital. How is it that money seemed to be the only wealth? Name the requisites of production.
2. A spends Rs. 1000 on a Nautch; B gambles away the same sum; C pays away a like amount in wages to the workers in his cotton-mill. How do the three transactions affect the capital of the country?
3. Enumerate the causes of the increased efficiency of labour through the division of employments. Why should the growth of a town population be encouraged?
4. State and discuss the theory of rent, and show that rent forms no part of the cost of production of food.
5. Define Value, and distinguish it from Price. What two conditions are necessary to a Value in Exchange? Illustrate your answer by an example.
6. Explain the working of International trade. Discuss the commonly felt dread of a country's imports exceeding her exports.
7. Why should a rupee be worth at one time 1s 17d, at another time 1s 9d, in English money? Why does "unfavourable" Exchange tend to rectify itself?
8. (a.) State the four qualities desirable in a system of Taxation. Distinguish between Direct and Indirect Taxes. (b) Discuss the policy of Protective Duties—(1) in an old country; (2) in a young colony.
9. Point out the dangers and defects of Poor Laws. What is the real and only remedy for Pauperism?

POLITICAL ECONOMY.

Examiner—MR. M. PROTHERO, B. A.

1. Compare the industrial wants of England, India, America, and the West Indies. 6
2. Describe briefly the effect produced on employers and employed, by the introduction of machinery to perform some industrial process, formerly executed by skilled manual labour. 3
3. What is the effect of a Trades' Union? 3
 - a. On the profits and wages of the industry in connection with which it is formed? 3
 - b. On the general body of labourers? 6
4. What are the reasons alleged by Adam Smith to account for inequality of wages? Can you suggest any others? 6
5. Of what elements is profit composed? What is the reason that the profits of any trade, when raised abnormally high, tend to sink? 8
6. Explain the schemes of "Nationalisation of Land" and "Co-operative credit Banks." 6
7. What are the functions of money? and what requisites are necessary in the substance chosen to fulfil these functions? 4
8. Define Credit; show that it is not Capital; and explain its influence upon the industry of a country. 10
9. What objections exist to the imposition of an Income-tax? Show that the incidence of such a tax differs, according as it is 4
 - (a.) Paid out of capital.
 - (b.) Saved from expenditure.

In the second century of the Christian era, the empire of Rome comprehended the fairest part of the earth, and the most civilized portion of mankind. The frontiers of that extensive monarchy were guarded by ancient renown and disciplined valour. The gentle but powerful influence of laws and manners had gradually cemented the union of the provinces. The peaceful inhabitants enjoyed and abused the advantages of wealth and luxury. The image of a free constitution was guarded with decent reverence: the Roman Senate appeared to possess the sovereign authority, and devolved on the emperors all the executive powers of the government.

Omitto et hæc et alia permulta, quæ illo jūdicio in Staienum dicta sunt : hoc dico eandem tum fuisse P. et L. Cominiis, equitibus Romanis, honestis hominibus et disertis, controversiam cum Staieno, quem accusabant, quæ nunc mihi est cum Accio. Cominii dicebant idem quod ego dico : Staienum ab Oppianico pecuniam accepisse, ut judicium corrumpere : Staienus conciliandæ gratiæ causa se accepisse dicebat. Irridebatur hæc illus reconciliatio et persona viri boni suscepta, sicut in statuīs inauratis, quas posuit ad Juturnæ : quibus subscripsit : REGES AB SE IN GRATIAM ESSE REDUCTOS.

That old saying of Cato, who declared that he wondered an haruspex did not laugh whenever he saw an haruspex, was very just. For how few events among the many predicted by them really happen ? Or, if anything does happen, what reason can be given why it should not have happened accidentally ? King Prusias, when Hannibal, an exile at his court, wished a decisive action to be brought on, declared that he could not venture, because the entrails forbade him. "Do you choose then," asked Hannibal, "to trust a little piece of calf's flesh rather than a veteran general ?" And did not Cæsar himself, though warned by an eminent haruspex not to cross into Africa before winter, nevertheless cross ? If he had not done so, all his opponents' forces would have been concentrated at one spot. Why should I detail the answers of haruspices—I could mention innumerable instances—which have either had no results, or else contradictory results ?

An idle fellow was once asked, "What made him lie in bed so long?" "Why," said he, "I am occupied in hearing long causes every morning. As soon as I awake in the morning I have two persons at my bedside, whose names are Industry and Sloth; one shows cause why I should rise, the other pleads hard against it; and so they give me twenty reasons why I should get up, and as many why I should not. It is the duty of a just judge to hear what can be said on both sides; and by the time the cause is over it is time to go to breakfast."

In the meantime, the impulse which Clive had given to the administration of Bengal was constantly becoming fainter. His policy was to a great extent abandoned; the abuses which he had suppressed began to revive; and at length the evils which a bad government had engendered were aggravated by one of those fearful visitations which the best government cannot avert. In the summer of 1770, the rains failed; the earth was parched up; the tanks were empty; the rivers shrank within their beds; and famine, such as is known only in countries where every household depends for support on its own little patch of cultivation, filled the whole valley of the Ganges with misery and death. Tender and delicate women, whose veils had never been lifted before the public gaze, came forth from the inner chambers in which Eastern jealousy had kept watch over their beauty, threw themselves on the earth before the passers-by, and with loud wailings, implored a handful of rice for their children. The Hugly every day rolled down thousands of corpses close to porticoes and gardens of the English conquerors. The very streets of Calcutta were blocked up by the dying and the dead. The lean and feeble survivors had not energy enough to bear the bodies of their kindred to the funeral pile or to the holy river, or even to scare away the jackals and vultures, who fed on human remains in the face of day. The extent of the mortality was never ascertained; but it was popularly reckoned by millions.

In the meantime, the impulse which Clive had given to the administration of Bengal was constantly becoming fainter and fainter. His policy was to a great extent abandoned; the abuses which he had suppressed began to revive; and at length the evils which a bad government had engendered were aggravated by one of those fearful visitations which the best government cannot avert. In the summer of 1770, the rains failed; the earth was parched up; the tanks were empty; the rivers shrank within their beds; and famine, such as is known only in countries where every household depends for support on its own little patch of cultivation, filled the whole valley of the Ganges with misery and death. Tender and delicate women, whose veils had never been lifted before the public gaze, came forth from the inner chambers in which Eastern jealousy had kept watch over their beauty, threw themselves on the earth before the passers-by, and with loud wailings, implored a handful of rice for their children. The Hugly every day rolled down thousands of corpses close to the porticoes and gardens of the English conquerors. The very streets of Calcutta were blocked up by the dying and the dead. The lean and feeble survivors had not energy enough to bear the bodies of their kindred to the funeral pile or to the holy river, or even to scare away the jackals and vultures, who fed on human remains in the face of day. The extent of the mortality was never ascertained; but it was popularly reckoned by millions.

4. Translate the following passage into Bengali:—

In days of yore, when the world was young, a Bee that had stored her combs with a bountiful harvest, flew up to heaven to present as a sacrifice an offering of honey. Jupiter was so delighted with the gift, that he promised to give her whatsoever she should ask for. She therefore besought him, saying, "O glorious Jove, maker and master of me, poor bee, give thy servant a sting, that when any one approaches my hive to take the honey, I may kill him on the spot." Jupiter out of love to man was angry at her request and thus answered her : " Your prayer shall not be granted in the way you wish, but the sting which you ask for you shall have ; and when any one comes to take away your honey and you attack him, the wound shall be fatal not to him but to you, for your life shall go with your sting."

He that prays harm for his neighbour, begs a curse upon himself.

History of India.

1. Enumerate, with approximate dates, the founders of the 4 various dynasties which ruled at Delhi from Mahommed Ghori to its conquest by the Moguls.

2 Describe the circumstances leading to the establishment 4 of the Bahmuny dynasty ; and state what other kingdoms owed their rise to its downfall.

3. What officers of the Mussulman Financial system are 6 represented by the modern Zemindars of Bengal ? Contrast the privileges and duties of Zemindars under Mussulman and British rule respectively.

4. Trace the origin of the power of Sivajee, illustrating the 10 importance of the exaction of Chouth ; enumerate the kingdoms into which the Mahratta power subsequently split up.

5. Describe the provisions of Lord North's Regulating Act ; 6 and compare the provisions of Pitt's India Bill with those of the measure proposed by Fox.

6. Give some account of the administration of Warren 8
Hastings, and of the accusations brought against him on his return to England.

Mill's Representative Government.

1. Give an outline of the scheme by which Mill proposes to 4 provide for the representation of minorities ; and show how existing democracies fail to realise his ideal in this respect.

2. Under what conditions and for what objects would Mill 4 allow any person to possess a plurality of votes, and what limitations does he propose to such a privilege ?

3 How should the Second Chamber be constituted, which, 4 according to Mill, would be the most efficient check on uncontrolled democracy ; and how should it be combined with the present House of Lords ?

Arnold's Lectures on Modern History.

1. How far is it true that " the object of political society is 3 the preservation of body and goods " ; what is Arnold's amendment to this statement ?

2. Trace the development of English political parties ; and 6 show how an opposition to the Crown in religious matters developed into an opposition in political matters also.

3. Show how the evils arising from a Political press are outweighed by the benefits to the Constitution to which the system gives rise.

Milman's History of the Jews.

1. Draw a map of Palestine, marking the positions of the Twelve Tribes, the course of the Jordan, the Dead Sea, and Sea of Galilee, and the sites of Jerusalem, Shechem, Hebron, and Samaria. 4
2. Give some account of the constitution and functions of the Sanhedrim. 2
3. Compare the treatment of the Jews under the earlier Mohammedan Caliphs with that in countries subsequently dominated by the Holy Inquisition. 6

PSYCHOLOGY.

Examiner—DR A. F. RUDOLF HOERNLE, PH. D.
(Hamilton's Metaphysics.)

N. B.—The figures in the margin indicate full marks.

1. "Theology is wholly dependent on Psychology; for with the proof of the Moral nature of man stands or falls the proof of the existence of a deity." Give Hamilton's arguments in proof of this statement. 6
2. Explain the sense in which the term "relativity of human knowledge" is understood by Hamilton. Mill denies that he uses it in any truly philosophical sense; on what grounds does he do so? and are they just? 7
3. State clearly Hamilton's doctrine of "consciousness." How far does he agree with philosophers generally? how far with Reid specially? and what is peculiar to himself? How does he distinguish between consciousness and self-consciousness, and between consciousness and attention? 7
4. Hamilton ascribes the "variety and contradiction of philosophical systems" to their violations of the "authority of consciousness." In what respects do they violate it? and what are the two principal philosophical systems resulting therefrom? What are the rules laid down by Hamilton to avoid any violation of that authority? and what philosophical system does he himself deduce from faithful adherence to those rules? 8
5. Hamilton distinguishes between "three degrees of mental latency." What is "mental latency"? what are the "three degrees" of it? On what grounds does Hamilton think it necessary to admit the theory of latency? Is it possible to explain those grounds differently? and how? 5
6. Explain fully Hamilton's theory of "Association." 5
7. Write down the terms of Hamilton's "Law of the Conditioned," and explain them. Show how he applies that Law to explain the origin of the "judgment of Causality." 8

8. "Pleasure is the negation of pain"; "pleasure is the concomitant of perfect energy." Explain these two generalisations of the law of feeling. Who are the authors of them? and on what grounds do they base them? In what respects are they imperfect? and how does Hamilton attempt to modify and reconcile them? 4

INDUCTIVE LOGIC AND MORAL SCIENCE.

Examiner—MR. A. THOMSON.

N. B.—The figures in the margin indicate full marks.

Inductive Logic.

1. Point out the circumstances that enable us now to treat certain sciences deductively. What sciences must we continue to treat inductively? and why? 5
2. What is meant by the term "Law of Universal Causation"? On what different grounds has this law been based? Distinguish predisposing cause from exciting cause. 4
3. If two events are always simultaneous, how may we determine their relation as cause and effect? If they are always successive in a fixed order, what may we infer? 5
4. "We can take a cause and try what it will produce; but we cannot take an effect, and try what it will be produced by." Explain and illustrate this statement.
5. When does an argument from Analogy become altogether inadmissible? Show that additional resemblances may sometimes weaken rather than strengthen an argument from Analogy. 5
6. How is Classification carried out (a) by Definition, (b) by Types? By what rule do we fix the relative importance of characters for the purpose of classification? 4
7. How far is a Hypothesis proved to be true by its enabling us to predict the future? 4
8. Point out the characteristic imperfections of the Method of Agreement; and show how they may be so reduced as practically to disappear. 5
9. What is meant by the Method of Residues? How was this method applied in discovering the planet Neptune? 5
10. How far are we justified in relying on the Uniformity of Nature? Show that under certain circumstances frequency of occurrence may prove nothing. 4
11. In judging of the value of evidence what help may be derived from the Theory of Probabilities? 5

Fleming's Moral Philosophy.

1. Distinguish Principles of Human Nature that originate action from Principles which guide action. Give the chief subdivisions of each class. 5
2. Mention and criticise the arguments that have been used to prove that Instinct and Reason are different in kind and not merely in degree. 5

3. "That we are affected by the Good and Evil which comes upon others, as well as by that which comes upon ourselves, is a fact that cannot be denied." How has this fact been explained by philosophers of different schools? 5
4. How does Hume endeavour to prove that the distinction between Right and Wrong is innate? 5
5. What are the chief objections to referring the moral Faculty exclusively (a) to the Emotions, (b) to the Intellect? 5
6. When this rule is laid down, viz. "Whatever is expedient is right," how is the term "expedient" to be explained? 5
7. How far can the evidence of consciousness be considered a proof that we are Free Agents? 5
8. Compare the relation of Motive and Action in mind with the relation of Cause and Effect in physical nature. 5
9. Give an outline of what is called the Argument from Conscience for the being of God. 5
10. What is meant by the doctrine of (a) a General Providence, (b) a Particular Providence? Do you consider the first of these doctrines tenable? Give reasons for the view you hold. 5

Butler.

1. Define "Probable Evidence." Under what circumstances may even a low degree of presumption be sufficient to determine our conduct? 5
2. Point out the chief supposed imperfection of Nature from which either the Power or the Goodness of the Creator has been called in question. How does Butler meet such objections? 5
3. Show how character results from the habits we form; and thence prove that habits of virtue, when improved by discipline, necessarily tend to produce a firmer state of virtue. 5
4. "Our happiness and misery are trusted to our own conduct, and made to depend upon it." Examine this proposition; and show that our experience in the present life makes the truth of it probable in regard to our condition in a future life. 5
5. "Moral obligations would remain certain, though it were not certain what would, upon the whole, be the consequences of violating them." Prove this proposition. 5
6. "Virtue, as such, is often rewarded; and vice, as such, punished; and this rule is never inverted." Show that any exceptions to this rule are apparent only, not real; and hence that the natural government, under which we live, is moral. 5
7. Mention the principal circumstances by which we judge of the ill-desert of any agent or act. Why do we condemn imprudence less severely than we condemn falsehood or cruelty? 5
8. How does Butler classify the principles of action in human nature? To what systems is his classification opposed? 5
9. Show that a man may act according to that principle or inclination which for the present happens to be strongest, and yet violate his real proper nature. 5
10. Show that intelligent self-love does in general coincide with virtue, and that it leads to the same course of life. 5

HEAT AND LIGHT.

Examiner—MR. S. A. HILL, B. SC.N. B.—The figures in the margin indicate full marks.

1. Distinguish between the measures of heat and of temperature. Describe the construction of a common thermometer; and explain why certain substances are to be preferred to others for filling thermometers. 6
2. Assuming that saturated steam obeys the laws of gases, find its specific volume at 100° C., given the weight of a litre of hydrogen at standard temperature and pressure = .0896 gram., and the density of steam compared to hydrogen = 9. 10
3. Describe briefly the construction of Bunsen's calorimeter, and the method of using it. 7
4. Explain how convection currents are set up in the atmosphere; and explain in this way the Indian Monsoons. 8
5. How does the proportion of the incident radiation which is absorbed by a substance vary with the thickness of the absorbent. 6
6. State Newton's law of cooling, and give its limitations. Show that, if this law be true, the indications of a differential thermometer are proportional to the quantities of heat absorbed by the blackened bulb. 7
7. Describe some method of determining the velocity of light. 8
8. Give diagrams showing how eclipses of the sun and moon are produced; and distinguish between full shadow and penumbra. 3
9. Describe the phenomenon and state the laws of simple refraction. Show how it is explained by each of the two theories of light, and how this leads to a method of testing which of the two theories is most likely to be true. 7
10. In a thick plate of glass there is a small speck, which, looked at directly, appears to be 1.5 inches below the surface. What is its real depth, if the refractive index of the glass be $\frac{3}{2}$? 8
11. When does light undergo double refraction? Does it acquire any other peculiar properties at the same time? 5

SOUND, ELECTRICITY, AND MAGNETISM.

Examiner—MR. S. A. HILL, B. SC.N. B.—The figures in the margin indicate full marks.

1. What is meant by wave motion? Describe the nature of the vibrations which take place in ordinary water waves, in sound, and in light waves. 5
2. How many transverse vibrations per second will be given by a flexible string 3 feet long and weighing 10 grains to the foot, when it is stretched with a weight of 10 lbs.? ($g = 32$ ft.) 10
3. What is meant by free magnetism? Explain why there is no free magnetism at the middle of a bar magnet, but some on the sides near the ends, and still more on the ends of the bar. 7

4. What are the poles of a magnet? If a uniform steel ring be magnetised by means of an electric current passed through its centre and perpendicular to its plane, where will its poles be? 8
5. Explain the use of the points or combs attached to the prime conductor of a common electric machine. 5
6. Describe some simple electric machine which works on the inductive principle; and explain clearly what takes place when induction is said to occur. 10
7. Define electric capacity; and show how to find the capacity of a Leyden jar. 7
8. Describe the chemical and electrical actions that occur in a common single-fluid battery when the circuit is closed. For what purposes are such batteries used? 6
9. Explain how, by the aid of an infinitesimal trace of magnetism, indefinitely large quantities of electric energy may be obtained from mechanical energy. 9
10. Describe some form of telephone, and explain its action. 8

BOTANY.

Examiner—MR. L. BRACE.

N. B.—The figures in the margin indicate full marks.

1. Describe the plants A, B, and C botanically, and refer them to their places in the natural and artificial systems. 10
2. Define the following terms, giving illustrations of their application :— 4
 - a. Decussate.
 - b. Chorisis.
 - c. Protogynous.
 - d. Distichous.
3. (a.) Enumerate some of the parts of plants in which motion is observed. 10
(b.) Describe the motion.
4. Give diagnoses of the following natural orders, mentioning an Indian example of each :— 5

Tamaricaceæ.	Loranthaceæ.
Leguminosæ.	Smilacææ.
Compositæ.
5. Describe the aspect of vegetation during the Carboniferous period, enumerating the chief genera of plants and their present nearest representatives. 10
6. What is protoplasm? State the office it performs in the vegetable economy, and the changes it undergoes. 10
7. Give examples of a Dicotyledonous, Monocotyledonous, and Cryptogamous epiphyte. 3
8. If the food of plants is liquid, how do you account for the occurrence of solids in their tissues. Give instances. 5
9. Distinguish between orthotropous, anatropous, amphitropous, and campylotropous ovules. 4
10. Enumerate the most important contents of cells. 10

11. Give an explanation of the expansion and contraction of wood and cordage. 4

BOTANY.

Examiner—MR. L. BRACE.

N. B.—The figures in the margin indicate full marks.

1. Name the order of which the following is the character, giving a Bengal example referable to it. 5

Herbs, shrubs, or trees mostly with opposite and entire leaves, tumid jointed stems, flowers surrounded by an involucre with a delicate tubular or funnel-shaped petaloid perianth; upper part deciduous, lower part persistent, constricted above the 1-celled, 1-seeded ovary, and indurated to form the pericarp (diclesium); stamens 1 or several, slender, hypogynous, the embryo coiled round the outside of the mealy albumen, with broad foliaceous cotyledons and an inferior radicle.

2. Describe the various forms of æstivation, illustrating each by a diagram. 5

3. Distinguish between arillus and arillode. 2

4. Define the term vitellus, and give an instance of its occurrence. 6

5. Give an outline of the composition of the various systems or combinations of Tissues met with in the Phanerogamia. 15

6. (a.) Give the botanical names of the plants producing the following fruits. (b.) Technically define them. (c.) State whether indigenous or introduced. 6

Mango.

Plantain.

Orange.

Tamarind.

Guava.

Papaya.

7. Enumerate the causes that contribute to facilitate the ascent of sap. 15

8. Describe the reproduction of Ferns. 15

9. Describe the ovary in Convolvulacæ and Boraginacæ. 6

ZOOLOGY AND PHYSIOLOGY.

Examiner—DR. J. SCULLY.

1. Give a definition of morphology, and enumerate the various branches into which that science is usually divided.

2. What is lymph? where is it found? and from what sources is it derived?

3. Give a concise account of the anatomy of a cuttle-fish.

4. Describe the minute structure of the human kidney.

5. Explain the terms—zoological province, imago, atoll, odontophore.

6. What is the object of respiration, and how can the essential step in the respiratory process be demonstrated?

7. Mention the important characters which distinguish vertebrates from invertebrates; and enumerate the classes of vertebrate animals.

8. Trace the complete circulation of the blood in a mammal, commencing with the portion of blood contained at any moment in the left ventricle.

9. Describe the structure of an Ascidian ; and give a diagram of such an animal in illustration of your account.

ZOOLOGY AND PHYSIOLOGY.

Examiner—DR. J. SCULLY.

1. Describe the external anatomy of a typical example of the class Insecta ; and illustrate your answer by a diagram of the essential parts you enumerate.

2. Give a brief account of the most important constituents of the blood of a mammal.

3. What are the uses of the saliva, gastric juice, bile and pancreatic juice in digestion.

4. Refer to their respective sub-kingdoms, classes and orders the following animals :—Sponge, Red-coral, Tapeworm, Earthworm, Crab, Eel, Frog and Bat.

5. What are the functions of the first, second, third and eighth pair of cranial nerves.

6. Describe the structure of a scorpion ; and express fully its zoological position.

7. Describe the organ of the sense of taste in man.

8. Enumerate the animal sub-kingdoms, and give a concise definition of Molluscoida,

9. Give an account of the structure and habits of Paramœcium.

GEOLOGY.

Examiner—MR. F. R. MALLET.

1. Mention the classes into which rocks have been divided, with reference to their mode of origin, giving some examples of each class.

2. Draw an ideal geological section illustrating what is meant by (1) vertical and (2) horizontal strata, (3) anticlinal and (4) synclinal curves, (5) inverted strata, (6) unconformability, and (7) faults. (In the section mark each feature with the figure used in the question). Introduce into the section two trap dykes, one of which shows evidence of being more recent than the other.

3. What is meant by sub-aërial denudation, and how have attempts been made to estimate its average amount.

4. What are the principal tests as to the relative ages of stratified deposits : mention some of the precautions which must be kept in mind when applying them.

5. Mention some of the more remarkable mammals that lived in Europe during post-pliocene times, and reptiles of which remains are found in the Lias formation of Europe, giving some slight description of them.

6. How do you explain the formation of coal, and the conversion of ordinary coal into anthracite. What mode of origin is assigned to clay-ironstone.

7. Give some general idea of the phenomena usually attending a volcanic eruption. Are any rocks, except volcanic ones, ever ejected from volcanoes ? If so, explain the reason.

8. What is 'cleavage', and what is your opinion as to its cause. How is cleavage sometimes easily distinguished from bedding.

9. Name the eight rock specimens given (to each of which a number is attached).

MINEROLOGY.

Examiner—MR. F. R. MALLET.

1. What are the six systems of crystallization? Describe the relations of the axis to each other in each system.

2. How can a rhombohedron be derived from a double six-sided pyramid, and a scalenohedron from a rhombohedron.

3. What is meant by refraction and double refraction? How do minerals behave with reference to each phenomenon according to the system in which they crystallize.

4. Describe the different methods by which the specific gravity of minerals may be taken with which you are acquainted.

5. Explain what is meant by isomorphism, giving some examples.

6. What are the chief differences by which you could distinguish between native gold, copper pyrites and iron pyrites.

7. What is the chemical composition and system of crystallization of apatite, blende, cassiterite, cuprite, dolomite, galena, gypsum, mispickel, olivine, orthoclase, quartz and rock salt? Which amongst the above named occur as rocks as well as minerals?

8. What are the chief differences by which you could distinguish between, true topaz; 2, oriental topaz (yellow sapphire); 3, false topaz (yellow quartz)?

9. Name the ten minerals given (to each of which a number is attached).

ALGEBRA AND TRIGONOMETRY,

Examiner—MR. J. A. MARTIN.

N. B.—The figures in the margin indicate full marks.

1. If $f(x)$ be any rational integral function of x , and if $f(a) = 0$, prove that $(x - a)$ is a factor of $f(x)$. 2

Apply this theorem to prove

$$(a + b + c)^3 - 3a(b - c)^2 - 3b(c - a)^2 - 3c(a - b)^2 - a^3 - b^3 - c^3 = 24abc. \quad 3$$

2. If a number be expressed in a scale of which the radix is r , the number is a multiple of $(r - 1)$ if the sum of its digits is a multiple of $(r - 1)$. 2

Transform 7634592t from the undenary to the septenary scale: and extract, in the scale of which the radix is 6, the square root of 300213 which is written in that scale. 2

3. Prove that

$$1^3 + 2^3 + 3^3 + \dots + n^3 = \left\{ \frac{n(n+1)}{2} \right\}^2. \quad 2$$

Shew that every cube is equal to the difference of two squares such that if the cube is divisible by a^3 each of the squares is divisible by a^{20} if a be odd. 2

4. What do you mean by Mathematical Induction? 1

Apply the method to prove that the product of any r consecutive integers is a multiple of $\frac{r}{2}$. 3

5. Is the series 3

$$1 + \frac{1}{2^n} + \frac{2}{3^n} + \frac{3}{4^n} + \dots$$

convergent or divergent? Distinguish the various cases. 2

Find the sum to infinity of the series

$$1 + \frac{2^2}{1} + \frac{3^2}{1.2} + \frac{4^2}{1.2.3} + \dots$$

6. If there be n positive quantities a, b, c, \dots, k , which are not all equal, prove 3

$$\frac{a^m + b^m + c + \dots + k^m}{n} > \left\{ \frac{a + b + c + \dots + k}{n} \right\}^m$$ if m be negative, or positive and > 1 .

Prove

$$(a + b + c + \dots + k) \left(\frac{1}{a} + \frac{1}{b} + \frac{1}{c} + \dots + \frac{1}{k} \right) > n.$$

7. Expand ex in a series of ascending powers of x . 3

N. B.—If it be assumed that $ax = 1 + c_1 x + c_2 x^2 + \dots$, it must be shewn that this series is convergent.

8. Prove that in any triangle— 2

$$(i) \quad \cot A - \cot B = \frac{b^2 - a^2}{ab \sin C}.$$

$$(ii.) \quad \tan^2 \frac{A}{2} + \tan^2 \frac{B}{2} + \tan^2 \frac{C}{2} \quad 3$$

9. If R be the radius of the circumscribing circle, r the radius of the inscribed circle, and r_1, r_2, r_3 the radii of the escribed circles of a triangle, prove the following relations:— 5

$$2R = \frac{a}{\sin A} = \frac{b}{\sin B} = \frac{c}{\sin C}.$$

$$r_1 + r_2 + r_3 - r = 4R.$$

$$\frac{1}{r_1} + \frac{1}{r_2} + \frac{1}{r_3} = \frac{1}{r}.$$

10. If $\tan^{-1} x + \frac{1}{2} \sec^{-1} 5x = \frac{\pi}{4}$, shew that $x = \frac{1}{3}$. 2

If $\sin a + \sin b + \sin c = \cos a + \cos b + \cos c = 0$, then will

$$\sin^2 a + \sin^2 b + \sin^2 c = \cos^2 a + \cos^2 b + \cos^2 c = \frac{3}{2}.$$

11. Expand $\cos n\theta$ in cosines of multiples of θ where n is any positive integer 3

Expand $\sin^5 \theta \cos^3 \theta$ in a series of sines of multiples of θ . 3

ANALYTICAL CONIC SECTIONS.

Examiner—MR. A. M. NASH.

N. B.—The figures in the margin indicate full marks.

1. Prove that the equation $lx + my + n = 0$ represents a straight line. 2

2. Find the length of the perpendicular from the point (x', y') upon the straight line $lx + my + n = 0$. 2

3. Determine the area of a triangle, the co-ordinates of whose vertices are given 3

Deduce the equation of the line joining two given points.

4. Prove that the straight line which bisects a chord of a circle, and passes through the centre, is at right angles to the chord. 3

5. Determine the condition that the straight line $lx + my + n = 0$ may touch the circle $(x - a)^2 + (y - b)^2 = c^2$, and show that this condition is equivalent to the theorem "The perpendicular from the centre of a circle upon any tangent is equal to the radius." 5

6. Define the eccentric angle at any point of an ellipse, and obtain the equations of the tangent and normal in terms of it. 5

7. Determine the locus of the middle points of a system of parallel chords of a conic. 6

CP, CD are two conjugate diameters of a conic, S is a focus, and SK is perpendicular to CP; find the locus of the point of intersection of SK and CD.

8. Obtain the polar equation of the tangent at any point of a conic, the focus being the pole. 5

9. From the definition of an asymptote deduce the equation of an hyperbola referred to its asymptotes as axes. 7

The part of any tangent to an hyperbola intercepted between the asymptotes is bisected by the point of contact

10. Write down the equation of a rectangular hyperbola having the origin for focus and the line $lx + my + n = 0$ for directrix. 5

11. How many parabolas can be drawn through four given points? 7

If the points are $(4, 0)$, $(-1, 0)$, $(0, 1)$, $(0, -1)$, find the equations of the parabolas.

H. L. Examination.

1883.

JURISPRUDENCE.

Examiner—MR. G. S. HENDERSON.

1. What do you understand by legal obligation? Distinguish between (1) absolute (2) relative (3) primary and (4) secondary obligations.

2. If a man's property be wilfully injured what is the nature (1) of the obligation on the part of the person causing the injury to suffer punishment for mischief or trespass and (2) of the obligation to make compensation to the party injured.

3. What is meant by a juristical person? In what respects does a corporation differ from a partnership?

4. Give examples (1) of absolute and (2) of conditional ownership. Distinguish between co-ownership and the ownership of juristical persons.

5. When and in what way was the use and enjoyment of their own laws and usages first secured to Hindus of the Bengal Presidency? In what enactments are the limits of such use and enjoyment and the measures taken to secure the same in the three Presidencies to be found?

6. State generally the nature of the interest which a Hindu widow possesses in her husband's property. In what respect is her proprietary right of inheritance limited?

7. State the legislative powers of the Governor General in Council. In respect of bills, for what purposes is it necessary for the legislative Councils of the two Subordinate Presidencies to obtain the previous sanction of the Governor General?

8. In whom is the power to suspend or remove judicial officers subordinate to the High Court vested? What are the powers of the High Court over such officers?

9. When is parol evidence of a testator's intention admissible? When does a misnomer or misdescription of a legatee not prevent the legacy from taking effect?

10. Distinguish between a specific legacy and a demonstrative legacy. To what property is a residuary legatee entitled?

11. A testator bequeaths the residue of his estate to A, B and C to be equally divided between them. A dies before the testator. What becomes of A's one-third?

12. Explain (1) election and (2) ademption. What is the effect of a subsequent gift by way of settlement or otherwise to a legatee?

13. What is meant by the Prerogative of the Crown of England? By what is it limited?

LAND TENURES, &c.

Examiner—BABU BHAIKABCHANDRA BANURJEA.

[Note.—The questions in this paper have been divided into five groups, each group consisting of three questions, out of which two only should be answered. The figures in the margin indicate full marks.]

GROUP A.

1. (a). Explain the object of the Permanent Settlement: In what manner was that Settlement effected: To what places did it extend ? 6 and

What rights and privileges did it secure to the proprietors and the Government respectively ?

(b). The Permanent Settlement is popularly called the “decennial settlement.” Is there any reason for justifying it ? If not, point out the error.

2. (a). Explain clearly the difference between “Zemindars”, “Independent talookdars” and “other actual proprietors of land paying revenue to Government,” mentioned in Regulation I of 1793. 8

(b). Is there anything in that Regulation which justifies the passing of laws restricting the power of the Zemindar to enhance the rent of his ryot ?

3. (a). State fully what rights and privileges were conferred by Regulation VIII of 1793 upon the different descriptions of Talukdars, Mokarrariddars, and Istimrardars. Did that Regulation prescribe any limitation or obligation under which those rights were to be exercised ? 8

(b). In cases of lands which were mortgaged, with whom was the settlement to be made under that Regulation ?

GROUP B.

4. Enumerate the different tenures and sub-tenures which may be created under (1) a Zemindar, (2) a lakhirajdar, and (3) a howladar respectively. 7

5. (a). With what object was Regulation VIII of 1819 enacted ? Describe the nature of, and incidents to, the tenure or tenures to which it applies. 14

(b). Describe the procedure to be adopted for realizing the arrears of rent of such tenure or tenures by the sale thereof.

(c). How may the defaulter, and how, and under what circumstances, may a person other than the defaulter, prevent the sale of such tenure or tenures ? And what advantages may such other person get by preventing the sale from taking place ?

6. (a). Is there any restriction either in Regulation VIII of 1819 or in Act XI of 1859 in respect of the person who may bid at a sale held under it ? 7

(b). If the defaulter himself purchases the property sold under either of those laws, what rights does he acquire and what liabilities (if any) does he incur ?

GROUP C.

7. (a). Why is Act XI of 1859 popularly called "the sunset law" ? 8

(b.) State the ground or grounds upon which a sale for arrears of revenue under Act XI of 1859 may be annulled by a Court of Justice: Is such ground or are such grounds, as the case may be, absolute or subject to any limitations or restrictions ?

(c) Within what time should a decree annulling such a sale, be executed ? And what remedy or remedies has the purchaser in the event of a sale being annulled ?

8. Does Act XI of 1859 make any difference between the rights of purchasers under it (i) Of an entire estate sold for its own arrears, (ii) Of a fractional share of an estate sold for its own arrears, (iii) Of an entire estate sold for arrears of revenue due on account of another entire estate ? State clearly the rights (with their exceptions and limitations) which a purchaser acquires in each case. 12

9. By what processes may an arrear of revenue be recovered under Act XIX of 1873 ? 4

GROUP D.

10. (a). State concisely the general rules declared in Section 4 of Regulation XI of 1825 for the determination of claims and disputes relative to lands gained by alluvion or by dereliction either of a river or the sea. 10

(b). When are those rules to be applied ?

11. (a). Into how many classes would you divide ryots according to the rights conferred on them by Bengal Act VIII of 1869 ? Does that Act make any distinction between khodkast and paikast ryots ? 11

(b). What rights has A, a ryot, acquired in each of the following cases :—

(i). A's father, who had purchased the land from B after he had cultivated it for 3 years, died after cultivating it himself for 7 years ; and A after inheriting it from his father has cultivated it for 3 years.

(ii). A purchased the land from B (who had held it for 21 years on payment of an annual rent of Rs. 2) three years ago, but he has not paid any rent for it since his purchase.

(iii) A, having inherited the land from his father who had cultivated it for 6 years, has held it for 7 years by sub-letting it to a korfá ryot and receiving from him an annual rent of Rs. 5.

Give your reasons for your answer.

12. (a). Specify the grounds upon which the rent of a ryot having a right of occupancy may be enhanced ; and say whether all or any of them apply to bástoo lands. 12

(b). What is the procedure to be followed for obtaining an enhancement of rent ?

GROUP E.

13. (a). What are the different kinds of mortgages in common use in the Bengal Presidency? Define the nature of, and the rights secured by each. 13

(b). Explain what you understand by the foreclosure of a mortgage: What mortgages may be foreclosed, and by what process?

(c). What are the respective periods of limitation for a suit instituted by a mortgagee (i) for foreclosure, (ii) for recovery from the mortgagor the possession of immoveable property mortgaged, (iii) for the recovery of the money secured by the mortgage?

From what time does the period begin to run in each case? If the fact of the suit being instituted in a particular Court affect the period of limitation or the time from which it begins to run, point it out.

14 (a). What is redemption, in whom is the right of redemption vested, and how may such right be enforced? 10

(b). A mortgages his zemindari to B, and then executes a second mortgage of the same zemindari and the first mortgage of a house in favour of C. After that, A and B, without any notice to C, jointly execute a deed in favour of D (who was not aware of the second mortgage to C), the one selling his equity of redemption and the other assigning over to D his rights and interests as the first mortgagee of the zemindari. What rights has D acquired by his purchase, and what remedies has C either against him or A? Give your reasons for your answer.

15. (a). Mention the documents the registration of which is optional; and show the advantage of having registered (i) a conveyance of land the registration of which is optional, (ii) a contract in writing the breach of which gives a right to sue for compensation, (iii) a certified copy of a decree or order. 17

(b). What is a legal disability under the Indian Limitation Act; how does it affect the period of limitation prescribed for any suit; and how does it operate when once time has begun to run?

(c). Explain the effect of fraud, and state clearly the effect of acknowledgment in writing as affecting the period of limitation prescribed for instituting a suit.

HINDU AND MAHOMEDAN LAW.

Examiner—BABU BHAIKABCHANDRA BANURJEA.

N. B.—Out of the thirteen questions given below, eleven only are to be answered. Answer any eleven you like.

1. What are the different schools of Hindu Law prevalent in India? In what places do they respectively prevail? What are the books of authority recognized by each school; and which of them is the earliest, and which the latest?

2 (a). State some of the principal points of resemblance and difference between them, as regards partition, succession, and right of alienation.

(b). What is succession by survivorship? By which of the schools is the doctrine of succession by survivorship still recognized, and to what extent?

3. Who are the Sapindas, Sagotras and Bandhus? When, upon what principles recognized by Hindu Law for regulating succession and inheritance, and in what order do they come in as heirs of a deceased Hindu according to the different schools?

4. In what cases and to what extent is the rule of primogeniture observed by the Hindus? Upon what is the rule based?

5. Does the Hindu Law recognize any title by escheat? If so, when does it come into operation (i) in the case of the property of a deceased Brahmin, and (ii) in any other case? How far have the doctrines of Hindu Law on this point been recognized by the Privy Council?

6. What constitutes Stridhun? What powers has a woman upon her Stridhun, and how is the succession to it regulated according to the different schools of Hindu Law?

7. What is the difference between taking per stirpes and taking per capita; and who amongst the persons named below (in case they be heirs at all) take per stirpes and who per capita, 1st, in the case of the property of a deceased male, and 2ndly, in the case of a deceased woman leaving Stridhun:—(i) sons' sons, (ii) daughters' sons, (iii) brothers' sons, and maternal uncles' sons?

8. Who will succeed A or inherit his property in each of the following cases according to the Mahomedan Law, and the different schools of Hindu Law respectively? If more than one person inherit, state the share of each.

(a). A dies leaving his father and mother, 3 sons, 3 grandsons by a son who died during his lifetime, 2 other grandsons by another son who also died during his lifetime, a widow, 2 daughters, 2 grandsons by a daughter pre-deceased, and 2 brothers who were living with him joint in food and estate.

(c). In the same case supposing A to have left no sons, nor grandsons by sons who died before him.

(d). In the same case supposing A to have left no sons, nor grandsons (as above), nor a widow.

(e). A dies leaving a half-brother who was living with him joint in food and estate, and another half-brother and a brother living separate and having no joint property with him.

9. What are the grounds of exclusion from inheritance under the Hindu and the Mahomedan Law respectively? And how far has the Hindu Law on the subject been modified by the Legislature?

10. (a). Compare the rights of a Hindu widow with those of a Mahomedan as regards inheritance, re-marriage, dower, and power of alienation.

(b). What is the position of the daughter (maiden, married, widowed) according to the different schools of Hindu Law, and the Mahomedan Law respectively?

11. (a). Who are the Sharers and who the Residuaries according to Mahomedan Law? Mention the circumstances under which the respective shares of the mother, the father, the widow, the husband and the daughter, may vary.

(b). Who should in all cases get shares; and in what instances do certain Sharers become Residuaries?

(c). Enumerate the different classes of Distant Kindred.

12. How is Marriage defined by Mahomedan Law, what are its essentials, conditions, and effect; with whom may it be contracted, and with whom is it unlawful for a man to contract a marriage?

13. Define Shoofaa. With respect to what property does it take effect; and how, when, and by whom may it be claimed?

THE LAW OF CONTRACTS AND TORTS.

Examiner—MR. G. S HENDERSON.

1. Define "Sale" and state in what ways it may be effected.

A agrees to sell to B 20 tons of oil in A's cisterns. A's cisterns contain more than 20 tons of oil. Has any portion of the oil become the property of B? Give reasons for your answer.

2. When are goods deemed to be in transit? When and in what way may a seller stop goods in transit?

A sells and consigns goods to B of the value of Rs. 1,200. B assigns the bill of lading for these goods to C to secure a specific advance of Rs. 5,000 made to him upon the bill of lading by C. B becomes insolvent being indebted to C to the amount of Rs. 9,000. Is A entitled under any and what circumstances to stop the goods?

3. A, B and C as sureties for D enter into three several bonds each in a different penalty, namely, A in the penalty of Rs. 10,000, B in that of Rs. 20,000, C in that of Rs. 40,000 conditioned for D's duly accounting to E. D makes default to the extent of Rs. 30,000. What are the respective liabilities of A, B and C?

4. In what ways may an agency be terminated? In what cases is an agent not entitled to revoke his agent's authority?

5. C advances to B, his tenant Rs. 2,000 on the guarantee of A. C has also a further security for the Rs. 2,000 by a mortgage of B's furniture. C cancels the mortgage. B becomes insolvent and C sues A on his guarantee. Has A any defence, and to what extent, to C's claim? If so, on what ground?

6. How is the liability of a surety affected, if at all, by the creditor (1) giving time to the principal debtor (2) forbearing to sue (3) entering into a contract with the principal debtor not to sue and (4) entering into a contract with a third person not to sue. Give reasons for the answers.

7. When and to what extent, if any, may a principal repudiate the act of an agent who has exceeded his authority?

8. A orders of B specific articles of China. B sends these articles to A in a hamper with other articles of China which had not been ordered. Is A entitled to refuse to accept the articles ordered? Give reasons for the answer.

9. To what extent is an agreement in restraint of legal proceedings void? Are there any and what exceptions to the general rule?

10. Define (1) "undue influence" (2) misrepresentation and (3) "consent."

11. A, a tradesman leaves goods at B's house by mistake. B treats the goods as his own. Is B bound to pay for the goods? Give reasons for the answer.

12. Define trespass. Who may maintain an action of trespass? In what cases may a person justify an entry upon another's land?

13. Distinguish between public and private nuisances.

14. When is a master liable for torts committed by his servants? When is a person liable for damage done by his dog?

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE AND EVIDENCE.

Examiner—MR. G. S. HENDERSON.

1. Who may be joined (1) as plaintiffs (2) as defendants in a suit? When may one person sue or defend on behalf of other persons in the same interest? What is the rule as to the effect of misjoinder?

2. When may a sale of land in execution of a decree be set aside?

3. When and how may decrees of Court established in Native States by the authority of the Governor-General in Council be executed in British India?

4. A covenants with B and C to pay an annuity to B during C's life. B and C sue A to compel payment. B dies before the decree. A sues B for libel. A dies. Does the suit in either case abate? Give reasons for the answer.

5. How must suits by a minor be instituted? In what cases must a guardian ad litem be appointed? Who may and who may not be appointed guardian ad litem? What are the duties of such guardian?

6. Where a reference is made in a suit to arbitration to two or more arbitrators, what provision may be made by the Court for a difference of opinion between or among the arbitrators?

7. When may one of several plaintiffs or defendants on appeal obtain a reversal or modification of a decree in favour of all the plaintiffs or defendants?

8. To What restrictions is the rule as to amendment of plaints subject? What is the effect of a plaintiff omitting to sue for or intentionally relinquishing any portion of his claim?

9. Under what circumstances may a Court trying a suit or appeal or executing a decree make a reference to the High Court? At what stage may such reference be made?

10. In a suit relating to any business against a person who does not reside within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court, upon whom may the summons be served?

11. Explain the following terms—

(1) relevant.

(2) evidence.

(3) document.

12. What facts are relevant where the question is as to the existence of any right or custom?

13. What statements are treated as admissions by the Evidence Act? Against whom may admissions be used? When may they be used by or on behalf of the person who made them?

14. In what cases are opinions of third persons relevant? When may evidence be given of the bad character of an accused person?

15. May a witness either in a Civil or Criminal proceeding be excused from answering any question as to any matter relevant to the matters in issue upon the ground that the answer will criminate or tend to criminate him?

CRIMINAL LAW AND CRIMINAL PROCEDURE.

Examiner—BABU BHAIKABCHANDRA BANURJEA.

[Note—Of the nine questions from the Penal Code seven only should be answered, and out of the six questions from the Code of Criminal Procedure four only should be answered. The figures in the margin indicate full marks.]

1. (a). Explain fully what you understand by the following Preamble to the Indian Penal Code:— 6

“Whereas it is expedient to provide a General Penal Code for British India. It is enacted as follows:”—

(b). To what Territories did the Code originally extend, and in what places is it now in force?

2. Define “Public Servant:” What are the privileges and liabilities of a Public Servant under the Indian Penal Code? 9

3. (a). In what cases may transportation be awarded instead of imprisonment? 5

(b). Section 57 says “———transportation for life shall be reckoned as equivalent to transportation for twenty years.” Should a man, transported for life in January 1883, be released in January 1903? If not, explain the use of Section 57.

4. What is the “right of private defence,” how far does it extend, when does it commence, and how long does it continue? 10

5. Define “Culpable homicide” and “Murder,” and distinguish between “Murder” and “Culpable homicide not amounting to murder.” 15

6. Enumerate the “offences against property” punishable under the Indian Penal Code. Wherein do they all resemble each other? Classify them according to the nature of the property (moveable, immoveable or both) to which they apply. Take any three of them and state clearly the points of resemblance and difference between them. 12

7. Mention some offences under the Indian Penal Code where the attempt to commit an offence or the attempt to commit an act constituting the offence is, of itself, the offence attempted to be committed. 5

8. (a). State the points of resemblance and explain the difference between “fabricating false evidence” and “making a false document.” 9

(b). Is there any provision in the Indian Penal Code for the punishment of “making a false document?” If there be none, explain the use of defining it.

(c). Explain the circumstances under which a man’s signature of his own name may amount to forgery.

9. Examine the following cases and say of what offence, if 12 any, A is guilty in each of the first three cases (viz., a, b, and c) and of what offence or offences are A, B, and C respectively guilty in each of the next three cases (viz., d, e, and f). Give reasons for your answer. [Note.—Marks will be given even for an erroneous opinion provided the reasons given in support of it be sound.]

(a.) A, a peon of a Government College, believing in good faith that he has a right to whip any one who comes near the College gates, strikes Z with a whip for doing so.

(b.) A, in a state of intoxication sees Z enter into his house and, fancying that Z came there for the purpose of committing a theft, strikes him a blow with a thick stick which makes him senseless at the time so as to necessitate his removal to the nearest hospital. Twenty-one days after his removal to the hospital Z dies in consequence of bad treatment.

(c.) A, with the intention of causing Z's death, asks Y, a child of five years of age, to put some poison into the food of Z, and gives him the poison for that purpose; Y, in consequence of the request, puts the poison into Z's food, but Z, on account of being called away to some other place, does not take the food and is, therefore, saved from being poisoned.

(d.) A apprehending an attack from B and his party who wanted to set fire to his house, asks C, D and four other persons to come to his help for the protection of his property; they all come armed, C and the four other persons with sticks and clubs, and D (who had some grudge against B) comes armed with a sword; B with E (who was armed with a sword) and two others, who were armed with clubs, attack A and his party. They have a fight in which E kills D, and A, in his attempt to save D, kills E.

(e.) A, knowing that Z executed a bond in his favor on the 1st of January 1878 for money which Z borrowed from him on that day with a promise to repay it within one year, alters the "1st" into "21st" in order to save his just claim from being barred by limitation. He does this on the 6th of January 1882, and as only one of the attesting witnesses to the bond, named C, was living at the time, he, with the intention of proving the bond by two attesting witnesses, induces B to put his name to the bond as a witness, and institutes his suit on the 19th of January 1882. B refuses to give his evidence in the case in support of A's claim. C, having no reason to suspect that the date had been altered or that B's name had been subsequently put in, gives his deposition in Court in A's favor, where, after looking at the bond to refresh his memory, he says, that the bond was executed on the 21st of January 1878 and that B was present at the time of the execution.

(f.) B makes a hole through the wall of A's house for the purpose of committing a theft; C, to whom A owed some money, but who could find no access to him on account of his doors being always locked against his creditors, sees the hole and enters into the house through it, and demands his money of A; A gets annoyed at it, holds C by the neck and turns him out of the house. B who had just introduced his head through the aperture leaves the place for fear of detection.

10. (a). What are Summons cases and what are Warrant cases? And wherein does the procedure to be observed in the trial of one class of cases differ from that of the other? 11

(b). When may the accused be discharged by the Magistrate (i) holding a preliminary inquiry in a case triable by the Court of Session; (ii) trying a Warrant case? What is the effect of the discharge in each case?

(c). In what cases does the discharge, or the dismissal of a complaint, operate as an acquittal of the accused person?

11. Describe a trial before a Court of Session by Jury, explaining clearly the respective duties of the Judge and the Jury. 12

12. Mention the cases in which no appeal is allowed. In what cases is the appeal to be confined to a question of law? 6

13. What are the powers of the High Court as a Court of Revision? 6

14. (a). When, by whom, and in what cases is a charge to be framed? What should it contain; and how far would an error in the charge affect a conviction had upon it? 10

(b). With what offence or offences may A be charged, and how may he be punished, if, while robbing B, he voluntarily causes hurt to C?

15. What are the offences for complaints of which previous sanction should be obtained before they could be entertained; when, by whom, and in what manner should such sanction be given? 9

B. C. E. & L. C. E. Examination.

1882.

ARITHMETIC AND ALGEBRA.

Examiner—MR. W. BOOTH.

1. Divide '006987 by '0009483 to 4 places of decimals. Multiply 34'6897 by 00683.
2. Extract the square root of $1 + (.0343)^2$ to 5 places of decimals.
3. Extract the cube root of 226646274673.

4. Simplify the fraction
$$\left\{ \frac{\frac{11}{99} + \frac{6}{13}}{1 - \frac{11}{99} \times \frac{6}{13}} - \frac{11}{99} \right\}$$

$$1 - \frac{1}{99} \left\{ \frac{\frac{6}{13} + \frac{11}{99}}{1 - \frac{11}{99} \times \frac{6}{13}} \right\}$$

5. Find the roots of the equation $ax^2 + 2bx + c = 0$.
If α and β be its roots then $a\lambda^2 + 2b\lambda + c = a(\lambda - \alpha)(\lambda - \beta)$.
(a). If $4xy = 4ab = (x - a)(y - b)$ find x and y .
6. If $lx + my + nz = 0$, $lx + my + nz = 0$ and $x^3 + y^3 + z^3 = d^3$, find the value of x .
7. Sum the infinite series $1 + 2x + 3x^2 + 4x^3 + &c$.
where $x < 1$.

8. If the daily profit made by a building contractor vary directly as the sq. root of no. of masons he daily employs, the quality of the bricks and the no. of hours of labour remaining constant from day to day but he finds that his profit varies directly as the cube root of the no. of hours of daily labour if the no. of masons and the quality of the bricks remain the same from day to day also he finds that if no. of masons and the no. of hours remain unchanged from day to day then his profit varies inversely as the price paid for the bricks. If on one day his profit be 420 Rupees when he employs 196 masons working $3\frac{3}{4}$ hours each the price of bricks being Rs. 9 per 1000, you are, required to find the price of the bricks used on a second day when his profit is Rs 180, the no. of masons being 81, and the no. of hours being 8.

9. If the cube of the series $1 + x + x^2 + x^3 + &c$ to ∞ be expanded in a series of ascending powers of x , write down the coefficient of x^{11} .

10. Find the value of $1 \cdot 2 + 2 \cdot 3 + 3 \cdot 4 + 4 \cdot 5 + \dots + n(n+1)$.

11. If $P = c^2(ax+b)^2 \left\{ 3a(cx+d) - c(ax+b) \right\}$ and $Q = a^2(cx+d)^2 \left\{ 3c(ax+b) - a(cx+d) \right\}$

find the value of the cube root of $(P-Q)$.

12. If $A = (b-c)(a-d)$ $B = (c-a)(b-d)$ $C = (a-b)(c-d)$ find the simplest value of $A^3 + B^3 + C^3 - 3ABC$.

GEOMETRY AND CONIC SECTIONS.

Examiner—MR. W. BOOTH, B. A.

1. When is a line said to touch a circle? Prove that the perpendicular erected at the extremity of the radius touches the circle.

2. Prove that the angle at the centre is double the angle at the circumference.

3. Draw two tangents to a circle from an external point.

4. What is Euclid's definition of proportion? Define compound ratio.

Prove that equiangular parallelograms are to one another in a ratio which is compounded of the ratios of their sides.

5. If the vertical angle of a triangle be bisected internally, the rectangle under the side is equal to the square of the bisector together with the rectangle under the segments of the base.

(a.) If the base and the vertical angle of a triangle be given, prove that the bisector of the vertical angle always passes through a fixed point.

6. What is a solid angle? Prove that the sum of any two of the three plane angles forming a solid angle is greater than the third.

7. Define a parabola. Prove that the locus of the middle points of a system of parallel chords is a straight line.

8. Prove also for a parabola $QV^2 = 4SP \cdot PV$.

9. Prove that the foot of the perpendicular drawn from either focus to the tangent at any point on an ellipse lies on the auxiliary circle.

10. Prove also for the ellipse $SY \cdot HZ = CB^2$.

11. Given two points on an ellipse and one focus, prove that the locus of the other focus is a hyperbola.

12. Prove that the radius of the circle circumscribing a triangle is $\frac{abc}{4\Delta}$ where a, b, c are the sides and Δ the area. Or, find the locus of a point such that the tangents drawn from it to two circles are equal.

TRIGONOMETRY AND MENSURATION.

Examiner—MR. W. BOOTH, B. A.

1. What is the circular measure of an angle? Show that the circular measure of a small angle is nearly equal to its sine. Hence calculate the sine of $1^{\circ}10'46''$ to three places of decimals.

2. Define the angular unit. Calculate the number of seconds in the angular unit. An angle at the centre is 32 minutes, radius is 91 feet. Calculate the length of the arc.

3. Prove the formula $\sin(A + B) = (\sin A \cos B + \cos A \sin B)$; and hence obtain $\sin(A + B + C)$ in terms of $\sin A$, $\cos A$ &c.

4. Prove the relation $4 \sin 3A = 3 \sin A - \sin 3A$ hence by squaring show that $\sin^6 \theta = A \cos 6\theta + B \cos 4\theta + C \cos 2\theta + D$ where A , B , C , D , are numerical coefficients which you are required to find.

5. Being given $\log_{10} 2 = 70103\frac{1}{2}$ and $\log_{10} 3 = 4771213$ find the values of $\log_{10} (.05)$ $\log_{10} (1.25)$ $\log_{10} (.0036)$ $\log_{10} (.0036)^{\frac{1}{2}}$ (125.)

6. Also assuming these values for $\log_{10} 2$ and $\log_{10} 3$ find the value of $L \tan \frac{1}{2}(A - B)$ in a plane triangle when $a = 350yds$, $b = 370yds$ and $C = 120^{\circ}$.

7. Find the number of square feet of paper necessary to paper the four walls of a room whose length is 13 feet 7 inches, breadth 8 feet 11 inches, and height = 11 feet 5 inches.

8. The height of a right circular cone is 10 feet, radius of base is 6 feet calculate the area of its curved surface in square feet.

9. The chord of an arc of a circle is 100 feet, chord of half arc is 60 feet, find the length of the arc.

Find also the radius of the circle.

10. Write down expressions for the area of a circle, an ellipse, the surface of a sphere, the volume of a sphere, the frustum of a right circular cone. You are invited to prove any or all of them.

STATICS AND DYNAMICS.

Examiner—MR. W. BOOTH, B. A.

1. Define a rigid body. What is meant by the tension of a string. The ends of a string are attached to the extremities of a uniform heavy beam, the string is then placed over a smooth peg, determine the position of equilibrium.

2. Prove that if two forces act on a particle, the sum of their moments is equal to the moment of their resultant about any point in the plane containing the force. Write down an extension of this statement.

3. When three forces maintain a body in equilibrium their lines of action must be in one plane.

4. Determine the centre of gravity of a quadrilateral which has two sides parallel.

5. The altitude of a right cone is h , the diameter of its base is b , a string fastened to its vertex and to a point on the circumference of its circular base is then placed over a smooth peg so that the cone rests with its axis horizontal, shew that the length of string is

$$\sqrt{h^2 + b^2}.$$

6. Explain how the dynamical equation $f = mf$ is obtained. If in this equation the unit of force is a force able just to support a weight of P lbs, the unit of mass weighs Q lbs, the unit of time is t'' seconds the units of length if σ feet, prove that $\frac{Q \sigma}{P t^2} = 32$.

7. Prove that the path of a projectile in vacuo is a parabola. If the velocity at P, Q , be v and v' respectively PT , and QT the tangents at P and Q then $v : v' = PT : QT$.

8. If a weight of N lbs be placed on a plane which is made to ascend vertically with an acceleration f , find the pressure on the plane.

9. Prove that if α and α^1 be the accelerations estimated in any direction of two moving bodies whose masses are m and m^1 respectively then the acceleration of their centre of gravity estimated in the same direction is $\frac{m \alpha + m^1 \alpha^1}{m + m^1}$.

10. Prove the formula for the time of a small oscillation of a simple pendulum or assume the formula and calculate the numerical value of g to two places of decimals assuming 39.1393 inches as the length of a simple pendulum beating seconds.

11. Find the statical measure of a force which in half a mile would stop a railway train of 120 tons weight running at the rate of 25 miles per hour (no friction).

12. A weight W is kept in equilibrium on an inclined plane by a force of P lbs acting parallel to the plane. Determine the co-efficient of friction.

(a). When W is just about to move up.

(b). _____ down.

HYDROSTATICS AND OPTICS.

Examiner—MR. W. BOOTH, B. A.

1. The distances of a focus and its conjugate from a mirror are 40 ft and 12 ft respectively: and they both lie in front of the mirror, find the radius of the mirror. Is the mirror concave or convex?

2. What are the laws of refraction. How would you endeavour to experimentally verify them?

3. Prove that the deviation of a ray incident nearly perpendicularly upon a prism of small angle is equal to $(\mu - 1)$ multiplied by the angle of the prism.

4. Explain the principle of Hadley's sextant.

5. Define the measure of fluid pressure at a point in any fluid. The plane of a rectangle in contact with fluid is vertical, two of its sides are horizontal, and it is known that at all points of the same horizontal line the pressure is the same. The pressure on the rectangle for all values of δ is $a\delta^3 + 3b\delta^2 + 3c\delta$. Find the measure of pressure at any depth h .

6 Explain the meaning of $W = g\rho V$. If in this equation unit of length is l feet unit of time is t seconds—standard substance 6 times as dense as water unit of weight P lbs, prove that

$$\frac{Pt^2}{l^3\sigma} = \frac{1000}{16 \times 32}.$$

7. Define the whole pressure of a fluid on a surface. When is it the same as the resultant pressure? How is the whole pressure connected with the area of the surface and the depth of the C. G. of the area? Prove the theorem.

8. Define centre of pressure. Find its position on a triangular area with its base in the surface. Hence show that its depth for a triangular plate whose vertex is in the free surface and whose base is not horizontal is $\frac{1}{2} \frac{\delta_1^2 + \delta_1\delta_2 + \delta_2^2}{\delta_1 + \delta_2}$, where δ_1 and δ_2 are the depths of the extremities of the base.

9. Explain fully the principle of the syphon and of an ordinary diving bell. Give mathematical expressions.

10. Explain the principle of an hydrometer and of a common air pump. Give mathematical expressions.

GEODESY.

Examiner—MR. D. B. HORN, C. E.

1. The scale of a plan is $\frac{1}{25000}$. How many inches to a mile does that correspond? Make a $\frac{1}{25000}$ scale showing yards.

2. One arc being graduated to half degrees, how do you make a vernier to read minutes? Prove your answer.

3. A piece of ground in the form of trapezium has to be surveyed with the chain only: no diagonal can be measured. How would you survey it, so as to be able to lay down on paper.

4 Explain the term "bearing." And show how a station may be found by observation to two points already known? Show also how an angle may be measured with the prismatic compass. Give an example.

5. In taking vertical angles with a theodolite of which the collimation error in altitude is wrong, how would you manage to obtain correct angles without adjusting the line of collimation?

6. Describe concisely the "back angle" method of traversing roads with the theodolite and explain the principle by a diagram.

7. Describe the difference existing in the Y Dumpy levels, and state the relative advantages of each instrument respectively.

8. A level whose axis is 4.20 feet above the ground reads a staff distant 900 feet at 11.39. What is the true difference of level?

9. What is meant by the terms "true" and "apparent" level? What is refraction, what is its effect? Show by a diagram how it modifies curvature.

10. In the plains of India, a portion (50 miles long by 15 wide) of moderately high land between 2 rivers is to be irrigated by means of a canal to be supplied from one of the rivers: what survey operations would you undertake to contour the country to be irrigated?

CARPENTRY AND MECHANISM.

Examiner—MR. D. B. HORN, C. E.

1. How are ties and struts generally lengthened? Illustrate your description by sketches.

2. When is a mortise and tenon joint used? Sketch neatly and to scale the junction of a cross with a main beam by means of a shouldered tenon.

3. Sketch one or two of the best methods of making the joint formed by the meeting of a principal rafter and tie beam.

Give the formula for calculating the length of the portion of the beam left projecting beyond the joint.

4. Show how you would join two pieces of timber to form a tie beam for a king post truss of 20 feet span showing the position of the joint and your reasons for so placing it.

5. In order to connect two shafts by a belt and pulleys, so that their velocity ratio might be 3, what must be the relation between the size of the pulleys?

6. State what is meant by guide pulleys, speed cones, tightening pulleys and gearing chains.

7. What is the use of cams? Describe and sketch several examples.

8. Sketch a Watt Parallel motion. And give a construction for determining the length of the radius bar when the beam and link are given.

HYDRAULICS.

Examiner—D. B. HORN, C. E.

1. What is the weight of a cubic foot of water? If a 6" pipe 60 feet long has a flat bottom square across what will be the pressure on this (1) if the pipe is vertical (2) if inclined at 30° to the horizon.

2. Explain what is meant by the term "head" in hydraulics? The vacuum in the condenser of a marine engine is 26½ inches of mercury, and the injection orifices are 6 feet below the sea level; with what velocity will the injection water enter the condenser neglecting resistances.

3. If h_1 and h_2 represent the depths below the surface of the top and bottom of a rectangular orifice breadth b feet in the vertical side of a vessel containing water, prove that the discharge, without taking friction or contraction into account, is given by

$$Q = \frac{2}{3} \sqrt{2g} b \left\{ h_1^{\frac{1}{2}} - h_2^{\frac{1}{2}} \right\}.$$

4. Find the corresponding value of Q for a triangular notch of depth h and breadth b .

5. In a channel whose section is a trapezium of 60 sq. feet in area, and depth of water 3 feet, the fall being 1 in 1320, and ratio of side slopes 2 to 1. Calculate the wetted perimeter, hydraulic mean depth, and discharge in cubic feet per second.

6. Deduce an equation for calculating the discharge through cylindrical pipes of uniform section.

7. A vertical sided reservoir is 1000 square yards in area, and discharges through a sluice at the bottom of the reservoir, having an area of 4 sq. feet. Depth of water when sluice is opened 16 feet. Find time required to discharge half the water in the reservoir co-efficient of discharge 0.7.

8. Enumerate all the losses of head which take place when water flows through a pipe containing sudden enlargement followed by a contraction to the original diameter, the length of each portion of the pipe being supposed to be many times its diameter. Give formulæ for determining approximately the amount of each loss.

STRENGTH OF MATERIALS.

Examiner—MR. D. B. HORN, C. E.

1. Describe those properties of materials which are recognized in the theory of structures. Also state shortly the several functions which these properties perform, pointing out in particular those which constitute strength to resist "shock," and those which constitute strength to resist a "dead load."

2. Deduce an equation for calculating the bending moment on any section of the span of a beam uniformly loaded. A girder 60 feet span supported at each end, and carrying a uniformly distributed load of one ton per foot run. Calculate the bending moment at 15 feet from centre of span.

3. Explain the meaning of the term "factor of safety." Give the factors of safety generally used in iron, wood and brick structures both for moving and dead loads.

4. Explain the nature of the stress in the web of a flanged girder. If a beam 20 feet long and 12" square is supported at its ends and loaded with a weight of 2 tons in its middle: what will be the greatest intensity of shear stress on a perpendicular or horizontal section at any point within the beam?

5. Determine the conditions of stability for a reservoir wall of triangular section having its inner face vertical.

6. Calculate per foot of width the horizontal thrust of a segmental arch 80 feet span and 20 feet rise, the depth at key being 2 feet, and the weight of brickwork 120 lbs. per cubic foot.

7. Two plates of wrought iron 16 inches wide by $\frac{1}{2}$ inch thick have to be joined together at their ends so as to transmit a tensile stress. Design a butt joint with double covers which shall have the minimum loss of section from rivet holes.

8. Give any formula that you are acquainted with for calculating the intensity of stress that would cause the top boom of a girder bridge to buckle. If there were any tendency to buckle how would you prevent it?

ROADS AND RAILROADS.

Examiner—MR. C. W. ODLING, C. E.

1. Write a specification for a first class metalled road, the materials procurable for metalling being brick and kunker. Give a sketch of the roller to be used noting its weight per foot of bearing surface.

2. Give a figured sketch design for a culvert, span 4 feet, required in the road you have specified. The soil may be taken as stiff clay and the road as in 3 feet embankment at the place where the culvert is situated.

3. Describe the operation of blasting, noting minutely the tools used. How are the charges of powder regulated?

4. Give a sketch design for a causeway 20 feet long in an unmetalled road, the surface of the causeway being 4 feet below the level of the road, which is 20 feet wide at formation level. or

Describe any considerations which would induce you to deviate from a straight line in laying out a new road. It is stated in the Roorkee Treatise that, "it is very seldom a road should be made to deviate from a straight line on account of earthwork only." Explain this statement fully.

5. Give figured sketches of three different descriptions of rails. Mention the considerations which decide the weight of rail per yard. Or Describe a turntable and any devices used in its stead.

6. What is the use of the tubes in the boiler of a locomotive engine? What number are generally used and of what diameter? What is the action of the blast pipe? In what different positions may the cylinders of a locomotive engine be placed, and what are the advantages and disadvantages of each?

7. The weight of a train is 80 tons, weight of tender 9 tons, weight of engine 18 tons, velocity per hour 20 miles, ascending gradient 1 in 100. Calculate the resistance to be overcome.

8. In your text book a memorandum of important desiderata at railway stations is given. Describe them. or

Describe the different descriptions of fencing used for railway lines, mentioning the advantages and disadvantages of each.

N. B. Where alternative questions are given no credit will be allowed for answers to more than one.

CHEMISTRY AND HEAT.

Examiner—MR. J. ELIOT, M. A.

1. Describe a few experiments which will clearly illustrate and explain the principle and application of the safety lamp.

2. Describe the changes which take place in heating a lb of ice at temperature 0°C . until it is changed into aqueous vapour in the open air, stating the amounts of heat necessary to effect the various changes which occur.

3. Bodies are said to be usually rendered heavier by cooling. Examine this statement. Also explain how it is that ice will swim on water much warmer than itself.

4. What is the difference between ebullition and evaporation. State Regnault's formula for the latent heat of steam at different temperatures. A sample of steam coal weighing 1lb evaporated 10lbs of water previously raised to its boiling point (100°C). What weight of water would this quantity of coal raise from the freezing to the boiling point; and if the heat generated by its combustion were transformed into mechanical effect without loss, how many foot pounds of work would it do?

5. Explain in any way you can how the melting points of bodies are affected by pressure. Illustrate your answer by examples.

6. If a copper ball weighing 6lbs taken out of a furnace and plunged into 2 lbs of water at 10°C , heats the water to 25°C . what was the temperature of the furnace? (The specific heat of copper at all temperatures may be taken as .095)

7. If one cubic metre of carbonic anhydride diffuses into atmospheric air in 20 minutes, what volumes of the following gases will diffuse in the same time under the same conditions:—Marshgas, Carbonic Oxide, Nitrogen, Oxygen and Hydrogen.

8. Describe two processes for the preparation of Chlorine. Give the chemical equation and a sketch of the apparatus in each case.

9. How many milligrammes of water are formed when an electric spark is passed through a mixture of 800 cubic centimetres of Hydrogen and 300 cubic centimetres of Oxygen measured at 10°C . and under a pressure of 740 m. m.

10. What reasons have we for believing that the atom of tin is equivalent to four atoms of hydrogen. Tabulate the more important elements according to their atomicity.

11. Some hard waters can be softened by boiling whilst others cannot. Explain the cause of this and describe any other methods for softening water.

PHYSICAL GEOGRAPHY AND MINERALOGY.

Examiner—MR. J. ELIOT, M. A.

1. State what changes are going on at and near the mouths of the rivers of the Gangetic Delta and explain the actions that produce these changes.

2. State briefly the more important conditions and actions which affect the amount of rainfall received at a given place. Give a short account of the general distribution of rainfall in India during the south west monsoon.

3. Describe the more important features of thunderstorms in Bengal. Why do thunderstorms occur rarely in the months of July, August and September?

4. Sketch the more important phenomena of cyclones. Suppose the centre of a cyclone were advancing across the Bengal coast east of Sagor Island and northwards over Jessore, what changes in the wind would be observed at Calcutta.

5. State in what districts of India coal is found and account for its formation.

6. By what signs would you know that a country had been more or less covered with glacier ice.

7. Contrast briefly the geology of the Deccan with that of the Gangetic plain.

8. What building stones might you expect to find in different districts of the province of Bengal.

9. Why and how are crystals grouped into six systems?

10. State what is meant by ordinary and double refraction. Describe any phenomena in crystals due to double refraction.

11. What are the relations between the direction of the planes of cleavage and the crystalline form?

PRACTICE OF BUILDING.

Examiner—MR. C. W. ODLING, C. E.

1. Describe and give a figured sketch of the pug mill of which there is a description and illustration in your text book.

2. In brickwork what are the different descriptions of bond used? Sketch two contiguous courses showing these bonds in a wall $2\frac{1}{2}$ bricks thick. The sketch should show two walls meeting at a corner.

3. Describe the manufacture of Portland cement. Write a specification for ashlar-masonry in the floor of a weir, the mortar being composed of Portland Cement and sand. The stones may be taken as 12 inches in depth. Give your reasons for the thickness of vertical joint adopted.

4. Describe the six kinds of timber most commonly used in Bengal, and note the class of work for which each of them is best adapted. State whence they are procured, the best time for felling and the best mode of seasoning. Describe fully the process of creosoting.

5. Give a sketch of a king-post truss, state the nature of the strain on each piece of which it is composed. In a king-post truss with a wrought iron tie-rod it is found necessary to fix the tie-rod half way up the truss, investigate the relation between the resulting strain and that on a tie-rod as ordinarily placed.

6. What are the ordinary defects in bar iron? What tests would you apply to ascertain its quality? Describe the process of case-hardening.

7. Describe the composition and uses of brass, gun metal, and bell metal. To what uses in engineering construction is lead applied? Discuss its suitability. or

What are the ingredients of white, green and red paint? What is the use of priming? Why is boiled linseed oil used in certain cases? What is the composition of putty? What is meant by flattening?

8. Give a sketch design for a kiln for lime burning by the continuous process, which describe in detail, giving the quantities of materials used.

PRACTICE OF BUILDING.

Examiner—MR. C. W. ODLING, C. E.

1. For what purposes are inverts used? How would you secure the proper radiation of the joints?

2. Describe and illustrate the arrangements usually made for filling locks independently of the valves in the gates. or Draw a good section for flood embankments. Discuss the method of protecting river banks by spurs, describing in detail their construction.

3. Explain minutely the operation of striking centres by means of wedges and by means of sand boxes.

4. In order to design a bridge what information would you require, the site and width of roadway being fixed.

5. Explain the following terms:—

Soffit, Blocking course, Lagging, Architrave, Camber, Bloom, Fillet, Gusset, Stud, Trimmer, Pilaster, Skewback, Corbel, Injector, Indicator.

6. Write a full description of the two methods of preparing wrought iron plates for the reception of the rivets by which they are to be joined together. In what particular cases would you order the adoption of the one or the other?

7. A segmental arch has a span of 32 and a rise of 10 feet. Make the following computations:—

The radius and the length of the arc of the soffit.

The thickness of the arch is $2\frac{1}{2}$ feet and its width 35 feet, how many bricks and what quantity of lime and soorkee would be used in its construction, the usual Calcutta specification for brick arch masonry being followed.

8. Describe with the aid of sketches any one of the following works which are described in your text book:—

Barra Bridge. Tosne Bridge. Markundah Bridge. Sohan Bridge. Solani Aqueduct. Kistnah Aqueduct.

DRAWING.

Examiner—MR. T. H. WICKES, C. E.

Note.—The drawings required by the first 3 questions to be neatly inked in; the working lines to be left in pencil. The drawings required by the last question may be in pencil.

1. Construct the following:—

(a). A square equal to a rectangle $4''\frac{1}{2} + 1''\frac{3}{4}$.

(b). A circle of $1''$ radius, and circumscribe it by a triangle having its sides as 20 : 27 : 32.

2. Draw a regular octagon of $1''\frac{1}{2}$ side. Describe 8 circles each having a side of the octagon as diameter. Circumscribe the eight circles by one circle touching them all.

(b). On a line $3''$ in length, as chord, describe a segment of a circle to contain an angle of 105° .

3. Project a regular hexagonal pyramid, side of base $\frac{1}{2}$ ", vertical height 2", base inclined at an angle of 30° ; with two of its edges parallel to the vertical plane.

4. A box is $20'' \times 10'' \times 6''$, the lid is $2\frac{1}{2}''$ deep and the wood every where 1" in thickness. In the centre of the lid is a circular plate 6" in diameter let into the wood. The lid is open at an angle of 35° .

(b). Make an isometrical drawing, $\frac{1}{4}$ size, of the same box.

Honour and M. A. Examinations, 1883.

ENGLISH PROSE.

Examiner—MR. K. DEIGHTON, M. A.

1. Compare the Falstaff of the Merry Wives with the Falstaff of the historical plays, and account for the differences which exist between them. In what particular respect does the play as we now have it differ from the first sketch? How have the following passages from the first sketch and from the amended play been used to fix the date of the original composition?

First sketch:—"For there is three sorts of cosen garmombles, Is cosen all the Host of Maidenhead and Readings," &c Amended play:—"There is three cousin germans that has cosened all the hosts of Readings, of Maidenhead," &c.

2. Contrast the wit of Beatrice with that of Benedick. What are the more especially lovable points in the characters of the former? Compare the mirth of Shakespeare in Much Ado and in his earlier plays.

3. What is it in Othello's nature which makes him so easy a prey to villainy? Illustrate as fully as possible the character of Iago. To which of Shakespeare's other heroines, and in what points, would you liken Desdemona?

4. In Coriolanus Shakespeare has by some been supposed to be dealing with a political problem: state what you conceive to be the idea of the play. Write short notes on the characters of Virgilia and Menenius.

5. "The pathos of Antony and Cleopatra resembles the pathos of Macbeth," explain this with reference to the character of the heroes of the two plays, and illustrate your answer by quotations. What kind of function does Enobarbus perform? How has Shakespeare seen through the character of Augustus?

6. Discuss the chief objections from external evidence against Shakespeare's having had a share in producing the Two Noble Kinsmen. Of what kinds is the internal evidence on the question? Admitting the joint authorship by Shakespeare and Fletcher, mention the theories that have been put forward as to the division of labour. What similarities of incident and character have been found in the Two Noble Kinsmen and the known works of Shakespeare?

7. Explain the following passages:—

(a). I have grated upon my good friends for these reprieves for you and your coach fellow Nym; or else you had looked through the grate like a geminy of baboons.

(b). Thou hast the right arched beauty of the brow that becomes the ship-tire, the tire valiant, or any tire of Venetian admittance.

(c). Or do you play the flouting Jack, to tell us Cupid is a good hare finder and Vulcan a rare carpenter.

(d). If such a one will smile and stroke his beard,
Bid sorrow wag. cry 'hem'! when he should groan,
Patch grief with proverbs, make misfortune drunk
With candle-wasters.

(e). Judge me the world, if 'tis not gross in sense
That thou hast practised on her with foul charms,
Abused her delicate youth with drugs or minerals
That weaken motion: I'll have 't disputed on;
'Tis probable and palpable to thinking.

(f). Though other things grow fair against the sun,
Yet fruits that blossom first will first be ripe.

(g). Exchange me for a goat
When I shall turn the business of my soul
To such exsufflicate and blown surmises,
Matching thy inference.

(h). It gives me an estate of seven years health; in which time I will make a lip at the physician: the most sovereign prescription in Galen is but empiricitic, and, to this preservative, of no better report than a horse drench.

(i). His pupil-age
Man-enter'd thus he waxed like a sea,
And in the brunt of seventeen battles since
He lurch'd all swords of the garland.

(j). If he have power,
Then veil your ignorance; if none, awake
Your dangerous lenity.

(k). Her gentlewomen, like the Nereides,
So many mermaids, tended her i' the eyes
And made their bends adornings.

(l). Then, world, thou hast a pair of chaps, no more,
And throw between them all the food thou hast;
They'll grind the one the other.

(m). And it is great
To do that thing that ends all other deeds;
Which shackles accidents and bolts up change;
Which sleeps and never palates more the dung,
The beggar's nurse and Cæsar's.

- (n). They two have cabin'd
 In many as dangerous as poor a corner,
 Peril and want contending; they have skift
 Torrents, whose roaring tyranny and power
 I' th' least of these was dreadful.
- (o). Since I have known fights, fury, friends' behests,
 Love's provocations, zeal, a mistress' task,
 Desire of liberty, a fever, madness,
 Hath set a mark—which nature could not reach to Without some imposition—sickness in will,
 Or wrestling strength in reason.

ENGLISH PROSE.

Examiner—MR. A. C. EDWARDS, M. A.

1. Criticise Lowell's style as a writer, and compare him with any English Essayist, with whose writings you may be acquainted. Name six other American authors and mention some of the principal works of each.
2. State Lowell's objections to servile imitations of the ancient Greek drama. There are certain Greek characteristics which he says we should endeavour to assimilate. Mention them.
3. Explain fully the purport of the following extracts and annotate upon the words in Italics.
 - (a.) Clio, though she take airs on herself, and pretend to be 'philosophy teaching by example,' is, after all, but a gossip who has borrowed Fame's speaking-trumpet, and should be figured with a tea-cup instead of a scroll in her hand. How much has she not owed of late to the tittle-tattle of her gillflirt sister Thalia?
 - How has Lowell illustrated the above statement?
 - (b.) The Cultists went down before the implacable good sense of French criticism, but the defect of this criticism was that it ignored imagination altogether, and sent nature about her business as an impertinent baggage, whose household loom competed unlawfully with the machine-made fabrics, so exquisitely uniform in pattern, of the royal manufactories.
4. "Up to the thirteenth century our history is the domain of antiquaries; from that point it becomes the domain of lawyers." Show the correctness of this remark of Freeman's.
5. Compare the characters of Edward the Third and Henry the Fifth, and discuss the morality of their respective enterprises against France.
6. "The Frankish conquest of Gaul must, of the two, have been more analogous to the Norman than to the English conquest of our country." What arguments does Freeman adduce in support of this assertion. Give the substance of his remarks in connection with the comparison here drawn.
7. State and account for the ill-effects of the system of Presidential election employed in the United States. What reason does Freeman assign for the gradual deterioration in the character of the American Presidents? Point out the main differences between Presidential and Cabinet Government.

8. Explain the following passages noticing all allusions :—

(a.) A country without traditions, without ennobling associations, a scramble of parvenus, with a horrible consciousness of shoddy running through politics, manners, art, literature, nay, religion itself.

(b.) There has been nothing of Cleon, still less of Strepsiades striving to underbid him in demagogism, to be found in the public utterances of Mr. Lincoln.

(c.) The only positive doctrines in the poem are the selfishness of Hobbes set to music, and the Pantheism of Spinoza brought down from mysticism to commonplace.

(d.) There is not so much blood in the whole of them as would warm the little finger of one of Shakespeare's living and breathing conceptions.

(e.) The gentleman was one, who in society, had that air of wrapping his toga around him, which adds or is supposed to add, many cubits to a man's height.

(f.) Publicola, as we saw, damned one poor man to a wretched immortality, and another was called pitilessly over the coals, because he had mixed a grain of flattery with a bushel of truth.

9. Trollope says of Thackeray's novel "The Newcomes" "It is full of satire from the first to the last page." How does he support this criticism by reference to the characters in the book? Briefly characterize Thackeray's satire.

10. "Forethought is the elbow-grease which a novelist requires." Explain this remark, and show how it may be justified.

11. Sketch the character of Esmond.

ENGLISH POETRY.

Examiner—MR. DEIGHTON, M. A.

1. In what mental characteristics did Spenser resemble Milton and Wordsworth? Show how the circumstances of his time were favourable to the production of a great poem, and in what respects such a poem as the Faery Queene was not wholly in accordance with the taste of that time. What is the theme of The tears of the Muses?

2. Describe the original plan of the Faery Queene, and show why Spenser found it necessary to abandon that plan. Explain the allegories underlying the tale of the First Book, and account for the fact that in the Second Book the allegorical character of the poem is less strongly marked.

3. It has been objected that the style of the Faery Queene is diffuse, that its story is monotonous in character and is disfigured by an affectation of classical learning: consider these objections.

4. To what external influences and to what conscious purpose may we ascribe the phraseology and dialect employed by Spenser? Quote instances of Spenser's love of alliteration.

5. Explain the following passages :—

- (a). Curse on that crosse, (quoth then the Sarazin,) That keeps my body from the bitter fit ? Dead long ygoe I wote thou haddest bin, Had not that charme from thee forwarned it : But yet I warne thee now assured sitt, And hide they head. Therewith upon his crest With rigor so outrageous he smitt, That a large share it hewd out of the rest, And glauncing down his shield from blame him fairly blest.
- (b). Henceforth his ghost, freed from repining strife, In peace may passen over Lethe lake, When mourning altars purgd with enimies life The black infernall Furies doen aslake.
- (c). As when a gryfon seized of his pray A dragon fiers encountreth in his flight Through widest ayre making his ydle way That would his rightfull ravine rend away.
- (d). All in a silken camus lylylly whight Purfled upon with many a folded plight.
- (e). Let Scaldis tell, and let tell Hania, And let the marsh of Esthambruges tell What colour were their waters that same day And all the moore twist Elversham and Dell, With blond of Henalois which therein fell. How oft that day did sad Brunchildis see The greene shield dyde in dolorous vermell ? That not scuith quirdh it mote seeme to bee, But rather y scuith gogh, sign of sad crueltee.

6. Sketch Dryden's character, moral and intellectual ; and mark by short notices of his writings, the various phases of his political and his religious faith.

7. What probably was the object with which Abdolom and Achitophel was written ? and how was it followed up ? Point out false charges which Dryden brings against Shaftesbury in the poem In what way can you account for Dryden's praise of Shaftesbury as a judge ? "The frame of it" [Abdolom and Achitophel] "was cut out but for a picture to the waist : " what does Dryden mean by this ?

8. Explain :—

- (a). What could he gain his people to betray Or change his right for arbitrary sway ? Let haughty Pharaoh curse with such a reign His fruitful Nile, and yoke a servile train : If David's rule Jerusalem displease, The dogstar heats their brain to this disease. Why then should I encouraging the bad, Turn rebel and run popularly mad ?

- (b). Thus wicked but in will, of means bereft,
He left not faction, but of that was left.
- (c). But hospitable treats did most commend Wise Issachar, his wealthy western friend.
- (d). Long since the rising rebels he withstood
In regions waste beyond the Jordau's flood :
Unfortunately brave to buoy the state,
But sinking underneath his master's fate.

9. Consider the influence of Tennyson's works upon the poetry and upon the thought of the present age.

10. The Princess is called a "Medley:" why so? Give an outline of the plot, and show clearly the central idea of the poem, illustrating that idea by reference to others of the poet's works.

11. Explain:—

- (a). And I sat down and wrote
In such a hand as when a field of corn
Bows all its ears before the roaring East.
- (b). Ye are green wood, see ye warp not. Look, our hall!
Our statues! not of those that men desire,
Sleek Odalisques or oracles of mode,
Nor stunted squaws of West or East.
- (c). With scraps of thundrous Epic lilted out
By violet-hooded Doctors, elegies
And quoted odes, and jewels five-words-long
That on the stretch'd forefinger of all Time
Sparkle for ever.
- (d). Our enemies have fall'n, but this shall grow
A night of summer from the heat, a breadth
Of Autumn, dropping fruits of power; and roll'd
With music in the growing breeze of Time,
The tops shall strike from star to star, the fangs
Shall move the stony bases of the world.

ENGLISH PROSE, II.

Examiner—MR. A. C. EDWARDS, M. A.

1. Write a brief account of the life of Ascham, and name his principal works. What qualities does he describe as the true notes of the best wit in a child? What author of the same century has given an embodiment of one of those qualities in his work?

2. Give the substance of Ascham's remarks about English versification and rhyming, and shew how his forecasts in connection with those subjects were subsequently verified.

3. In what respects does Sir Thomas Browne represent the character of the age in which he lived? How would you defend him against the charge of vanity, which has at times been brought against him? Characterize his humour.

4. What pastimes does Ascham recommend as fit for a gentleman? Give his description of the Italianated Englishman.

5. Modernize the two following extracts:—

(a). Some busie looker upon this little poore booke will perchance say, that I am to precise, to curious, in marking and pitching thus about the imitation of others.

(b). I have shaken hands with delight in my warm blood and canicular days; I perceive I do anticipate the vices of age; the world to me is but a dream or mock-show, and we all therein but pautalions and anticks, to my severer contemplations.

Give the gist of Browne's observations about Longevity.

6. Expound the meaning of the following passages, and write explanatory notes on the parts in Italics.

(a) They who, to salve this, would make the deluge particular, proceed upon a principle that I can no way grant.

Explain the allusions here.

(b). For he only beholds me, and all the world, who looks not on us through a derived ray, or a trajection of a sensible species, but beholds the substance without the help of accidents and the forms of things, as we their operations.

(c). Whilst I study to find how I am a microcosm, or little world, I find myself something more than the great.

(d). The method I should use in distributive justice, I often observe in commutative; and keep a geometrical proportion in both, whereby becoming equable to others, I become unjust to myself, and supererogate in that common principle.

State the principle.

(e). He fancies himself moving through an endless Bloomsbury, where his mere apparition confers honour as an avatar of the court-end of the universe. Not a Bull of them all but is persuaded he tears Europa upon his back.

7. What according to Arnold is culture, and what opposing tendencies has it to encounter? What objections have been raised against the so-called 'religion of culture'? How does Arnold combat those objections?

8. "Socrates is terribly at ease in Zion". Explain with reference to this saying the meaning of the terms Hebraism and Hellenism. Discuss their relation to each other, and state the distinguishing characteristics of each. Shew how these two forces have alternately exercised a predominating influence at different periods of history.

9. Lowell says that the very qualities, which came so near making a great poet of Carlyle, disqualified him for the office of historian. Specify those qualities and shew how he proceeds to establish his assertion.

10. What, according to Lowell, are the leading characteristics of the Saxon?

COMPARATIVE GRAMMAR.

Examiner—MR. A. C. EDWARDS, M. A.

1. What is meant by the Science of Comparative Philology? Why is it called a Science, and why is it called Comparative? Describe very briefly the various stages in its development.

2. Trace the history of the word Case, and criticise the expression Genitive Case. Give some account of the formation of Cases in the Aryan languages.

3. Explain fully the two principles of Dialectic Regeneration and Phonetic Decay. Give instances of the operation of each.

4. Classify the principal languages of the Inflectional or Amalgamating type. What two other main types of languages have been recognized? Specify the distinguishing characteristics of each of the three types.

5. State Grimm's Law, and give, as far as you can, the words corresponding to daughter, yesterday, bottom, two, five, thou, heart, kin, in Sanscrit, Greek, Latin, Gothic and Old High German, noticing any deviation from the rules of that law.

6. Define the grammatical term Roots. How would you classify roots? Trace after Max Müller the various ramifications of the roots "ar" and "mar" respectively.

7. Discuss the possibility of a common origin of all languages. How is the question affected by a consideration of the science of Ethnology?

8. Write brief etymological notes upon the following words: twenty, its, lord, could, loved, cuckoo, riches, nostril, bridegroom, whole, minister, minstrel.

9. Mark out the different periods in the history of the English language, noticing briefly the principal changes that occurred in each period.

10 Illustrate some one Greek myth by the light of Comparative Philology.

ENGLISH ESSAY.

Examiner—MR. DEIGHTON, M. A.One subject only to be treated.

1. The influence of Sir Walter Scott on the poetry of the nineteenth century.

2. Mannerism in style.

3. A history of the Essay from Bacon to Macaulay.

4. Select a novel of the 18th and a novel of the 19th century and make a comparison between the two.

2. यत्र च पोतोद्गीर्णं जलनिधिजलमिव मुनिना निदिल-माश्रमोपान्तवर्तिषु विभक्तं महाह्रदेषु ।

(1). Translate the above passage into English, bringing out its full meaning.

(2). “यच्छब्दस्यच्छब्दोपादानं विना साकाङ्क्षः” Is the violation of this rule in the passage by the use of यत्र without its correlative justifiable? Give the cases where the violation of the rule is justifiable.

(3). Does the formation of the samāsa introduce any new meaning not given in the component words पोत and उद्गीर्ण ?

(4). Account for ई in पोत and ण in उद्गीर्ण.

(5). Is either of the rhetorical defects known as ‘कथितपदत्व’ and ‘अनवीक्षतत्व’ noticeable in the expression जलनिधिजलं?
State the difference between these defects. Why is one of them called अर्थेदोष and the other शब्ददोष ?

(6). Would the meaning of the compound word जलनिधि remain unchanged by using synonyms for either or both of the component words जल and निधि? To which of the classes रूढ, यौगिक and योगरूढ does the word belong? Do modern European scholars agree in the view taken by Indian authorities of the significance of a रूढशब्द? Give with reasons your own view of the question. The word कुशल is a रूढशब्द according to Visvanátha and a साक्षणिकशब्द according to Mammatha. Which is the correct view? Give reasons for your answer.

(7). Who is the muni referred to in the passage? Write a note in Sanskrit giving such information about the muni as would elucidate all the passages of the Kádamvarí containing allusions to him.

(8). Why is not षष्ठी विभक्ति used instead of द्वितीया विभक्ति in the word सुनि in accordance with the sútra Panini 'कर्तृकर्मणोः कृति'?

(9). Quote the grammatical rule or rules according to which the whole expression 'जलनिधिजलमिव' may be regarded as forming a compound word, and give reasons why in the passage the expression should not be regarded as a compound.

(10). Name the Sámāsa in उपान्त. Quote or give the purport of the Sútras of Pánini regulating the declension of such compounds.

(11). Account for the सप्तमी विभक्ति in महाह्रदेषु.

II. Form all the possible compounds in Karmadhāraya samāsa (1) with any two and (2) with all of the following words, viz. गर्ग, गर्भिणी, जरती and युवती, and also compound them in the Bahubhrīhi Samāsa.

Annotate the above sloka, explaining the reference to Hindu Law it contains and discussing the question as to whether it is to be regarded as an instance of शब्दश्लेष or of शाब्दी व्यञ्जना?

4. Explain the following slokas and discuss the philosophical doctrines they contain.

- (a). अथवा भवतः प्रवर्तना

(1). Give in your own words in Sanskrit the reply of Ravana to the above speech of Hanumat in the Bhatti Kavya and also Hanumat's rejoinder to Ravana's reply.

(2). Write full grammatical notes on अग्राहित जनप्रज्ञे, सर्व्वरात्रकल्याणः and नीतिनिष्णस्य ।

3. Point out a sentence in the above passage which though positive in form is negative in sense. Would you call it an instance of 'ध्वनि' or of 'गुणीभूतव्यङ्ग्य' ?

4. What is the exact force of the two negative particles in न च न ज्ञापितः ।

VI. Translate into idiomatic Sanskrit.

(a). There is in this land a city named Ujjayini, the ornament of the earth, that, so to speak, laughs to scorn with its palaces of enamelled whiteness Amaravati, the city of the gods. In that city dwells Shiva himself, the lord of existence, under the form of Mahakala, when he desists from the kingly vice of absenting himself on the heights of mount Kailasa. In that city lived a king named Mahendravarman, best of monarchs, and he had a son like himself, named Jayasena. Then to that Jayasena was born a son named Mahasena, matchless in strength of arm, an elephant among monarchs.

(b). By reason of Avidyā the 'personal soul of every individual,' mistakes the world, as well as its own body and mind, for realities, just as a rope in a dark night might be mistaken for a snake. The moment the personal soul is set free from this self-imposed Ignorance by a proper understanding of the truth, through the Vedānta philosophy, all the illusion vanishes and the identity of the personal soul and of the whole phenomenal universe with the 'one only really existing spirit,' is re-established.

VII. Write a note in Sanskrit criticising the sentiment contained in the following sloka.

एनसानेन तिर्यक स्यादित्यादिः का विभौषिका ।
राजिलोऽपि हि राजेव सैः सुखी सुखहेतुभिः ॥

VIII. Comment on the opinions expressed in the following sayings.

ENGLISH ESSAY.

Examiner—DR. K. M. BANERJEA.

Write an English Essay on the rise and progress of Buddhism—with a short sketch of the state of Hindu society in the earlier days of its founder—the circumstances under which he was led to his ideas of Renunciation—how far they were a compound of good and evil—involving as they did the desertion of a wife and child at the very moment when both required his special help and attention, whether Renunciation itself absolutely and unexceptionally can be a human duty—what were the causes of his success for a time and the eventual expulsion of his followers from India,—what lasting impressions in ethics, philosophy and social manners were left here in spite of the failure of his sect—what probable causes contributed to the success of the system out of India—what parts of Asia profess allegiance to that system now—and to what extent does the present state of the followers of Buddhism realise the aspirations of Sakya Singha when he first set himself up as a reformer of mankind.

POLITICAL ECONOMY.

Examiner—MR. W. T. WEBB, M. A.

1. What is the object and scope of Political Economy? Point out its true relation to the doctrine of laissez-faire. Illustrate your remarks by references to any politico-economical questions.

2. (a). Define wealth. Into what four classes has it been divided? (b) What circumstances are the conditions essential to the existence of value in a commodity? (c) Why has the phrase “value of money” come to be an ambiguous one? (d) How are values and prices determined in dealing with Political Economy?

3. (a). Analyse clearly the phenomena of supply and demand. (b) Show that demand for commodities is not demand for labour. (c) In what way, however, may an enlarged demand for commodities accelerate the growth of wealth?

4. The value of the produce imported into England largely exceeds the value of that which is exported, whereas the contrary is the case with India. Explain the chief circumstances in the Economic condition of the two countries respectively that cause their trade to be in this position.

5. (a). Define Direct and Indirect Taxes. State the arguments that have been used both for and against Indirect Taxation, pointing out the fallacy of any of them. (b) What do you consider to be the best method to adopt in levying a tax on Incomes?

6. It has been alleged that Protection, for a limited period, accorded to a nascent industry, is advantageous to the community that enjoys such protection. Discuss the question. Why is it difficult to limit the period?

7. Sketch Mill's arguments with reference to (a) Right of bequest and inheritance; (b) Property in land. Comment upon them.

HISTORY.

Examiner—MR W. T. WEBB, M. A.

Guizot, Hallam, Taylor.

1. Into what three great periods may the History of European Civilization be divided? To which do the Crusades belong? Discuss their character and cause, and their effects upon civilization.

2. Account for the rise of the Papacy, and describe its relations to the principal churches of the West at the middle of the 8th century. What were the False Decretals, and what was their ultimate effect?

3. Trace the growth of the Third Estate in France, and give some account of its history from the 11th to the 14th century.

4. Write short historical notices of (a) Feudalism, (b) Chivalry, (c) The Reformation; pointing out briefly their influence respectively upon Civilization.

5. Show that the ancient form of the English Constitution was a limited monarchy. What difficulty lay in the working of such a constitution? and how was it finally solved? Give some account of the proceedings of the Convention Parliament of January 1689.

6. Trace the intimate connection that existed between religion and politics during the reign of the Tudors. Explain the rise of the Protestant Nonconformists; and state what measures were taken against them under Queen Elizabeth.

7. Briefly estimate (a) the salutary measures, (b) the errors of the Long Parliament. Discuss the justice of Strafford's impeachment.

8. Examine the condition and powers of the House of Lords under the Tudors and the Stuarts, alluding to any of their disagreements with the House of Commons. What means are there for settling such disagreements?

9. State briefly the general principles of Historic Evidence. How may such evidence be independently confirmed? What was the Rosetta Stone?

10. Define genuineness and authenticity. How may we argue from the genuineness to the authenticity of an historical work? Apply the method to any history.

HISTORY.

Examiner—MR. M. PROTHERO, B. A.

1. Show that the cause of the elder Pitt's resignation in 1761 was justified by subsequent events.

2. Describe the chief features of the great outburst of industrial activity in the first twenty years of the reign of George III.

3. Briefly review Parliamentary legislation on Indian subjects within the period 1760—1820.

4. Sketch the progress of American discontent, and the repressive measures of the English Parliament from 1764 to the outbreak of the War of Independence.

What offers were made by the Americans in the "Olive Branch" Petition?

5. Compare Pitt's and Fox's views as to the functions to be given to the Prince of Wales in the Regency Bill of 1786.

6. What was the Armed Neutrality, and what principles of International Law was it intended to uphold?

Has the Law on these subjects received any final settlement?

7. Briefly describe the commercial policy of England towards her colonies and Ireland.

What modification did this policy receive during the reign of George III?

8. Give an outline of Burke's scheme of Economical Reform.

9. Show the relation of the Irish Parliament to the English, when George III ascended the throne. How was this relation subsequently changed?

HISTORY.

Examiner—MR. M. PROTHERO, B. A.

1. How far did French revolutionary ideas make progress in England?

What measures were adopted to check them by the English Government?

2. Mention the terms of the Berlin Decree.

How did the English retaliate?

In what subsequent complications was England entangled by this retaliation?

3. What was the nature of the legal disabilities under which Roman Catholics laboured?

How far were these disabilities removed under George III?

4. Describe the lines of Torres Vedras, and show their importance in the History of the Peninsular War.

5. The French Revolutionary statesmen applied "metaphysical rights and abstract doctrines to public affairs." Explain this, and show how it accounts for the failure of many of their measures.

6. Give a brief description of the principal features of Pitt's foreign policy before the French Revolutionary War, and show that it was from the force of circumstances, not from any essential dislike of the principles of the French Revolution, that he engaged in the war with France.

7. Who composed the school of writers known as the "Encyclopædians"?

Whence did they obtain this title?

Estimate the nature of their influence on the French Revolution.

8. Enumerate the events in France leading to the summons of of the States General in 1789.

Sketch the proceedings of that body from its assembly to its dissolution.

9. Give some account of the First and Second Partitions of Poland.

HISTORY.

Examiner—MR. M. PROTHERO, B. A.

1. What was George the Third's idea of his rights and duties as King of England?

Whence did he derive this idea?

Was he ever successful in carrying his theory into execution?

2. Describe the state of Parliamentary representation under George III, and show the want of unanimity between the House of Commons and the mass of the people.

What important point of constitutional Law was settled by the case of "Wilkes v. Wood"?

4. "Circumstances give in reality to every political principle its distinguishing colour and discriminating effect."

Explain the apparent inconsistencies in Burke's political career by aid of this quotation.

5. State the main arguments for and against Mr. Dunning's motion of 1780, "that it is the opinion of this Committee that the influence of the crown has increased, is increasing, and ought to be diminished."

6. What were Lord Sidmouth's Six Acts? To what causes, is the general discontent in England at the period when they became Law, to be attributed?

7. Write short accounts of the following books, Letters of Junius, Rights of Man, Common Sense, Letters on a Regicide Peace, Wealth of Nations, Vindiciæ Gallicæ.

8. What was the Holy Alliance?

Why were its objects essentially contrary to the traditional maxims of British policy?

9. Enumerate the chief events and acquisitions to British territory in India during the Viceroyalty of the Marquis Wellesley.

ESSAY.

Examiner—MR. W. T. WEBB, M. A.

Write an essay on either of the following subjects:—

(1). The progress of England morally, socially, and politically, in the reign of George III.

(2). The growth of the English Colonies, and their relations with the mother-country.

HISTORY AND PHILOSOPHY OF SCIENCE.

Examiner—MR. A. PEDLER, F. C. S.

Notice. The first six questions are to be attempted by all students. Only questions from Group A, or from Group B may be attempted. The questions in Group A are for candidates who are taking up Botany, those in Group B for candidates in Physical Science.

Questions for all students in Science.

1. Explain fully what is meant by a "cause" in logic and science, examine and discuss the following statements :

The sun's light is the cause of the life of plants.

The addition of a solution of Silver Nitrate to one of common salt is the cause of a precipitate of Silver Chloride.

The cessation of the rains is the cause of the commencement of the cold season in India.

2. What are the four methods of experimental enquiry? Explain their use by examples. Show clearly what amount of certainty can be obtained by the employment of each of these methods.

3. What is meant by reasoning by analogy? What conditions are necessary to render analogy a safe method of reasoning, and to what extent is it used in science? Give several examples of such use.

4. What are the requisites of a philosophical language? Explain your meaning fully by examples.

5. Explain the use and logical value of hypothesis in scientific work. What are the requisites of a good hypothesis?

6. Write a short essay on ONE of the following subjects—

Our present knowledge of the chemistry of plant life.

The conservation of energy.

The recent developments in the industrial use of electricity.

Group A. Questions for candidates in Botany only.Examiner—MR. L. BRACE.

7. What influence had the poet Goëthe on the science of Botany?

8. Who was the originator of the Latin Botanical nomenclature, and when did he flourish?

9. Name the founders of the study of Vegetable Anatomy.

10. Give the main principles on which Coesalpinus founded his classification of plants. When did he live?

Group B for students in Physical Science only.

11. Trace the history of the rise and progress of spectrum analysis, mentioning as far as possible the discoverers of the various important contributions to our knowledge of this subject.

12. State briefly what was the exact condition of chemical science when Priestly discovered Oxygen. Give a history of the work performed by Lavoisier.

13. Give a brief description of the scientific work performed by Berzelius, Cavendish and Davy.

14. Trace the development of the modern theory of atomicity in chemistry.

CHEMISTRY.

Examiner—MR. A. PEDLER, F. C. S.

1. I pass chlorine gas through an aqueous solution of each of the following substances, the solution being first acidulated with Hydrochloric acid—Calcium Iodide, Stannous Chloride, Ferrous Sulphate, Cadmic Sulphate, Chromic Chloride, and Potassium Nitrite. State what chemical change if any will take place in each case.

2. You have given to you Potassium Bichromate, Ferrous Sulphate, Alcohol, Hydrochloric Acid, Solution of Ammonia, Barium Chloride, and water, and you are required to form solutions of Chromic Chloride and Ferrous Chloride from these ingredients. How would you proceed?

3. How would you prepare metallic aluminium and zinc from their ores? What are the properties of these metals and what are their uses?

4. If a liquid suspected to contain both arsenic and antimony were given to you, describe how you would isolate and individually detect these bodies?

5. How would you perform the qualitative analysis for both acids and bases of a solid substance containing the following ingredients, Copper nitrate, Manganese sulphate, Ammonium chloride, Magnesium sulphate and Potassium nitrite.

6. Describe the different methods of classification of the elements, and the properties on which such classifications depend.

7. What chemical changes, if any, take place under the following circumstances (A), when steam and chlorine are passed through a red hot tube, and B, when hydrochloric acid gas and oxygen are passed through a red hot tube. If any changes take place, explain clearly the conditions under which they occur, and give briefly their theoretical explanation.

8. Describe minutely how you would conduct the quantitative analysis of nitrobenzol; give a sketch of the apparatus you would use, and state how you would obtain the formula of this substance.

9. Starting from Ethylic alcohol, show how Valeric (or Pentylic) acid can be prepared from it by synthetic processes.

10. What is meant by a ketone, an organic radical, an aldehyde, a secondary diamine, and an organo-metallic body. An ethereal salt of a monobasic acid of the acetic series has the composition $C_7H_{14}O_2$. Give the names, constitutional and graphic formulæ of the substances which might have this chemical composition.

HEAT.

Examiner—MR. S. A. HILL.

1. What is the most accurate method of measuring the dilatation of solids such as glass, platinum or iron under the influence of heat? 8

2. What determines the rate of flow of heat by conductors? Describe Forbes' experiments on the conducting power of iron bars, and show how to deduce the co-efficient of conductivity from the observations. 12

3. Describe the phenomena of regelation, giving the various explanations of it that have been proposed. 6

4. Try to obtain from theoretical principles a formula for calculating the hygrometric condition of the atmosphere from the readings of the psychrometer. 10

5. What is Dulong and Petit's formula for the velocity of cooling by radiation in vacuo, and how was it obtained? How should it be modified if the hot body be cooling in air or any other gas? 10

6. If a body be surrounded by a series of concentric envelopes, which are diathermanous, but possess a certain reflecting power for heat rays, how will its rate of cooling be affected? Apply your answer to the case of the earth, and its atmosphere. 6

7. State generally the law of the conservation of energy, and apply it to a case where heat is added to a solid body, which expands, and gradually softens as the temperature rises. 8

8. What is the form of the isothermal lines of a perfect gas, and how do those of an actual gas differ from them? Define isentropic or adiabatic lines and show that they must intersect the isothermals. 10

9. Show that in any closed reversible cycle $\int \frac{dH}{T} = 0$. 15

From this derive a statement of the second law of thermodynamics.

10. Describe Rankine's method of determining the specific heat of gases at constant volume. Show that the observation of the velocity of sound through a gas affords a means of finding this specific heat more exactly. 15

ELECTRICITY AND MAGNETISM.

Examiner—MR. S. A. HILL.

1. How is the law of inverse squares in Magnetism verified? 12
Assuming this law, find a general expression for the magnitude and direction of the resultant force at any point in the field near a short magnet, and show that if two points be taken at equal distances from the centre, one on the prolongation of the axis, and the other on the equatorial plane, the force at the former will be twice as great as at the latter.
 2. What is meant by potential? Find the magnetic 6 potential at any point in the vicinity of a uniformly magnetised bar.
 3. Show how to determine the intensity of the earth's mag- 12 netic field in absolute units. From your final formula deduce the dimensions of the units in which this intensity is measured.
 4. Describe the action of the common plate machine for the 10 generation of electricity, explaining fully the action of each part. What determines the maximum potential of the prime conductor?
 5. Show that the tendency of the electricity to escape from 8 the surface of a charged conductor at any point is proportional to the square of the density at that point.
 6. What is an electric image? Apply the theory of images 12 to the calculation of the capacity of a telegraph wire of given length and diameter, when insulated at a given height above the level surface of the ground.
 7. Draw a diagram illustrating, on the contact theory, the 8 distribution of potential in a Daniell cell when the plates are joined by a platinum wire equal in resistance to the cell the zinc plate at the same time being connected with the ground.
 8. Describe three methods of determining the electromotive 10 force of a battery, pointing out which is best and why it is best.
 9. How was voltaic induction discovered? Upon what does 10 the strength of an induced current depend, and how are the theoretical principles applied in any modern machine?
 10. From the following experimental data calculate the 12 electromotive force of a Daniell element
 - 1 gram of Copper burnt in oxygen yields 603 thermal units
 - 1 gram of zinc burnt in oxygen yields 1330 thermal units.
 - 1 gram of Copper oxide (CuO) dissolved in sulphuric acid (H_2SO_4). yields 194 thermal units.
 - 1 gram of zinc oxide (ZnO) dissolved in sulphuric acid (H_2SO_4) yields 258 thermal units.
 - 1 unit of electricity, when passed through dilute Sulphuric acid, decomposes .00092 gram of water.
 Joule's equivalent = 41.55 megalergs.

BOTANY.

Examiner—MR. L. BRACE.

1. (a.) Define the terms Syngenesious and Gynandrous enumerating the natural orders to which they are applicable.

(b). Describe the several kinds of Vernation and Venation, giving examples of each form.

2. What are Carnivorous plants? Describe their specialized organs, the object of their peculiar habit, and the Orders in which they occur.

3. In what Geological formation did Angiospermous plants first appear, and in which did they predominate?

4. (a). Enumerate the characteristic orders of the Eocene Flora of Europe.

(b). State whether the Genera in which the Eocene species are included, now exist and where?

5. Is Chlorophyll essential to plants? Fully support your reply.

6. What are the analogues of the Macrospore and Microspore of Cryptogamy in the Phanerogamia?

7. Distinguish Amaryllidæ from Liliaceæ, and the former from Iridæ.

8. What are the chief external influences that act upon plants?

9. Describe the specimens A and B.

BOTANY.

Examiner—MR. L. BRACE.

1. Define a Lichen. Give its structure and life History.

2. How is the anomalous plan of the flowers of Cruciferæ accounted for?

3. What is proliferation? Give instances of its normal and abnormal occurrence.

4. What is meant in Botanical language by a Root? State in what plants it is present or absent, and give examples.

5. Describe fully the development of the embryo of Phanerogamous plants.

6. Diagnose the natural order Moringaceæ state the orders in the neighbourhood of which it is classed by Lindley and others; and mention an Indian species included in it.

7. Define the terms Zygomorphic, Rephum, Retinaculum, Letical, Enation and Disk, giving examples.

8. From what data is the presence of Coniferæ and the higher Cryptogams in coal deduced?

9. Describe the two specimens A and B.

BOTANY.

Examiner—MR. L. BRACE.

1. Speaking generally of what species is an insular Flora composed.

2. What is a vegeto-alkaloid? Give the chief peculiarities of the group.

3. What influence has altitude and latitude on vegetation?

4. Define the following substances, and state how, and from what, they are obtained.

Mannite, Acetic Acid, Pectin.

5. Enumerate the principal Vital Phenomena of plants, and give a short account of them.

6. How is sucrose prepared? Define it and explain the object of the successive steps in the operation

7. What is the theory of natural selection?

8. Describe the various modes by means of which, the cross-fertilization of flowers is secured.

MENTAL PHILOSOPHY.

Examiner—MR. A. THOMSON.

1. What are the chief points of distinction between Philosophy and Science? Compare the province of Philosophy with that of (a) Psychology (b) Metaphysics, and (c) Ontology.

2. Define consciousness and discuss its relation to other forms of mental activity.

3. "English Philosophy is characteristically individual and analytic in its method. Explain and illustrate this proposition.

4. Locke holds that all knowledge springs either from Sensation or Reflection, define these terms as Locke uses them. It has been said that reflection implies sensation which must therefore be considered the sole source of knowledge. Examine this view.

5. What are the general laws distinguished by Sir W. Hamilton as those of Repetition and Dedintegration. Give an example of each.

6. What modifications in the common views regarding the relation of Cause to Effect do you consider to have become necessary by the establishment of the Law of the Conservation of Energy?

7. One party says: we can know phenomena, not nonmena. Another says: if we cannot know nonmena they have for us no existence and the phenomena are The Thing in itself. A third says: from the first proposition itself we see that not only the existence but also certain limits of nonmena are known and we must therefore seek a higher unity that will include both phenomena and nonmena. Examine these three doctrines briefly and defend the one you consider most correct.

8. Discuss the modes in which one generation of human beings may influence the character and happiness of future generations.

MORAL PHILOSOPHY.

Examiner—DR. A. F. RUDOLF HOERNLE.

1. "The leading controversy of morals is centered in the question of the Ethical standard." Explain the various positions taken up by different controversialists and discuss fully the question as to what sort of evidence the Ethical standard is capable of.

2. "Morality in its essential parts is eternal and immutable, in other parts, it varies with custom." Distinguish those two portions of morality; what are the grounds for making the distinction; state and discuss the various views that have been held regarding it.

3. Describe and compare the ethical doctrine of Aristotle and Plato and trace the influence of their doctrines in the Ethics of the Schoolmen.

4. Explain the meaning of the question whether the moral faculty is simple or complex. Review the arguments on both sides, and state the replies of the principal English moralists regarding it.

5. Examine the modern controversy regarding the question of the freedom of the human will. In what respect is this a question concerning Ethics? How far is it correct to say that this controversy is essentially a mere dispute about words?

6 State and estimate the argument for the modern utilitarian and evolutionist systems of morality.

LOGIC.

Examiner—MR. A. THOMSON.

1. Compare the views of the province of Logic given by (a) Sir W. Hamilton and (b) Mr. J. S. Mill.

2. Name the Aristotelian categories. What is their value as a classification of Predicables? Mention some of the modern attempts to improve this classification.

3. "Concepts and judgments are not the results of different mental operations." Explain and illustrate this proposition.

4. What is the use of Reduction? Exemplify both kinds by reducing the two following syllogisms:—

(a). Some magistrates are not strong men, but all magistrates have to preserve peace and order. Therefore some have to preserve peace and order who are not strong men.

(b). All works of history must contain more or less of error, though some of them are written with great ability. Therefore some works written with great ability are not altogether trustworthy.

5. Distinguish Analogy and Example, Hypothesis and Theory, Perfect and Imperfect induction.

6. Are Deductive and Inductive Logic to be considered two branches of one Science; or should we consider Deductive Logic a science and Inductive Logic merely a Method of Investigation?

7. Give an account of Bacon's "Idola." How far can they be considered a complete account of Inductive Fallacies?

8. Examine the position that Axioms are merely generalizations from experience.

9. Give a short account of Comte's classification of the Sciences, and estimate its value.

HISTORY OF PHILOSOPHY.

Examiner—MR. A. THOMSON.

1. Mention the chief Sophists; give a short account of their teachings and discuss their influence upon Greek thought, are the sophists to be considered a "School of Philosophy," or only a body of teachers of the liberal arts?

2. What were the distinguishing features of the Stoic Philosophy? What circumstances led to its wide acceptance among the Romans, and what influence did it have upon their character?

3. What were the causes of the transition from the Scholastic to Modern Philosophy? It has been said that the teachings of the Schoolmen were not Philosophy at all—why?

4. Give an account of the life and philosophy of one of the following: (a) Adam Smith, (b) Leibnitz, (c) Spinoza.

5. Trace the history of the Utilitarian Theory of Morals during the last two centuries. Mention the changes introduced into this Theory by Mr. J. S. Mill and discuss their value.

6. Write a historical note on the various modifications of the Theory of Causation which have been proposed from the time of Hume to the present day.

EVIDENCES OF CHRISTIANITY.

Examiner—DR. A. F. RUDOLF HOERNLE.

1. What is the usual classification of the evidences of Christianity? Give an outline of each class.

2. State and estimate the nature and value of the evidences derived from the Miracles and Prophecies recorded in the Bible; having special regard to the following points:

a. Their possibility, a priori

b. Their credibility, a posteriori.

c. Their contrast with similar evidence in favour of Hinduism and Muhammadanism.

3. Review briefly Butler's and Paley's arguments in favour of Christianity. In what respects do their arguments fail to meet modern scientific and philosophical objections, and how may the latter be answered?

4. "The blood of the martyrs is the seed of the church." Whose saying is this? Explain its meaning, and prove its truth from the history of early Christianity. Estimate the value of the fact, expressed by it, as an evidence of the truth of Christianity.

5. Prove the truth of the Christian Religion from the character and teaching of its Founder, as contrasted with the character and teaching of the founders of other religions, especially the Buddhist.

6. State and discuss the principal objections to the authenticity and genuineness of the Pentateuch. Review those put forward by Dr. Colenso.

NATURAL THEOLOGY.

Examiner—DR. F. F. RUDOLF HOERNLE.

1. Examine the arguments pro and contra the questions "whether Religion is natural to man," and "whether it is necessary for his well being." Mention some of the great names on either side of the controversy.

2. State and discuss the principal arguments commonly advanced to prove the existence of God. Review Kant's treatment of them.

3. State and discuss the various ways in which different natural theological systems have attempted to solve the problems connected with the moral government of the world and the immortality of man. Review Butler's treatment of these problems in his Analogy.

4. Explain the terms Fetichism and Henotheism, and the systems denoted by them. It has recently been maintained that the primitive form of religion is not Fetichism but Henotheism. By whom has this been maintained, and on what grounds? In what relation are Polytheism and Monotheism said to stand to Henotheism?

5. Give some account of the Rationalism of Kant, the Pantheism of Spinoza and Hegel, and the Pessimism of Schopenhauer. Mention any analogous systems, from the religious history of India.

6. Give some account of the Asiatic theological systems known as Shamanism, Zoroastrianism, Buddhism and Confucianism.

ALGEBRA, TRIGONOMETRY AND CONICS.

Examiner—MR. J. A. MARTIN, B. A.

1. When is an infinite series said to be convergent or divergent?

If $f(x)$ be positive for all positive integral values of x and continually diminish as x increases, the two series

$$f(1) + f(2) + f(3) + &c.$$

$f(1) + mf(m) + m^2f(m^2) + &c.$ (m being any positive integer), are both convergent or both divergent.

2. If n be a prime number $1 + \frac{n-1}{2}$ is a multiple of n . If n be prime and also of the form $2^r + 1$ where r is any integer, shew that where $P_m =$ product of all odd numbers less than $\frac{n-1}{2^m}$.

$$1 + 2^n - 2 P_0. P_1. P_2. \dots P_{r-1} \text{ is a multiple of } n;$$

3. If an equation $f(x) = 0$ have two equal roots, the equation $f'(x) = 0$ has one root equal to either of them.

If the equation $ax^3 + 3bx^2 + 3cx + d = 0$ have two equal roots, each of them is equal to $\frac{1}{2} \cdot \frac{bc - ad}{ac - b^2}$.

4. Investigate a method of finding the commensurable roots of an equation which has integral co-efficients and in which the co-efficient of the highest power of x is unity.

Apply the method to find the commensurable roots of $$x^5 - 3x^4 - x^3 + 3x^2 - 12x + 36 = 0.$$

5. Prove that the quantity e is incommensurable.

Shew also that it is not a root of a quadratic equation with integral co-efficients.

6. Prove that in general the change of the tabular logarithmic sine of an angle is approximately proportional to the change of the angle.

How does the approximation fail when the angle is very small? Discuss Delambre's method of obviating the difficulty.

7. Assuming DeMoivre's theorem for a positive integral index, prove it for a negative and for a fractional index.

Shew how all the values of the expression $(\cos \theta + \sqrt{-1} \sin \theta)^{\frac{p}{q}}$ may be obtained.

8. Find the area of a triangle in terms of the polar co-ordinates of its angular points.

Hence find the equation of the straight line drawn through (r_3, θ_3) parallel to the line joining (r_1, θ_1) and (r_2, θ_2) .

9. Define the eccentric angle in an ellipse. Shew that the equation to the chord joining the points whose eccentric angles are ϕ, ϕ^1 , is

$$\frac{x}{a} \cos \frac{\phi + \phi^1}{2} + \frac{y}{b} \sin \frac{\phi + \phi^1}{2} = \cos \frac{\phi - \phi^1}{2}.$$

10. Find the condition that the straight lines

$$ax + by + c = 0, a_1x + b_1y + c_1 = 0$$ may be perpendicular; the axes being any whatever.

Prove that two confocal conics cut each other orthogonally.

11. Find the equation of any conic inscribed in the fundamental triangle: and find the co-ordinates of its centre.

PURE MATHEMATICS.

Examiner—MR. J. A. MARTIN, B. A.

1. If any integer be expressed in a scale whose radix is odd, shew that the number is odd or even according as the sum of its digits is odd or even.

$$\begin{aligned} 2. \text{ Prove that } & \frac{1}{a} - \frac{1}{ab} + \frac{1}{abc} - \dots + \frac{1}{a b c \dots j k} \\ &= \frac{1}{a +} \frac{a}{b - 1 +} \frac{b}{c - 1 +} \frac{c}{a - 1 +} \dots \frac{j}{k - 1}. \end{aligned}$$

Hence find the value of $$\frac{1}{r + 1} - \frac{1}{(r + 1)(r + 2)} + \frac{1}{(r + 1)(r + 2)(r + 3)}$$

— &c. to ∞ .

3. Solve by Cardan's method the equation

$$63x^3 + 15x^2 - 4 = 0.$$

4. If $x^2 = px + q$, prove that

$$x^n = \frac{a^n - b^n}{a - b} \cdot x + q \frac{a^{n-1} - b^{n-1}}{a - b}; \text{ where } a + b = p; ab = -q.$$

5. If the sines of the angles of a triangle be in A. P., the tangents of the half angles are in H. P.

6. Interpret the equations;—

$$(i.) \quad 4x^2y^2 - (x^2 + y^2 - c^2)^2 = 0.$$

$$(ii.) \quad (r - \alpha)^2 (\theta - \alpha)^2 + (r - \beta)^2 (\theta - \beta)^2 = 0.$$

$$(iii.) \quad l\alpha^2 + m\beta^2 + n\gamma^2 = 0.$$

Find the area contained by the lines represented by (i).

7. Find the focus of the parabola $\sqrt{\frac{x}{h}} + \sqrt{\frac{y}{k}} = 1$.

8. An ellipse touches the sides of the triangle of reference and one focus lies on a fixed straight line. Find the locus of the other focus.

9. A man walks up a hemispherical hill in such a manner that his path is always inclined at a constant angle to the horizon; find the highest point he can reach and the length of his path.

10. If from any external point, P, two tangents of length t, t^1 , be drawn to a plane oval curve, and θ be the angle between them prove that $\iint \frac{d\sigma \sin \theta}{t t^1} = 2\pi^2$; where $d\sigma$ is the elementary area contained by the tangents from P and from a neighbouring point, and the integration extends to all points in the plane outside the curve.

11. In the expansion by Taylor's theorem

$$f(x + h) = f(x) + hf'(x) + \frac{h^2}{2!}f''(x) + \dots + \frac{h^n}{n!}f^{(n)}(x + \theta h),$$

Shew that the limiting value of θ is $\frac{1}{n+1}$; and if $f(x)$ be algebraic and of $(n+1)$ dimensions, then $\theta = \frac{1}{n+1}$.

12. Find the values of

$$\int \frac{\sin \theta d\theta}{\sqrt{1 + \sin \theta}} \text{ and } \int_0^{2\alpha} x \operatorname{vers}^{-1} \frac{x}{\alpha} dx :$$ and deduce from the general formula the value of $\int x^{-1} dx :$

DIFFERENTIAL CALCULUS, INTEGRAL CALCULUS, AND GEOMETRY OF THREE DIMENSIONS.

Examiner—DR. H. W. M'CANN.

1. Give a geometrical proof of the theorem

$$F(x + h) - F(x) = h F'(x + \theta h),$$

where $F(x)$ is a function of x which is continuous between the values x and $x + h$ of the variable x , and θ is a proper fraction.

Hence deduce Taylor's theorem.

2. Change the independent variables

(i) from x to θ in $x^2 \frac{d^2y}{dx^2} + ax \frac{dy}{dx} + by = 0$, where $x = e\theta$.

(ii) from x, y, z , to θ, ϕ, r in $\frac{d^2v}{dx^2} + \frac{d^2v}{dy^2} + \frac{d^2v}{dz^2} = 0$,

$$\begin{aligned} x &= r \sin \theta \cos \phi \\ y &= r \sin \theta \sin \phi \\ z &= r \cos \theta. \end{aligned}$$

3. Prove that when a function of one variable has a maximum or a minimum value, the differential co-efficient of the function with respect to the variable vanishes or is infinite. Is the converse of this proposition true?

AOB, COD, are two diameters of a circle at right angles to each other; a chord AE drawn through A cuts CB in F. Find the maximum value of EF for all positions of the chord AE.

4. Establish a method of finding the rectilinear asymptotes of an algebraic curve.

Prove that the three points in which the asymptotes of a cubic curve meet the curve lie on a straight line: and find the condition that the three asymptotes of a cubic whose equation is given in its most general form should pass through a common point.

5. Find the value of the integrals.

$$\int \frac{dx}{a + b \sin x}, \quad \int x \sin x \, dx, \quad \int \sin^3 \theta \cos^2 \theta \, d\theta,$$

$$\int_0^{\frac{\pi}{2}} \sin \theta \tan^{-1}(\sin \theta) \, d\theta.$$

6. What is meant by a "formula of reduction"? Find formulæ of reduction for

$$\int_0^{2a} x^m \sqrt{2ax - x^2} \, dx \quad \text{and} \quad \int x^n (a^2 - x^2)^{-\frac{1}{2}} \, dx.$$

7. Show how to find the area of a curve using polar co-ordinates.

Find the area enclosed between two given radii vectores, and two successive branches of the curve $r = a \theta e^{b \theta}$.

8. Differentiate $\int_a^b \phi(x, c) dx$ with respect to c , when both a, b , are functions of c ; and illustrate by means of a figure.

9. Find the equation of the straight line on which the shortest distance between the lines

$$\frac{x-a}{l} = \frac{y-\beta}{m} = \frac{z-\gamma}{n}, \text{ and } \frac{x-d}{l'} = \frac{y-\beta'}{m'} = \frac{z-\gamma'}{n'},$$ lies, and find the length of this shortest distance.

10. Investigate the form of the surface $\frac{y^2}{l} - \frac{z^2}{l'} = x$.

Find the angle between the two generating lines to this surface which pass through the point (a, b, c) .

11. Find the condition that the general equation of the second degree

$$Ax^2 + By^2 + Cz^2 + 2A'yz + 2B'xy + 2C'xy + A''x + 2B''y + 2C''z + F = 0$$ may represent an elliptic or hyperbolic paraboloid.

12. Define the radii of absolute and spherical curvature of a curve in space, and if ρ, R , be these radii, ϕ , the inclination of R to the osculating plane, show that $\rho = R \cos \phi$.

Find the radius of absolute curvature of the helix

$$x = a \cos \theta, y = a \sin \theta, z = c \theta.$$

STATICS, HYDROMECHANICS AND OPTICS.

Examiner—MR. J. A. MARTIN, B. A.

1. The algebraical sum of the moments of any number of forces in one plane with respect to any point in their plane is equal to the moment of their resultant about the same point.

If six forces acting on a body be completely represented, 3 by the sides of a triangle taken in order, and 3 by four times the sides of the triangle whose angles are at the middle points of the first triangle, prove that they will be in equilibrium if the parallel forces act in the same direction.

2. Find the conditions of equilibrium of a particle constrained to remain on a smooth curve whose polar equation is given, the particle being acted on by forces along and perpendicular to the radius vector.

A smooth particle is placed inside a surface of revolution of which the axis is vertical, and is acted on by a force from a fixed point in the axis, equal to its own weight. Find the form of the surface that the particle may be everywhere in equilibrium.

3. Find the C. G. of an arc of a plane curve whose equation is given in polar co-ordinates.

Find the C. G. of the whole boundary of the curve whose equation is $r = \frac{a}{2} (1 + \cos \theta)$.

4. Find the attraction of a uniform straight line upon an external point.

Shew that a particle at the centre of the inscribed circle of a triangle will be in equilibrium under the attraction of the three sides.

5. Determine the conditions of equilibrium of a mass of fluid acted upon by any forces.

A given volume, V , of homogeneous fluid not subject to gravity is at rest between two parallel planes under an attraction to a fixed straight line perpendicular to the planes; if the attraction vary inversely as the distance from the line, and the distance apart of the planes be $\frac{V}{\pi c^2}$, find the free surface and the whole pressure on either plane.

6. Define the centre of pressure of a surface immersed in fluid.

Find the centre of pressure of a triangle immersed in a homogeneous fluid with its base in the surface. Deduce that of a triangle having its vertex in the surface, but its base in any position.

7. If r_1, r_2 be the principal radii of curvature at any point of a vessel containing fluid; t_1, t_2 the tensions in the corresponding sections, and p the pressure at the point, prove that

$$p = \frac{t_1}{r_1} + \frac{t_2}{r_2}.$$

If the surface be a surface of revolution, prove also that $t_2 = \frac{d}{dy} (yt_1)$; t_1 being the tension along the meridian, t_2 that perpendicular to the meridian, and y the ordinate of the point.

8. Shew how to calculate the illumination at any point of a surface illuminated by a given surface of uniform brightness.

A luminous hemisphere of radius a is placed with its plane base upon a horizontal plane. Find the illumination at any point of the plane.

9. Investigate the equation of the path of a ray which passes through a medium of variable density which is symmetrical about the plane in which the ray lies.

Obtain the polar equation of the path in the form

$$\frac{1}{\rho} = \frac{d \log \mu}{r d\theta} \cdot \frac{dr}{ds} - \frac{d \log \mu}{dr} \cdot \frac{rd\theta}{ds}.$$ where ρ is the rad. of curv. of the path at the point considered.

10. Find the geometrical focus of a pencil of rays after direct refraction at a spherical surface. Deduce the formula for the case of reflection.

A narrow mirror is formed in the shape of the catenary $y =$

$$\frac{c}{2} \left(\epsilon^{\frac{x}{c}} + \epsilon^{-\frac{x}{c}} \right). \text{ Shew that the image, formed by the geometrical}$$

foci of the different points of the axis of x , is the curve whose equation is

$$x = \frac{3a}{4} \log \frac{y + \sqrt{y^2 - a^2}}{a} - \frac{y \sqrt{y^2 - a^2}}{4a}$$

where $a = \frac{4c}{3}$

DYNAMICS OF A PARTICLE, SPHERICAL TRIGONOMETRY AND ASTRONOMY.

Examiner—DR. H. W. M'CANN.

1. Show by a geometrical method that there are in general two directions in which a particle may be projected from a given point with a given velocity so as to pass through another given point

Find also the envelope of all the trajectories from a given point with a given velocity for different directions of projection.

2. If P be the force to a fixed centre under which a particle can describe a given orbit, r the radius vector to any point of the orbit, p the perpendicular on the tangent at that point, then

$$P = \frac{h^2}{p^3} \cdot \frac{dp}{dr}.$$

Prove that the force to the pole under which the pedal of the same curve can be described is

3. Define the "hodograph" of a particle moving in any path, and prove that the velocity in the hodograph is equal to the acceleration of the particle at the corresponding point of its path.

The hodograph of a particle describing an ellipse under a force to the focus is the auxiliary circle: prove from this that the force varies inversely as the square of the radius vector.

4. A particle acted on by no forces is projected in a resisting medium of uniform density whose resistance varies as the n th power of the velocity: determine the motion and discuss the case where $n = 1$.

Prove that the rectilinear motion of a point subject to an attraction to a fixed point varying as the distance from that point and a resistance proportional to the velocity is the component parallel to a fixed line of the motion of another point describing an equiangular spiral with uniform velocity.

5. Prove that in any spherical triangle

$$\cos a = \cos b \cos c + \sin b \sin c \cos A.$$

Hence deduce a formula connecting the sides a, c , with the angles B, C .

6. Let O be a fixed point on a sphere, OX a fixed great circle. If P be another point, and $OP = \theta$, $POX = \phi$, find a relation between θ and ϕ in order that P may lie on a great circle of the sphere.

Hence find the locus of points from which the tangents to two small circles on the sphere are equal.

7. Show how to determine the collimation error in the Transit instrument by means of two collimators.

8. Give Flamsteed's method of determining the position of the first point of Aries.

State clearly why this method, which is only approximate, is preferred in practice to the other method which is exact.

9. Find expressions for the change in the Right Ascension, and in the Declination, of a star due to the motion of Precession. Hence show that if there be no precession in Right Ascension, the arcs of great circles joining the star to the poles of the Equator and of the Ecliptic respectively are at right angles.

10. Find the "elongation" of the planet Venus at the time when she appears brightest as seen from the earth.

Show how to find how often an inferior planet changes from progreding to regreding as seen from a superior planet in one revolution of the superior planet round the sun.

PROBLEMS IN MIXED MATHEMATICS.

Examiner—DR. H. W. M'CANN.

1. Prove that in the lemniscate of Bernoulli the centre of gravity of any arc measured from the node lies on the radius vector bisecting the angle between the radii vectores to the ends of the arc.

2. A string hangs between two points A and B , of which A is the lower, in the form of part of the curve $r = ae^{\theta \cot a}$, the radius vector to A being the initial line: show that the density at any point varies inversely as $r \cos^2 \theta$.

3. A heavy elastic string, uniform when unstretched, is attached to two points A, B , in the same horizontal line, whose distance apart, $2a$, is equal to the unstretched length of the string, and hangs freely under gravity: the modulus of elasticity is half the weight of the string: s and c are the lengths from the vertex and the constant of a catenary through A, B , equally inclined to the horizon at these points with the string: prove that the stretched length of the string is

4. An open cylindrical vessel contains a given volume of water, v , which rotates with a given constant angular velocity, ω , about the axis of the cylinder which is vertical. Show that, if the water cover the base of the cylinder and none of the water overflow the side of the cylinder, the whole pressure of the water on the curved surface with which it is in contact will be greatest when the radius of the cylinder is given by $5\pi \omega^2 r^4 = 12 gv$.

5. If the pressure of the air varied as the n th power of the density, prove that the height of the atmosphere would be $\frac{n}{n-1}$ times the height of the homogeneous atmosphere, neglecting variations of gravity and temperature.

6. Taking the formula $p = k\rho T$ as connecting the pressure, p , the density, ρ , and the absolute temperature, T , of dry air, prove that if p be the pressure of a mixture of dry air and water vapour, ρ the density of the mixture, f the pressure of the contained water vapour alone, ϵ , the ratio of the density of air to the density of water vapour under the same conditions of temperature and pressure, then $p = k\rho T'$, where

$$T' = \frac{T}{1 - \frac{\epsilon - 1}{\epsilon} \cdot \frac{f}{p}}.$$

7. Two equal beads slide on a smooth elliptic wire, and are connected by a string which passes round a peg at one focus, the length of the string being equal to the major axis of the ellipse: the beads are on opposite sides of the major axis and are acted on by an attractive force to the other focus varying directly as the distance. Prove that the tension of the string is constant throughout the motion.

8. The interior of an elliptic ring is a perfect reflector and an origin of light is placed at the focus S . Show that if θ_n be the angle between the line from S to the point of the n th reflection and the nearer end of the major axis, then and hence show that after an infinite number of reflections the ray tends towards the axis major.

9. A person moves on the earth so that the sun's azimuth and the Greenwich sidereal time at sunrise remain constant. Show that the great circle from his position on any morning to a certain point on the Arctic Circle makes a constant angle with his meridian.

10. Prove that on the day of the vernal equinox, at a place in latitude 60° , sunset is about $4\frac{1}{2}$ minutes later at an elevation of 1000 feet than at the sea-level.

(c). We conclude therefore that rhetoric can no more be charged with the colouring of the worst part than logic with sophistry or morality with vice. For we know the doctrines are the same, though the use be opposite. It appeareth also logic differeth from rhetoric, not only as the fist from the palm, the one close, the other at large ; but much more in this that logic handleth reason exact and in truth and rhetoric handleth it as it is planted in popular opinions and manners. And therefore Aristotlo doth wisely place rhetoric as between logic on the side and moral or civil knowledge on the other, as participating of both ; for the proofs and demonstrations of logic are toward all men indifferent and the same ; but the proofs and persuasions of rhetoric ought to differ according to the auditors :

This is no new thing never heard of before for a parochial minister who has his reward and is at his Hercules' pillars in a warm benefice, to be easily inclinable, if he have nothing else that may rouse up his studies to finish his circuit in an English Concordance and a topic folio, the gatherings and savings of a sober graduatship, a Harmony and a Catena, treading the constant round of certain common doctrinall heads, attended with their uses, motives, marks, and means, out of which as out of an alphabet or solfa by forming and transforming, joyning and disjoyning variously a little book-craft, and two hours meditation might furnish him unspeakably to the performance of more than a weekly charge of sermoning, not to reck'n up the infinit helps of Interlinearies, breviaries, synopses, and other loitering gear.

1. Explain, stating in each case the poem from which the extract is taken.

- (a). Thy genius calls thee not to purchase fame

In keen Iambics but mild Anagram.

Leave writing plays and chose for thy command

Some peacefull province in Acrostic land,

There thou mayst wings display and altars raise

And torture one poor word ten thousand ways.

- (b). The frame thereof seemd partly circulare,

And part triangulare, O work divine;

These two the first and last proportions are,

The one imperfect, mortall, fæminine,

Th' other immortal, perfect, masculine;

And 'twixt them both a quadrate was the base,

Proportiond equally by seven and nine;

Nine was the circle set in heaven's place;

All which compacted made a goodly Dyapase.

- (c). Teach me to woo thee by thy best-loved name!
 Whether the style of Grildrig please thee most,
 So called on Brobdingnag's stupendous coast
 Or Quinbus Flestrin more endearment brings;
 When like a mountain you looked down on kings;
 If ducal Nardac, Lilliputian Peer
 Or Glumglum's humbler title suits thine ear.
- (d). Behold where Dryden's more presumptuous car
 Wide o'er the fields of glory bear
 Two coursers of ethereal race
 With necks in thunder cloathd and long-resounding pace.
- (e). We are puppets, Man in his pride, and Beauty fair in her flower;
 Do we move ourselves or are moved by an unseen hand at the game
 That pushes us off from the board and ever others succeed?
 Ah yct, we cannot be kind to each other here for an hour;
 We whisper, and hint, and chuckle, and grin at a brother's

 However we brazen it out, we men are a little breed.

2. "God the Father turns a School Divine."

Explain the above sarcasm and show how the Paradise Lost reflects both the higher and the narrower qualities of the Puritan temper.

3. Mention some of the principal writers of sonnets in English, noting their different arrangements of the rhymes. Give the characteristics of both style and subject of the Sonnets of Milton, Wordsworth and Mrs. Browning.

4. Show how far Shelley's View of Nature agreed with that of Wordsworth and wherein they differed. What is the signification of the phrase "Cor Cordium" inscribed on Shelley's tomb?

5. Explain the references in

Ant. Ay, Sir ; where lies that ? if 'twere a kibe
 'Twould put me to my slipper ; but I feel not
 This deity in my bosom ; twenty consciences
 That stand 'twixt me and Milan, candied be they
 And melt ere they molest ! Here lies your brother,
 No better than the earth he lies upon,
 If he were that which now he's like, that's dead ;
 Whom I with this obedient steel, three inches of it,
 Can lay to bed for ever ; whiles you, doing thus,
 To the perpetual wink for aye might put
 This ancient morsel, this Sir Prudence, who Should not upbraid our course. For all the rest,
 They'll take suggestion as a cat laps milk,
 They'll tell the clock to any business that
 We say befits the hour.

(b). Laun. Father, in. I cannot get a service, no ; I have ne'er a tongue in my head. Well, if any man in Italy have a fairer table, which doth offer to swear upon a book, I shall have good fortune. Go to, here's a simple line of life ; here's a small trifle of wives ; alas, fifteen wives is nothing, eleven widows and nine maids is a simple coming in for one man : then to scape drowning thrice and to be in peril of my life with the edge of a feather-bed, here are simple scapes. Well, if fortune be a woman, she's a good wench for this gear.

(c). Brut. The abuse of greatness is, when it disjoins Remorse from power ; and to speak truth of Cæsar, I have not known when his affections swayed More than his reason. But 'tis a common proof, That lowliness is young Ambition's ladder, Whereto the climber—upward turns his face ; But when he once attains the upmost round, He then unto the ladder turns his back, Looks in the clouds, scorning the base degrees By which he did ascend. So Cæsar may.

Then lest he may, prevent. And since the quarrel
Will bear no colour for the thing he is,
Fashion it thus; that what he is, augmented,
Would run to these and these extremities;
And therefore think him as a serpent's egg
Which hatched, would as his kind, grow mischievous,
And kill him in the shell.

(d). Bard. Hold, Wart, traverse; thus, thus, thus.

Fal. Come, manage me your caliver; so, very well: go to: very good: exceeding good. O give me always a little, lean, old, chapt, bald shot. Well said, i' faith, Wart; thou art a good scab: hold, here's a tester for thee.

Shal. He's not his craft's master, he does not do it right. I remember me at Mile-end Green, when I lay at Clement's Inn—I was then Sir Dagonet in Arthur's show—there was a little quiver fellow and a would manage you his piece thus; and 'a would about and about, and come you in and come you in: 'rah, tah, tah' would 'a say; 'bounce' would 'a say, and away again would 'a go and again would 'a come: I shall ne'er see such a fellow.

2. Show how Love's Labour Lost, The Merchant of Venice, Hamlet, and The Tempest represent in subject and form successive stages in the development of Shakspeare's powers and aims.

3. "Euphuism may now be studied in Euphuës and need no longer be ridiculed perfunctorily at second hand on the authority of Shakspeare and of Ben Johnson and Marston or of Sir Walter Scott." Explain the allusions and give the principal characteristics of Euphuism.

4. Construct a glossary of the following words as used by Elizabethan writers:

(b). Thus like the formal Vice, Iniquity,
I moralise two meanings in one word.

(c). They chuse them a ground capitaine of Mischief whom they innoble with the title of "My Lord of Misserule."

(d). For oft in the play of Corpus Christi
He hath played the devyll at Coventry.

Distinguish between an Interlude, a Mask, and a Pageant.

7. Compare Marlowe's Jew of Malta with Shakspeare's Merchant of Venice.

8. Discuss the grounds on which the plays Edward III and The Two Noble Kinsmen are considered to be in part the work of Shakspeare. In which of the plays ordinarily assigned to Shakspeare have traces of another hand been discovered?

(a). What plausible reading suggests itself instead of versura? 2

(b). How much per cent per annum does semuncia represent? What is a heres ex semuncia? Translate into Latin: "I make him sole heir to my property." 6

(c). Give the dates of Caesar's Dictatorship, and of the Duodecim Tabulae. 4

B. Ex his ceterisque lectione dignis auctoribus et verborum sumenda copia est et varietas figurarum, et componendi ratio, tum ad exemplum virtutum omnium mens dirigenda. Neque enim dubitari potest, quin artis pars magna contineatur "imitatione." Nam ut invenire primum fuit, estque praecipuum: sic ea, quae bene inventa sunt, utile sequi. Atque omnis vitae 40 ratio sic constat, ut, quae probamus in aliis, facer ipsi velimus. Sic literarum ductus, ut scribendi fiat usus, pueri sequuntur: sic musici vocem docentium, pictores opera priorum, rustici probatam experimento culturam in exemplum intuentur. Omnis denique disciplinae initia ad propositum sibi praescriptum formari videmus. Et hercule necesse est, aut similes aut dissimiles bonis simus. Similem raro natura praestat, frequenter imitatio. Sed hoc ipsum, quod tanto faciliorem nobis rationem omnium facit, quam fuit iis, qui nihil, quod sequerentur habuerunt, nisi caute et cum iudicio apprehenditur, nocet.

(Quintilian).

(a). Explain what Quintilian means by Imitation as an aid to Oratory. Show how it differs from Invention, which Cicero enumerates as an aid also to Oratory. 5

(b). What is Cicero's view of the relative importance of Oratory and Philosophy? 5

C. Sequitur tertia, quae per omnes partes sapientiae manat et funditur, quae rem definit, genera dispertit, sequentia adiungit, perfecta concludit, vera et falsa dijudicat, disserendi ratio et scientia. Ex qua quum summa utilitas existit ad res ponderandas, tum maxime ingenua delectatio et digna sapientia. Sed haec otii. Transeat idem iste sapiens ad rempublicam tuendam. Quid eo possit esse praestantius quum contineri prudentia utilitatem civium cernat, iustitia nihil in suam domum inde derivet, reliquis utatur tot tam variisque virtutibus? Adjunge fructum amicitiarum: in quo doctis positum est quum consilium omnis vitae consentiens et paene conspirans, tum summa jucunditas e quotidiano cultu atque victu. Quid haec tandem vita desiderat, quo sit beatior? Cui rei, refertae tot tantisque gaudiis, fortuna ipsa cedat necesse est. Quod si audere talibus bonis animi, id est virtutibus, beatum est, omnesque sapientes his gaudiis perfruantur: omnes eos confiteri beatos esse necesse est.

1. Translate into idiomatic Latin Prose :—

(a). Meanwhile Charles, satisfied with the easy and almost bloodless victory which he had gained, and advancing slowly with the precaution necessary in an enemy's country, did not yet know the whole extent of his own good fortune. But at last a messenger, despatched by the slaves, acquainted him with the success of their noble effort for the recovery of their liberty ; and, at the same time, deputies arrived from the town, in order to present him the keys of their gates, and to implore his protection from military violence. While he was deliberating concerning the proper measures for this purpose, the soldiers fearing that they should be deprived of the booty which they had expected, rushed suddenly and without orders, into the town, and began to kill and plunder without distinction. 95

(b). As I walked through the wilderness of this world, I lighted on a certain place where was a den; and I laid me down in that place to sleep; and as I slept, I dreamed a dream. I dreamed; and behold, I saw a man clothed with rags, standing in a certain place, with his face from his own house, a book in his hand, and a great burden upon his back. I looked, and I saw him open the book, and read therein; and as he read, he wept, and trembled; and not being able longer to contain, he brake out with a lamentable cry, saying "What shall I do?"

2. Write an Essay in English on one of the following subjects :— 90

- (a). The System of Roman Agriculture.

MENTAL SCIENCE.

Examiner—DR. P. K. RAY.

1. Carefully distinguish mental phenomena from physical, and describe the method or methods of investigation in the science of Psychology.

2. What is a Sensation? Describe, as minutely as you can, the process of its generation in the case of seeing or of hearing, and inquire thereupon into the relations between the mind and the body of man.

3. What is the Object of Perception? Answer this question as fully as you can both historically and critically, and give your own view with reasons.

4. What is a Concept? Discuss its nature with special reference to the difference of opinion among philosophers.

5. Trace the history of the Laws of Association, and discuss their nature, number, value, and position in a system of Psychology.

6. State and criticise Spencer's view of the External World, and compare it with Brown's and also with Mill's.

7. What is Idealism? Carefully distinguish it from Realism and note its various forms.

LOGIC.

Examiner—DR. P. K. RAY.

1. The Aim and Province of Logic and its Relation to Metaphysics and the special sciences.

2. State the fundamental principles of Logic, and discuss critically their origin, nature, import, number, and position in a system of Logic.

3. State and criticise the various theories of the Import of Propositions, and illustrate each of them, taking, for example, the proposition, "matter gravitates."

4. Discuss critically the question of the function and value of the Syllogism.

5. Determine the position and value of Mill's Inductive or Experimental Methods in a system of Logic.

6. State the aims and objects of scientific classification, and illustrate them from mental science.

7. Define and distinguish the following:—Deductive Logic, Formal Logic, Material Logic, Inductive Logic, Pure Logic, Applied Logic.

HISTORY OF PHILOSOPHY.

Examiner—DR. P. K. RAY.

1. Compare the fundamental doctrines of Des Cartes with those of Reid; and estimate the value of the latter at the present time.

2. Note the most important changes in the doctrines of Empiricism from Locke down to the present time.

3. Give an account of Kant's "Critique of the Pure Reason."

4. What do you consider to be the essential difference between Monism and Dualism? Trace the history of the latter and note its various forms.

5. Trace the history of the Principle of Causality, and give a critical account of its origin, nature, import, and expression, at the present time.

6. Give an account of Hegel's Logic and compare it with Plato's Theory of Ideas.

ETHICS.

Examiner—DR. P. K. RAY.

1. The Aim and Province of Ethics and its relation to Psychology

2. What do you exactly understand by the following terms: the moral faculty, the moral reason, the moral sense, the conscience? Critically discuss the nature and function of what is denoted by them.

3. Carefully define and distinguish the following:—Instinct, Appetite, Desire, Volition, Impulse, Motive, Emotion, Sentiment.

4. The history, various forms, and present position, of Intuitionism.

5. Give a critical account of Utilitarianism as held by John S. Mill.

6. How far is the question of the freedom of the will an essential part of the science of Ethics? Note as clearly as you can the points at issue in that famous controversy.
7. Give an account of Kant's Ethical system.

POLITICAL ECONOMY.

Examiner—MR. J. WILSON.

1. What is the subject matter of Political Economy? Under what heads is it generally treated? What, according to Mill, is the most characteristic quality of Smith's Wealth of Nations? Explain the Mercantile system, and expose its fallacy.
2. Explain fully productive and unproductive labour; and productive and unproductive consumption. What are the requisites of production, according to Mill and Fawcett respectively? Define Capital; and illustrate the propositions (1) that Industry is limited by capital, and (2) that all capital is consumed.
3. Show how the Distribution of Wealth implies the existence of private property. Examine and compare the systems of St. Simon and Fourier. Explain Ricardo's theory of Rent; state the objections that have been made to it, and discuss them.
4. What is meant by the Nationalisation of the Land? What benefits are expected by its advocates to flow from this? Show how this expectation would certainly be disappointed, and point out other evils that would ensue.
5. Explain the nature and object of Trade's Unions. Show what connection, necessary or accidental, exists between them and Strikes. Discuss the economic effect of Strikes, and the various means that have been employed to prevent or put an end to Strikes.
6. Give definitions of Value in Use, Value in Exchange, and Price. Mention as many as you can of the principles of the theory of value, as given by Mill. State which of the two meanings of the phrase, value of money, is that adopted in Political Economy. Show how credit, as a substitute for money, does not create, but only transfer, the means of production; show also how it assists production.
7. Discuss the question in what circumstances it is desirable to defray extraordinary public expenses by loans; and in what manner, if at all, it is desirable to redeem a national debt.

GREECE AND ROME.

Examiner—MR. J. WILSON.

1. Give an account of the misery in Attica which led to the legislation of Solon. Discuss the causes of that misery. Describe the legislation of Solon, and state how we may distinguish the measures really due to him from those that are only attributed to him. How long did his system remain undisturbed?

2. State briefly what is known regarding the person and character of Socrates. Explain what is meant by the Socratic method, and discuss its permanent value. Describe the relation of Socrates to the Sophists, and trace his influence upon the subsequent philosophies. What were his opinions upon ethics and politics ?

3. Give an account of the origin and constitution of the Amphictyonic Council. State what part it took in the Second Sacred War, and the results to which that war led. Describe the great Pan-Hellenic Festivals and their influence upon the national character.

4. Give a general account of the early populations of Italy, and a more particular account of the Etruscans. Relate the legend of the first invasion of the Gauls ; and describe the effects of their invasion and the condition of Rome thereafter.

5. Describe the original constitution and functions of the Comitia Curiata, Comitia Centuriata, and Comitia Tributa respectively ; and explain how these had been modified at the close of the Second Punic War. Give a survey of the condition of the Roman people at the same period, with special reference to slavery, family life, morality and religion.

6. What was the condition of affairs at Rome when Sulla commenced his career ? Give an account of his career, and an estimate of his character. Describe the most important features of the new constitution which he established.

ENGLAND AND INDIA.

Examiner—MR. J. WILSON.

1. Give an account of the origin of Parliaments in England, distinguishing them from the Witenagemote and the Great Council of the Barons. Trace the fluctuating progress of Parliamentary power, and show how the House of Commons now possesses by far the largest share of this power. Describe the provisions of the two Reform Bills of the present century. Discuss the arguments for maintaining the House of Lords.

2. Explain the general causes which led to the Reformation, and narrate its progress in England. Point out the differences by which the Reformation in Scotland was distinguished from that in England.

3. Trace briefly the rise of the English Colonies in America, and state how they were governed. Explain the principles involved in their resistance to taxation by England. Give a short account of their struggle for independence ; and show how the power of England has been affected by their loss.

4. What Greek authors have left any accounts of ancient India ? How far do their accounts agree with those of the Hindoos themselves ? Mention the various points by which it has been possible to identify Chandragupta with Sandracottus. What evidence exists of intercourse in ancient times between India and the West, either for commerce or for knowledge ? Give some account of the intercourse between India and China.

5. Describe the character of Aurungzebe, and give a brief account of his reign, comparing it with that of Louis XIV. Give an account of the fall of the Moghul empire after his death; and show what influence the personal character of Aurungzebe had in bringing this about.

6. Give an account of the origin and character of the Sikh community. Trace the rise of the Sikh power, and describe the state of affairs which led to the Sikh Wars. Describe the system of administration subsequently established in the Punjab.

MODERN EUROPE.

Examiner—MR. J. WILSON.

1. Describe the feudal family, according to Guizot, contrasting it with the patriarchal family and the clan. Explain fully the essential facts or constituent elements of the feudal system. What were its good principles? What inherent faults led to its decline?

2. Give an account of the character, origin, progress, and decline of Chivalry, in Western Europe, comparing it with anything similar elsewhere. Point out its connection with feudal services, and how it was affected by the Crusades. What traces of it still remain?

3. "After the death of Frederic II. the distinctions of Guelf and Ghibelin became destitute of all rational meaning," says Hallam: Explain the origin of these names, and describe the parties to whom they were applied, and their struggles, before the time here indicated. Give an account of the origin and progress of the Republic of Venice, and of its form of government before 1400. Explain and criticise historically Wordsworth's lines on Venice: "Once did she hold the gorgeous East in fee;" and "She was a maiden city, bright and free; No guile seduced, no force could violate."

4. State the moral and social causes which, according to Guizot, led to the Crusades. Considered as a European movement, what were their characteristics? While their object was unattained, and the facilities for attaining it undiminished, show why the Crusades were gradually abandoned. What beneficial effects may be traced to them?

5. Sketch briefly the history of Spain from the conquest of Granada to the treaty of Westphalia; and show how the same cause which led to the greatness of the Spanish empire led also to its decline. Give an account of the Inquisition in Spain.

6. Account for the different effects produced upon the political condition of Germany and of the Scandinavian kingdoms by the Reformation. Trace the origin and development of the modern kingdom of Prussia, giving a more particular account of the reign of Frederick II. What position does Prussia now hold among the nations of Europe?

PURE MATHEMATICS I.

Examiner—MR. W. BOOTH, B. A.

1. If the equation of a conic be $ax^2 + 2hxy + by^2 + 2gx + 2fy + c = 0$ when the axes of coordinates are inclined at an angle ω ; and if its equation be $a^1x^2 + 2h^1xy + b^1y^2 + 2g^1x + 2f^1y + c^1 = 0$ when the axes are inclined at an angle Ω the origin being unchanged;

$$\text{then } \frac{a b - h^2}{c^2 \sin^2 \omega} = \frac{a^1 b^1 - h^1{}^2}{c^1{}^2 \sin^2 \Omega}; \quad \frac{a + b - 2h \cos \omega}{c \sin^2 \omega} = \frac{a^1 + b^1 - 2h^1 \cos \Omega}{c^1 \sin^2 \Omega}.$$

2. Shew how to obtain the equation of the six chords of intersection of two conics.

3. If the equation of a conic be written in the form $\alpha \beta = \gamma^2$ what is the geometrical signification of $\alpha = 0$; $\beta = 0$; $\gamma = 0$; how can the position of a point on the conic be represented by a single variable; how can the equation of a chord joining two given points be written in a simple form?

4. When are the equations

$$\begin{aligned} ax^2 + 2hxy + by^2 &= 0 \\ by^2 + 2fyz + cz^2 &= 0 \\ cz^2 + 2gzx + ax^2 &= 0 \end{aligned}$$ satisfied by the same values of x, y, z ; can you give a geometrical interpretation of the result?

5. When will the pair of points $ax^2 + 2hx + b = 0$ be harmonically conjugate with the pair denoted by $a^1x^2 + 2h^1x + b^1 = 0$.

6. A system of conics passing through four fixed points meets any transversal in a system of points in involution. (a) If three conics circumscribe the same quadrilateral the common tangent to any two is cut harmonically by the third.

7. Find the equation of the shortest line which meets two non-intersecting lines viz;

$$\frac{x - x^1}{\cos \alpha} = \frac{y - y^1}{\cos \beta} = \frac{z - z^1}{\cos \gamma}; \quad \frac{x - x''}{\cos \alpha^1} = \frac{y - y''}{\cos \beta^1} = \frac{z - z''}{\cos \gamma^1}.$$

8. If the equation of a quadric surface $ax^2 + 2hxy + by^2 + 2gxz + 2fyz + cz^2 + 2bx + 2my + 2nz + d = 0$ be reducible to the form $Ax^2 + By^2 + Cz^2 + D = 0$ how is the reduction performed?

9. What are the principal radii of a curvature of a surface at a point? obtain them as the roots of a certain quadratic equation.

10. Find the locus of a point whence three tangent lines mutually at right angles can be drawn to the quadric

11. Find the locus of the foot of the perpendicular dropped from the centre of an ellipsoid on any tangent plane.

PURE MATHEMATICS, II.

Examiner—MR. W. BOOTH.

1. Write an essay on Taylor's Theorem.
2. Explain the method of "Undetermined Multipliers" which is used in the solution of certain problems of maxima and minima.
3. If $u = \phi(x + \alpha t, y + \beta t)$ where x, y, α, β are independent of t and of each other, prove that $\frac{du}{dt} = \alpha \frac{du}{dx} + \beta \frac{du}{dy}$.
4. Find $\frac{dy}{dx}$ and $\frac{dz}{dx}$ where x, y, z are connected by two equations of the form $f(dx_1 y_1 z) = 0, \phi(x, y, z) = 0$.
5. If $\rho_1 \rho_2 \rho_3$ be the distances of a variable point from three fixed points, prove that the inverse of the curve $\alpha\rho_1 + \beta\rho_2 + \gamma\rho_3 = 0$ with respect to any origin is another curve whose equation is of similar form.
6. If $u = \phi(x, y), v = f(x, y)$ when is u a function of v ?
7. The essential object of the Integral Calculus is to effect a summation; develop this statement and throw your remarks into the form of a short essay.
8. Integrate $\cos \alpha x \cos \beta x \cos \gamma x dx$.
9. Integrate $\frac{d\theta}{\sin \theta (a + b \cos \theta)}$.
10. Explain the method of integration by successive reduction; as an example shew how to effect the reduction of

$$\int \frac{d\theta}{(a + b \cos \theta)^n}.$$

11. If $u = \int_a^b \phi(x, \alpha) dx$ where α and b are independent of α find $\frac{du}{d\alpha}$; and hence shew that certain classes of definite integrals may be obtained by differentiation.

12. Find the entire volume enclosed by the surface

$$\left(\frac{x}{a}\right)^{\frac{2}{3}} + \left(\frac{y}{b}\right)^{\frac{2}{3}} + \left(\frac{z}{c}\right)^{\frac{2}{3}} = 1.$$

PURE MATHEMATICS, III.

Examiner—MR. W. BOOTH, B. A.

1. Extract the cube root of 1·001234675876 to three places of decimals.

Explain Horner's method of approximating to the roots of rational algebraic equations with numerical co-efficients.

2. Explain the method by which the co-efficient of x^r in the expansion of

$$(a_0 + a_1 x + a_2 x^2 + a_3 x^3 + \&c)^n \text{ is obtained.}$$

$$\text{Example } x^5 \text{ in } (2 - 2x - x^3 + 3x^4)^{-\frac{1}{6}}$$

3. If n be an integer find the value of

$$\frac{|4|}{|n+2|} \left\{ n^{n+2} - n(n-1)^{n+2} + \frac{n(n-1)}{1.2} (n-2)^{n+2} \right. \\ \left. - \&c. \right\}$$

4. When is a series said to be convergent? Shew that the series $u_1 + u_2 + u_3 + \dots u_r + \dots$ is convergent if after some fixed term u_r the ratio of each term to the preceding is less than a number which is itself less than unity. If a be a whole number then the two series $u_1 + u_2 + u_3 + \&c.$, and $u_1 + a u_a + a^2 u_{a2} + a^3 u_{a3} + \&c.$ are both convergent or both divergent.

$$5. \text{ Prove that } (n+1)^{n-1} < \left\{ \frac{|n|}{| } \right\}^2$$

6. Establish completely the law by which successive convergents to a continued fraction are obtained.

7. State and prove Lermat's and Wilson's Theorems in the Theory of numbers.

(a). If p be a prime number and n not divisible by p shew that $\frac{(p+1)p(p-1)}{n} - n^{\frac{p(p-1)}{p}}$ is divisible by p^3 .

8. Obtain the equation whose roots are the squares of the differences of the roots of $ax^3 + 3bx^2 + 3cx + d = 0$.

(a). Exhibit $ac - b^2$ and $a^2d - 3abc + 2b^3$ in terms of the roots.

9. Explain completely Euler's, Simpson's or Descartes' method of solving the equation $ax^4 + 4bx^3 + 6cx^2 + 4dx + e = 0$, and shew that when the second term is removed from the reducing cubic, in any of these methods, the new cubic will be $y^3 - Ty + 2J = 0$, where I and J are certain functions of the co-efficients, which you are required to exhibit in terms of the roots of the biquadratic, neglecting numerical multipliers.

10. Prove completely that the product of two determinants each of three rows and three columns may be written as a determinant.

(a). Evaluate $\begin{vmatrix} 1 & 2 & 3 & 4 \\ 4 & 1 & 2 & 3 \\ 3 & 4 & 1 & 2 \\ 2 & 3 & 4 & 1 \end{vmatrix}$

(b). Evaluate $\begin{vmatrix} 1 & 2 & 3 & 4 & 5 \\ 5 & 1 & 2 & 3 & 4 \\ 4 & 5 & 1 & 2 & 3 \\ 3 & 4 & 5 & 1 & 2 \\ 2 & 3 & 4 & 5 & 1 \end{vmatrix}$

PURE MATHEMATICS, IV.

Examiner—MR. W. BOOTH, B. A.

1. If there be three points A, B, C , on a right line and a point P outside the line, prove that

$\frac{AP^2}{AB \cdot AC} + \frac{BP^2}{BC \cdot BA} + \frac{CP^2}{CA \cdot CB} = 1$, Also if AP, BP, CP , be produced to A', B', C' , respectively so that $PA \cdot PA' = PB \cdot PB' = PC \cdot PC'$ then

$$\frac{PB' \cdot PC'}{B'A' \cdot C'A'} + \frac{PC' \cdot PA'}{C'B' \cdot A'B'} + \frac{PA' \cdot AB'}{A'C' \cdot B'C'} = 1.$$

2. Describe (geometrically) a circle cutting three given circles orthogonally. If a circle cut another circle orthogonally any diameter of the one is cut harmonically by the other; prove this.

3. Prove Mr. M'Cay's extension of Ptolemy's Theorem, viz., if the four sides of any quadrilateral be a, b, c, d , and the diagonals δ and δ_1 and two opposite angles θ and θ^1 then we have $\delta^2 \delta_1^2 =$

$$(ac + bd)^2 - 4abcd \cos^2 \left(\frac{\theta + \theta^1}{2} \right).$$

CXCIV PREMCHAND ROYCHAND STUDENTSHIP EXAMINATION.

4. Prove that $4 \cos^3 A = 3 \cos A + \cos 3 A$ and that $\cos^9 A = a \cos 9 A + b \cos 7 A + c \cos 5 A + d \cos 3 A + e \cos A$ determining a, b, c, d, e .

$$\text{and } A = \cos^4 \theta + \cos^4 \left(\theta + \frac{2\pi}{3} \right) + \cos^4 \left(\theta + \frac{4\pi}{3} \right)$$

$$\text{determine } \frac{P^2}{Q}.$$

5. If $\cos \theta_1 \cos \theta_2 \cos \theta_3$ be the roots of the equation $a \cos^3 \theta + 3 b \cos^2 \theta + 3 c \cos \theta + d = 0$

$$\text{determine } \tan \frac{\theta_1}{2} \tan \frac{\theta_2}{2} \tan \frac{\theta_3}{2}.$$

6. If $\tan \frac{1}{2} (\psi - \phi) = m \tan \phi$ express $\frac{\sin \psi}{\sin \phi}$ in terms of m and ϕ .

7. Express $\sin \alpha$ as the product of an infinite number of factors, Prove that;

$$\frac{1}{\sin \theta} = \frac{1}{\theta} + \frac{1}{\pi - \theta} - \frac{1}{\pi + \theta} - \frac{1}{2\pi - \theta} + \frac{1}{2\pi + \theta} + \frac{1}{3\pi - \theta} - \&c.$$

8. Prove the formula in Spherical Trigonometry, viz., $\cos c = \cos a \cos b + \sin a \sin b \cos C$.

(a). If ρ and α be two sides θ the included angle of a spherical triangle; ρ_1 being the base prove that $\tan^2 \frac{\rho_1}{2} =$

$$\frac{\tan^2 \frac{\rho}{2} + \tan^2 \frac{\alpha}{2} - 2 \tan \frac{\rho}{2} \tan \frac{\alpha}{2} \cos \theta}{1 + 2 \tan \frac{\rho}{2} \tan \frac{\alpha}{2} \cos \theta + \tan^2 \frac{\rho}{2} \tan^2 \frac{\alpha}{2}}.$$

9. Prove geometrically that the anharmonic ratio of the four points of intersection of four tangents to a conic with a fifth tangent is equal to the anharmonic ratio of the pencil formed by joining the points of contact of the four tangents to the point of contact of the fifth.

10. Prove geometrically that if normals be drawn to an ellipse at the extremities of a focal chord, a line parallel to the axis major through their intersection bisects the chord.

STATICS.

Examiner—MR. W. GRIFFITHS, M. A.

1. A particle is placed upon a smooth surface and is subject to the action of given forces: find the conditions of equilibrium and the direction in which it will begin to move when these conditions are not satisfied.

An ellipsoid $\frac{x^2}{a^2} + \frac{y^2}{b^2} + \frac{z^2}{c^2} = 1$ is fixed with the axis of z vertical; shew that if a heavy particle placed at the point $x y z$ does not rest it will begin to move parallel to the line

$$\frac{a^2 x^1}{x} = \frac{b^2 y^1}{y} = \frac{-z z^1}{c^2 \left(\frac{x^2}{a^4} + \frac{y^2}{b^4} \right)}.$$

2. Define a couple and the axis of a couple, and find the resultant of two couples not acting in the same plane.

3. A wedge is cut from the cylinder $x^2 + y^2 = 2ax$ by two planes which pass through the same tangent line to the base of the cylinder, e.g. $z = x \tan \alpha$, and $z = x \tan \beta$: the centre of gravity of the wedge is given by $x = \frac{5}{4}a$, $y = 0$, $z = \frac{5}{8}a (\tan \alpha + \tan \beta)$.

4. A pulley has a groove cut in it in the form of the letter V, the inclination of the sides being 2α . A cord is passed over the pulley, lying in the groove, and from its ends are suspended weights W_1 and W_2 : prove that the cord will slip unless the ratio $W_1 : W_2$ is between the limits $e^{\mu \pi \operatorname{cosec} \alpha}$ and $e^{-\mu \pi \operatorname{cosec} \alpha}$, where μ is the co-efficient of friction.

5. Enunciate Hooke's law for the extension of an elastic string. An endless elastic string without weight is placed round a smooth fixed pulley in a vertical plane, whose diameter is half the natural length of the string. The lowest point of the string is made fast to the pulley, and to the highest point is attached a heavy particle. Shew that the equilibrium will be neutral, if the weight of the particle be the force necessary, according to Hooke's law, to stretch the string to twice its natural length.

6. If the mass of a string be so distributed that, when it is suspended by its extremities from two points, the tension varies as the density, prove that the form assumed by the string will be represented by the equation $y = c \log \sec \frac{x}{c}$.

Prove that the radius of curvature will vary as the density, and that its projection on the vertical will be of constant length.

7. Find the attraction of a homogeneous spherical shell of small thickness on a particle placed within it.

A tetrahedron is constructed of thin metal; prove that a particle under its attraction would remain at rest if placed at the centre of the inscribed sphere, provided the small thickness of the faces at any point be inversely proportional to the distance from that centre.

8. A rough heavy body rests upon a rough fixed surface; determine the conditions of stable equilibrium, the forms of the surfaces being known.

A heavy hemispherical bowl of radius a containing water rests on a rough inclined plane of angle α ; prove that the ratio of the weight of the bowl to that of the water cannot be less than $\frac{2 \sin \alpha}{\sin \phi - 2 \sin \alpha}$, where $\pi a^2 \cos^2 \phi$ is the area of the surface of the water.

DYNAMICS.

Examiner—MR. W. GRIFFITHS, M. A.

1. A body impinges obliquely on a fixed smooth plane; determine the velocity after impact, the elasticity being imperfect.

Equally elastic heavy particles are projected from the same point with equal velocity in the same vertical plane and impinge on a vertical wall, prove that the vertices of their paths after impact lie on an ellipse.

2. A point moves in a plane curve; determine its component accelerations at any instant along the tangent and normal.

An endless string on which runs a small smooth bead encloses an oval curve, whose length is less than that of the string; the bead is projected in a direction which keeps the string in a state of tension; prove that the velocity of the bead will be constant throughout the motion, and that the tension of the string will vary as the sum of the reciprocals of the free parts of the string.

3. A particle is acted on by a central attraction; determine the polar differential equation of the orbit described.

Prove that at any point of the orbit at which the angle between the tangent and the radius vector to the centre of force is a maximum or minimum, the velocity is the same as in a circle at the same distance.

4. State and prove Newton's Prop. I, Section II.

Prove that the periodic time of a body describing an elliptic orbit under an attraction to a fixed point O within the ellipse is on the polar of O; assuming the acceleration of the body at a distance

$$\frac{2 \pi p_o^{\frac{3}{2}}}{\sqrt{\mu}}, \text{ where } p_o \text{ is the perpendicular from the centre of the ellipse}$$

r from O to be $\frac{\mu}{p^3}$, where p is the perpendicular from the body on the polar of O.

5. Define angular velocity, and explain how it is measured.

A particle is describing an ellipse about a centre of force in the centre; prove that the angular velocity about either focus varies inversely as the corresponding focal distance.

6. A smooth wire is bent into the form of a circle radius a and rotates with uniform angular velocity ω about a vertical axis through the centre which makes an angle α with the plane of the circle. If a smooth bead slide on the wire, shew that the equation of motion of the bead along the wire is

$$\frac{d^2s}{dt^2} = a \omega^2 \cos^2 \alpha \cos \frac{s}{a} \sin \frac{s}{a} - g \cos \alpha \sin \frac{s}{a},$$

where s is measured from the lowest point. Hence find the position of equilibrium of the bead, and the time of a small oscillation about that position.

7. To one end of a chain, lying in a given curve on a smooth horizontal plane, a given impulsive tension is applied in the direction of the tangent at that end; shew how to find the impulsive tension at any other point of the chain.

HYDROMECHANICS.

Examiner—MR. W. GRIFFITHS, M. A.

1. Investigate the equation $d p = \rho (X dx + Y dy + Z dz)$ for determining the pressure at any point of a fluid at rest subject to any forces.

A mass of fluid rests upon a plane subject to a central attractive force $\left(\frac{\mu}{r^2}\right)$ situated at a distance c from the plane on the side opposite to that on which the fluid is: and the radius of the free spherical surface of the fluid is a : shew that the whole pressure on the plane is $= \frac{\pi \rho \mu}{a} (a - c)^2$.

2. Define "centre of pressure" and obtain formulæ for its determination.

Given that the centre of pressure of a circular disc of radius r with one point in the surface is at a distance a from the centre, shew that for a disc of radius R wholly immersed with its centre at a distance c from the surface, the distance between the centre of the circle and the centre of pressure is $= \frac{a R^2}{c r}$, the plane of the disc being vertical.

3. Find the condition that the pressure on a surface exposed to fluid pressure may have a single resultant; and, supposing this condition satisfied find the magnitude of the pressure.

A sphere is wholly immersed in heavy fluid, and a line is drawn from the centre representing in magnitude and direction the resultant of the fluid pressures on the surface of any hemisphere; shew that the locus of the extremity of this line is a sphere.

4. Find the metacentre of a body floating in homogeneous liquid.

If a body floats wholly immersed in two liquids of densities ρ and ρ' , shew that the height of the metacentre above the centre of gravity of the fluid is equal to $A k^2 (\rho - \rho') \div M$, where M is the mass of the body and $A k^2$ the moment of inertia of the plane section of the body made by the surface of separation of the liquids.

CXCVIII PREMCHAND ROYCHAND STUDENTSHIP EXAMINATION.

5. A balloon, capable of holding V cubic feet of gas, is inflated with V' cubic feet and, the neck of the balloon being open, the remaining space is filled up with air; if variations in temperature and in the force of gravity be neglected, prove that, until the balloon has reached a height $= \frac{k}{g} \log \frac{V}{V'}$, the moving force due to its buoyancy is constant, and that it afterwards diminishes, vanishing when the height attained $= \frac{k}{g} \log \frac{V (\rho_0 - \rho'_0)}{W}$ where W is the weight of the empty balloon and its appendages, and ρ_0, ρ'_0 are the weights of a cubic foot of air and the gas respectively under the pressure at which the balloon was inflated.

6. A straight pipe whose material is thin in comparison with the bore is closed at both ends and subjected to internal fluid pressure: shew that the longitudinal tension of the material is the half of the circumferential tension.

Prove that the greatest quantity of air of given pressure which can be held in a long pipe of a given weight is independent of the bore of the pipe.

7. Investigate the equation of continuity in the case of the motion of a fluid, compressible or incompressible, referred to three rectangular axes.

If every particle move on the surface of a sphere, prove that the equation is $$\frac{d\rho}{dt} \cos \theta + \frac{d}{d\theta} (\rho w \cos \theta) + \frac{d}{d\phi} (\rho w' \cos \theta) = 0$$

ρ being the density, θ and ϕ the latitude and longitude of any element, and w and w' the angular velocities of the element in latitude and longitude respectively.

8. Calculate from the principle of energy the rate at which water will be discharged from a vessel in whose bottom there is a small hole, explaining clearly why the area of the vena contracta, and not that of the hole, is to be used.

OPTICS AND ASTRONOMY.

Examiner—MR. W. GRIFFITHS, M. A.

1. Find the geometrical focus of a pencil of rays after direct refraction at a spherical surface.

A vessel in the form of a cylinder of radius a , with a hemispherical base, which is a reflector, stands with its axis vertical and is filled with water, whose refractive index is $\frac{4}{3}$, to a depth $\frac{5}{4}a$ above the lowest point. The vessel is made to revolve with an angular velocity $\sqrt{\frac{g}{a}}$ about its axis; shew that the image of any point in the axis formed by two refractions and by one reflexion at the hemispherical base is in the same position as if there had been simple reflexion at a convex mirror whose vertex is at the centre of the hemisphere and whose radius is $\frac{3}{2}a$.

2. Compare the illumination of a horizontal plane with the sun in the zenith with the illumination it would have were the whole surface of the heavens of brightness equal to the sun.

Given : the sun's angular diameter is $32'$,

$$L \sin 16' = 7.6678445. \log 4616 = 3.6642658.$$

$$\log 4617 = 3.6643598.$$

3. Determine the position of the primary focus of a small pencil obliquely reflected at a convex spherical surface.

Hence prove that the caustic after reflexion at the polished surface of a sphere of a pencil of parallel rays, is the surface generated by the revolution of the curve round the axis of x , which is parallel to the direction of the rays; the centre of the sphere being the origin, and its radius a .

4. Explain the nature of the indistinctness due to chromatic aberration when a single lens is used as the eye-piece of an astronomical telescope. Find the condition of achromatism for an eye-piece formed of two lenses of the same kind of glass.

5. Explain how the position of the first point of Aries and the obliquity of the ecliptic are determined.

The great Pyramid has its southern face looking slightly towards the west. If the time of the equinox be determined by observing when the rays of the rising sun pass from the southern to the northern face of the Pyramid, prove that the determination is nearly $\frac{\alpha}{2\pi} \cos \phi \operatorname{cosec} w$ 365 $\frac{1}{4}$ days too early, being the error in the orientation of the Pyramid, ϕ the latitude and w the obliquity of the ecliptic.

6. Investigate an expression for the effect of aberration on the R. A. of a given star at a given time of year. What would this effect be on a star at the pole?

Shew that, if the effects of aberration on the R. A. and on the N. P. D. of a star vanish simultaneously, the star is in the ecliptic.

7. The orbits of the earth and of an inferior planet being supposed circular and in one plane, determine during what fraction of the synodic period the motion of the planet as seen from the earth is retrograde.

Prove that whatever be the law of force by which they are retained in their orbits, the angle subtended at the sun by the line joining the earth and planet when it appears stationary is

$$\cos^{-1} \frac{Rv + rV}{Rv + rV}, \quad V, v \text{ being the velocities of the earth and planet,}$$ and R, r the radii of their orbits. Also find the relative velocity of the planet when it appears stationary.

CC PREMCHAND ROYCHAND STUDENTSHIP EXAMINATION.

8. Find superior and inferior limits to the number of eclipses that can take place in one year.

Prove that the time from the conjunction in R. A. to the middle of an eclipse is $\frac{\lambda g}{g^2 + f^2 \cos^2 \delta}$, where δ is the moon's declination, λ is the difference of declinations of the sun and the moon at the instant of conjunction and g and f are the hourly variations of the differences of declination and right ascension.

CHEMISTRY.

Examiner—MR. JOHN ELIOT, M. A.

1. Classify the more important inorganic acids according to their basicity, and give the constitutional and graphic formulæ of the several oxy-acids of phosphorus.

2. The specific heat of the metal Beryllium was ascertained by Willson to be 0.408; on the other hand Reynolds found that 9 centigrams of Beryllium metal had the same specific heat as 108 centigrams of Silver. Moreover chloride of Beryllium contains 70.74 parts of chlorine to 9.2 parts of metal. What conclusions do you draw concerning the atomic weight of beryllium and respecting the formula of the chloride from the above data.

3. Give a short account of Weber's researches on the atomic heat of Carbon, Boron, and, Silicon, pointing out the bearing of his experiments on Dulong and Petit's law.

4. Describe the quantitative analysis of a sample of potable water.

5. Describe minutely how you would analyse a gaseous mixture containing the following compounds.—Hydrochloric Acid, Ethylic Hydride, Ethyl, Oxygen, Carbonic Anhydride and Nitrogen,

6 What is the theory of fractional distillation? How is the process carried out? Sketch the forms of apparatus you would use.

7. Into what classes are organic substances divided? Mention one or two substances belonging to each class and show how the various classes are connected.

8. A solid substance containing Stannic oxide, Calcium Carbonate, Sodium Chloride, Mercuric nitrate and Cadmium Sulphate is given. Describe how you would analyse it qualitatively for both acids and bases.

9. Write a short account as to our present knowledge of the chemical elements, and the reasons why it is possible that some so-called elements may not be truly elementary.

HEAT.

Examiner—MR. JOHN ELIOT, M. A.

1. Establish the following or a similar formula for ascertaining barometrically the relative heights of two stations.

$$h = \log \frac{P}{p} \times \left(60 \cdot 360 + \sqrt{\theta - 32} \cdot 122 \cdot 68 \right)$$

2. Prove by Rankine's or any other method that the velocity of transmission of a wave in an elastic medium under certain conditions (to be clearly stated) is given by $V^2 = e \times v$ where e is the measure of the elasticity of the medium and v the volume of unit mass, Hence calculate approximately the velocity of wave transmission in hydrogen gas.

3. State the two laws of thermodynamics as enunciated by Sir William Thomson and discuss fully the experimental facts on which they are based.

4. Define a perfect gas.

Prove either by geometrical or analytical methods the following properties of a perfect Gas:—

a. The intrinsic energy is a function of the temperature only.

b. The specific heats of constant pressure and constant volume are independent of the pressure and density. Obtain also equations for the isothermal, isentropic and isenergetic curves.

5. Explain Thomson's scale of absolute temperature and assuming the laws of Boyle and Charles, and that no change of temperature occurs when a gas expands without doing external work, prove that the scale agrees with that of the air thermometer.

Describe any experiments which prove that the two scales really differ slightly.

6. Define conductivity and thermal capacity.

Find the permanent law of distribution of heat in a rectangular prismatic bar whose section is square and length infinite which has every point of its extremity exposed to the action of a constant source of heat.

7. Define the specific heat of a saturated vapour.

Shew that if h be the specific heat of the vapour, c that of the liquid from which it is derived at the same pressure and temperature and L the latent heat

$$h = c + \frac{dL}{dt} - \frac{L}{t}.$$

What conclusions can be drawn from a knowledge that h is positive for some substance?

8. Explain the nature of the superficial tension between fluid surfaces in contact.

Find the height to which a given liquid will rise in a capillary tube.

N. B.—Six questions fully and satisfactorily answered will secure full marks.

ELECTRICITY.

Examiner—MR. JOHN ELIOT, M. A.

1. Define the terms Density, Force, Potential, and Tension as used in Electricity and shew how to determine the density and tension at any point of a conductor in an electric field.

In a system consisting of two concentric spherical shells, if the outer receives a given charge while the inner is kept at zero potential, find the potential at any point of space, and the tension at each surface. Find also the energy of the charge. How will the results be affected if the space between the conductors be filled with a solid dielectric.

2. Find the capacity and law of distribution of electricity of a freely charged spheroid.

3. Prove that the potential due to any statical distribution of electricity satisfies at all points of space the relation

$$\frac{d^2 V}{dx^2} + \frac{d^2 V}{dy^2} + \frac{d^2 V}{dz^2} + 4\pi\rho = 0.$$

4. Explain the method of obtaining the law of distribution of electricity in certain cases by means of the principle of Electric Images.

A sphere (radius a) is charged with a given quantity of electricity (Q). Find the work done in removing a particle charged with m units of electricity from an external point distant f from the centre to an infinite distance.

5. Describe fully any one method by which the potential at any point of the atmosphere can be determined.

Describe briefly the ordinary electrical condition of the atmosphere.

6. Describe Sir William Thomson's attracted Disc or Absolute Electrometer, and establish a formula for the difference of potential between the two conductors.

7. Discuss the more important theories which have been advanced to explain the electric actions due to a voltaic cell.

If h grammes of zinc be consumed in a galvanic battery per unit of time when no external work is done by the current, and if g grammes be consumed when W units of external work are done per unit of time, prove that where E is the energy developed in the battery per gramme of zinc consumed.

8. Give the theory of Wheatstone's Bridge and explain how it can be applied to determine the position of a fault in a Telegraph Line.

If A and B be the ends of a wire with one fault and R_A and S_A resistances to a current sent from A when B is insulated and to earth respectively and if R_B and S_B be the corresponding resistances to a current sent from B prove that $R_A : S_A = R_B : S_B$. Will this relation hold if there be two faults?

N. B.—Six questions fully and satisfactorily answered will secure full marks.

MAGNETISM.

Examiner—MR. JOHN ELIOT, M. A.

1. Discuss with reference to their employment in science the terms Matter, Force, Mass, Energy and Medium.

2. Calculate the law of establishment of the current in a conductor when an electromotive force is applied to it.

3. State under what conditions a distribution of magnetism may be substituted for a voltaic circuit or current.

Investigate the strength of the magnetic field at any point on the axis of a circular voltaic current, and thence deduce the strength of field at any point on the axis of a solenoid.

4. Give an account of the more important phenomena of terrestrial magnetism and the theories that have been proposed to account for the phenomena.

5. Give a sketch of the Kinetic theory of gases.

6. Discuss fully the phenomena of electricity evidencing the polarized state of the Dielectric. Determine the law of stress in the Dielectric which would account for the phenomena.

7. What is the use and logical value of Hypotheses and in what cases are they legitimate? Illustrate your answer by the case of the dynamic hypothesis of heat.

8. What is the method of residues? Give examples in the History of Physical science in which important discoveries have been due to this method.

N. B.—Six questions fully and satisfactorily answered will obtain full marks.

Honours in Law Examination.

1883.

JURISPRUDENCE AND LIMITATION.

Examiner—MR. W. F. AGNEW.Note.—Reasons must be given for the answers.

1. To what extent and in what method can the sovereign authority delegate its powers?
2. Distinguish between 'negligence' and 'intention'. What is necessary in order to found an action in respect of an act of negligence?
3. Enumerate and discuss the different sources of law.
4. Why is it that ignorance of the law does not excuse liability?
5. What is necessary in order to give a man complete possession of property?
6. State the nature of a sanction, and distinguish between intermediate and ultimate sanctions.
7. A plaint presented within the prescribed period is returned for amendment, as not containing the particulars required by the Civil Procedure Code. The plaintiff amends, but in the meantime the period of limitation has expired can the plaint be admitted?
8. A Hindu testator devises certain property to the sons of his daughter who may be born after his death. He gives several legacies to his wife, and appoints his mother executrix. More than twelve years from the date on which the executrix took possession of the testator's property, the widow brings a suit, claiming that the devise to the unborn son is void, and that she is entitled to the property as on an intestacy.
Is the suit within time?
9. A executes a bond in England. The right to sue on the bond becomes barred in England but is subsisting in India.
Can A be sued on the bond in India?
10. After the period of limitation for suing for a debt incurred by the manager of a joint Hindu family for family purposes has expired, the manager signs a document acknowledging the debt, but not stating the amount due. Is this such an acknowledgment as will find the property of the family, or the manager personally?
11. Is there any distinction between a right of way over another man's channel and a right of way over another man's road? Can the servient owner alter the channel or road over which the right is claimed?
12. The right to recover a debt carrying interest is barred by limitation. Can the interest be recovered?

HINDU LAW.

Examiner—BABU BHAIKABCHANDRA BANERJEE.

1. (a.) If you were to codify the Hindu Law, under what different heads would you divide your work? After giving the headings of the different chapters, take up one of them according to your choice and give its contents.

[Note. In selecting the chapter, you must take such a one as may not involve any points which you may have to discuss in answering any other question contained in this paper.]

(b.) What use would you make of the Institutes of Menu in your intended treatise, and what other books of authority, and what important cases on Hindu Law would you consult, and to what extent (if at all) would you incorporate in your work the principles inculcated in them?

2. Shew from internal evidence that of the Dayabhaga and the Mitakshara the former is of a more recent origin.

3. State fully the Hindu Law on any three of the following subjects, noticing some of the most important Rulings bearing on them.

[Note. (a) or (b) must be one of the three you select. You may, if you like, take both.]

(a.) Adoption.

(b.) Stridhan.

(c.) The Rights of a member of a Joint Hindu family to property, (i.) acquired by, or (ii.) Standing in the name of, another member.

(d.) The Law by which a person shall be governed who has migrated from a place where he was governed by one school of Hindu Law to another place where a different school of Law is prevalent.

(e.) The power which the managing member of a Joint Hindu family governed by the Mitakshara has of alienating ancestral property.

4. State briefly the causes which led to the passing of the Hindu Wills Act, and discuss the question of the necessity or the propriety of passing it. Does it confer any new rights or curtail any old privileges?

Does the number XXI suggest to you any interference with the Hindu Law on the part of the Legislature?

MAHOMEDAN LAW.

Examiner—BABU BHAIKABCHANDRA BANERJEE.

1. Notice some of the principal points in which the Mahomedan Law differs from the Hindu Law as regards marriage, and legitimacy, and the rights of inheritance of an illegitimate child.

2. Into what different sects are the Mahomedans divided, and wherein do their Laws of Inheritance and Marriage respectively differ from each other?

3. A certain gentleman says that the Mahomedan Law of Inheritance is merely a system of vulgar and decimal fractions. Discuss the question of the soundness or otherwise of the observation, giving in either case your reasons in full, and three or four illustrations in support of your answer.

4. State fully what the Mahomedan Law is on the following subjects, viz.

Divorce, Dower, Wills, and Gift.

5. A gentleman desirous of purchasing certain properties from a Mahomedan, who is said to have inherited them from his father, consults you for approval of title: To what points would you direct your attention, and what facts would you like to ascertain before you give your opinion?

Take two or three hypothetical cases and say how you would advise your client in each case.

6. Describe the status of a Mahomedan widow and compare it with that of a Hindu widow.

7. Give the definition, constitution, cause, legal effect, and conditions of Wuqf, and the words by which it is and is not completed; and compare it with Debutter property created under the Hindu Law.

8. State fully the forms which a person should observe and the steps he should take in order to enforce his rights of pre-emption to any property.

MORTGAGE AND SALE.

Examiner—MR. W. F. AGNEW.

Note.—Reasons must be given for the answers.

1. For what purposes may the manager of the estate of a person under disability mortgage the estate? What precautions should the mortgagee take before making his advances and when is he bound to see to the application of the mortgage money?

2. A Hindu widow alienates for other than allowable purposes, property inherited by her from her husband. To what extent is the alienation valid? What relief can the reversioners obtain from the Court during the widow's lifetime? What is the form of a declaratory decree?

3. A the owner of a moiety of a house mortgages the entire house to B, but does not hand over the title deeds, alleging as the reason for not doing so, that they have been lost. He subsequently purchases the remaining moiety, and again mortgages the entire house to C who obtains possession of the deeds relating to the first mentioned moiety, but allows A to retain possession of the deed by which the last mentioned moiety was conveyed to him. A then obtains an advance from D on the deposit of this deed. All the documents by which the different mortgages were created were registered but none of the mortgages searched the register.

Is D entitled to priority over B and C or either of them?

4. The owner of a share in a joint estate mortgages it. Can the mortgagee under any circumstances compel partition? What is the position of the mortgagee if partition proceedings are instituted by other co-sharers?

5. A, mortgages four houses for a certain sum. He sells his interest in one of the houses to a third person. He afterwards dies, and his rights pass to two persons in certain shares. Can the purchasers or either of the heirs redeem? and if so, upon what terms?

6. A mortgagee enters into possession of the mortgaged property. Part of the land he cultivates himself, part through the agency of a bailiff. He establishes a market from which he derives an income from tolls. There is a house on the land which he repairs and enlarges. The bailiff neglects to pay the Government revenue, and in consequence the collector enters upon the land and a loss ensues. In his accounts the mortgagee debits the mortgagor with the bailiff's salary with charges for the collection of rents, with payments to village chowkeydars, some of whom hold jagheer land, and with the entire cost of repairing and enlarging the house. He does not account for the revenue derived from the market, nor does he credit the mortgagor with the rent of the land upon which it is held. And he only credits the mortgagor with the profits actually received while the collector was in possession.

Are there any, and if so, what objections to the accounts?

7. A gives property in trust for such of his four nephews and nieces as shall be living at the expiration of twelve months after the death of their mother and the issue then living who shall attain the age of eighteen years, of any of the nephews and nieces who shall have died before the expiration of the twelve months. What is the effect of this gift?

8. Property is given to A upon condition that he shall marry with the consent of B, C, D and E. B consents in writing, C who has been informed by A of his intention to marry does not object, D gives his consent, but withdraws it before the marriage. E who is abroad does not give his consent until after the marriage.

Is A entitled to take the property?

9. After a contract for sale of an estate has been entered into, the purchaser discovers that there is a public footway over part of it, that some of the buildings on it are in a ruinous state, and that others have been recently plastered over, so as to conceal defects. He also ascertains that the estate has recently been valued by a competent surveyor at a sum greatly less than the intended purchase money, and that the vendor has abandoned the working of a mine on the estate as being unprofitable.

Has the purchaser any right to refuse to perform the contract?

10. A lease contains a covenant on the part of the lessee to grow indigo on the land, with a proviso for re-entry in case of breach of the covenant. The lessee does not grow indigo, but the lessor without making inquiries accepts rent.

Does this amount to a waiver of the condition?

11. A makes a gift of property to B his mistress "on condition of her continuing to be his wife and remaining obedient to him her husband." B takes possession of the property, and holds it for upwards of ten years. Subsequently A falls into embarrassed circumstances and a decree for money is made against him.

Can the gift to B be set aside, and the property applied towards satisfaction of the decree?

12. A transfers a debt due to him from B to C, who tells B in the course of conversation that he has bought the debt, and agrees to give B time to pay. At the expiration of the time A applies to B for payment of the debt and B pays him.

Can C recover the money from B?

SUCCESSION.

Examiner—MR. W. F. AGNEW.

Note—Reasons must be given for the answers.

1. Upon a marriage entered into after the passing of the Succession Act, property was settled upon a married woman without power of anticipation. Subsequently, and before the passing of the married woman's property Act the husband and wife executed a joint and several promissory note.

Is the settled property liable to be applied towards payment of the note?

2. A clergyman desires his wife to make a will in his favour. She refuses to do so, and her husband declines to allow her to partake of the sacrament at his church unless she makes the will according to his wishes, but does not use any threats or violence towards her. She ultimately makes the will in his favour.

Is there any ground for setting it aside?

3. A testator, who through weakness is unable to hold a pen, has his hand guided in signing his will. The paper is so folded that no writing is visible, and the testator informs the witnesses that it is necessary to make some change in his affairs and asks them to sign the paper. They do not see his signature but know that the document is his will. The witnesses attest in the next room at a table so placed that the testator might have seen them attest, but as a matter of fact he did not see them writing.

Is the will well executed?

4. A will is executed in duplicate. One copy is deposited at the registry office and the other is kept by the testator who, in a fit of delirium tremens destroys it. On recovery he is told what he has done, when he says that he must have been mad and expresses his intention of making a fresh will but does not do so.

Can the will deposited at the registry office be admitted to probate, or is it to be considered as revoked?

5. A testator having two sons and five daughters divides his property into sevenths, and bequeaths one-seventh to one son, and another seventh to the other son. He then bequeaths the "remaining five-sevenths" during the respective lives of his daughters A, B, C, D and E in equal shares for their separate use. He then after the death of A gives $\frac{1}{5}$ of the fund to the children of A; after the death of B $\frac{1}{5}$ to the children of B; after the death of C $\frac{1}{5}$ to the children (not of C) but of D and after the death of E $\frac{1}{5}$ to the children of E; with power to the trustees "until the share of the said trust monies of the issue of any of the said daughters shall become payable to apply the same by way of maintenance."

Are the children of C entitled to her share after her death?

6. A Hindu testator devises property to the unborn sons of his three unmarried daughters to take effect when they attain majority. Is their gift valid? Would it make any difference if the daughters were married?

7. A testator devises property to trustees upon trust to divide among the children of his brothers equally the shares of such of the children as are sons to be paid to them respectively upon attaining majority and the shares of such of them as are daughters to be paid to them on attaining that age or previously marrying, with benefit of survivorship between all the sons and daughters. Are these bequests valid?

8. Property is bequeathed to A, provided that upon attaining the age of twenty-one years or within six months next after, he shall relinquish and make over to his brother and sister all interest under his parents' settlement, and in case he shall neglect to do so, the legacy is to be reduced to a certain sum which is to fall into the residue. The legatee is abroad at the time specified and is not informed of the proviso, and does not relinquish within the six months next after the testator's death but does relinquish so soon as he hears of the proviso.

Is he entitled to take the original sum bequeathed or only the reduced sum?

9. What is the principle upon which the doctrine of election is based? State the doctrine.

A testator having a power of appointment over a fund appoints it among his three sons equally. He devises the fund to his eldest son, and, one son having died intestate, gives bequests to the younger surviving son and children of the deceased son.

Is either the younger son, or are the children of the deceased son bound to elect?

10. What evidence is necessary in order that probate may be granted of a lost will? Can parol evidence of its contents, and of declarations made by the testator be given when a draft is in existence?

11. A sole executor appointed under the will of a Hindu made after the Hindu Wills Act, renounces, and does not intermeddle with the assets. The heir files a suit against certain relatives of the testator alleging waste and praying for the construction of the will, and for administration.

Can such a suit be maintained?

12. An executor pays a legatee the amount of his legacy, there being at the time assets of the testator sufficient if realized to meet all claims against his estate. Subsequently, and before other legatees are paid part of the testator's estate is lost through the failure of a bank and the remaining part is insufficient to pay the remaining legatees. Can they compel the legatee who has been paid to refund?

THE LAW OF TENURES OF IMMOVEABLE PROPERTY, AND REVENUE SALE LAW.

Examiner—BABU BHAIKABCHANDRA BANERJEE.

1. (a). Name the permanently settled provinces in India, and state briefly how the settlement of each was effected. How is it that the permanent settlement was not extended to all the places which came under the British Rule?

(b). Is Cuttack a permanently settled District? If not, explain what you understand by the permanent settlement of Bengal, Behar, and Orissa.

2. Explain fully the scope and the object of Regulation VII of 1822. To what provinces did it originally apply, and to what other places has it since been extended?

State briefly the provisions of that Regulation, and that of the other enactments by which it was extended to other places. How are those provisions to be carried out?

3. Trace briefly through their different stages the changes which the ryots of different classes (whether of a Government Khash Mehal or holding under a zeminder) have undergone in their status and legal condition since the time of the permanent settlement.

[Note. In answering this question you may briefly state what you know of Huftum and Punjum.]

4. Point out the difference between the processes by which the rent of a ryot having a right of occupancy may be enhanced (i) by a zemindar in a permanently settled zemindari, and (ii) by the Government in a Khash Mehal.

5 (a). What are the different dates from which the Fusli the Villawati, and the Amla year respectively commence, and in what places do they respectively prevail?

(b). The second clause of section 8 of Regulation VIII of 1819 commences thus:—"On the first day of Baisakh that is" at the commencement of the following year and the third clause begins with the following words, "On the first day of Kartick" in the middle of the year Say, at what time and in what manner the provisions of these clauses are to be acted upon in places where the Fusli or any of the other years mentioned above prevails.

6. Discuss briefly the effect of each of the following terms contained in a Putni lease:—

(a). উক্ত পহনি তালুকে দান বিক্রয় করিবার ও বন্ধক দিবার এবং দরপহনি আদি বিলি করিবার সম্পূর্ণ সত্ত্বাধিকারী হইয়া পুত্র পৌত্রাদিক্রমে পরম সুখে ভোগ দখল করিতে রহ।

(b). আর সরকার হইতে আমার উক্ত জমিদারির সদর জমার উপর আগমন্য যখন যে কোন দরি অঙ্ক তলব হইবে তাহা হার হারি

মতে এই পহুনি জমার উপর বার হইয়া তোমার নিকট হইতে পৃথক
রূপে আদায় হইতে থাকিবে।

In what way are the cesses to be realized (i) when there is a clause like (b) in the Pottah, and (ii) in the absence of any such clause?

7. A zemindari entered in the Collector's Towji as one entire estate consists of three Purgunahs. A purchaser of a twelve annas' share of one of the Purgunahs wants to pay his share of the Government revenue separately and to keep his share safe against any sale for arrears of revenue accruing on account of the rest of the zemindari. What are the process or processes by which the intended separate account may be opened; and on failure of obtaining such separation, what other steps may he take to keep himself safe against his co-sharer's default?

8. (a). State in due form a case for opinion involving some questions about a Ghatwali Tenure, or of shirtaster parvast and Lalit parvast.

(b). Give your own opinion upon the case.

L. M. S. and M. B. First Examination.

CHEMISTRY.

Examiner—MR. A. PEDLER, F. C. S.No. of Marks.

1. How would you determine the specific gravity (1) of a solid substance and (2) of a liquid? Explain your statements by a numerical example. Also describe a urinometer, and explain the principle upon which it is constructed. 40

2. Explain how you would construct and graduate an ordinary thermometer. Explain also the construction of a clinical thermometer. A pound of water at 50° C. is added to 9 pounds of water at 50° F, what will be the resulting temperature? 40

3 Name some of the usual constituents of river or spring water. Describe the action of ordinary waters (such as are used for drinking) on metallic Lead. 30

4. Three hundred and three grams of Nitre (Potassium nitrate) are heated in contact with three hundred and three grams of Sulphuric acid. Explain exactly what will take place, what new substances will be formed, and what will be their weight. $K = 39$, $N = 14$, $O = 16$, $S = 32$. 50

5. How are Ferrous Sulphate, and Ferric Chloride prepared? What are the tests which you would employ, first to show that a ferrous salt is free from a ferric salt, and second that a ferric is free from a ferrous salt. 40

6. State the changes (if any) which take place when hydrochloric acid is added to each of the following substances, (1) Metallic Platinum, (2) Chalk or Calcium Carbonate, (3) Potassium hydrate or Liquor Potassæ and (4) Silver Nitrate solution. 40

7. The air of a crowded room was analysed; 1000 litres of the air measured at 27° C. and 722 m. m. pressure were found to contain 11 grams of Carbon dioxide. What was the percentage by volume of this substance in the air? Was this air in a fit state for breathing? 50

8. How is Potassium Cyanide prepared. What are its properties and how can it be detected? 25

9. Describe the usual process for the preparation of Ether (Sulphuric Ether). What are the impurities which may be present in it, and how would you remove them? 35

10. Name some of the principal substances present in healthy and diseased urine. State how you would detect the abnormal ingredients in any two cases of diseased urine. 50

Note—400 marks are given for the paper and 400 marks for the examination in Practical Chemistry.

PHYSIOLOGY.

Examiner—DR. R. D. MURRAY.No. of Marks.

1. Name the Digestive Fluids, and state precisely their individual action on the food. 150
2. Describe the mechanism of Reflex Action, giving five examples and the nerves concerned in each. 150
3. Name the Blood Glands, and give a brief description of their general structure. 150
4. State the effect upon the heart of (1) irritation, (2) section of the Pneumo-gastric and Sympathetic nerves respectively. 150
5. Describe fully the phenomena which occurs in coagulation of the blood—what is the nature of the process? 150

ANATOMY.

Examiner—DR. K. McLEOD.No. of Marks.

1. Define briefly the terms anterior, posterior, internal, external, superior, inferior, dorsal, ventral, palmar, plantar. 100
2. Describe Poupart's and Gimbernat's ligaments; and mention the structures which are (a) attached and (b) in relation to them. 100
3. Describe the circle of Willis and its branches. 100
4. State in detail the steps of dissection necessary for exposing the inferior aspect of the levator ani muscle. 100

MATERIA MEDICA.

Examiner—DR. J. M. COATES.No. of Marks.

1. Give a list of the important anthelmintics, their specific effects on the different kinds of intestinal parasites, their doses and modes of administration. 200
2. Give the official preparations of Quinine, Morphia, Atropia, Strychnia, and Cantharides, with their strength and doses. 200
3. Describe the physiological actions of bromide of potassium and nitrate of amyl. 200
4. Write out in full prescriptions for a chronic cough, an acute diarrhoea, a diuretic mixture, and an effervescing draught. 200
5. Enumerate the drugs obtained from the natural orders cinchonaceæ and liliaceæ, and give their official preparations. 200

BOTANY.

Examiner—MR. P. BRÜHL.No. of Marks.

1. Compare the normal structure of the stem of a mono- 75 cotyledonous plant with that of a dicotyledonous plant.
2. Explain what is meant by orthotropous, anatropous, and 70 campylotropous ovules.
3. Give diagrams of equitant, half equitant, convolute, and 70 involute vernation, and of valvate, quincuncial, and imbricate æstivation.
4. Describe the specimens numbered 1 and 2. 85
5. Write down the diagnostic characters of the natural orders 80 to which the specimens 1 and 2 belong.
6. State what you know about protoplasm. 75
7. Describe how the ovule of an angiospermous plant is 75
fertilized
8. Which is the course the sap takes after being elaborated 70 in the leaves?

COMPARATIVE ANATOMY.

Examiner—DR. R. D. MURRAY.No. of Marks.

1. Refer the sponge to its sub-kingdom, class and order. 100
Describe its structure and aquiferous system.
2. Describe the structure of the nematoid entozoa, and name 100 some species that occur in man. To what sub-kingdom and class do they belong?
3. What do you understand by the law of "Alternation of 200 Generations," and Parthenogenesis? Illustrate by examples.
4. Describe the organs of circulation and respiration in the 100
Fish, and state what organ in the Fish is homologous with the lungs in the higher vertebrates.
5. Describe the structure and action of the poison fang of 100 the cobra. What anatomical peculiarity enables serpents to gape so widely?

L. M. S. and M. B. Second Examination.

MEDICAL JURISPRUDENCE.

Examiner—DR. F. C. NICHOLSON.No. of Marks.

1. What is Cadaveric Rigidity? Is it retarded or quickened 120 by exposure of the body to cold; by enfeebling disease prior to death, or by robustness of frame at period of death? In what order are the muscles affected by it, and in what order does it disappear?

2. Enumerate the proximate causes of death by drowning: 150 which is the most common; and describe the post-mortem appearances peculiar to it: state the period of submersion generally required to cause death, and the means which should be adopted in order to restore suspended animation.

3. In cases of infanticide, what are the data upon which you 100 would rely in order to form an opinion as to how long a child had survived its birth?

4. A recently married woman is accused of already having 100 had a child: what is the evidence by which you would determine this question?

5. What are the symptoms and post-mortem appearances of 130 poisoning by datura? and state how you would treat a case of poisoning by this drug.

MEDICINE.

Examiner—DR. E. A. BIRCH.No. of Marks.

1. Describe a case of Rickets. Discuss its ætiology, diagnosis, 150 prognosis, complications, and treatment. State with precision the anatomical characters of the long and flat bones in this disease.

2. What do you mean by the "back-working" of heart 150 disease? In what forms and at what stages of cardiac affections does it occur? Describe the consequences to the circulatory system and organs.

3. Describe a case of Locomotor Ataxy from its commence- 150 ment. Localize the lesions of the cord in (1) Locomotor Ataxy, and in (2) Progressive muscular Atrophy.

4. In Brights' disease, what diagnostic inferences may be 150 derived from the characters of the casts? Mention the several varieties of this disease, alluding to the state of the urine and the general anatomical characters in each. Discuss the treatment broadly.

SURGERY.

Examiner—DR. D. O. C. RAYE.

No. of Marks.

1. What form of violence usually causes fracture in the middle of the thigh? What are the appearances presented by the limb when an oblique fracture occurs in this situation? What displacement in the relative position of the fragments would you expect to take place in such a fracture, and to what is this displacement due? How would you treat such a case? What would be the probable duration of the treatment? Would you expect any permanent lameness or deformity? 100
2. What are the clinical characters of epithelioma of the tongue, especially with regard to diagnosis? 100
3. What are the dangers, immediate and remote, of narrow organic structure of the urethra? Mention the treatment appropriate to each. 100

OPHTHALMIC SURGERY.

4. Describe VonGraefe's modified linear operation for the removal of cataract. What are the advantages claimed for this operation? What are the risks peculiarly attending it? 50
5. What do you mean by Chemosis? How would you treat it? 50

MIDWIFERY.

Examiner—DR. E. A. BIRCH.

No. of Marks.

1. What are the sources of post-partum hæmorrhage occurring after expulsion or removal of the placenta? Describe in detail your treatment of such cases. How would the stage of exhaustion at which the patient had arrived influence your proceedings? 150
2. You are called to a case of labour, you find the os dilated to the size of a rupee, the membranes are entire and the shoulder is presenting: How would you manage the case? 200
3. Diagnose between a normal pregnancy, pregnancy with dropsy of the amnion, hydronephrosis, ovarian tumour, and ascites. By what characters may the fluid drawn from an ovarian cyst be distinguished from that of ascites? 200

4. How would you deal with the "after-coming head" in 150 podalic presentations? What is the chief danger to be apprehended? Describe accurately how you would meet the complication of the arms being raised above the after-coming head.

PATHOLOGY AND HYGIENE.

Examiner—DR. G. W. F. HARRIS.

No. of Marks.

1. Give as fully as you can the pathologic and microscopic 200 changes presented by the lungs in a case of death from acute catarrhal pneumonia (broncho or lobular pneumonia.)

2. How do embolism and thrombosis differ? What anatomic 200 and pathologic changes follow the impaction of emboli in the minuter cerebral arteries, kidneys, spleen?

3. What is the preparation shown you? State what you 200 know of its pathology from its commencement.

4. Whilst in charge of a Civil Station or Jail, a sudden and 200 virulent outbreak of small-pox takes place, what precautionary measures immediate and remote would you adopt to check the further spread of the disease?

5. What diseases are attributed to the effects of impure 200 drinking water, and what are the different methods adopted for the purification of foul water?

6. Give a short account of the various means adopted in 200 towns for the removal of diluted sewage, giving reasons for any preference you may have.

EXTRA QUESTIONS—OPTIONAL.

[Candidates who wish may substitute either or both of the following questions for any of the preceding questions, as the number of marks are the same.]

1. What pathological meaning do you attach to the terms malignant growth, innocent growth?—(enter fully into the question). Define clearly and shortly the following terms: Glioma, Lymphadenoma, Epithelioma, Lardaceous degeneration, Sclerosis, Nutmeg liver.

2. Discuss briefly the value or otherwise of alcohol as an addition to ordinary diet—(its medicinal uses are not required).

Honour Examination.

SURGERY.

Examiner—DR. D. O'C. RAYE.

1. Contrast the symptoms of—

- a. Traumatic fever.
- b. Septicæmia.
- c. Hætic.

2. Enumerate the difficulties you would expect to meet in trying to reduce a dislocation forwards of the Astragalus and state the measures which you would adopt. If the bone should continue unreduced, what will be the probable progress of the case, and how will you treat it?

3. Describe the process by means of which an artery becomes occluded after ligature in its continuity. What advantages are claimed for "Animal" as compared with silken ligatures.

MIDWIFERY.

Examiner—DR. E. A. BIRCH.

1. Discuss the pathology of puerperal Eclampsia. What would be your treatment when the convulsions occur, (1) before labor, (2) during labor, (3) after delivery?

2. What do you know concerning puerperal thrombosis and embolism?

3. Describe the modes of formation of pelvic hæmatocele, enumerating the possible sources of the hæmorrhage. Discuss its differential diagnosis and treatment.

4. Enumerate the varieties of extra-uterine gestation. Describe briefly the probable progress and termination of each. What would be your treatment under various circumstances?

Tagore Law Examination.

Examiner—DR. J. JOLLY.

N. B.—The figures in the margin indicate full marks.

1. How many kinds of subsidiary sons are recognized by the Smriti writers? Give some account of those kinds which are now obsolete. 10
2. State briefly the legal position of women, as deducible from the statements of the Smriti writers. 15
3. What is meant by the terms “obstructed” and “unobstructed inheritance”? 5
4. Who, beside the distant relatives called Gotraja and Bandhu, are successively the heirs under Mitakshara law to one leaving no male issue? 10
5. What is the Mitakshara doctrine regarding the constituents of Stridhana? 10
6. Give the names and epochs of some kings and ministers by whom books on law were composed. 15
7. Are females entitled to maintenance where there are no assets? 5
8. How far has the operation of the general rules regarding exclusion from inheritance been limited by special rules? 10

ESSAY.

Examiner—DR. J. JOLLY.

Total marks—80.

Give some account of the nature and history of the principal Smriti works and of the Commentaries on them; and of the Commentaries on one of those Commentaries.
